THE MIDDLE GROUND.

The presumption has been that this is a country in which the majority rules. Theoretically it is, but in practice this presumption has not always been sustained, but on the contrary has been, at least in the last half century, very seldom sustained. The presumption also is that in the great political parties which contend for the supremacy the majority rules. This does not always hold good, for very frequently it is the smaller but more assertive or aggressive faction which controls the party, but it has always been the proud boast of the Democratic party that in it the majority does rule.

Now for the first time in a generation after moving unopposed until it had won the victory for which it had heroically battled for a generation, we see signs of restiveness and a disposition in certain contingencies to ignore the voice of the majority and force the party to accept the dictates of the minority as a condition of fealty and acquiescence in the duties of its duly constituted conventions. For the first time men who call themselves Democrats publicly and openly declare that unless the next national convention does so and so, and does what they want it to do, they will repudiate its utterances, and either make a party of their own or fall in under the standards of the Republican party which they had been fighting all their lives, provided that party act more to their liking on one issue which has for some time been engaging the attention of the American people.

In an interview recently Hon. W. C. Whitney, of New York, declared that unless the next national Democratic convention pronounced for "sound money," that is, declared itself in favor of the present monetary system, it would be split in two, which means that the minority will wield, and run candidates of its own. Mr. Whitney is a very distinguished Democrat, was Secretary of the Navy under Mr. Cleveland's first administration, and has been prominently mentioned as a candidate for the party in 1896. His utterances are therefore more than the utterances of an ordinary individual, and are the more significant on account of his standing in the party.

Col. Henry Watterson, of Louisville, said recently that it depended upon the Democrats themselves whether they carried Kentucky at the next election or not, for if they adopted a free silver platform there were 40,000 "sound money" Democrats who would refuse to vote with the party, but would in preference vote with the Republican party. These are two simple utterances coming from two distinguished Democrats on one side of the silver question.

Hon. Mr. Bryan, of Nebraska, one of the leading Democrats in the West, said in a speech at Jackson, Miss., a few days ago that, although he had never been anything else, if the next Democratic convention adopted a gold platform, he would die in his tracks before he would vote the ticket. Others more or less prominent in the party's councils have made substantially the same declaration, that is, unless the majority of the convention accepted their terms, they would secede and nominate candidates of their own. These are representative men and doubtless express the views of others whom they represent, but simmered down it simply means that unless the majority consents to be governed in the convention by the minority, the minority will withdraw and go into business on its own account. That is not the kind of Democracy we used to have in this country, and that we were all proud of.

The silver issue is a great one, and a very important one. But is not a new one. We have had it in some shape for twenty odd years, and Democrats have accepted the declarations of their conventions on that as they have on the tariff and other questions in which individual Democrats might differ. Democrats have differed on the tariff and differ now, but the Democrat who would desert the party and go over to the Republican party because the Democratic

MINISTER RAMSON IN THE CITY.
His Honor in His Own Home in Halifax County—
His Health Improved—Service of the People—His Views on the Future of the Country—His Views on the Future of the Country—His Views on the Future of the Country.

Minister Matthew W. Ramson arrived in the city to-day en route to his home in Halifax County. He will spend a day there when he will go to White Sulphur Springs, Va., where he hopes to benefit his health. A press dispatch sent out from Washington this morning stated that Mr. Ramson is seriously ill, and he will be compelled to relinquish the Mexican mission unless his health improves materially. Mr. Ramson is not seriously ill, though he is quite feeble. He tells me his health has improved very much since he reached North Carolina. Mr. Ramson does not look like the sick man the newspapers have made him out to be. A close friend, Mr. Ramson said he expected to return to Mexico, if living, in a few months the Mexican climate will be more bearable than it now is and it is thought by Minister Ramson's friends that he will be able to remain there without detriment to his health.

Senator Butler arrived in the city this morning from Memphis. He came in a few minutes after Minister Ramson was expected to arrive. He is in the city for the purpose of attending to the affairs of the Yarrowbark, and it was quite noticeable that both of the distinguished gentlemen's signatures were together on the register of the hotel.

A BAD FIRE.
In Messrs. Chesnut & Bennett's Show-
Room—Damage to Stock and Building
Estimated at About $300,000—Building
Fully Insured—Insurance on Stock $15,000.

Fire was discovered about half-past one o'clock this morning in Messrs. Chesnut & Bennett's show-room on North Front street, between Market and Princess. When discovered volumes of smoke were pouring from the windows of the third story of the building, and when the Fire Department reached the scene in response to the rather lagged alarm, the whole of the third floor—the top-story of the building from front to rear—was in flames and the stairway on the second floor was burning. There was considerable delay in forcing the stout doors of the building and in the meantime the fire made rapid progress. About 9 o'clock flames burst through the roof and illuminated the streets for squares around, and to all appearances it seemed that Messrs. Chesnut & Bennett's show-room, and the stock on hand, were all lost. The fire was extinguished by the firemen who were working on the roof and in the yard. The cause of the fire is not known. Mr. Barrentine, of the firm, said that nothing was kept on the third floor but empty packing cases and rubbish, but there were many cases of goods on the second floor. The entire stock is practically a total loss, what was not burned being ruined by water. Its estimated value was $18,000, or $20,000, with insurance for $15,000, divided among the agents in the city as follows: With Messrs. Steadman & Worth, $4,000; Joseph D. Smith, $4,000; C. H. Robinson, Jr., $1,000; M. S. Willard, $1,000; Dr. W. W. Harris, $1,000; J. H. Boatright, $3,000; Althous & Son, $1,500.

