Yesterday morning Hazelden taxed Ben Sellers with being the author of a letter charging Hazelden with official and personal impropriety in receiving whiskey in quantity from wholesale houses and in using it in a questionable manner. This letter had been published, in connection with other bitter articles, in the recent dispensary wrangle. There were hot words, but no fight yesterday. Last night Hazelden and his three friends were driving through Sellers' station, when they met Ben Sellers. Information is meagre and it is not known who precipitated the difficulty. Ben Sellers was shot, and his father ran to his rescue. The other three parties were with Hazelden in buggies. As yet no fatalities have resulted. DISMAL SWAMP CANAL.

A New York Syndicate Trying to Secure Control of the Property-Its Franchise and Privileges.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

BALTIMORE, MD., November 15 .-Negotiations are pending for the sale of the Lake Drummond Canal and Water Company, which owns and operates the Dismal Swamp canal, and which was formally opened for traffic last month. A New York syndicate is anxious to secure control of the property, and has made an offer for the purchase of the securities of the company.

A formal offer, it is said, has been made to Alexander Brown & Sons, who financed the company. When asked about rumors of a consummation of a deal with the New Yorkers to-day, Mr. Brown admitted that a deal is pending, but declined to go into details.

The total capitalization of the company is $2,200,000, of which $1,200,000 is first mortgage five per cent thirty-year gold bonds and $1,000,000 common stock. The canal was originally surveyed by George Washington and was constructed early in the century. It was taken possession of by the government during the civil war, at the close of which it was returned to the Dismal Swamp Canal Company in a dilapidated condition. The Lake Drummond Canal and Water Company acquired the properties, franchises and privileges and rehabilitated the water ways. The Dismal swamp canal begins in the State of Virginia on the south branch of the Elizabeth river, about six miles from Norfolk and extends in a southerly direction about twenty miles to the Pasquotank river in the State of North Carolina.

The canal is one of a chain of island waterways extending along the Atlantic coast, from Cape Cod, Mass., to Wilmington, N. C, through Long Island sound, "Delaware and Raritan canal," Delaware canal, Delaware bay "Chesapeake and Delaware canal, Chesapeake Bay, "Chesapeake and Albemarle canal," and "Dismal Swamp canal," Albemarle sound, Pamlico sound Core sound and Bogue sound. It is understood that if the deal is consumated the locks at both ends of the canal will be abandoned and the waterway widened sufficiently to permit the passage of larger vessels than those that now ply the course.

Captain Richardson and Wife of the Ill-Fated Schooner Edna and Emma. Bodies Found in Vessel's Cabin.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star. PHILADELPHIA, November 15 .-Private advices were received here to day from St Pierre, Miquelon, a seaport on the Newfoundland coast, telling of the wreck of the Philadelphia and Baltimore schooner Edna and Emma, and the loss of the captain, his wife, and the crew of five men. The Edna and Emma sailed from Wilmington, N. C., on April 14th, with a cargo of lumber for Baltimore and this city. Months having elapsed and no word of the vessel's where abouts having been received she was given up for lost Recently she was towed into St. Pierre, bottom up. When the ship was righted, bodies of Captain Richardson and his wife. A water-stained diary, kept by the captain, gave meagre information concerning the disaster. The record stated that the Edna and Emma had experienced good weather until May , when a fierce northeast storm overtook her and she was dismasted. Later, the rudder became jammed and in this disabled condition the schooner was driven about at the mercy of the wind and waves. One by one the members of the crew were washed overboard, and Captain Richardson and his wife sought refuge in the cabin. At this point the story of the diary ends. Owing to the illegibility of some portions of the handwriting, the point at which the Edna and Emma

A Magnificent Bayonet Charge Was Made Upon the Boers' Entrenchments.

Boers Pushing Gradually Closer to Fortifications-Reports From Ladysmith. Heavy Cannonading - British Troops Arriving.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

CAPE TOWN, Nov. 10.-A dispatch received here from Pretoria, under date of Thursday, November 9th, says the reports received there from Ladysmith said heavy cannonading started at daybreak; that some of the Boer orces were within 1,500 yards of the British when the cannonading ceased and rifle fire commenced.

An undated dispatch from Mafeking, rec-ived by runger, via Maga-lapye, Wednesday, November 8th, "To day all is quiet. We have been bombarded pretty heavily all the week. Friday night Captain Fitz-Clarence and Lieutenant Swinburn, with D squadron of the Protectorate regiment, made a magnificent bayonet charge upon the Boer's entrenchments, driving them from their positi as and bayonetting numbers of the Boars who must have lost very heavily. The party could not hold the trenches and lost six men killed, two prisoners and nine wounded in their regiment.

Ineffectural Bombardment.

We expect a general attack to-mor The bombardment has been most ineffectual, every one remaining under shell-proof cover. So far the shells have only wounded one man. The enemy are using one 94. pound howitzer, and seven other guns, from seven to fourteen-pounders. The town is most cheerful and determined to resist attack to the utmost. The Boers are entrenched on every side in great numbers and are pushing gradually closer to the town fortifications. We are well off for provisions and water, though very tired d dging shells and fighting. Quite on civilized lines, General Crouje has always given due notice of a bombardment, and allowed an am bulance party two hours on Saturday to remove the bodies of six dead left in the vicinity of the Boer trenches. On Friday night Jan Botha, the well known Boer commandant, told a man with the ambulance party that their loss had been heavy and that his heart was very sore.

