Inhuman Treatment for Alleged Insubordination-Tied Up With Ropes and Lashed on Their Bare Backs. Capt. Day's Statement.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WASHINGTON, May 8 .- The Evening Star to-day publishes a complaint from a number of Federal prisoners incarcerated in the State penitentiary at Raleigh, N. C. The prisoners were ordered to work at some brick-yards, eight miles from the prison, and refused to comply, claiming immunity, under the law for work outside the prison walls, whereupon they were logged for insubordination. The complaint was submitted to the attorney general and an investigation has been ordered. One of the communications received by the Star is as follows: 'We, the undersigned, United States prisoners, wish to call your attention to the treatment and punishment we received here on Tuesday, the 18th of this month. We were formed in line and told we were to be taken eight miles outside of the walls to dig clay to be used to make brick. We told the officers here that we were all willing to work, but that the law did not require or permit us to be taken outside of the walls. The brick-yard here also competes with the outside labor and brick-yards in the vicinity. Thirty or more United States prisoners went, and are still going every day, the eight miles to the clay hole, for fear of the inhuman and corporal punishment we received The authorities had us singled out and called us Yankees, took us in cell block. We were handcuffed, and tied with a rope from overhead and pulled up by our waists until our toes just touched. Our trousers were pulled down, and we were lashed on our bare backs; one man was given twenty lashes, and when taken down was unable to stand. He was taken up to the hospital. The others of us had from eleven down to three. Two other United States prisoners have been whipped since. The

They say they soon expect to gef peron farms throughout the State. 'None of the United States prisoners refuse to work inside of the walls, and God knows we are fed improperly and bad enough. The food causes weakly men and sickness, and when sick, before God they don't furnish medicine, neither do they have the medicine on hand. Our working hours here are from sun-up to sun-down. We get fresh meat once a week, boiled. Will you investigate this inhuman and outrageous treatment? If this is law, we are the only United States prisoners in this great free country that must submit to this brutal abuse. We hope that you will investigate this shameless and slavery treatment, and we exauthorities here claim they have permission from Washington to whip, and do, and take any of the United States prisoners outside of the walls pect to get redress.' The other communication is similar. It says that during the cold wave one of the couvicts had the fingers of both hands frezen off by being made to work in the cold. It goes on to say that one of the five men so terribly lashed is in a bad way.

Superintendent Day's Statement.

RALEIGH, N. C., May 8.—The penitentiary authorities make no denial of the alleged flogging of Federal prisoners confined in the State's prison here. They deny, however, that it was excessive. Superintendent Day says the prisoners became unruly and he could manage them in no other way. He had five of them whipped, some quite severely, he says, and others lightly.

"At first I thought the law prohibited their being whipped," he added, "and they thought so, too, and that's what made them so troublesome. But I looked into the matter carefully and found that there was a law allowing it, that has never been repealed. 'Since I had these men flogged they have given no trouble."

During Superintendent Mewborn's administration in 1898, the Federal prisoners gave the authorities much trouble. More than once they mutined and refused to work but they were never flogged.

CRUISER RALEIGH AGROUND.

Struck on a Shoal While Entering Charleston Harbor-Pulled Off by Tugs Late in the Day.

By Telegraph to the Merning Star. CHARLESTON, S. C., May 9.-The cruiser Raleigh, which was bound to be present at the Confederate reunion, went aground early this morning about three hundred feet outside of the south jetty. Captain Coghlan de-clined assistance from all tugs.

Late this afternoon when the tide filled the cruiser was pulled off and proceeded up the harbor to her anchorage. It was stated by her officers that a superficial examination disclosed no injuries to her hull. The Raleigh was coming in with a coast pilot and the point at which she grounded is known as "North Breaker," just outside of the jetty. She went on the shoal broadside and lay easy and perfectly calm. Water and tugs had no difficulty in freeing her from her awkward position.

