

THE POWERS IN PEKIN.

Ministers Sign the Joint Note—Chinese Envoys Will Have Reasonable Time to Consider the Proposition.

By Cable to the Morning Star. PEKIN, December 19.—At a meeting of the foreign ministers late this evening everything in regard to the terms of the joint note was agreed to, including the British modifications.

The Chinese peace envoys will be given a reasonable time within which to consider the demands made and then will follow the formal negotiations for the settlement of the peace.

Officials here still decline to make public the text of the note agreed on, but it is believed that the following points are the essential features of the agreement:

The punishment of the officials guilty of the Boxer outrages. The payment of indemnity for the wrongs inflicted by the Chinese on the foreign corporations and societies which have suffered.

The revision of commercial treaties. Some reform in the Taung Li Ya men, so that the foreign office may transact its more expeditiously and with a reasonable head.

A monument to Baron von Ketteler, the German minister, which was delayed in Pekin, and the appointment of a price of the blood to proceed to Germany to make formal apology to the Emperor for the crime.

The right to keep a legation guard in Pekin, if this is desired. The exclusion of candidates for examination for office for a certain number of years in the case of those who may be guilty of the crime.

The interdiction of importations of arms into China and of material to be used exclusively in the manufacture of arms.

The taking of measures to prevent future troubles. Some modification, it is believed, was made to the proposed dismantling of the forts, so that hereafter there will be no danger of the forts which will prevent ready access to the legations in Pekin.

It is now learned that the entire German methods of the war were the consummation of the agreement at Pekin was caused by the change or omission of the single digit in a complete group of figures making up one of the cipher methods.

Mr. Conger, Curiously enough the change in this single digit exactly reversed the meaning of the entire message, so that Mr. Conger in opposing the treaty was acting in accordance with the contrary to the spirit of his instructions, though in accordance with his letter.

THE BOER INVASION OF CAPE COLONY.

British Alarmed at the Seriousness of the Situation—Rumor That Lord Kitchener Demands Reinforcements.

By Cable to the Morning Star. LONDON, December 20.—The War Office late evening could give no information regarding the reports of a Boer invasion of Cape Colony.

The officials expressed the opinion, however, that the newspaper accounts were exaggerated and that probably the troops who have been employed in chasing Gen. De Wet will be diverted to deal with the invaders.

Having regard to the customary methods of the Boers, it is only to be interpreted as confirming these reports. Lord Kitchener, in the meantime, keeps a tight rein over the news, which is being sent to the public by the Boer press.

According to the Daily Mail, private telegrams received in London yesterday day depict the situation in Cape Colony as somewhat ominous. It seems that the invading Boers are receiving considerable assistance from the local Dutch and that the troops at the disposal of the British are not sufficient to cope with any serious spread of the military operations.

It is believed that the government has at last answered to the serious situation and that the utmost efforts to provide Lord Kitchener with horses and mules.

Boer Forces Invade Cape Colony. LONDON, Dec. 19.—It is reported this afternoon that General Knox has been ordered to abandon the pursuit of Gen. De Wet and to concentrate his forces in the Orange river.

It is said that three thousand republicans have entered Cape Colony and are now gathered around the mountainous Philipstown. The report adds that De Wet with about 4,000 men is northeast of Ladybrand and that an attack on Winburg is momentarily expected.

British Losses. LONDON, December 20.—The British losses at Nooitgedacht, according to the official accounts, were eighty-two killed and wounded, with forty-four missing and still unaccounted for.

Another Battle Imminent. KNUGHEBORT, TRANSVAAL, December 19.—A pitched battle is imminent between the British under General Clements, who has been reinforced, and the Boers under General Delany.

THE REVOLUTION IN COLOMBIA.

Great Battle Fought—A Decisive Victory for the Government.

By Telegram to the Morning Star. WASHINGTON, December 19.—The State Department has received a cablegram from United States Charge d'Affaires Despreux, at Bogota, stating that a great battle had been fought at Girardot Point, Madeline river, Colombia, which resulted in a decisive victory for the Government.

It is reported that six hundred were killed and many hundreds wounded. Other victories by the Government forces are being announced. The Government is celebrating the victories and considers itself greatly strengthened by the success of its arms.

Tuesday night Hickory, N. C., the Southern Railway attempted to build a track across the Narrow Gauge track, at the depot crossing there. A force of Narrow Gauge men interfered, and a riot was with difficulty averted. The town authorities placed the leaders under arrest and stopped the trouble.

