THE PERPLEXING PROBLEM.

If it were not for the Philippine islands the question of peace with with Spain might be easily settled, for Spain regards Cuba as lost, and after Cuba Porto Rico becomes a matter of little consequence to her. If this were all, the powers that are friendly to Spain would counsel her to seek peace and use whatever of influence they may have with her to have her do it: but the Philippines are another matter, and while these powers may not be interested in them on account of Spain, they are interested to the extent that they do not want the United Statos to get final control of them. And in this there is both business and politics, for it would give the United States such a foothold on that side of the globe that they would thereafter be a power which must be consulted in every movement made in the Asiatic seas. The United States are already becoming a competitor in the trade of that part of the world, and with a near-by base in the Philippines they would become still more so.

But as to the Philippines themselves they have the reputation of being rich in gold and other minerals and capable of immense development agriculturally and commercially, and this makes them a tempting piece of property, which doubtless has stimulated the desire for possession by this Government, something which was not in the remotest contemplation when the war began. Dewey's victory and the possible proportions of it came as much of a surprise to Washington as it did to Madrid.

Politically they do not want to see republican ideas and republican institutions planted on that side of globe, for that may mean the beginning of new conditions, of new aspirations and of new revolutions, in which all the nations which are planting their power and extending their domain in the Chinese empire are interested. Of course this is all not mutilate either the living or the in the future, and in the distant future, for those are sluggish people over there (with the exception of Japan), who have moved in ruts for ages. But there is nothing which will stir a sluggard up quicker than a lively, hustling neighbor. While no one of the European powers, (with Japan also), would like to see these islands in possession of the United States, there is little probability of anything like a combinacion against it, as has been suggested as probable for the powers most interested and have interests of their own to look after, and them and apologizes he (Carr) will could not agree on a common plan go to Washington and file charges of action. As England has been an obstacle in the way of anything like close observer; he went into camp intervention so she will prove to be with the boys to see and note how an obstacle in the way of any com- they were getting along, and says bination to interfere with the United that there is not a more manly or States. England would like to see better behaved regiment in camp atthe islands in the possession of the Jacksonville, or one that stands bet-United States, and is now encourag- | ter in the eyes of the people of that ing us to hold them taking it for city. They lack uniforms and some granted that we already have prac- of them shoes, and therefore do not tical possession. England wants an show off as well as some of the other ally and would be only too well regiments which are better provided satisfied if complications arise over in this respect, but in all the solthe final disposition of them to lead to the alliance she longs for and has been so openly playing for since this war began, so that it would be pretty safe to say that if this Gov- but probably he is one of those indiernment decides to hold possession of these islands it may depend not only on the moral but also on the material support of Great Britain, if opposition come from any quarter. We therefore, have no apprehension of serious interference if this government should show a determiwhich he falsely arraigned, a gross nation to extend empire in those seas but even then if posession were assured by the defeat of the Spaniards the question will arise whether it would be a good, wise policy to plant our flag there to remain. There is, it is true, in the idea something that appeals to our national pride, but national pride isn't always the best guide, especially when it carries us so far from home, and throws upon us responsibilities which may call for stupen dous effort and performance in the future. Ownership, even assuming that it would be with the full and cordial consent of the people who are now fighting Spain or who may be living there and be neutral, would carry with it the necessity of defence, if that ownership was questioned or attacked, and it would also involve us more or less in Asiatic politics, and thus leave us always liable to be drawn into the chains large and small in Micronesian waters would be worth. We confess to some pride to see our flag floating over territory on which "the sun never sets" but a very small piece of territory for that purpose would suffice to gratify this pride. We would be content with the island of Zulon, or even with Manila, and let the rest go, after Spain had paid the indemnity for which we would hold them. We do not think it the part of wisdom to put ourselves in a position where we oss is estimated at $300, with no insurmay be compelled to defend possesапсе. sions covering a large area of the sea, seven thousand miles away from the nearest point of embarkation. The less of that kind of defence we have to do the better for us, in these days of costly warfare.

MINOR MENTION.

A Vienna newspaper is authority for the statement that Spain has requested the Powers to urge the United States to occupy Manila with troops, should the city surrender, to prevent it from falling into the hands of the insurgents. On general principles the United States are disposed to be accommodating; and will doubtless anticipate this request. without the formality of being urged by the Powers, even if they contemplated such urging. Admiral Dewey seems to have taken fall the neighborly precautions in this respect and has had a distinct understanding with Chief Aguinaldo, that in warring upon the Spaniards they are to behave themselves and conduct their operations in a decent, genteel way, which agreement the insurgents have, as far as known, punctiliously observed. They have been practically moving under the direction, if not under the immediate orders, of Admiral Dewey, who has taken measures to see that the capture of Manila will not by the perpetration of any atrocity blur the glorious record he has made for himself and for his country. Spain may rest easy as to the fate of the Spaniards in that city when it surrenders succumbs. The insurgents will Reports of Other Officers-New Membe initiated in the D. O. K. K .- Annual Banquet at the Seashore Hotel. Excursion on the River.