The building is owned by Mr. Geo. R. French, and is fully insured. Mr. French also owns the building occupied by Messrs. Munson & Co., and the building occupied on the ground floor by Mr. C. M. Harris. Neither of these were damaged nor were the goods in these stores injured, so far as could be ascertained last night.

DEATH OF MR. R. E. HEIDE,
Vice Consul of Denmark, Norway and Sweden.

After a long and lingering illness, Mr. Roderich E. Heide, a respected citizen of Wilmington, died at his residence on South Second street, yesterday morning at 7:15 o'clock, in the 64th year of his age.

Mr. Heide for years past has been Vice Consul in this city for Denmark, Norway and Sweden. He was born in Denmark in 1830; was the oldest of five brothers, all but one of whom, the second brother, an officer in the Danish army who was killed in the war with Prussia, emigrated to this country. His father was a nobleman, Baron Von Heide, and he also was killed while fighting his king and country. The title and the estates descended to the oldest son. In 1858, when but 28 years of age, Baron Von Heide renounced his title and came to the United States. He landed in New York in 1859, in 1864 he came to Wilmington and in 1865 he went to Fayetteville, where the opening of the war found him. He warmly espoused the cause of the South and was a member of the First N. C. Regiment, he was present at the battle of Bethel. He was afterwards in the Confederate service with Col. Lamb at Fort Fisher, where he did true and effective service. He returned to Fayetteville at the close of the war but soon after returned to Wilmington and engaged in the grocery and commission business here. He was a member of St. John's church and had been for many years, and was also a member of the Royal Arcanum and the American Legion of Honor.

Mr. Heide married in Fayetteville, and his wife died in this city about three years ago. He leaves five children, two sons and three daughters, the latter all married. But one of his children, his youngest son, George, remains in Wilmington. His surviving brothers are Mr. Henry Heide, a former officer in the Danish army, who now resides in New York; Mr. Christian H. Heide, a truck farmer near the city, and Mr. Alex. S. Heide, a merchant in business here.

The funeral services will take place at 10 o'clock this morning from St. John's church and the interment will be in Oakdale by the side of his wife.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CONFERENCE.

The Sunday School Conference of Wilmington District, M. E. Church South is holding its sessions in Market Street Church.

The opening sermon was preached by Rev. W. L. Cunningham, pastor of Fifth Street Methodist Church.

Reports were presented from the various Sunday schools throughout the district. Many of these reports were very gratifying, showing improvement in attendance and efficiency.

Confession assembled at 4 p. m. The principal feature of the session was an address by Rev. L. S. Etheridge, of Carver's Creek circuit, on the efficiency and necessity for the Circuit Sunday School Conference, and an address by Rev. D. C. Goddie, of Magnolia, on the qualification and preparation of Sunday school teachers.

Mr. W. H. Bryant, one of Wilmington's most popular young men, and Miss Etta L. Shepard, of Topsail Sound, the charming and lovely daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Shepard, were happily married Wednesday, June 19th, by the Rev. Mr. Norman, of Grace Church.

Death of Mr. J. M. Rose.
A dispatch from Fayetteville, N. C., received in Wilmington, announced the death of that city yesterday at 10:45 a. m. of Mr. J. M. Rose, secretary of the Cape Fear & Yadkin Valley Railroad Company, after a short illness resulting from a recent attack of grip.

Death of Mr. M. P. Pearce.
The funeral services of the late Jas. M. Pearce, engineer of the steamer Wilmington, took place yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock, in Southport. Rev. W. S. Ballard, of the Methodist Church, and Oliver H. Rider, of the Baptist Church conducted the services, which were largely attended, all Southport having turned out to do honor to his memory.

Quick Schedule to Asheville.
The market yesterday was pretty well stocked with vegetables, fruits, poultry and fish, while butchers' stalls showed good supplies of excellent beef, veal, lamb and pork. Poultry continues in poor supply and prices are rather high for the season. Eggs are fairly plentiful at 19 1/2 cents per dozen.

MURDER AND ROBBERY.
Mrs. Pollard Killed and Her House Placed Under Arrest.
RICHMOND, Va., June 15.—A special to the Dispatch from Keysville, Charlotte county, says that Friday evening Mrs. Pollard, aged fifty wife of E. S. Pollard, a well-to-do farmer residing at Fort Mitchell, that county, was murdered in her yard by being knocked in the head with a stone. Her head was beaten to a jelly. The object was robbery as the house was rifled and $80 stolen. Twenty-five men were working in a field some three hundred yards distant when the murder was committed. Circumstantial evidence points to two colored women who lived on the place.

THE COTTON MARKET.

