AN AGREEMENT

NEAR AT HAND. Encouraging Outlook Concerning

Course of Future Events

in China.

GERMANY AND UNITED STATES

Working Together for the Solution of the Entire Difficulty-A Prench Proposition for Consideration-More Chinese Commissioners.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star. WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.-A feeling of buoyant optimism prevails among officials here to-day relative to the Chinese troubles that warrants the belief in the existence of a sound foundation, based on very recent developments in pending negotiations. It is evidently the conviction officially that an agreement among the Powers is near at hand. However, it is not deemed well to make any public announcement of the progress of the negotiations at this stage. Although it is known that there have been sev eral important exchanges recently, both verbally between the diplomatic representatives of the Powers here and the State Department, and through the United States representatives abroad and the governments to which they are accredited, it can be inferred only that their general tenor has been highly favorable, from the satisfaction expressed by the officials. Outlook More Satisfactory.

The encouraging outlook has been brought about very largely by the harmonious sentiments which have developed between this government and Germany concerning the course of future events in China. Since the re turn of Secretary Hay he has had several conferences with Baron Von Sternberg, the German charge, which have been of such a character as to show that the purposes of the two gov ernments were very much alike and that whatever might have been contemplated, they were now proceeding toward a common end for the solution of the entire difficulty. The Berlin government received several days ago the Sheng dispatch giving the Chinese edict for the severe punishment of Prince Tuan and his associates. This was accepted in the highest German quarters as a sincere vidence that China was disposed now to deal with the responsible parties as their offences deserved. It also developed the senti ment that a declaration of war against China would be needless, and that a solution of the problem could be secured through pacific channels. Altogether, the outlook is more satisfactory than at any time heretofore, not only for concurrent action of the powers. but also for a comprehensive settlement of the entire Chinese question.

The French Proposition. It is expected, however, that the attention of this government will be turned within the next few days to some entirely new phases brought up by the French note to the powers. This note, undoubtedly, will be in the hands of this government by the time the President returns and there is considerable anxiety in foreign quarters as to the answer the United States will make. A question has arisen as to whether the note will be accepted by some of the foremost continental powers of Europe. So far as this government is concerned, however, there is no reason to believe the French proposition will meet with disfavor.

Meantime plans are under consider ation by which the powers will see that China carries out her purpose of punishing the guilty parties. The sincerity of China being accepted, it is felt to be proper that the punishment she inflicts shall be carried out in such public manner, either with the knowledge of the foreign ministers or in their presence, that there can be no question as to the completeness of China's reparation. The German government desires that this course be pursued, and there appears to be a general disposition to adopt such supervision of the punishments.

Both the assistant commissioners are members of the progressive faction.

The Italian marines are being with-Some concern is expressed regarding the plans of the Germans, who are bringing a large force, which is expected to embark on a campaign of revenge, which, it is predicted, will se-

"In accordance with the request of Count Von Waldersee, the seizure of Shan Hai Kuan was decided upon by a council of the admirals September 29th and all was prepared for action. English ships were sent to demand its surrender and the Chinese evacuated the place. The British then hoisted their flag and the other flagships thereupon went thither and put up their respective flags on the forts. A Japanese Espedition.

THE CITY GAILY DECORATED.

Address of Welcome-Organization-Speeches by Adlai E. Stevenson and Others-A Grand Parade. Evening Session.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star. Indianapolis, Ind., October 3.—The city of Indianapolis to night presented a scene of Democratic festivity. From the various buildings in the business portion American flags and streamers of bunting were flung to the evening breeze, while prominent among the decorations portraits framed in electric bulbs of distinguished leaders of the Democracy were displayed.

At 8 o'clock this evening a parade of all the Democratic clubs and delegates marched through the streets, while thousands of people lined the side-

The programme for the opening session of the convention, as officially announced, was changed just prior to the meeting. President W. R Hearst was expected to be present to preside. but telegraphed that he was unable to attend. The convention was, therefore, called to order by Senator J. K. Jones, chairman of the Democratic Mayor Taggert was introduced and made an address of welcome, which was responded to by J. R. Rice, of Canton, Ohio. Senator Jones, in opening the convention, said: "In the absence of President Hearst, who has been unavoidably detained from this meeting, I have been requested to call this convention to order, and I do so now.

Over Seven Thousand Clubs.

"During the last two or three weeks clubs have been organized and have been reported to headquarters at the rate of 500 a day, until there are, by actual count, 7,353 Democratic clubs, with an average membership of more than 200, already organized in all the States of this Union. With an organ-ization of this kind, consisting of more than two million members, thoroughly organized and thoroughly awake to the necessities of the situation, at work in their localities, everywhere, there can be no reasonable doubt of the result of the 6th of November next."

Organization was then effected by electing Thomas Taggart temporary chairman; F. H. Ihmsen, New York, ecretary; W. Jefferson Pollard, Louis, reading clerk, and Myron D. King, Indianapolis, sergeant-at-arms. At this juncture Adlai E. Stevenson was escorted into the hall by a band, and his appearance sent the convention into a pandemonium of applause.

Stevenson and Other Speakers.

He said: "My fellow Democrats I thank you for this cordial greeting. Would not undertake now to address you but at a later time, in accordance with the programme I will have the pleasure to address some remarks to my fellow Democrats of the United States. I can only say to you now that I bring you words of good cheer from the great Democratic State of Il-

The next speaker was Mayor Samuel M. Jones of Toledo. Mr. Jones spoke in part as follows: "No matter what may be said to the contrary, I think that the only real question that is now before the American people in this campaign is the question of right of self government.
"The only difference between a re-pulic and an empire is this: In a republic a sovereign equals all of the people participating in the government on equal terms; in an empire subject and dependent colonies are ruled by the home government without their consent or participation. Which principles shall we adopt? I believe that we will be true to the Democracy of the golden rule rather than to the autocracy of the rule of gold, and I believe that the American people will reaffirm the doctrine of the right of self-government as set down in the Declaration of Independence."

At the conclusion of Mayor Jones' address James Hamilton Lewis, of the State of Washington, was introduced. According to the programme Gov. Benton McMillin, of Tennessee, was to have been the concluding speaker, but while he was present, a heavy cold rendered him out of voice and he did not attempt to speak.

The convention at 5 o'clock took a recess until after the parade at night.

The parade ended at 9:30 o'clock and Tomlinson Hall was thronged with those who had participated in the iollification. The meeting was called to order by Senator James K. Jones who introduced Captain Patrick O'Farrell of Washington, D. C. Captain O'Farrell denounced the war in the Philippines and condemned a standing army. He was followed by Hon.
