Capt. Durham did not know of this until his return after the surrender when he met Cobb on the street and denounced the latter as a hog thief and gave him a severe caning - This fact can be substantiated by dozens of prominent citizens of Cleveland

Dr. L. N. Durham, candidate for Secretary of State, has a record for heartlessness and penuriousness that is hard to surpass. In 1878, at the age of 79, Dr. Durham's father, Lemuel Durham, lost his mind; and although he had a plantation of 213 acres on which he paid taxes, and his son, the doctor, was the a dentist and returned his property for taxation at nineteen hundred and twenty-seven dollars, an effort was made by him to have the old man sent to the insane asylum. Failing in this the son appeared before the county commissioners and obtained an order allowing the old man one hundred dollars per year. This sum was paid for nine months and 22 days, when death put an end to the old man's sufferings.

The nomination of these two men has injured the Third party in this

Weaver, the Vilifier of the South. National Democrat.

Where is the man in the South Democrat, white Republican, or respectable colored brother, who would see that country again blighted with the curse of carpet bag and negro rule? A vote for Weaver, the bitter, malignant vilifier of the Southern people and the huckstering political scavenger who sold out in 1880, defeating General Hancock, if it means anything at all, means a vote not to elect him, but to defeat the Democratic party, and therefore bring upport's infamous force bill, which would reduce the people of that section of the Union to more abject oppression than England ever imposed on down-trodden Ireland. It is to bring about this result that Weaver is to-day a candidate. Is there any man in the South who loves his section and his country and prizes the prosperity and happiness of his family and posterity, so unmindful of his duty and so recreant to all that he should hold most sacred, as to cast his suffrage for this putrid mass of political corruption? If so let nim hang his head in shame, and hide himself in some dark cavern of the earth where the light of day has never penetrated and the indignation of an outraged people can never reach. Let the people of the South read and pouder over the bitter and malignant, coarse and vulgar denunciations heaped upon them by this man, and spurn him as they would Beast Butler or a viper.

THE PECULIAR AND ASTONISHING POWERS HE POSSESSES.

Experiment of a Washington Newspaper Man-Secrets of His Late Told off Hand -Judge Goodspeed Relates Some Astonishing Facts He Had Investigated-A Distinguished Family.

[Frow the Washington Post.]

"Look back of you three seats," said my friend Judge Goodspeed just | before the limited express from Boston pulled out of the Providence depot. "You see that gentleman with glasses putting on his travelling cap?" "Yes, I see him, he has a look between the eyes similar to that of Beecher, Bob ngersoll and Edison. Who is he?" Well, sir, he is one of the best known men in New England, if not in the country. He is one of the most brilliant, brainy and remarkable men of his age.' By this time I was full of curiosity and wanted to know first who he was, and second all about him. The judge, in a cool and contrary mood, replied: "I will first tell you about" him, then I will tell you who he is. He is a young man somewhere about the forties. He is a practicing physician and enjoys, as is generally conceded, the largest practice of any physician in the world. In his university course he was admitted for the law, for medicine and the ministry, and a few minutes conversation with him would satisfy you he was well qualified for either. "As an orator he has no superior in the land! He is logical in his reasoning and irresistible in his appeals. He is the man of whom Hon. M. C. Kerr, exspeaker of the House of Representatives, said, 'he did not believe an American jury could be found who would hang a man if he had the opening or closing speech.' When he appears before the Legislature for or against a measure it is a signal for a crowd that no hall in the State House could hold. He appeared against a measure before the Massachusetts Legislature a few years ago. The bill was represented by the ablest counsel in the State. The committee were known to be favorable to the bill, with perhaps one exception. When the bill came up for hearing numerous counsel for the petitioners responded. Then this gentleman arose, and stepping forward, said: Mr. Chairman and gentlemen of the judiciary committee, I appear for the remonstrants.' This remark was applauded, for it meant to the audience an oratorical duel to the death. After the petitioners had presented their side of the case, and everybody thought the bill as good as passed, this gentleman for three hours argued against the bill. He presented his side of the case in such a light that it looked as though a disgraceful, infamous and outrageous law was being forced upon the State. His sarcasm at times was so severe that one felt pity for his opponent regardless of their feeling in the matter. One minute the whole house would be convulsed with laughter and the next every eye would be moistened with tears. Over many of his eloquent climaxes his bitterest opponents would cheer loudly, need only add that the committee voted forgetting what they were doing against the bill without any delay.

