John Howard Parnell's present occupation is that of fruit grower, and incidentally he deals in stocks. He and his mother, who lives in New lersey, are the only near relatives the uncrowned Irish king had in America at the time of his death. John Parnell's fruit farm is near West Point, but he spends much of his time in Atlanta, and while here lives in an humble way at a boarding house near the corner of Jones trious worker rose to her feet, pulled and Gullett streets.

Tuesday a press cablegram from London hinted at the possibility of the veorgia brother of Charles Parnell being called upon to stand for Parliament as the rightful successor of the distinguished home rule advogate. John Howard, being the eldest brother of Charles Stewart Parnell, is, with the widow of the dead patriot, a joint heir to the tenant find now on deposit in France, and for this reason alone the gentleman may be called upon to return to Ireland and make the race-for the seat in Parliament left vacant by his brother's demise.

And if the people of Ireland call upanhim to make the run he will do so, at east he told a reporter this morning that he would. John Howard Parnell is equipped with none of the attributes of a statesman. His appearance is in no wise inspiring, and in speech he is halting and diffident. When asked for an interview this morning he was very much disinclined to say anything at all in regard to the matter.

"You cannot depend at all," said he "upon the reliability of these cables. I have received nothing direct from Ireland, and under the circumstances I don't care to say anything that might affect matters over there. I am the legal heir to my brother's estate and now repres-"If the people over there should call upon you to stand for your brother's seat, would you do so, Mr. The possible parliamentarian hesitated for a few moments, and then

"Yes, if they want me I would make the race. I think it would be my duty to do so." Mr. Parnell ran for parliament in 1872 from County Wicklow, and was defeated, but he thinks he could now, in the light of recent events, make the race and win. After his former defeat Mr. Parnell moved to this country and has lived here ever since. He remains, however, a subject of her Majesty the Queen, having never taken out his citizenship papers in this country.

Mr. Parnell is not particularly well known among the Irishmen of Atlanta, he being something of a

The meeting of citizens held last night to arrange for the proper recep-tion of Col. McClure and other distinguished gentlemen who are to visit Raleigh soon was well attended. The Committee of Arrangements met to day at noon, and it is understood that they will go in a body to the depot on arrival of the western train and escort Col. McClure to his quarters. A large delegation also went up to Greensboro last night to escort the distinguished journalist to Raleigh. It is further under-stood that Mr. Ed. There is anything but a happy state of affairs existing in Republican circles any amount of patching-up to reconcile ment of a party organ at Raleigh seems discover where the trouble existed. It seems that a portion of the officials more timid than the rest came to the conclusion that the time had arrived looking to some definite line of action for "selfpreservation." In other words, it was no doubt thought best to adopt some method of practically exhibiting to "the powers that be," in Washington City a spirit of active fealty, and back it up in the way of a party organ for offensive warfare. With this view, the clans of modern custom, and form a syndicate -and it was formed, but not with unanisary for the removal of the North State have been chosen: Tyre Glenn. Elihu White, J. B. A GRAND OCCASION AT THE CITY OF ATLANTA.

Thirty Thousand Visitors Present-Un veiling the Monument-Oration by Gov. Hill of New York-A Banquet Giver the Visitors.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star, ATLANTA, GA., October 21 .- The monument to the late Henry W. Grady was unveiled in Atlanta to-day. The streets of Atlanta were thronged with visitors from every State in the South, and when the veil fell from the bronze statue, which stands on Marietta street, between the government building and the old Capitol, thirty thousand people joined in cheers, as the familiar form of the beloved Georgian stood in bold relief above the great sea of human faces. The monument was unveiled by Miss Gussie Grady.

Never in the history of Atlanta has more imposing procession passed through its streets than the parade which passed from the Capitol to the monument. Every civic and military organization in the city and many organizations from surrounding cities participated in the procession, which was not less than a mile and a half long Confederate veterans and members of the Grand Army of the Republi marched together, and were greeted with applause all along the line. Governor David B. Hill, of NewYork orator of the day, rode in the first carriage, drawn by tour white horses. By his side was Governor Northern, o

"Dixie," and the great throng went wild with enthusiasm. Col. Chas. S. Northern, President of the Grady Monument Association, presided. Prayer was offered by Rev. J. W. Lee, of this city, after which Fulton Colville, in behalf of the Monument Association, told the story of its construction. The monument originated in a call by the young men of Atlanta the day after Grady's death. The Association was organized in Grady's old room in the Constitution office, and it at once resolved to make an appeal for funds with which to build a onument, stating that it would ask for contributions to this purpose for only one month, after which time it would build a monument with whatever amount it had succeeded in collecting i that time, whether large or small Contributions came from every hamle in Georgia, and from every State in the Union. Subscriptions were received varying from five cents to a thousand dollars. In thirty days twenty thousand dollars had been raised, and designs for the monument were asked for. Mr Alex. Doyle, of New York, was selected as sculptor, and shortly afterward a contract was signed for a monument to be completed in the Fall of 1892. This, in brief, was the work of the association and the history of the monument. Hon, Clark Howell Grady's succession as managing editor of the Constitution and Speaker of the Georgia House of Representatives, then introduced Gov. Hill, saying in substance: It best befits this occasion that to-day's memorial oration should be spoken by lips which are akin to yet not of the South. He speaks for and in behalf of that "broad and pertect loyalty that loves and trusts Georgia alike with Massachusetts, that knows no South, no North, no East, no West; but endears with equal and pa triotic love, every foot of our soil and every State in our Union."