When others fall, take ROBERTS' TASTELISS CURE. This cure kills cholera, fever, malaria, general headache, etc. A red cross on the label means you of the pure, high-class medicine that makes ROBERTS' a success. Don't take a substitute. R. E. BELLAMY, JOS. C. SHEPARD, JR., and J. HICKS BUNTING.

TREATIES PENDING IN THE SENATE.

A Vote Will Be Taken To-day on the Hay-Pauncefote Treaty.

By Telegram to the Morning Star. WASHINGTON, D. C., December 20.—The passage of seventy-one private pension bills was the only feature of business in the open session of the Senate.

The measure as adopted by Committee. Substitute for House Bill—Numbered Changes—House Proceeding—Pennsylvania R. R.

WASHINGTON, D. C., December 20.—The passage of seventy-one private pension bills was the only feature of business in the open session of the Senate.

Senator Chandler made another effort to get the resolution authorizing the Committee on Privileges and Elections to send for persons and papers in the Montana Senatorial investigation case but failed.

The Urges a Deficiency bill was reported with two minor amendments and passed without debate.

The Senate then went into executive session to consider the Hay-Pauncefote treaty. The vote was 71-20 in favor of the treaty.

Mr. Lodge said the Senate to take up the treaty with Spain providing for the cession to the United States of the Philippine Islands and of Sibutu and the other islands and their dependencies.

In consideration of the payment to Spain of $100,000. Objection to this request was made by several Senators, including Messrs. Hoar, Wellington and Bacon.

Senator Lodge explained that the islands are to be ceded to the United States and that the Philippines group and said they were supposed to have been ceded by Spain in the Paris treaty.

Indeed, the United States had paid for the payment to Spain of $100,000. Objection to this request was made by several Senators, including Messrs. Hoar, Wellington and Bacon.

Senator Lodge explained that the islands are to be ceded to the United States and that the Philippines group and said they were supposed to have been ceded by Spain in the Paris treaty.

Indeed, the United States had paid for the payment to Spain of $100,000. Objection to this request was made by several Senators, including Messrs. Hoar, Wellington and Bacon.

Senator Lodge explained that the islands are to be ceded to the United States and that the Philippines group and said they were supposed to have been ceded by Spain in the Paris treaty.

Indeed, the United States had paid for the payment to Spain of $100,000. Objection to this request was made by several Senators, including Messrs. Hoar, Wellington and Bacon.

Senator Lodge explained that the islands are to be ceded to the United States and that the Philippines group and said they were supposed to have been ceded by Spain in the Paris treaty.

Indeed, the United States had paid for the payment to Spain of $100,000. Objection to this request was made by several Senators, including Messrs. Hoar, Wellington and Bacon.

Senator Lodge explained that the islands are to be ceded to the United States and that the Philippines group and said they were supposed to have been ceded by Spain in the Paris treaty.

Indeed, the United States had paid for the payment to Spain of $100,000. Objection to this request was made by several Senators, including Messrs. Hoar, Wellington and Bacon.

Senator Lodge explained that the islands are to be ceded to the United States and that the Philippines group and said they were supposed to have been ceded by Spain in the Paris treaty.

Indeed, the United States had paid for the payment to Spain of $100,000. Objection to this request was made by several Senators, including Messrs. Hoar, Wellington and Bacon.

Senator Lodge explained that the islands are to be ceded to the United States and that the Philippines group and said they were supposed to have been ceded by Spain in the Paris treaty.

Indeed, the United States had paid for the payment to Spain of $100,000. Objection to this request was made by several Senators, including Messrs. Hoar, Wellington and Bacon.

Senator Lodge explained that the islands are to be ceded to the United States and that the Philippines group and said they were supposed to have been ceded by Spain in the Paris treaty.

Indeed, the United States had paid for the payment to Spain of $100,000. Objection to this request was made by several Senators, including Messrs. Hoar, Wellington and Bacon.

Senator Lodge explained that the islands are to be ceded to the United States and that the Philippines group and said they were supposed to have been ceded by Spain in the Paris treaty.

Indeed, the United States had paid for the payment to Spain of $100,000. Objection to this request was made by several Senators, including Messrs. Hoar, Wellington and Bacon.

Senator Lodge explained that the islands are to be ceded to the United States and that the Philippines group and said they were supposed to have been ceded by Spain in the Paris treaty.