The Grand Lodge Knights Pythias met in Castle Hall yester day at 9 o'clock pursuant to adjourn ment on the previous night. Grand Chancellor R. H. Bickert, of Statesville, presided. The first order of business was the election of Grand Lodge officers for the ensuing year. The election resulted as follows:

Grand Chancellor-Thos. S. Frank lin, of Charlotte. Grand Vice Chancellor-W. Woodward, of Wilmington. Grand Prelate-Rev. C. W. Robin son, of Wilkesboro. Grand Master of Exchequer-Joh of Henderson.

Following the election of officers came the report from the committees on distribution, consisting of Past Grand Chancellor Washington Catlett, of Clarendon Lodge No. 2, Past Chancellor J. J. Hopkins, of Stonewall No. , and Past Grand Chancellor John Haar, of Germania No. 4. The report was adopted as submitted, recommending reference of the reports of the Grand Chancellor and other Grand Lodge officers to different committee for consideration and for such recommendations as they might deen The Grand Chancellor's repo showed that since the last meeting lodges had been instituted at the following places: Elkin, Chapel Hill Troy, Rutherfordton, Rowan, Worthville, China Grove and Bessemer City. all of which started with bright prospects. The report also showed that three lodges, North Wilkesboro, No. 67, Piedmont, No. 96, and Excelsion No. 72 suffered loss by fire during the vear. It was recommended in Gran Chancellor Rickert's report to divide the domain into eight instead of six districts. It was further recommended that some one or more well informed Knights be appointed to conduct a school of instruction at each convention of the Grand Lodge, as new members come to the Grand Lodge every year expecting to get instruction in secret work, and are always disappointed. Grand Keeper of Records and Seals W. T. Hollowell's report showed that in the Domain there are 78 active lodges with a membership of 4,025, a net gain of 495 members; that $6,fever. 290.30 had been expended by the subordinate lodges for relief during the year, $16,864.80 for current expenses, $2,562.91 for paraphernalia and supplies, $4,758.69 invested, $7,570.74 balance on hand December 31, 1897, making the total disbursement $38, 047.44 A number of amendments to existing laws were offered and referred to appropriate committees for considera At 12.30 P. THE MOORE BOARD LAWFUL County Treasurer Chadbourn Must Hor Their Orders Upon the County Treasary-Full Text of the Opinion As Delivered by the Court.

Late yesterday afternoon Judge O. H Allen rendered an opinion in the suit of the Democratic Board of Commissioners of New Hanover county vs. County Treasurer James H. Chad bourn, Jr., the purport of which is familiar to readers of the STAR. The opinion is to the effect that Col. Roger Moore and his associate commissioners are the lawful Board, and that Treas. urer Chadbourn must honor their orders upon the county treasury. The attorney for Mr. Chadbourn told a STAL reporter last night that he would take an appeal from the Judge's ruling. The opinion is as follows: State of North Carolina, New Hanover

County-in Superior Court-at Chambers, Wilmington, N. C. June 14th, 1898.—Roger Moore, J. L. Boatwright, John Barry, James Cowan and W. F. Alexander vs. James H. Chadbourn, Jr., Treasurer. This cause comes on to be heard Chambers, at Wilmington, in said county on the 14th day of June, 1898, in a certain proceeding under section 623 of the Code, which enacts that a mandamus proceeding, except for the enforcement of a money demand, may be heard and decided at Chambers, provided issues of fact do not arise on the pleadings, in which case the cause

At the beginning of the hearing an issue of law having arisen upon the first allegation of the complaint, and the answer thereto, the Court indicated a purpose to require the plaintiffs to amend the said allegation in the complaint, so as to set out the facts upon which the plaintiffs relied for claiming to be the Board of Commissioners of New Hanover county: whereupon, the defendant's counsel agreed that the facts concerning the same as set out in the complaint and affidavits on a certain motion in the action of Walzer, Attorney General, on relation of Roger Moore, John L. Boatwright, John Barry, James Cowan and W. F. Alexander vs. F. W. Foster, F. J. Demsey and Jordan Nixon, might be considered as alleged as a part of the complaint. Thereupon the following facts appear from said affidavits: That the plaintiffs, Roger Moore and W. F. Alexander, were appointed members of the Board of Commissioners of The County Committee Preparing for a New Hanover county by

The House of Representatives Vesterday Adopted the Newlands Resolutions.

And it is further ordered and ac udged that said defendant Treasure THE VOTE ON THE MEASURE pay all proper warrants and orders issued by said Board, composed of Roger Moore, John L. Boatwright, ssued by said Roger Moore, John L. Boatwing in John Barry, James Cowan and W. F. Judge Superior Court. By Telegraph to the Morning Star. WASHINGTON, June 15.-By a vote of 209 to 91, the House of Representatives this afternoon adopted the New. lands resolutions providing for the Colored Woman Instantly Killed an annexation of Hawaii. The debate, Dwelling House Set on Fire During which has continued without interruption since Saturday, has been one of the most notable of this Congress the proposed annexation being con-sidered of great commercial and strategic importance by its advocates and being looked upon by its opponents as involving a radical departure from the long established policy of this country and likely to be followed by the inauguration of a pronounced policy of colonization, the abandon ment of the Monroe doctrine and par ticipation in international wrangles. More than half a hundred members participated in the debate. From a party standpoint the result was awaited with the keenest interest. The Republicans presented practically a

The old books told us that air was not compressible, but modern science has exploded that and now we have liquefied air; air that by extracting the heat from it is reduced to a liquid and may be dipped up like water. It is about 300 times as cold as ice, and when held in a glass soon begins to boil with the heat in the air and soon evaporates. It will freeze alcohol or mercury in a few seconds, and a piece of beef or an egg immersed for a minute or so will be frozen so hard that they may be beaten into dust. Much is expected of this discovery, or invention, but what practical use is to be made of it remains to be seen.

