Grand Ball Wednesday Night-Immense Crowds at the Exposition-The Odd Fel. lows, etc. [Star Correspondence.]

RALEIGH, N. C., Nov. 12 .- Comared with the exciting events of yesterday and last night, the city, this morning, has the appearance of a country village. Our honored guests have come, they have seen, and, 'it may be added they have conquered our heartfelt wishes, by their admirable deportment as gentlemen and soldiers. +Notwithstanding the immense crowd here during the past thirty-six hours, there

As a social event it eclipsed anything that has ever taken place in Raleigh. Most of the leading society ladies of the city were present, and the brilliant costumes, added to the decorative surroundings, made the scene one of dazzling effect and beauty.

The troops leave us to-day with re-gret, as they all declare, and, this is, in Report says six men boarded the train No. 8 at Western Union Junction, 62 miles north of Chicago, at 11 p. m., and it is supposed the robbers reached the junction over the Northwestern road. They held up the engineer and fireman and when the train reached Jacksonville, a small station of two or three hundred inhabitants about three miles beyond the junction, they

TEXAS LYNCHING. Two Negroes Hanged by Unknown Par- ties. By Telegraph to the Moring Star. BRENHAM, Nov. 13.—Information has just been received here of a double lynching that occurred in Jay Hill pre- cinct, this county, Monday night. Sun- day night there was a general row at a negro dance at the residence of Jim Hartley, and it is believed that the lynching grew out of this fuss. Mon- day night, near Blake's crossing on the Yegus, two negroes were hanged, both with the same rope and apparently at the same time, as they were found Tuesday locked in each other's arms, hanging by the same rope. One of the negroes was a stranger in Washington county and was not identified; the other	dence through a window which had been left unfastened. Major Emry heard the burglars as they went out, but not suspecting anything of the kind naid no attention to the noise.