Indeed, the United States had paid for the payment to Spain of $100,000. Objection to this request was made by several Senators, including Messrs. Hoar, Wellington and Bacon.

THE BOOZ CASE.

Special Committee of the House to Investigate the Matter.

By Telegram to the Morning Star. WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—The special committee appointed by Speaker Henderson to investigate the circumstances connected with the death of Oscar L. Booz who is alleged to have died as a result of injuries received from "hazing" while on duty at West Point, held its first meeting today.

The committee has determined to probe the Booz case to the bottom. Very interesting testimony was brought out today by the court of inquiry which is investigating the alleged hazing of cadets at the military academy here, in connection with the recent death of former cadet Booz.

Thirty-five cadets were examined, one of whom was the brother of Lieutenant Richard E. Robson, of Merriam fame, another was the son of General Phil Sheridan, and a third, Marke Brooke, of Pennsylvania, is the president of the academy.

The investigation is being conducted by the court of inquiry which is investigating the alleged hazing of cadets at the military academy here, in connection with the recent death of former cadet Booz.

Very interesting testimony was brought out today by the court of inquiry which is investigating the alleged hazing of cadets at the military academy here, in connection with the recent death of former cadet Booz.

Thirty-five cadets were examined, one of whom was the brother of Lieutenant Richard E. Robson, of Merriam fame, another was the son of General Phil Sheridan, and a third, Marke Brooke, of Pennsylvania, is the president of the academy.

The investigation is being conducted by the court of inquiry which is investigating the alleged hazing of cadets at the military academy here, in connection with the recent death of former cadet Booz.

Very interesting testimony was brought out today by the court of inquiry which is investigating the alleged hazing of cadets at the military academy here, in connection with the recent death of former cadet Booz.

Thirty-five cadets were examined, one of whom was the brother of Lieutenant Richard E. Robson, of Merriam fame, another was the son of General Phil Sheridan, and a third, Marke Brooke, of Pennsylvania, is the president of the academy.

The investigation is being conducted by the court of inquiry which is investigating the alleged hazing of cadets at the military academy here, in connection with the recent death of former cadet Booz.

Very interesting testimony was brought out today by the court of inquiry which is investigating the alleged hazing of cadets at the military academy here, in connection with the recent death of former cadet Booz.

Thirty-five cadets were examined, one of whom was the brother of Lieutenant Richard E. Robson, of Merriam fame, another was the son of General Phil Sheridan, and a third, Marke Brooke, of Pennsylvania, is the president of the academy.

The investigation is being conducted by the court of inquiry which is investigating the alleged hazing of cadets at the military academy here, in connection with the recent death of former cadet Booz.

Very interesting testimony was brought out today by the court of inquiry which is investigating the alleged hazing of cadets at the military academy here, in connection with the recent death of former cadet Booz.

Thirty-five cadets were examined, one of whom was the brother of Lieutenant Richard E. Robson, of Merriam fame, another was the son of General Phil Sheridan, and a third, Marke Brooke, of Pennsylvania, is the president of the academy.

The investigation is being conducted by the court of inquiry which is investigating the alleged hazing of cadets at the military academy here, in connection with the recent death of former cadet Booz.

Very interesting testimony was brought out today by the court of inquiry which is investigating the alleged hazing of cadets at the military academy here, in connection with the recent death of former cadet Booz.

Thirty-five cadets were examined, one of whom was the brother of Lieutenant Richard E. Robson, of Merriam fame, another was the son of General Phil Sheridan, and a third, Marke Brooke, of Pennsylvania, is the president of the academy.

The investigation is being conducted by the court of inquiry which is investigating the alleged hazing of cadets at the military academy here, in connection with the recent death of former cadet Booz.

Very interesting testimony was brought out today by the court of inquiry which is investigating the alleged hazing of cadets at the military academy here, in connection with the recent death of former cadet Booz.

Thirty-five cadets were examined, one of whom was the brother of Lieutenant Richard E. Robson, of Merriam fame, another was the son of General Phil Sheridan, and a third, Marke Brooke, of Pennsylvania, is the president of the academy.

The investigation is being conducted by the court of inquiry which is investigating the alleged hazing of cadets at the military academy here, in connection with the recent death of former cadet Booz.

Very interesting testimony was brought out today by the court of inquiry which is investigating the alleged hazing of cadets at the military academy here, in connection with the recent death of former cadet Booz.