Al but $18,205,026 is for expenses and $8,070,872 of these ordinary deficien cies are for pensions.

The bill is the largest deficiency bill ever presented to Congress and the largest appropriation bill put through that body since the civil war; a specia appropriation bill of upwards of $700, 000,000, enacted into law in 1863 eclipsing it.

In addition to the amount carried by this bill, appropriations have been made during the session to supply deficiencies aggregating $115,356,156, making in all for deficiencies, including the present measure $339,388,480. Of this amount $321,183,453 is distinctly for war expenses and is inde pendent of amounts carried in the naval and fortifications act, and the naval auxiliary act. which appropr ates $3,000,000. Under the head of naval establishment the bill carries $10,000,000 for an emergency naval fund, and a maxi mum of $500,000 of the sum, appropri ated for the creation of an auxiliary naval force is authorized to be expended for the repair and equipment of vessels so purchased.

Senate Proceedings.

WASHINGTON, June 15.-After the passage of a large number of private pension bills and listening to a care fully prepared speech on the advantages of Republican tariff legislation by Senator Pritchard, North Carolina, the Senate to-day resumed consideration of the International American Bank bill. An amendment was accepted by the committee and adopted extending the privileges of the meas sure to all citizens of the United States, instead of restricting them to those bill. When the mentioned in the Senate adjourned consideration of the bill had not been concluded. At 4:35 P. M. the Senate went into executive session and soon afterwards adjourned.

GERMANY'S ATTITUDE.

Regarded in England as the Most Interesting Phase of the War for the Moment

By Cable to the Morning Star.

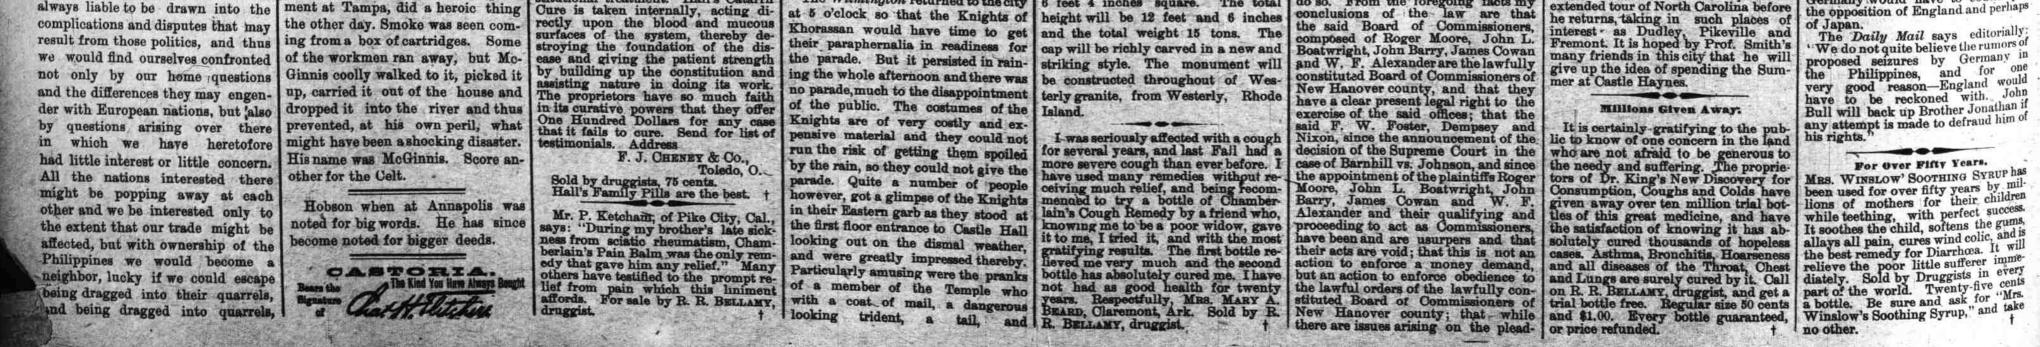

LONDON, June 16 .- Germany's attitude at Manila is regarded as the most interesting phase of the war for the moment. The Germans are credited with a desire to find work for their navy, and another success like that at Kiau Chou would reconcile the nation to the expenditure required to provide more warships. Therefore, despite official repudiations the matter is regarded with some anxiety. It is certain, however, that Germany would have to count upon the earnest solicitations of fellow-con ressmen and Senators. Col. Wad-dell retired amidst prolonged applause deserved by the orator, the address and the occasion. Monument to be Erected
