

Subscription information and rates.

Advertising rates and contact information.

Subscription price details.

Information about the newspaper's content.

Details about the newspaper's circulation.

Information about the newspaper's history.

Details about the newspaper's ownership.

Information about the newspaper's staff.

Details about the newspaper's printing process.

Information about the newspaper's distribution.

Details about the newspaper's subscription process.

Information about the newspaper's contact details.

Details about the newspaper's advertising options.

Information about the newspaper's subscription rates.

Details about the newspaper's circulation figures.

Information about the newspaper's history and mission.

Details about the newspaper's ownership and management.

Information about the newspaper's staff and their roles.

Details about the newspaper's printing and production.

Information about the newspaper's distribution and delivery.

Details about the newspaper's subscription and advertising.

Information about the newspaper's contact and circulation.

Details about the newspaper's history and mission.

Information about the newspaper's ownership and management.

Details about the newspaper's staff and their roles.

Information about the newspaper's printing and production.

Details about the newspaper's distribution and delivery.

Information about the newspaper's subscription and advertising.

Details about the newspaper's contact and circulation.

Information about the newspaper's history and mission.

Details about the newspaper's ownership and management.

Information about the newspaper's staff and their roles.

Details about the newspaper's printing and production.

Information about the newspaper's distribution and delivery.

Details about the newspaper's subscription and advertising.

Information about the newspaper's contact and circulation.

Details about the newspaper's history and mission.

Information about the newspaper's ownership and management.

Details about the newspaper's staff and their roles.

Information about the newspaper's printing and production.

Details about the newspaper's distribution and delivery.

Information about the newspaper's subscription and advertising.

Details about the newspaper's contact and circulation.

Information about the newspaper's history and mission.

Details about the newspaper's ownership and management.

Information about the newspaper's staff and their roles.

Details about the newspaper's printing and production.

Information about the newspaper's distribution and delivery.

Details about the newspaper's subscription and advertising.

Information about the newspaper's contact and circulation.

Details about the newspaper's history and mission.

Information about the newspaper's ownership and management.

Details about the newspaper's staff and their roles.

Information about the newspaper's printing and production.

Details about the newspaper's distribution and delivery.

Information about the newspaper's subscription and advertising.

Details about the newspaper's contact and circulation.

Information about the newspaper's history and mission.

Details about the newspaper's ownership and management.

Information about the newspaper's staff and their roles.

Details about the newspaper's printing and production.

Information about the newspaper's distribution and delivery.

Details about the newspaper's subscription and advertising.

Information about the newspaper's contact and circulation.

Details about the newspaper's history and mission.

Information about the newspaper's ownership and management.

Details about the newspaper's staff and their roles.

Information about the newspaper's printing and production.

Details about the newspaper's distribution and delivery.

Information about the newspaper's subscription and advertising.

Details about the newspaper's contact and circulation.

Information about the newspaper's history and mission.

Details about the newspaper's ownership and management.

Information about the newspaper's staff and their roles.

Details about the newspaper's printing and production.

Information about the newspaper's distribution and delivery.

Details about the newspaper's subscription and advertising.

Information about the newspaper's contact and circulation.

Details about the newspaper's history and mission.

Information about the newspaper's ownership and management.

Details about the newspaper's staff and their roles.

Information about the newspaper's printing and production.

THE WEEKLY STAR.

VOL. XXVI.

WILMINGTON, N. C., FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 30, 1914.

NO. 4

haphazard way and be always at the mercy of any combination of money manipulators who may see fit to combine against it.

The fact is that this Government has been too much victimized and has been made to suffer from an exaggerated fear that if it asserted its rights its credit might become impaired and the value of its money depreciated.

The Atlanta Journal publishes a special dispatch from Washington stating that the President is in favor of the repeal of the State bank tax and of State banks, and that he goes further in this respect than Secretary Carlisle.

There is no shadow of doubt that the financial question will be a leading if not the leading one in the next campaign, and it is therefore to the interest of the next Democratic party to do so with that question while it has the power as to put itself on a good footing with the people and at the same time remove as many of the perplexing features as possible.

There was in the Republican party a great deal of opposition to the fusion with the Populists by men who were not aspirants to office and were not looking for any spoils.