"In a skirmish at the outposts yes terday, one trooper were wounded.

The Night Attack.

"Only fifty five men of D squadron were engaged in the attack, though they were assisted by the flanking fire of agun of the Cape police. The Boers made a desperate attempt to drive back the British and their rear trenches opened a terrific fire in ever direction, the flash of the rifles lighting up the entire position. A hail of bullets rat tled on the roofs of the houses of the town.

'Upon completing a circuit of the Boer front and the line of trenches the British withdrew in independent lines of retreat covered by the flank fire from the Cape police. The Boers contiqued to volley at intervals during the night. The Boer loss is estimated at one hundred killed and wounded The Boer commander informed an of ficer in charge of a flag of truce that he estimated the attacking squadron at one thousand and he was not aware that the British force at Mafeking was Boers were observed from

A Report from Paris.

LONDON, November 15 .-- A Paris paper to-day gleefully announces the fall and capture of Ladysmith, but reports from this source no longer cause ripple of excitement. Nevertheless there will be considerable anxiety here until the war office or some independent version of the latest developments at Ladysmith is known.

A private message from Mafeking reports that all was well there Monday, November 6th. The details of the fighting at Mafeking received by way of Cape Town and Magalapye, relate to the engagement of October 25th already reported. The story, however, is pleasant reading to the British, as it shows the garrison was cheerful, well provisioned and confident.

British Troops Arrying.

London, Nov. 15 .- It was officially announced this afternoon that the British troopship Goorkha, with the First Brigade staff, the Third battal ion of Grenadiers and a detachment of the Royal engineers; the transport Manila, with "the second Devonshire and the transport Nomadic with the remounts, have arrived at Cape Town. London, November 15 -A letter in the Times written by an officer on board the transport Nubia asserts that 1,000 rations of salt carrion labelled New York, 1899,' had to be thrown overboard, as it was full of disease,' adding: "They only salt down the very worst portions of very inferior beasts and pigs " This has aroused a storm of indignation against the "rascally contractors and incapable admiralty transport officers who allowed filthy, salted brisket beef to be furnished to the troops. The War Office has accepted a gift of 10,000 plum puddings for the troops iu South Africa. These puddings will aggregate upwards of ten tons in London, November 15 .- The troop ship Howardin Castle, with the second battalion of the Royal Irish Fusiliers, had arrived at Durban, bringing the number of reinforcements that have landed there up to 5,227. Five other troop ships are now en route from Cape Town to Durban. The total reinforcements that have arrived in South Africa since Friday are 19 000 men, chiefly infantry, nearly in the cabin were found the 13 000 horses, and mules, three battoring of field artillery, and a

LONDON, Nov. 16 .- A dispatch to the Daily Mail from Mafeking, sent by the way of Magalappe, because the runners sent southward were unable to traverse the Boer lines, gives an in-teresting account of the fighting during the last week in October. The dispatch describes General Cronje's great attack of Monday, the details of which have already been cabled from Col. Baden Powell's official dispatches.

"The end came," says the correspondent, "after five hours' fighting. The enemy retired, being heavily beaten met with the disaster could not be learned.

and will have to content themselves with a long range bombardment unless they are strongly reinforced,

"The enemy lost heavily. For hours after their fighting line had been rolled back two wagons went slowly along their position, picking up the dead and wounded.

The Boers at first held on to their advance pluckily, but they could not live when the came to short range, the men being shot down at three hun dred yards.

The enemy is expected to draw off early in order to defend Pretoria There is still no news from the south. As I send this message off, 600 Boers have gone south with wagons and have commenced shelling.

RUSSIA AND JAPAN.

Reports of Imminence of War Between the Two Countries Denied by the Russian Minister to Korea.

By Telegraph to the morning Star. WASHINGTON, November 15.-In view of the reported imminence of wa between Russia and Japan, concerning rights in Korea, the st tement made by Mr. Alexander Pavloff, the Russian minister to Korea, who happens to be in Washington as the guest of Count Cassini, the Russian ambassador here are most opportune and important. Mr. Pavloff is an accomplished diploma tist, with extended experience in the Far East and was on the staff of Count Cassini at Pekin when Russia acquired Port Arthur and Talien Wan, and later was advanced to the post of minister to Korea. Mr. Pavloff was seen at the Russian embassy to-day and spoke quite frankly of the recent war rumors. He said: "I left Korea only four months ago going to St. Petersburg, so that my in formation is quite direct and official and I assure you there is no basis what ever for reports of a conflict between Russia and Japan over Korea. On the contrary, the two countries have en tered into formal compacts by which it is agreed that the independence of Korea shall be maintained. These compacts were concluded at St Petersburg and Tokio, and they are so explicit that the reports of conflict as to sovereignty over Korean territory show an entire ignorance of the written agreement under which Russia and Japan are acting towards Korea. "The war rumors appear to be base on an alleged conflict over the port of Masanpo. It happens that I am per sonally familiar with this affair, as it developed b-fore I left Kores. Mas anpo is one of the new treaty ports on the southern coast of Korea. There has been no question as to the freedom of the port to all nations alike, and no questions of favor or discriminations between Russia and Japan have becurred as to the port. But a purely personal and private difference arose months ago as to the ownership of certain lots at Masanpo. Russian resi dents had secured a right to purchase the lots and were awaiting th of the Korean government. Pending this consent Japanese citizens pur chased the same rights. This, how ever, was purely a private difference, in which the governments of Russia