"I started out to say," continued the judge, "that he was as a physician disappointed and disgusted with the ordinary methods of practice and made a specialty of chronic diseases. He has broken away from the old methods, using, as he states, the good from every school and the good outside of all schools. He is a man of means, and consequently has everything that money can purchase to aid him in his practice He has enjoyed an extensive practice, and has had an extended and varied experience. He is a man of travel, research, and broad education. specialties are said to be cancer, consumption, tumor, paralysis, rheumatism, heart and nerve diseases. These he seems to treat with wonderful success, patients of these malignant diseases who are given up by other methods of practice to die. "I have understood from the most re liable authority that he averages upwards of 13,000 patients under his care all the time. He has several physicians in his employ, and all the facilities necessary for a great and extended practice. "Young as he is it is safe to say he is the highest authority in the East on chronic diseases. There is nothing higher in all this country. If he says a man will die he is pretty sure to die, but the hope for the sick man who goes to him lies in this, that he seldom thinks a sick man incurable, and to him they seldom are; when other physicians pronounce their cases incurable, he will take them and cure them in the most astonishing and miraculous way. Many people in New England believe his cures are miraculous-though he stoutly denies that they are anything of the kind -while he refrains from saying how he performs these most wonderful cures." "But, Judge, you have not told me who he is. "He is Dr. R. C. Flower, of Boston." "You don't mean to tell me that this s Dr. R. C. Flower, of Boston, who several years ago startled the world by curing, in apparently a miraculous way, the President of the Pensylvania Railroad, also Joseph Jefferson, the great actor?" "The same man."

"Why, I thought he was an old man!" "Everybody thinks so." "But how old is he?"

"I don't know. I told you I thought he was about the forties. He may be a thousand for aught I know, but he only looks like a boy." "Well, judge, how do you come to know so much about Dr. Flower."

"Well, sir, I will tell you. There was a time I disbelieved everything I heard about him, being prejudiced I presume against him, but I had a friend, one very near and dear to me, who was taken down with quick consumption. He was a man of ample means and tried the best physicians the world produced, but he grew worse rapidly. His physicians told nim finally there was no hope for himto set his house in order, that he could not live more than six or eight weeks at the best, and as most of his family had died with consumption, we accepted their opinion as the ultimatum. As a last resort, to pass away the hours of the death watch he went to see Dr. Flower. The doctor told him it was his opinion that he could cure him, though it would take several months to do it. So favorably did the doctor impress my friend and his wife that they returned home believing he would get well, and, strange to say, that man, almost in the throes of death, a feeble skeleton, arose into health as if touched by a charmed sceptre, and to-day he is a well man. Shortly after this occurrence my stepdaughter had a cancer come in her left breast. It developed very rapidly. Her If you are not feeling strong and healthy, try Electric Bitters. If "La Grippe" has left you weak and weary, use Electric Bitters. use Electric Bitters. This remedy acts ing for her. She then visited Dr. Agdirectly on Liver, Stomach and Kidnew, of Philadelphia, who told her husband that he could cut it it, but it would come again and that there was no cure for her. As a last resort she consulted

Dr. R. C. Flower. The doctor told her he would rather not take the case. "That means,' said the woman, bursting into tears, "that you do not-think I will get well," This remark seemed to disturb the doctor. "Is your life of very great importance or consequence to your family?"

"I have a sick husband and four little girls-my God! To leave them without a mother and almost orphans, nearly kills me."