The advantages which the South offers as a cotton manufacturing section are now pretty generally recognized in the North and especially among the mill men of the New England States.

taken. After exhibiting the progress that has been made since 1880, giving figures to show the increase in the number of mills, looms, spindles, etc., in these States—North Carolina, South Carolina and Georgia—the immense increase in the amount of wages paid, and cotton consumed it concludes thus:

"The large percentage of gain in cotton manufacturing in the South, shown in the above figures, has been more than maintained in the past four years. In fact, it can be confidently looked forward to in the next four years that the gain in cotton spindles will be mostly confined to the South.

This is no Southern optimist or enthusiast writing but a cool, calculating, observant New Englander who sees the situation and tells his readers the truth as he sees it that they may act wisely and plan accordingly.

ALDERMAN E. A. NORTHRUP Died Yesterday in New York City After a Short Illness—A Meeting of the Board Held—Resolutions Adopted.

The sad intelligence of the death of Mr. E. A. Northrup, a member of the Board of Aldermen of the city of Wilmington, was received here yesterday afternoon.

Mr. E. A. Northrup was the eldest son of Mr. Samuel Northrup, of this city. He was born in Wilmington March 4th, 1847, and in November, 1861, married Miss Annie J. Thomas, of Petersburg, Va., who with an infant child, seven months old, survives him.

SUDDEN DEATH. Dr. John H. Freeman—An Old and Respected Citizen of Washington.

Dr. John H. Freeman, one of the oldest citizens of Washington, died last night at 7:45 o'clock, from a stroke of paralysis, at his residence corner of Second and Orange streets, in the 71st year of his age, leaving a wife, one son and two daughters to mourn the loss of a loving and devoted husband and father.

Dr. Freeman was born in Orange county, near Company's Shops, January 10th, 1843. While a boy, he removed from Orange to Hertford county, and subsequently came to Washington, where he has since resided, with the exception of a few years spent in Fayetteville during the late war. He was engaged in the practice of dentistry over forty years, and was eminently successful in his chosen avocation.

Dr. Freeman was a most estimable gentleman, genial, kind-hearted, and highly esteemed by every one who knew him.

The funeral will take place this afternoon at 8:30 o'clock from the First Baptist church.

The late W. T. Walters.

DEATH OF W. T. WALTERS. An Eminent Citizen of Baltimore, Closely Identified with Wilmington in Connection with the Atlantic Coast Line System of Railroads—Philanthropist, Art Patron and Wealthy.

Mr. William T. Walters, art patron and financier, owner of the world-famous Walters Art Galleries in Baltimore, the principal stockholder in the Atlantic Coast Line system of railroads and the wealthiest man of Baltimore, died yesterday morning at 10:30 o'clock in that city at his residence, No. 5 Mount Vernon Place. The cause of his death was paralysis of the stomach.

Intelligence of the serious illness of Mr. Walters was received in Wilmington Wednesday afternoon while the annual meeting of officials of the Wilmington & Weldon Railroad Company was in progress, and this son, Mr. Harry Walters, Vice President of the company, left at once by special train for Baltimore.

The funeral will take place at Grace Episcopal church, Baltimore, at 3:00 p. m., Saturday, the 9th inst.

Mr. Walters was born on the Juniata river, Penn., in 1830, and was consequently seventy-four years of age. He was educated as a civil and mining engineer.

Mr. Walters was a most successful business man, and his financial and artistic attainments were of a high order.

to this roll now the world knows that Wm. T. Walters had one of the finest collections of pictures and bric-a-brac in existence. He bought the famous Roscher vase, it will be remembered, for $15,000. He was one of the permanent trustees of the Corcoran Art Museum at Washington and chairman of the Purchasing Committee. He was a member of the Society of Trustees and chairman of the Committee on Art. In 1848 he married Anna D. Harper, of Philadelphia. She died in London in 1865. Two children, a son and daughter, was the result of the union.

ROBESON COUNTY FAIR. Large Attendance—The Hoop-Tar Hoop Minstrel Perform to a Crowded House.