Thirty-five cadets were examined, one of whom was the brother of Lieutenant Richard E. Robson, of Merriam fame, another was the son of General Phil Sheridan, and a third, Marke Brooke, of Pennsylvania, is the president of the academy.

The investigation is being conducted by the court of inquiry which is investigating the alleged hazing of cadets at the military academy here, in connection with the recent death of former cadet Booz.

Very interesting testimony was brought out today by the court of inquiry which is investigating the alleged hazing of cadets at the military academy here, in connection with the recent death of former cadet Booz.

Thirty-five cadets were examined, one of whom was the brother of Lieutenant Richard E. Robson, of Merriam fame, another was the son of General Phil Sheridan, and a third, Marke Brooke, of Pennsylvania, is the president of the academy.

The investigation is being conducted by the court of inquiry which is investigating the alleged hazing of cadets at the military academy here, in connection with the recent death of former cadet Booz.

CLEVELAND ON TRUE DEMOCRACY.

The Ex-President Gives His Views on the Present Condition of the Party.

By Telegram to the Morning Star. PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 19.—Former President Grover Cleveland contributes to this week's issue of the Saturday Evening Post, of Philadelphia, an extended article on the plight of Democracy and the remedy.

Mr. Cleveland begins by reviewing the history of the party, and he discusses in detail the question of the present conditions of the Democracy, he says that the success of the party in 1892 was so decisive and overwhelming that a long continuance of its supremacy was anticipated.

Then came the fallacy of "free silver and populism." Mr. Cleveland proceeds as follows: "The culmination of Democratic success was reached when its compact with these un-democratic forces was complete, and when our rank and file, that faithful and true Democracy, was completely overthrown."

Mr. Cleveland proceeds as follows: "The culmination of Democratic success was reached when its compact with these un-democratic forces was complete, and when our rank and file, that faithful and true Democracy, was completely overthrown."

Mr. Cleveland proceeds as follows: "The culmination of Democratic success was reached when its compact with these un-democratic forces was complete, and when our rank and file, that faithful and true Democracy, was completely overthrown."

Mr. Cleveland proceeds as follows: "The culmination of Democratic success was reached when its compact with these un-democratic forces was complete, and when our rank and file, that faithful and true Democracy, was completely overthrown."

Mr. Cleveland proceeds as follows: "The culmination of Democratic success was reached when its compact with these un-democratic forces was complete, and when our rank and file, that faithful and true Democracy, was completely overthrown."

Mr. Cleveland proceeds as follows: "The culmination of Democratic success was reached when its compact with these un-democratic forces was complete, and when our rank and file, that faithful and true Democracy, was completely overthrown."

Mr. Cleveland proceeds as follows: "The culmination of Democratic success was reached when its compact with these un-democratic forces was complete, and when our rank and file, that faithful and true Democracy, was completely overthrown."

Mr. Cleveland proceeds as follows: "The culmination of Democratic success was reached when its compact with these un-democratic forces was complete, and when our rank and file, that faithful and true Democracy, was completely overthrown."

Mr. Cleveland proceeds as follows: "The culmination of Democratic success was reached when its compact with these un-democratic forces was complete, and when our rank and file, that faithful and true Democracy, was completely overthrown."

Mr. Cleveland proceeds as follows: "The culmination of Democratic success was reached when its compact with these un-democratic forces was complete, and when our rank and file, that faithful and true Democracy, was completely overthrown."

Mr. Cleveland proceeds as follows: "The culmination of Democratic success was reached when its compact with these un-democratic forces was complete, and when our rank and file, that faithful and true Democracy, was completely overthrown."

Mr. Cleveland proceeds as follows: "The culmination of Democratic success was reached when its compact with these un-democratic forces was complete, and when our rank and file, that faithful and true Democracy, was completely overthrown."

Mr. Cleveland proceeds as follows: "The culmination of Democratic success was reached when its compact with these un-democratic forces was complete, and when our rank and file, that faithful and true Democracy, was completely overthrown."

Mr. Cleveland proceeds as follows: "The culmination of Democratic success was reached when its compact with these un-democratic forces was complete, and when our rank and file, that faithful and true Democracy, was completely overthrown."

Mr. Cleveland proceeds as follows: "The culmination of Democratic success was reached when its compact with these un-democratic forces was complete, and when our rank and file, that faithful and true Democracy, was completely overthrown."