Governor Hill was greeted with great enthusiasm. His address occupied about fifty minutes. It was a splendid oration and was well received. The Governor delivered slowly and with evident feeling and was frequently interrupted with enthusiastic applause.

To-night Governor Hill and those with him from New York were entertained at a banquet by the Young Men's Democratic League of Atlanta. Among those with Governor Hill are: Senator D. W. Voorhees of Indiana, General Henry W. Slocum, Hon. John A. McCaul, General F. P. Earle, Hon. Austin Lathrop and General John S. McEwen.

At the banquet Mayor Hemphill welcomed the guests in behalf of Atlanta, and Governor Northern spoke of the Democracy of the State. Speeches were made by Governor Hill, Senator Voorhees, Hon. Fleming Dubigion Hon. Patrick Walsh, General Henry Slocum, Hon. John Temple Graves. Governor Hill will leave here to-morrow morning for New York on the Richmond and Danville vestibule limit-

The New York Putures Market Yesterday By Telegraph to the Morning Star. NEW YORK, October 21.-Hubbard,

Price & Co.'s report of cotton says:

The doubt existing with regard to the cotton crop is aptly exemplified in today's market. Liverpool cables this morning advised an early advance of 1-84d, a further improvement of 3-64d by 2 o'clock, and a strong closing at 4 o'clock at a net advance of 8-84 to 9-84d on the day. Spot sales are 12,000 bales. The unusual advance in Liverpool was a great surprise here but has not apparent-ly greatly disturbed the stolid confidence that seems to be felt in the weight of receipts as a factor of the depression Opening at an advance of 14 points, a further improvement of about 5 points was established upon the execution of outside buying orders, but the demand has been freely met by sales to realize and for New Orleans account, where the spot market is still so lifeless as to afford little encouragement to buyers. By 2 o'clock 7 points of the advance had been lost and the market is about 11 points higher than last night. Receipts are estimated at 49,000 bales against 88,-000 last year. It was thought last evening that the interior movement for the week would be relatively smaller than last week, but such figures as have come to hand to-day indicate a probable excess over last year of 20,000 bales. Killing frost is repoted at Augusta, Ga., and the Government reports killing frost as general in Alabama, North Carolina and South Carolina, but this has not had much effect on the market, which after 2 o'clock was comparatively quiet. closing steady at about 11 points over last night. After the close the market was at first a shade easier and afterward better on covering of the nervous short interest, who fear a further advance in Liverpool to-morrow. It will be against precedent, however, if some reaction does not follow on to-day's excitement.

ILLINOIS FARMERS. They Favor Free and Unlimited Coinage

By Telegraph to the Morning Star. CHICAGO, October 21,-A dispatch from Springfield, Ill., says: The Resolution Committee of the State Assembly of the Farmers' Mutual Benefit Association brought in a report late last evening, favoring the election of the President, Vice President and U.S. Senators by the people, a graded income tax, free and uniform text books, to be furnished by county superintendents, and free and unlimited coinage of silver. The latter clause was warmly discussed and finally adopted, the original resolution being considerably changed. Consideration of other resolutions was not concluded when an adjournment was taken.

Glovers' bagging factory, at New Or-leans, La., was partly burned yesterday. Loss estimated at $20,000; fully insured.

NOT ONE SORE NOW.

Baby Afflicted with Bad Sores and Eruptions. No Relief. Permanently Cured by the Cuticura.

During the summer of 1889 my eighteen months' old infant was so afflicted with eruptions that ordinary domestic remedies failed to make any relief. On his hips would often appear the seeming track of a little wire-like worm, and on other parts of his body he had sores to come and remained urail I procured the Curicura Remedies. For some time I used the soap and salve without a blood medicine, but they did not do so well as when all were used together. It has now been nearly a year since the eruption was healed, and I very much feared it would return with the warm weather of this year, but the summer has passed and not one sore has appeared on him. passed and not one sore has appeared on him.

MRS. A. M. WALKER.

Carsonyille, C

Sore from Waist Down. I had three of the best physicians in Paducab, and they did me no good. I used your CUTICURA REMEDIES, and they cured me sound and well. I was sore from my waist down with eczema. They have cured me with no sign of return. I owe my life to CUTICURA, for without a doubt I would have been in my grave had it not been for your remedies. Cuticura Remedies.

If the thousands of little babies who have been cured of agonizing, itching, burning, bleeding, scaly, and blotchy skin and scalp diseases could write, what a host of letters would be received by the proprietors of the Cuticura Remedies. Few can appreciate the agony these little ones suffer, and when these great remedies relieve in a single application the most disagony these interesting and when these great-remedies relieve in a single application the most dis-tressing eczemas and itching and burning skin dis-eases, and point to a speedy and permanent cure, it is positively inhuman not to use them without a mo-ment's delay.