LUMBERTON, November 29.—The weather cleared day and a very large crowd was in attendance on the Fair. The racing and trotting race was won by "Billy Wilkes." The trotting race was won by "Billy Wilkes." The trotting race was won by "Billy Wilkes."

KNITTING MILLS. They Seem to Be Profitable Elsewhere—Why Not in Wilmington?

Knitting mills are being placed and the mills are still running day and night and the manager does not see when their orders will be so well filled that they can stop at night.

THE CHARLOTTE OBSERVER says: "Day and night the wheels of the cotton mills of Charlotte are to run, ceasing only during the Sunday hours."

CRIMINAL COURT. Cases Disposed of Yesterday—Grand Jury Report and Also Discharged.

The Criminal Court yesterday disposed of the following cases: W. L. Johnson, colored, forgery, Verdict guilty. Defendant sentenced to two years in the Penitentiary.

DEAR SIR—We the grand jury for the November term of the Criminal Court have faithfully investigated all cases that have come under our observation, as well as those that have been reported to us. We, therefore, beg leave to make the following report:

During our session, we found nine true bills and one not true bill that were sent before us by the Solicitor. We executed six commitments, and found true bills for all.

We visited the county jail in a body on the 28th inst., and found the sanitary condition of the same perfect and the health of the prisoners good, with one exception. We examined the food and found that a sufficient quantity of bread and meat was furnished, but we would recommend that the prisoners be furnished at least three days in each week, and that the prisoners be given two meals per day, served hot. It now appears that they are allowed only one meal a day and that is cooked the day before it is given to them.

We also recommend that the lower floor of the jail be repaired, as the cement of the same has begun to give way and is now in holes.

FUNERAL OF W. T. WALTERS. Simple and Unostentatious Ceremony—Interment in Greenwood Cemetery—Large Attendance—The Pall-Bearers.

BALTIMORE, November 24.—The remains of the late William T. Walters, art collector, philanthropist and financier, were quietly laid to rest in Greenwood Cemetery to-day. In accordance with his wishes the ceremonies were of the simplest and most unostentatious character.

Numbers of the friends of the deceased collected at the residence, No. 5 Mount Vernon Place, this morning, and took a final look at the dead. At 1:40 the members of the family and the honorary pall-bearers assembled at the house and proceeded in carriages to Grace Protestant Episcopal Church, corner of Park avenue and Monument street. The spacious church was filled with friends of Mr. Walters, many having come from New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Washington and other cities. The remains, incased in an elegant, but severely plain casket, were placed in front of the altar. The rector, Rev. Arthur Chilton Powell, read the short and simple yet beautiful burial service of the Church. The casket was carried into and from the church by the honorary pall-bearers. After the brief but impressive service, the funeral party, consisting of the immediate family, a few personal friends and the household servants, moved slowly to the cemetery, where the body was placed in the family vault beside that of Mrs. Walters, who died in London four years ago. The honorary pall-bearers, who were the friends and business associates of Mr. Walters, were Senator Dan Cameron, of Pennsylvania; Gen. Geo. M. Dodge, U. S. Army; New York, C. McGhee, Tennessee; F. R. Scott, of Richmond, Va.; H. B. Plant, of the Southern Express Co.; S. P. Avery, New York; Wm. Laidlaw, New York; Henry G. Marquand, of the Metropolitan Art Museum; Dr. Dan C. Gilman, Prot. of Johns Hopkins University; Henry James, Dr. S. C. Chew, J. P. McCay, Francis White, Thomas H. Pratt and Michael Jenkins, of Baltimore.

A Most Valuable Exchange. (Golden Rule Member.) The Wilmington Star, the oldest daily paper in the State, is twenty-seven years old. It celebrated this event last Sunday, by a permanent enlargement to eight columns, which makes it the cheapest daily paper of its size in the State. It is a most valuable exchange, interestingly gotten up and a model of neatness in typography. We wish it continued success.

The American ENCYCLOPÆDIC DICTIONARY. The Work Now Complete in 49 Parts. Cheaply and easily obtained through "THE STAR."

It Contains 250,000 Words. Covering nearly 4,000 pages, and was compiled at an expense aggregating $800,000, extending over nearly 20 years' continuous labor of men well qualified to undertake such an exacting task.

Copyright information and other legal notices.