I you and death until your children are evidence is unanswerable, sufficient to mate and not definite.

grown. By the help of God, and the ower I possess, I will cure you. He said this as if he meant it, and I guess he did, for at the end of nine months that woman was a well woman and has been so to this day. About this time I joined a society for psychological and scientific research. Some of Dr. Flower's cures were so suggestive of the occult, and his examinations so strange that it was decided by our society to investigate his claims and practices. I was made the chairman of the committee appointed to make the investigation. After months of research we arrived at the following conclusions: First, that Dr. R. C. Flower possesses an intuitional power or gift which enables him to diagnose any person's disease in detail and accurately without asking any questions. Second, that he possesses an ability in the treatment of chronic diseases which is phenomenal. Third, that his methods are different from those of ordinary practice and peculiarly his own. Here is what some of the most prominent people of the East say about Dr. Flower, being a part of our investiga-

Mrs. Mary E. Young, of 92 Harlow st. Bangor, Me., says on the 14th of December, 1891, my little girl was given up as incurable with typhoid fever. After every hope was abandoned, and she sinking through the last change, I telegraphed Dr. R. C. Flower the situation. and asked him to save her. He telegraphed that he would do so, that he would stand between my child and death, and for me not to fear-and he did-in the most wonderful way she improved, just as he said she would. We all feel that she was brought back to life. I don't know how he performed the cure, I only know he did so." Hon. J. D. Hopkins, of Ellsworth, Me. prominent politician as well as busi ness man, said, "I regard Dr. R. C. Flower, of Bostou, the most remarkable. brainy and brilliant physician of this age. My wife and I consulted him some months ago, since which time we have been treated by him and cured. I need not go into the details of our troubles; they were serious, but he has removed them. I can't say when I have felt better than I do now, not only cured but I seem to have returned to my youth, Dr. Flower cured a neighbor of mine in the same wonderful and marvellous way, when given up to die of a very ugly internal cancer. I know many of his patients, and they all hold him in the same high esteem we do. When Mrs. Hopkins and I went to see him he told us our diseases in detail without asking a single question. It is just as easy for him to read the inside of man and tell him all about himself as t is to read a book. It would seem that his ability to thus examine his patients was nothing less than a divine gift."

Dr. Brooks, of Brooks & Evans. prominent dentist of Portland, Me., said: "I am an admirer of Dr. R. C. Flower. I consider him the ablest physician of the age. Why, sir, he can tell sick person his disease without knowing anything about him, or asking him a question, just as easy as he would read his name. He has most successfully treated and cured me of a very serious and dangerous internal trouble, which threatened not only my immediate health, but life. I was almost incapacited for work. rapidly losing my strength. Under his treatment I sprang into health, have gained in strength and flesh and am now young again. Dr. Flower is to me a marvel; an unsolved wonder. He is the most fascinating and and genial man you ever saw. He is quick and brilliant and it makes one teel well and young to talk with him."

Mrs. Fry, of 198 Oak st., Lewiston, Me., said: "You see that little girl. For several years she was troubled with a growth in her nose, which had been gradually filling it up. We frequently had to have it partially removed so she could breathe. The last year it grew rapidly worse and assumed a malignant phase. We were advised to have an extended operation as the only thing that could save her health and life, and with no certainty that it would be successful. Dreading such an operation, my husband took our daughter to Dr. R. C. Flower. The doctor looked at the child moment, put his hand on her nose, then turning to her father, said: "Your child will get well now; she will never have any more trouble. And sure enough," continued Mrs. Fry. "this monstrous diseased growth faded away. entirely disappeared, and the little girl has been in perfect health ever since. Some six years ago Dr. Flower permanently cured Mrs. John L. Horn, of Norway, Me., of an internal fibroid cancerous growth, after the second operation, and she had been pronounced incurable by the leading physicians of Portland, Boston and New York, and had gone home to die. The Horn family are so prominent in Maine that a cure like this speaks well for the ability of the physi-

Several years ago Mrs. A. G. Thompson of the Fifth Avenue Hotel, New York city, (now of Pittsfield, N. H.), was treated and cured by Dr. R. C. Flower of a blood trouble, of which the leading specialist of New York city said it was not only incurable, but that no human power could give her relief. She has been in perfect health ever since. In the same wonderful way did Dr. Flower cure Mrs. Bond, wife of Hiram

Bond, a prominent manufacturer of Haverhill, Mass., after she had been pronounced incurable by the leading physicians and surgeons of Boston, and after unsuccessful operations.

