MINOR MENTION.

The speech made by Senator Hill in the New York State Convention last Tuesday was an admirable one in every respect and one that every Democrat in the country, who is a Democrat at heart, will cordially endorse. It was not a labored nor an embellished effort, but a plain, forceful, happily phrased statement of the conditions that confronted the Democratic party when it came into possession of the Government, and of the brave, masterful way it met those difficulties and overcame them, and in doing so conferred lasting benefit not on any one class or section of the country but upon all classes and all sections. His unreserved tribute to the honesty, ability and patriotism of Mr. Cleveland's administration is even more creditable to him than to the man of whom it was spoken, for it is, in a certain sense, praise from the mouth of a rival. It is well known that the relations between the President and Senator Hill are not what might be called friendly, and yet the most ardent admirer of Mr. Cleveland could not have paid him a more honorable tribute than Senator Hill did on this occasion. It is not the first time that Senator Hill has done that, for he paid tributes to Cleveland when the names of both were before the country for the Presidential nomination, and he did it in the canvass after the nomination, and during the late session of Congress, when Mr. Cleveland was assailed for writing that letter to Hon. W. L. Wilson, Senator Hill came gallantly to his defence. All this speaks well for David B. Hill and shows that while he may be a vigorous partisan and faction fighter, he is not the slave of petty spite.

Mr. Havermeyer, President of the Sugar Trust, has ordered the closing of one half his refineries, and will close, he says, the other half shortly. The reasons assigned for this is that the Trust has a pretty big stock of sugar on hand, and because of the operations of the new tariff. The former is doubtless the real reason, the other a pretended one, the object being probably to lead to the impression that the Trust is having a hard time under the new tariff, and to do what it can to influence the coming elections so as to prevent any further legislation on sugar. It is doubtless part of the programme arranged when the Trust got behind and worked up that bolt of the sugar planters in Louisiana. As refined sugar is protected by the 1/2 of a cent a pound duty on it there will be very little refined sugar imported, so all the Trust has to do is to shut down its refineries, reduce the stock, which will of course force up prices. A fraction of a cent a pound would make a big haul for the Trust, and when it comes to the Trust, by the way, is sharpening the axe to cut the props from under it some of these days when the Senate isn't quite as close as it is now, and when sugar will not have quite such a hold on it.

The South Carolina Democratic Convention, remarks the Chicago Inter-Ocean, Republican, "denounced President Cleveland for appointing Republicans to office, as an unworthy successor of Jefferson, Jackson and Madison, and as a betrayer of the platform on which he was elected." As a simple matter of fact, the South Carolina Democratic Convention didn't do any such thing. Mr. Tillman's Convention did something like that. Here is a distinction with a difference.

Overproduction in the coffee crop has reduced the price of coffees so much that an exchange remarks that "a person can die now a good deal cheaper than he could a year ago." Yes, but people are not half as anxious to die now as they were a year ago. Things are getting better and there is some inducement to keep on living.

GENERAL COLSTON.

He is Now at the Soldiers' Home in Richmond. The friends of General Raleigh E. Colston will read the annexed, from the Richmond Dispatch, with interest: General R. E. Colston was brought to this city yesterday from Washington and taken to the Soldiers' Home. Prior to the war General Colston was a professor at the Virginia Military Institute, and during the war was a Brigadier-General in the Confederate army. After the cessation of hostilities he went to Egypt and for some time was in the service of the Khedive. Of late years he had been a clerk in the War Department at Washington, and having been paralyzed, was able to do his work at home until a recent ruling of the department forbade it.

He was met at Elba by a delegation of ex-officers, consisting of Colonel W. E. Cuthbert, General Charles J. Anderson, Colonel John B. Purcell, Colonel Thos. P. Pollard, Dr. George Ross, Mr. B. C. P. Berry and Dr. W. A. Deas, and seemed greatly affected by the evidence of their regard. At the home, his daughter, Mrs. Ragland, of Petersburg, was waiting to receive him.

NO MAN PERFECT.

There is no man living who can spell and pronounce correctly every word in the English language. There is no man living who knows the meaning of every word in our language. Hence every man who speaks or writes English correctly has occasionally to refer to a dictionary. What a disappointment it is to one in search of a word to find it has been omitted from the dictionary he relies on for information. Yet this is a very frequent occurrence. The only safe way to do is to get the latest and most perfect dictionary attainable. The American Encyclopedic Dictionary is never disappointing. The word you are looking for will always be found just where it should be, properly spelled, pronounced and defined. For an easy method of obtaining this perfect dictionary see announcement elsewhere in this paper. Thirty-two parts are now ready. Send orders to THE STAR.

WITHOUT A PILOT.

A Charleston Steamer Tries to Go Out Without a Pilot—It Ran Aground. The News and Courier says: The British steamship Glenwood, Capt. Meagher, in a heavy fog, ran aground on the city yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock. The master had not been able to get his vessel ready by 5 o'clock, after which hour the pilots had not been able to get out on starting without a pilot, trusting to his own, and as it proved, imperfect knowledge of the harbor. The Glenwood, which is more complicated than the Jetty Channel, and although his vessel drew only fifteen feet of water ran aground on the north beach.

THE JUDGE HAD FOUR.

And the Colonel Learned a Lesson in the Noble Game of Draw. There was a big jack-pot, with all its glories, and pay cash, and white and blue chips, reposing in the center of a table. It had been made for $50, and a starter, says the Buffalo Express, and each of the five players had sweated four times before there had been a pair of jacks wherewith to split it open.

What Colored Republican Editors Think of Fusion and the Butler Bill. The Maxton Blade and the Wilmington Herald are Republican papers, and both are edited by colored men. At this juncture it is interesting to see how they stand on the question of a Republican-Populist fusion. Here is an extract from an editorial that appeared in the Blade: "Colored Republicans should bear in mind that the Populists care nothing for them after they vote, and when you have helped to place the reins of government in their hands you can go to Guinea, so far as they are concerned. It is no secret with the Populists that they want to get rid of the negro and all they want now is to get in power and they will draw the colored men to their side. Their leaders have repeatedly said that their material enough in the Republican party, together with dissatisfied Democrats to form a white man's party which would be the straight Democrat. This is their game, and it does not take a sage to see it. All this talk about changing the election laws, and doing away with the present system of county government is simply used by them to catch colored votes. If the Populists should get into power with the help of your vote they would sweep the colored men out of office. Why would we say so? Because the Populists hate the negro worse than the devil hates holy water. The Populist papers have written columns about the abuse of Cleveland because he appointed a few colored men to office.