Aguinaldo's Orders to the Pilipinos-Heavy Rains-Roads Impassable-A Pight Near Jaro-The Sulu Islands

Closed to Commerce. By Cable to the Morning Star.

Manila, November 15.-General Hughes, with parts of the Nineteenth and Twenty sixth regiments, moved from Iloilo Thursday, November 9th, to Otton, six miles west, for the purpose of capturing Santa Barbara, the rebel stronghold, ten miles north of Iloilo. Heavy rain preceded the movement, and the roads were in places impassable. The same night Colonel Carpenter, with the Eighteenth regiment and battery G, of the Sixth artillery, moved westerly from Jaro to connect with General Hughes. Col Carpenter was forced to return to Jaro on account of the roads, and the entire movement was hampered by lack of proper transportation. Com pany C, of the Twenty-sixth regiment, had the only fighting. When three miles out of Jaro this company charged the rebel trenches and three of the enemy were killed. One American was wounded.

General Hughes, November 12th. occupied Tagbanan and Guimbal, on the southern coast, and also Cordova, in the interior. The enemy did not oppose General Hughes' advance. Recent orders from Aguinaldo, found in the trenches said: "Do not oppose the Americans' advance. Burn the villages as they are evacuated. Divide the forces into bands of forty. These stories are not believed. All ports of the Sulu islands outside of the American possessions have been ordered closed to commerce.

STEAMSHIP ON FIRE.

Hamburg-American Liner From New York for Hamburg-All the Passengers Were Rescued.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

LONDON, November 15.-The Hamburg-American steamer Patria, Captain Frohlich, which left New York November 4th for Hamburg and passed the Lizard yesterday, is on fire near Dover. All the passengers were rescued and have arrived at Dover.

The Russian steamer Ceres sighted the Patria, showing signals of distress and damage, about twelve miles from | 26th. North Hinder lightship. The liner was enveloped in smoke. Putting on full steam the Ceres soon reached her. and sending a boat, learned that Captain Frohlich was in urgent need of

The boats were got out, and with great difficulty all of the Patria's passengers, numbering 150, were transferred to the Ceres, which proceeded for Dover, where she arrived just before midnight. Francis W. Prescott, the United States consul at Dover, was immediately notified and he consulted with the harbor authorities, who arranged to send out the harbor tug Lady Vita, which brought the rescued persons ashore. Among the saved are many ladies and children, as well as six babes in arms.

The hurry of the rescue was indicated by the fact that most of the passengers were enveloped in blankets only. They were rapidly distributed among the hotels or sent to the sailors' home, and everything possible is being done for their comfort.

According to the interviews with some of the passengers, which elicited the fact that most of them are American citizens who have come for a vaca: tion in Europe, all were ordered on deck at 6 o'clock Wednesday morning, when they were informed that a disastrous fire had broken out among the general cargo, and as the crew were unable to master it the captain said he thought it advisable for the passengers to take to the boats. There was no panic, all of the passengers being gotten into the boats and into two fishing boats said to belong to Yarmouth, which had come up in the meantime. The Ceres also offered to take off Captain Frohlich and the crew, but the latter preferred to remain by the vessel so long as there was any chance of saving her, although there was the greatest danger in doing so, her hull eing red hot at the time and there being every evidence that she would burn for a considerable period. The passengers say they learned from the officers that Captain Frohlich hopes to put his steamer ashore at some point on the coast where there will be a possibility of saving her. CHRISTIAN SCIENTISTS

COTTON MARKETS.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star. NEW YORK, November 15.—The cotton market made fair progress in an upward direction this morning, but most of the session there was a feeling of nervousness apparent in the pit generated by persistent circulation of conflicting rumors as to the feeling abroad. Shorts were made extremely uneasy by an estimate on a crop o 8,700,000 bales, following as it did, last night's estimate of nine million bales by the government. An effort to cover, together with active buying for Wall street account, sent prices up four to nine points on the opening call and gave the market a steady tone. The trading level immediately following the opening was nine to twelve points above the close of last night, but later, profit taking caused a substantial reaction. Liverpool responded to our advance of yesterday to the satisfaction of holders here, but lost a good share of the improvement before our market opened under heavy realizing and bear hammering. Receipts not only in the interior, but at the ports as well, fell short of the amount predicted early in the week. Dispatches reported an advance of 1-16@ic in Southern spot markets. Within the last few minutes the market dropped rapidly under heavy realizing and bear selling and closed weak