Ex-Gov. Bishop, of Cincinnati, says "Dr. R. C. Flower is the greatest physician on this earth. If there is such a thing as a man being inspired, he is. You cannot talk to him without feeling better. He cures the most desperate cases in a mysterious and wonderful

Hon, I. Willard Rice, of Boston, brother of ex-Gov. Rice, says: "Dr. R. C. Flower is the most interesting and fascinating gentleman I ever knew, and is the greatest doctor in this world. I have known him to cure several in the most wonderful and speedy manner, when by other physicians they were pronounced incurable and in the throes of death." A. A. Rowe, Esq., a prominent busi ness man of Boston, was cured eleven years ago by Dr. R. C. Flower in a speedy and almost instantaneous manner of nervous prostration when all hope of his restoration had been abandoned. He has enjoyed good health ever since. Dr. Flower removed from the breast of Mrs. Brewster, of 29 Thompson st., Springfild, Mass., (her husband is a prominent business man of New Engand), 10 years ago, a monstrous cancer without the knife, and without drawing blood. No sign of the disease since, and the woman in perfect health.

F. N. Turner, of New Britain, Conn. says: "I had been given up to die by five physicians, who pronounced my disease incurable consumption. I was ady whom he had cured. As soon as and told me all the phases of my trouble. When I went to him I did not expect to get well, but when I left him I felt in my soul that I should be cured. He inspires the sick with hope, as nobody else can. Well, I placed myself under his treatment, I began to improve at once, and in a few months was well." Mrs. Edwin Norton, of Essex, Conn., says "Dr. R. C. Flower cured me of the most dreadful stomach and heart trouble woman ever had, also of nervous prostration. I had been a dreadful sufferer for over 12 years, had doctored with numerous physicians without benefit. Began to improve immediately under Dr. Flower's treatment and in a few months was cured," "A wonderful array of testimony "Yes, sir," replied the judge, who had settled down to read his book. "The of death, but it would be only approxi-

"Well, I am going to ask him anyway. He never saw me and it would be a great test if he could do so," and without waiting for the judge to introduce me I touched the doctor on the shoulder and said: "I believe this is Doctor Flower." "That is my name."

"I have been told, doctor, that you can tell a person his trouble without their telling you anything. I have a difficulty and would like to have you

Taking my hand in his for a moment he said: "Young man, some years ago by your prodigal or fast life you injured yourself; the disease settled in your left hip, and whenever you are tired, or take cold, you become lame and suffer severe ly in that hip. This happened," he continued, "about 14 years ago. Since then you have lived a proper and beautiful life, and it is unfortunate that that you should suffer so much for that youthful indiscretion." By this time I was fairly shaking, for everything he had told me was true. "Anything else the matter with me?" "Nothing;" and this was man is a supernatural wonder. You have investigated him, tell me a little more. Where do his patients come "From every section of this globe." "Is he high in his charges?"

"I should say he was, but you know such talent and skill will always command high prices. He would not have to doctor any one but millionnaires if he so wished, for the wealthy who seek him are without number, but he is very considerate to the poor. I have known of his receiving thousands of dollars for a consultation, and I have known of his giving the most important consultations for nothing. I presume he does as physicians and lawyers generally do in such cases.

"What is a few hundred dollars when a man's life is in the balance. I am glad for the sick world that there is a Dr. Flower, and I hope for the sake of the suffering he may live long to carry on his good work. Think it is safe to say as the result of the thorough and scientific investigations made by our society of all chronic incurables who go to him that Dr. Flower will cure fully ninety per cent. I don't know how he does it but I know that he does. "Dr. R. C. Flower has a brother, Dr. A. H. Flower. who is fast becoming famous. They are associated together, but are never both away from the office at the same time. "His younger brother, B. O. Flower, is editor of the Arena, that able and progressive Boston magazine. "The brilliant and fascinating elocutionist and humorist, Elizabeth Flower Willis, is his sister. She has recently forged to the front, and by critics of the stage is pronounced the greatest humorist of the day. Dr. Flower's father has been for years a distingusshed clergyman; So you see the entire family are the representatives of brains, skill and progression. If you would know more of Dr. Flower I advise you to send to his office, 559 Columbus av., Boston, Mass., fot a pamphlet he has published entitled 'Health.' It will only cost you a two-cent stamp. If you are really sick it will do you a world of good. If you are not sick, it will show you how to preserve your health." Just then the porter called out New York, and my conversation with Judge Goodspeed ended, he going to his hotel while I hastened across the city to catch the Washington flyer, and to think over what had just passed-the most wonderful experience of my life.