The accident necessitated a postponement of the official reception to the cruiser and this will be carried out to-morrow morning, according to

Washington, May 9.—The naval-officials are not disposed to criticism by the news of the grounding of the Italeigh, the general opinion being that it is an unavoidable risk in taking a vessel of such draft as the Raleigh into a jettied harbor.

If the ship comes off without damage, it is probable that there will not be any official notice taken of the matter. Otherwise, there must be a court of inquiry to fix the responsi-

THE HAIL AT MAGNOLIA.

Wrought Much Damage to Truck Crops and Especially to Strawberries. | Special Star Correspondence.]

MAGNOLIA, N. C., May 9. We had a dreadful storm of hail, wind and rain yesterday afternoon. One mile and a half from here strawberries were nearly all destroyed, but the storm was not quite so bad here. Our largest strawberry farmer lost seven acres, and will pick few if any more this season. The rows between were even full of hail, and cart loads could have been shovelled up at 8 o'clock last night, and the forests looked like Winter. This is the second hail in two weeks. All crops of truck have a poor stand, and are very H. E. N.

ANNUAL REUNION.

The Attendance Not So Large But the Enthusiasm is at Top Flood.

CHARLESTON'S WELCOME.

The Veterans' Parade-Business Session of Reunion-Resolution Endorsing McKinley's Suggestion Concerning Confederate Graves.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star. CHARLESTON, S. C., May 10 .- Almost the first official act of the ninth annual reunion of the United Confederate Veterans Association which began its session to day, was an attempt by General Stephen D. Lee, of Mississippi, to secure an endorsement of President McKinley's suggestion, made in his recent Atlanta speach, that the care of the graves of Confede rate dead should be undertaken by the Federal government. Action on the resolution, however, was frustrated by a motion to refer it to the comtaken up to-morrow, and the ultimate fate of the resolution is problematical.

not probable that the matter will be

A Duty of the South. The motion to refer originated with Dr. J. William Jones, of Virginia, and met with some opposition, and it is believed the matter will eventually cause some discussion, as there is a decided faction in favor of General Lee's sentiments, while the opposition is also said to be very strong. The reference to a committee probably will result in amending the resolution, so that while thanking the President and acknowledging his action as a graceful one, i will declare that the care of its dead i duty of the South.

Ideal weather conditions favor the veterans of the gray and their thou-sands of friends who are crowding this hospitable little Southern city. A brilliant sun is tempered by a cool breeze from the ocean, and fair skies hold no presage of rain to mar the interesting programme of amusements. A conservative estimate places at between 25,000 and 30,000. The at tendance from the South at large is not so general as in former years, but the South Carolinians and citizens from adjacent States make up the deficiency, while Southern enthusiasm is at top flood. Everywhere the blare of bands and the strains of the "Bonnie Blue Flag" mingle with "Dixie" and other airs dear to the Southland. while cheering crowds greet every repetition of the tunes. The best of order prevails, and over all is the air of genial sociability which marks the annual gatherings of the association.

Business Sessions. The business session of the reunion was called to order this morning by General C. I. Walker, commanding the South Carolina division, in the handsome auditorium erected for the occasion by the city of Charleston. Its enormous floor space was crowded and thousands were unable to gain admittance to the building. When General John B. Gordon, the commander in-chief, appeared upon the stage he was greeted with thunders of applause. The band struck up "Dixie" and the veterans cheered and cheered again. In calling the assemblage to order General Walker spoke of Charleston's invitation to the veterans to meet at the birthplace of seces sion, and said that the gavel he was using was that which in 1860 had been used to call to order the secession convention. The chairs used by the officers to-day and the table of the presiding officer were the same as used on that memorable occasion. Dr. J. Wm. Jones, the Chaplain General, then invoked the divine blessing upon the convention, It asked it of the God of our common country, and prayed that all Confederates may be true to the principles of constitutional freedom for which our fathers fought and that "these principles might be handed down to our children's children." He invoked the divine blessing upon the President

plauded and of Hampton cheered. Gen. Gordon Presented.