Mr. Cleveland proceeds as follows: "The culmination of Democratic success was reached when its compact with these un-democratic forces was complete, and when our rank and file, that faithful and true Democracy, was completely overthrown."

Mr. Cleveland proceeds as follows: "The culmination of Democratic success was reached when its compact with these un-democratic forces was complete, and when our rank and file, that faithful and true Democracy, was completely overthrown."

Mr. Cleveland proceeds as follows: "The culmination of Democratic success was reached when its compact with these un-democratic forces was complete, and when our rank and file, that faithful and true Democracy, was completely overthrown."

Mr. Cleveland proceeds as follows: "The culmination of Democratic success was reached when its compact with these un-democratic forces was complete, and when our rank and file, that faithful and true Democracy, was completely overthrown."

Mr. Cleveland proceeds as follows: "The culmination of Democratic success was reached when its compact with these un-democratic forces was complete, and when our rank and file, that faithful and true Democracy, was completely overthrown."

Mr. Cleveland proceeds as follows: "The culmination of Democratic success was reached when its compact with these un-democratic forces was complete, and when our rank and file, that faithful and true Democracy, was completely overthrown."

Mr. Cleveland proceeds as follows: "The culmination of Democratic success was reached when its compact with these un-democratic forces was complete, and when our rank and file, that faithful and true Democracy, was completely overthrown."

Mr. Cleveland proceeds as follows: "The culmination of Democratic success was reached when its compact with these un-democratic forces was complete, and when our rank and file, that faithful and true Democracy, was completely overthrown."

Mr. Cleveland proceeds as follows: "The culmination of Democratic success was reached when its compact with these un-democratic forces was complete, and when our rank and file, that faithful and true Democracy, was completely overthrown."

Mr. Cleveland proceeds as follows: "The culmination of Democratic success was reached when its compact with these un-democratic forces was complete, and when our rank and file, that faithful and true Democracy, was completely overthrown."

Mr. Cleveland proceeds as follows: "The culmination of Democratic success was reached when its compact with these un-democratic forces was complete, and when our rank and file, that faithful and true Democracy, was completely overthrown."

HE DROWNED THE BUFFALO.

A Texas Stockman's Story of an Experience in the Little Arkansas.

By Telegram to the Morning Star. A group of cattlemen at the live stock convention at Fort Worth, striking about the skill of Oklahoma cowboys in throwing the lariat when R. B. Word, Sr., whose home is in Higgins, Tex., but who, at the time, was in Oklahoma, said: "I had an experience rope when I was a young man which put me through a live gallop. As a result, I had followed the range all my life, and I felt that there was not a broncho on top of the ground that could throw me and nothing else that I could not rope and lead."

At the time of the live stock convention at Fort Worth, striking about the skill of Oklahoma cowboys in throwing the lariat when R. B. Word, Sr., whose home is in Higgins, Tex., but who, at the time, was in Oklahoma, said: "I had an experience rope when I was a young man which put me through a live gallop. As a result, I had followed the range all my life, and I felt that there was not a broncho on top of the ground that could throw me and nothing else that I could not rope and lead."

At the time of the live stock convention at Fort Worth, striking about the skill of Oklahoma cowboys in throwing the lariat when R. B. Word, Sr., whose home is in Higgins, Tex., but who, at the time, was in Oklahoma, said: "I had an experience rope when I was a young man which put me through a live gallop. As a result, I had followed the range all my life, and I felt that there was not a broncho on top of the ground that could throw me and nothing else that I could not rope and lead."

At the time of the live stock convention at Fort Worth, striking about the skill of Oklahoma cowboys in throwing the lariat when R. B. Word, Sr., whose home is in Higgins, Tex., but who, at the time, was in Oklahoma, said: "I had an experience rope when I was a young man which put me through a live gallop. As a result, I had followed the range all my life, and I felt that there was not a broncho on top of the ground that could throw me and nothing else that I could not rope and lead."

At the time of the live stock convention at Fort Worth, striking about the skill of Oklahoma cowboys in throwing the lariat when R. B. Word, Sr., whose home is in Higgins, Tex., but who, at the time, was in Oklahoma, said: "I had an experience rope when I was a young man which put me through a live gallop. As a result, I had followed the range all my life, and I felt that there was not a broncho on top of the ground that could throw me and nothing else that I could not rope and lead."