CHICAGO MARKET REVIEW A Downfall in Prices of All Products.

By telegraph to the Morning Star. CHICAGO, August 31.—There was weakness and depression in all the pits on the Board of Trade to-day, and a sharp decline all along the line. Everybody seemed disposed to sell, and there was little inclination to buy. New York and St. Louis led the selling. The chief cause of this condition of affairs was the growing fear that cholera would gain a foothold in this country, with all sorts of panic possibilities as the result. Wheat showed a downward tendency from the start, and first transactions were at %c decline from yesterday. The expected frost did not materialize, and the Government weekly crop bulletin was unexpectedly favorable for the crop. Domestic and foreign markets were all ower and weak, and receipts were very large. The close was 5/c lower near the lowest prices of the season. Other months shared in the decline. Corn was depressed and lower from the start, opening %c lower and losing %c additional for September. Oats sympathized with the general weakness, but prices were not so demor-Hog products were weak and at times demoralized. Offerings were urgent, with very little demand. September pork started at $10.25, a loss of 10c, rallied, but broke badly, closing at $10.071/4. Lard was 121/4c lower. ribs 716c lower for September, but October was unchanged. THE BORDEN MURDER Unimportant Testimony of Police Officers and Physicians.

By telegraph to the Morning Star. FALL RIVER, MASS., August 31 .-Most of the morning session in the Borden murder trial was spent in examination of police officers, physicians and directed to Dr. R. C. Flower by a young others. The testimony was not especilady whom he had cured. As soon as ally important. Marshal Hilliard testihe saw me he went back into my life | fied to the thoroughness of the search made of the Borden house; that he was not hindered in making the examination and that Emma Borden gave him the keys to everything.

John Donnelly, a hackman, said he went to the Borden house on the afternoon of the day of the murder. Went into the barn; the hay looked as though something had been lying on the northwest part of it, towards the window. Cross-examined: He could not say whether the impression was that of a man or a dog; never reported the fact to

Dr. Frank Draper, Medical Examiner for Suffolk county, who at the request of the Attorney General attended the autopsy of the bodies, gave expert testimony as to the character of the wounds. He said by examination of the stomach

STATE POLITICS.

- About every old line white Reablican in Hertford county has joined the Third party except two or three who hold Federal offices. Yes, the old liners are the biggest men in it, and without their assistance the Third party would never have been organized.-Murfreesboro Index.

- W. W. Teague, Weaverite elector in the eighth district, and Rev. Norton, Weaverite candidate for the Legisture in Alexander, had an appointment to speak at All Healing Spring, Alexander county, yesterday. The speakers were promptly on hand but there was no audience and they left without having an opportunity to howl .- Statesville Land-

- A Third partyite of this county was asked a few days since why he favored the Third party and his reply was "To give the negroes a fair showing."
This enemy of white supremacy once boasted of his simon-pure Democracy is that the mission of the Third party 'To give the negroes a fair showing," or n other words to put them in office .anford Express.

- There are workers at Democratic State headquarters. During the ast few days several tons of campaign iterature have been sent away. The main lot of literature has not yet arrived. The only delay in sending out the matter is the failure of many of the county chairmen to send to Mr. Simmons the much desired lists of disaffected voters.-Raleigh Chronicle.

- We are pleased to learn from Mr. R. B. Glenn, who has been campaigning in that section of the State that he Democrats of Surry county are as solid as heretofore, and that the canvass is progressing finely in all that region. The Third party adherents are weakening in their purpose to antagonize the Democrats and the outlook is brightening.-Raleigh News and Observer.