Mayor Smyth of Charleston, extended to the visitors a welcome. Gen. Gordon was then escorted to the front of the stage and his appearance was the signal for a storm of applause. Cheers and shrill yells for the commander-in-chief mingled with the crash of the band, and hats, handkerchiefs and flags were waved frantical-When order was finally secured the old Confederate chieftain was presented by General Walker, and delivered an eloquent address. He spoke with all the vigor, eloquence and grace which have won for him a national reputation as an orator.

General Gordon closed his speech with these words: "I feel empowered by your confidence to send to every patriot in every section and State the fraternal greetings of this convention and of the whole people; to pledge, in the name of every Confederate, and son and daughter of a Confederate, the South's eternal loyalty to every cause for the uplifting of American manhood, the perpetuity of American freedom, the unity of the American people; that by all these agencies we may accelerate the onward march of the republic in its benign mission to humanity." After the applause had subsided General Gordon led Mrs. Stonewall Jackson to the front of the stage and he was enthusiastically applauded. As he presented Mrs. Jackson, and in the first lull, General Gordon said: "I will shake her hands for you all," and in an instant he added, "No, I will do said he was going to do, which met the hearty approval of the vast throng.

Lee's Resolution.

It was at this stage General Lee presented his resolution, the full text of which follows: "WHEREAS, In Atlanta, Ga., on December 14th, 1898, the President of the United States of America gave utterance to the sentiment: 'That the time has come when the United States should share in caring for the graves of the Confederate dead; and, whereas, this utterance of the chief executive of the nation demands from us, the survivors of our dead comrades in arms, a frank and generous response to so Resolutions Referred to Committee. Chaplain Jones said he thought the resolutions should be referred to the committee on resolutions, to be regularly appointed. Some members had not heard the resolutions and called for them to be reread. This was done by General Lee, who added that he hoped the resolutions would be adopted without Dr. Harriss, of Florida, said that from the very nature of the resolu-tions he did not think they should be referred. It would be well to take a direct vote on them at the time. Mr. F. H. Busbee, of North Caroina, said he thought the resolutions should be referred. "It would do no harm to refer them and no disrespect was intended. Every loyal Confederate appreciated the good intentions of President McKinley in what he had said in Atlanta. But," Mr. Busbee said, "there ought to be a distinction between graves in the North—between graves in Chicago or Columbus and those on the fields of Virginia and the South. There is a difference between the graves and their care. Here there are those who willingly and cheerfully take care of the graves of the noble heroes (pointing in the direction of the boxes filled with ladies.) In the North and East there may not

Gordon then presented Miss Kate Cabell Curne, of Dallas, Texas; Miss Laura Lawendon, of New Or-leans, Mrs. Kirby Smith, and several other ladies whose husbands or fathers were Confederate leaders. In response to the repeated demands of the audi ence he also presented Mrs. Gordon. who was greeted with an outburst of applause. The session then adjourned.

The Veterans' Parade. The parade of the veterans occurred this afternoon and they marched through a dense crowd of cheering people. Led by Generals Gordon and Wade Hampton, a long line of the grizzled men who had followed these eaders and the other captains of the Confederate armies through four years of hardship and battle, marched sturdily under the blazing Southern sun to the inspiriting strains of 'Dixie," of the "Bonnie Blue Flag," and the irrelevant but irrepressible "There Will be a Hot Time in the Old Town To-night." At intervals along the line of march the fluttering of a war worn and shottorn battle flag called forth cheers, while many heads were bared as the frayed emblems of a de gleamed over some organization whose name is a household word to the South. Here and there a camp appeared in the grey jeans uniform, black slouch hats and carrying muskets of the old pattern, and all the war paraphernalia of sixty-one. Hampton and Gordon were cheered vociferously every step, and rode almost the entire route with bared heads. The absence of General Wheeler in the line was a source of considerable disappointment. He reached the city early to-day but did not participate in the narade.