NEW YORK, June 14.—It was expected that at the end of the White-saturday holidays the English spinners would appear in the Liverpool market as buyers of large quantities of cotton to meet their daily consumption, but in this trade have been disappointed, as their takings have shown a disappointing success upon their purchases.

Foreman Charles Rolfe.
Superintendent of One of the Largest Composing Rooms in America.

Up in the top story of The Globe building, where the typesetting and other machines do everything but talk, says the Boston Globe, there is a pleasant-faced, clear-skinned, light-complexioned man of 33 who has been with The Globe ever since the birth of that great paper. He is the night foreman of the composing room, and looks 15 years younger than he really is. His name is Charles Rolfe.

Nervous headache that well-nigh drove him to distraction first introduced him to Paine's celery compound. That was five years ago, and until that time he was one of the most pronounced opponents of prepared remedies to be found in the city.

Just how Paine's celery compound was first brought to his attention he does not remember, but it has done him so much good that the compound has no more enthusiastic champion living. He was as happy as any one in the enjoyment of good health could be, and that happiness gives full credit to Paine's celery compound. Read what he has to say about the medicine:

"I am always ready to recommend Paine's celery compound when I hear of a case similar to my own. Some five years ago I was suffering from headaches which were so severe that I could not work more than a few hours at a time. I would clamp my hands over my head to hold the top of the pain being excruciating. These attacks would occur sometimes as often as three or four times a day. I was at the end of the question, the pillow seemed but a block of wood.

"Just at the time I was suffering most I bought a bottle of Paine's celery compound, began at once to take it and before a week had passed the headaches began to disappear. I felt almost a new man before the people was empty. I purchased more, and for two weeks had been in the house for when I felt a return of the old pain, I never failed in giving me relief. The other members of my family also began to take it with a feeling of general weakness, and being at that time much 'run down' and never feeling well enough to perform the work of the home. Within a week the most of the family were again in their life, and similar reports came from all our friends to whom we had recommended it.

"I feel confident that in nervous headaches and a run-down system the compound will be beneficial every time, if not a perfect cure.

"In some instances we have not only recommended it, but furnished it to very aged friends, and the effect of one bottle has seemed marvelous, one particular old friend of mine telling me that before one bottle had been used he felt at least ten years younger, and certainly had not felt as good for two years."

"During the last five years I have used a great many bottles of the compound—it is, in my opinion, an positive that it is a sure cure for nervous headaches and a broken-down feeling, especially in the case of elderly persons.

"There is one case in particular I call to mind, in which Paine's celery compound asserted its good qualities. We had a young married lady friend, who was nursing her 4-month-old child, and found that she could perform her household duties on account of the weakness she seemed always to be in. On the recommendation of my wife and myself she took one bottle of the compound, and before two weeks had passed she was able to do her own washing even in addition to housework. About three bottles were used. I have yet to hear from her, but I have no doubt that it is other than the most favorable result."

CASHIER HOLLAND
Convicted of Embezzlement and Sentenced to Seven Years' Imprisonment in Albany Penitentiary.

CHARLOTTE, N. C., June 18.—T. R. Holland, the delinquent cashier of the Merchants' and Farmers' National Bank of the city, was convicted of embezzlement in the U. S. District Court here to-day, and was sentenced by Judge Dick to seven years in Albany, N. Y. penitentiary. Holland's delinquency amounted to $30,000. The maximum punishment for the crime is ten years. The witnesses in the case were John M. Miller, Jr., National Bank Examiner for the Government, and Dr. Joseph G. Graham, the physician who testified to the falling health of the prisoner and the other two to his previous good character. Holland pleaded guilty for the minimum punishment and District Attorney Glenn argued with power for a longer term. The court room was crowded and there were many tearful eyes. The prisoner will be taken to Albany within a week. Before the discovery of his peculation he was a man of reputation and the greatest popularity.

CHINA AND JAPAN.
A Treaty Signed Making Important Concessions of Territory to Russia.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 18.—The commercial treaty between Russia and Japan, which has just been signed by the contracting parties, contains a paragraph providing that henceforth the duty upon petroleum imported into Japan shall be levied upon volume and not upon weight. This arrangement will work to the advantage of the United States, American oil being lighter than the product of Russia, though the latter is the cheaper. The Russians are delighted over the brilliant stroke accomplished by Mr. Delaunay, the Russian plenipotentiary in the conclusion of the treaty. Moreover, it is believed that in return for Russia's guaranteeing the Chinese Far East loan, she has obtained the territory between Nerzhinsk in Amur Russia, and Port Arthur, which will be connected by railway, and the latter place used as a coaling station. It is understood that Russia will shortly take possession of Liao Tung territory, when it is expected that Germany, England and the United States will unite in asserting their rights.

FOUND ON THE TRACK.
He Tells About It.

It is one thing to be found on the track and another to be on the right track. So both of them arrived Friday evening. The brand name of the product was Wayneboro, Pa., Independent, who for twenty years suffered incessantly from distressing nervous headache, and last year was compelled to discontinue his work. He found himself on the right track when he had taken half a bottle of Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine, and has not returned.
