Dismissal of the Case Against Mrs. Gilmer for Attempting to Poison Her Husband. RICHMOND, Dec. 29 .- The case of Mrs. Margaret Gilmer, indicted for attempting to poison her husband, was called to-day at Abingdon. The prosecuting attorney was not ready and asked postponement. Counsel for the defence insisted on a trial. The court ruled that no valid reason had been shown for further postponement, and the case was dismissed.

Mrs. Gilmer is the paramour of Dr. Baker, who has been convicted of poisoning his wife, the agreement between them being that she should put her husband out of the way by the same means. The result to-day was a surprise.

COTTON FUTURES.

The New York Futures Market Yesterday By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, December 30 .- The Sun's cotton circular says:

Futures opened quite buoyant, selling at one time 11 to 13 points dearer, and turned weaker, but closed steady at 8 to 12 points advance on the final figures of yesterday. Liverpool opened at 3-64d to 4-64d advance, and this improvement, though not fully supported, gave much strength to the market. The advance culminated at 12 30, with sales at 7.84c or March, 8.13c for May and 8.46c for August. Then there was some selling to realize by parties operating for a turn and by those who did not believe in any permanent rise for the present, under which the market weakened a few points, the crop movement proving a fresh source of discomfort to the bulls. It was said that liberal orders for spot cotton had gone South, and the market in the last quarter showed renewed strength. THE FLORIDA TRAGEDY.