- There was a negro here a few days ago who has been very prominen in proclaiming his "Third party principles." Like a great many others who are following this "will o'the wisp," he is getting somewhat tired of the t. p. and remarked that the principles of the Democrats were right, but they did not promise the negroes office like the Third sarty did. He said further that if the Democrats would promise the negroes some of the offices, a great many would vote the Democratic ticket.-Louisburg Times.

- The Third party at Newell's did not show up last Thursday night, to the disgust and disappointment of the Democrats. The Gideonites had issued challenge for a joint debate between speakers for the Third party and for the Democrats. They had everything their own way, fixing both time and place. All was agreed to by the Democrats, whose one desire was to lock horns with their opponents. Major Dowd and Col Jno. E. Brown were on hand to uphold the Democratic faith, but no champion appeared for the Third partyites .- Chraotte Observer.

- It is undoubtedly a fact that the third party business is playing havoc with the Alliance. We learn that between 75 and 100 sub-alliances in the ous desuitude," rather than be forced into the third party ranks. charges against the third party nominees still grow and grow. T. B. Long, its nominee for Auditor, is now charged with having been a defaulter to the amount of $5.900 while an agent of the North Carolina Railway twenty-three rears ago. Judgment was given against nim for that sum .- Charlotte News.

- In conversation with quite a number of gentlemen from town and country, on Monday evening last, Mr. . A. Edmund, Alliance lecturer for this county, and Weaver nominee for elector in this district, stated that it was treachery for Alliance men who had heretofore attended primaries now to support the Third party, and gave out as a reason for the bad faith of so many that honor had no place in politics. Speaking for himself, Mr. Edmund said that by participating in the State Democratic Convention one was bound by its action.—Lumberton Robesonian.

- W. C. Henderson, the colored leputy who succeeded Ed McDonald has been heard to say that the Republicans will put Zeb Vance Walzer up ocrat, and Shuford, Third party. Henderson knows what he is talking about. - The Democrats had a great rally at Black Mountain yesterday, a feature of the occasion being a speech by Chas. N. Vance, son of Senator Vance, and T. R. Ransom, son of Senator Ransom, Chas. got off a joke or two that made the mountains shake their sides. They say he is a chip off the old block.—Charlotte

- Beulah township is the hot bed of Third partyism in Johnston county. There are more Third partyites in that township than everywhere else in the county. Why is this? It is because there are more white Republicans in that township than elsewhere in the county. The Third party is a child of the Republican party and they feel it their duty to nourish and care for the child to whom they gave birth. - The Third party men are staying at home and will not go out to hear Bunn and Abell. Probably they are of that class the Scriptures speak of, "who love darkness better than light because their deeds are evil." Evidently they don't care to hear the truth.-Smithfield

Herald. - It is said that the Third partyites of the county are seriously discussing the taking down of their candidate for the Legislature from their ticket and putting up another man. - A Third party meeting was held at Allen's Spring, two miles from town Saturday. It was given out that it was to be an Alliance meeting, and a Democratic speaker who attended was informed by Prof. J. Quinn and John Dover that it was "purely and Alliance meeting, and had no politics in it." The Democrat, however, happened to be pretty well up to Third parts tricks, and was not, therefore, at all surprised when John Dover, Republican, Greenbacker and everything else but Demo crat, arose and announced as the subject of his speech: "Why it became necessary to form the third party," and when Dr. Durham and Quinn followed on the same subject, he was still not surprised. The speeches were red-hot third party talks, but they aroused no enthusiasm. There were one hundred men, women and children present, of whom fifty were voters, a number of these being ocrats. The speakers refused to divide time with the Democrats .- Shelby Re-

COTTON FUTURES.

The New York Putures Market Yester day By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, Aug. 81.—Hubbard, Price & Co.'s cotton review says: The week's Government report can hardly be regarded especially favorable in its character, and the North Carolina State report which reaches us this morning puts the condition of the crop in that State at 70, which is low. This news, however, has been entirely without effect upon the market, and reports of the extension of cholera have had a depressing effect both in Liverpool and In Liverpool futures closed easy at 2-64 decliee, and by 1 o'clock the New York market showed a loss of about eight points as compared with yesterday's figures.
