The Man Who Mude the Threat Always Keeps His Word.

"There are some men of such uprelent ing purpose that when they once register yow to do a cortain thing no human ageney can cause them to alter their reso-Intion." said Mr. George Rice of Arkansas. "Here is a little story taken from life, every incident of which came under my own observation. The facts are truly stated and can be easily verified. About ten years ago, in a little southern town, two friends of mine, a young man and a man of middle age, had a difficulty, and the former fell dead, pierced through the heart with a bullet from a revolver. The blame all rested with the deceased. He came of a highly respectable family, but had fallen into convivial habits, and when drinking was very ugly. Time and again he had made threats against the man who killed him. Friends of the latter told him of the threats and begged him to avoid a meeting, which he did whenever possible. At last it came to a question of killing or getting killed, and he obeyed nature's first

A jury would have cleared him beyond all doubt if the case had ever come to trial but it never did. Instead, he forfeited his bond of $8,000, and the cash was unid over by my hands. The man who ald the killing left for parts unknown and has never feturned. Why did he not stand trial?, Simply because the father of the decensed solemnly declared in the presence of all his townsmen that if John --- was aquitted of slaying his son he would become the boy's avenger. He would kill his son's slayer. The old man was never known to break his word. His courage was of that desperate kind that feared nothing. Nobody aoubted that he would do just what he said, so I advised John ---- to clear out, and as there had been enough killing he went.

'Ten years have gone by, and the old father has never relented. He stands ready today to make good his oath. Argument and persuasion are useless, and a good man is forced into banishment as as the other lives. He is getting ver old now, and his health is feeble. His stay on earth is short, but until he goes the sentence of exile stands."-Washington Post.

Clearance Befused to the Steamer Dannt less-Steamer Three Friends Still in Custody of U. S. Officials.

By Telegraph to the 'Morning Star. JACKSONVILLE, FLA., Jan. 18 .- The collector of customs, C. R. Bisbee, has received instructions from Washington to reluse clearance to the steamer Dauntless, the master of which has applied for a clearance for Nuevitas, Cuba, with a cargo of arms and ammunition for the Cubans. The order to the collector is based upon the report of the last voyage of the Dauntless as made by Capt. John Myers. The report is very unsatislactory, as it does not state the name of the vessel to which the men and arms taken from No Name Key were transferred at sea. The Dauntless is still in custody of an officer of the reveoue outter Boutwell but has not yet been libelled for any violation of the neutrality or navigation laws of the Uarged States.

The steamer Three Friends is still in custody of the U. S. marshal and her owners have not yet applied for her reease on bond. Judge Locke's decision in the former libel is anxiously looked for. The following from Key West shows that the grand jury is trying to get at the bottom of the alleged finbustering trips of the Three Friends and other steamers supposed to be engaged in the DUSIDESS: "Papers were served by Deputy Marshal Johnson upon Capt. Horr, ex collector of this port, and Peter Williams, ex U. S. marshal, to appear before Judge L cke at Jacksonville instanter, charged with implication in the filipustering expedition which was landed in Cuba by the steamer Launtless on the last trip." They are charged with taking arms and munitions of war from No Name Key in the tug Arab and transferring the same to the Dauntless.

Husband and Wife Kept Apart by the Innocent Elevator Man.

A well dressed woman walked into the Crocker building one afternoon and took an elevator. Her husband saw her from across the street and hurrying over took the pext elevator. He went to the office where he knew his wife had business and found that she had stepped in and out and gone down in the next elevator. The elevotor dispatcher said to her:

"Your husband just went up in the elerator. I think he is looking for you." The lady took the next elevator up. Just then her husband came down. He looked all around and then inquired of the elevator man: "Have you seen my wife here?" "Yes, she just went up this minute."

The man took the next elevator and he was no more than out of sight when his wife came down again. Your husband has just gone up again,' said the elevator man. "I guess he'll whit for me this time, so I'll go up." And up she went. Down came the husband a second after

After standing in the corridor several minutes she decided to go up stairs and and him. As she was whisked out of sight he stepped out of another elevator. Your wife has just gone up," said the elevator man. The husband swore a little under his breath and started to leave the building. At the door he hesitated, changed his mind and took the next elevator up. Down came his wife at the same moment "He's just gone up again," was the elevator man's answer to her weary look of inquiry, "and he's mad as a hornet." Then I had better go right up and