Five Thousand in Line. Including the kindred organizations and distinguished guests and committees, there were probably five thoupersons in the line, probably 3,000 of them were veterans. The parade was led by General Walker and staff, followed by the escort com-posed of the local military companies, cadets and the naval reserves. Then came General Gordon and his staff, followed by a long line of carriages, containing the sponsors and maids of honor of various camps. The veter-ans were led by General Wade Hampton at the head of the army of Northern Virginia, and preceded by twentyone battle flags and their escorts. The army of Tennessee followed, led by General Stephen D. Lee, and was followed by the camps representing the trans Mississippi army in command of General Cabell. The sons of Confederate Veterans brought up the rear. The State divisions were in command of the following officers: South Carolina, General C. I. Walker; Virginia, General Brander; Maryland, General Tripp; West Virginia, General White; Mississippi, General Campbell; Florida, General Law; Alabama. General Ferguson; Georgia, General Evans; Louisiana, General Tunnard; Texas, General Polley; General Horner; Indian Arkansas. Gen. DeRosset; Tennessee, Gen. G. W. Gudger; Oklahoma, Gen. Casler.

Captain Jones, in his opening prayer, made an indirect allusion to the Lee resolutions by expressing the hope that the women of the South would keep up the noble work of caring for the graves of the Southern dead, and that no one would take from them that sacred privilege.

Interesting Ceremony.

To-night at the auditorium an interesting ceremony took place in the presentation to General Moorman, adjutant general of the association, of a flag from each of the Southern States. An immense crowd was present and the occasion was made rather a social one. General Moorman was the chief mover in the organization of Confederate veterans and formed the first camp in New Orleans. The flags were presented by the young lady stonsors from the States and brief addresses were made for each by an officer. [Special Star Correspondence.]

RALEIGH, N. C., May 10. It is now certain that the outgoing Fusion Sheriff, H. T. Jones, is behind in his accounts. The exact amount is not yet known, though the commissioners and their attorney have been at work on the books for a week. These are in such condition that the deputy from each township has been summoned to go over his part of the accounts and explain them to the commissioners. It is found that even by the sheriff's own statement he is behind. It is believed the amount will reach $10,000 or more. A year ago his insolvent account, allowed by the Fusion commissioners, amounted to $4,000. This year he presents an insolvent account of $6,800. His bond is said to be good. It is given in a Baltimore guaranty company, and with his sister as personal security. The institution for the blind closed o-day and the trains were crowded with more than 300 pupils going home. The school for the Deaf, Dumb and Blind (colored) closed a week ago.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star. NEW YORK, May 10.—The cotton market after opening steady at unchanged prices to an advance of one point showed considerable weakness under a disposition to liquidate long contracts, the bulls being afraid to trust their position in view of a possibly disappointing bureau report. Under this pressure the market declined four to five points, but upon the promulgation of the report from Washington the feeling became steadier. There was some disappointment regarding the terms of the bureau report, which last year stated the probable acreage at 93.4 per cent., this being a decrease of 6 percent., as compared with the previous year. But this year the statisticians at Washington indicated that the acreage question coutd not be expressed in figures until next month, while stating that the belief of corres pondents pointed to a reduction by States of five per cent. in Mississippi and Indian Territory, eight in Alabama, nine in Texas, ten in Arkansas. eleven in South Carolina, twelve in Louisana, thirteen in Georgia, four teen in North Carolina, and eighteen in Oklahoma. The trade teen in Oklahoma. The trade here argued that the report was bullish rather than bearish, but that it did not amount to much, either one way or the other. The market, soon after its publication, became almost stagnant with a sagging tendency. The extraordinary sales of spot cotton in Liverpool (20,000) which private cables ascribed to continental demand, tended to check selling at this point in connection with favorable reports from Manchester and continued encouraging accounts from New En-gland. The close was barely steady with one to six points net lower.