At the time of the live stock convention at Fort Worth, striking about the skill of Oklahoma cowboys in throwing the lariat when R. B. Word, Sr., whose home is in Higgins, Tex., but who, at the time, was in Oklahoma, said: "I had an experience rope when I was a young man which put me through a live gallop. As a result, I had followed the range all my life, and I felt that there was not a broncho on top of the ground that could throw me and nothing else that I could not rope and lead."

At the time of the live stock convention at Fort Worth, striking about the skill of Oklahoma cowboys in throwing the lariat when R. B. Word, Sr., whose home is in Higgins, Tex., but who, at the time, was in Oklahoma, said: "I had an experience rope when I was a young man which put me through a live gallop. As a result, I had followed the range all my life, and I felt that there was not a broncho on top of the ground that could throw me and nothing else that I could not rope and lead."

At the time of the live stock convention at Fort Worth, striking about the skill of Oklahoma cowboys in throwing the lariat when R. B. Word, Sr., whose home is in Higgins, Tex., but who, at the time, was in Oklahoma, said: "I had an experience rope when I was a young man which put me through a live gallop. As a result, I had followed the range all my life, and I felt that there was not a broncho on top of the ground that could throw me and nothing else that I could not rope and lead."

At the time of the live stock convention at Fort Worth, striking about the skill of Oklahoma cowboys in throwing the lariat when R. B. Word, Sr., whose home is in Higgins, Tex., but who, at the time, was in Oklahoma, said: "I had an experience rope when I was a young man which put me through a live gallop. As a result, I had followed the range all my life, and I felt that there was not a broncho on top of the ground that could throw me and nothing else that I could not rope and lead."

At the time of the live stock convention at Fort Worth, striking about the skill of Oklahoma cowboys in throwing the lariat when R. B. Word, Sr., whose home is in Higgins, Tex., but who, at the time, was in Oklahoma, said: "I had an experience rope when I was a young man which put me through a live gallop. As a result, I had followed the range all my life, and I felt that there was not a broncho on top of the ground that could throw me and nothing else that I could not rope and lead."

At the time of the live stock convention at Fort Worth, striking about the skill of Oklahoma cowboys in throwing the lariat when R. B. Word, Sr., whose home is in Higgins, Tex., but who, at the time, was in Oklahoma, said: "I had an experience rope when I was a young man which put me through a live gallop. As a result, I had followed the range all my life, and I felt that there was not a broncho on top of the ground that could throw me and nothing else that I could not rope and lead."

At the time of the live stock convention at Fort Worth, striking about the skill of Oklahoma cowboys in throwing the lariat when R. B. Word, Sr., whose home is in Higgins, Tex., but who, at the time, was in Oklahoma, said: "I had an experience rope when I was a young man which put me through a live gallop. As a result, I had followed the range all my life, and I felt that there was not a broncho on top of the ground that could throw me and nothing else that I could not rope and lead."

At the time of the live stock convention at Fort Worth, striking about the skill of Oklahoma cowboys in throwing the lariat when R. B. Word, Sr., whose home is in Higgins, Tex., but who, at the time, was in Oklahoma, said: "I had an experience rope when I was a young man which put me through a live gallop. As a result, I had followed the range all my life, and I felt that there was not a broncho on top of the ground that could throw me and nothing else that I could not rope and lead."

At the time of the live stock convention at Fort Worth, striking about the skill of Oklahoma cowboys in throwing the lariat when R. B. Word, Sr., whose home is in Higgins, Tex., but who, at the time, was in Oklahoma, said: "I had an experience rope when I was a young man which put me through a live gallop. As a result, I had followed the range all my life, and I felt that there was not a broncho on top of the ground that could throw me and nothing else that I could not rope and lead."

At the time of the live stock convention at Fort Worth, striking about the skill of Oklahoma cowboys in throwing the lariat when R. B. Word, Sr., whose home is in Higgins, Tex., but who, at the time, was in Oklahoma, said: "I had an experience rope when I was a young man which put me through a live gallop. As a result, I had followed the range all my life, and I felt that there was not a broncho on top of the ground that could throw me and nothing else that I could not rope and lead."

At the time of the live stock convention at Fort Worth, striking about the skill of Oklahoma cowboys in throwing the lariat when R. B. Word, Sr., whose home is in Higgins, Tex., but who, at the time, was in Oklahoma, said: "I had an experience rope when I was a young man which put me through a live gallop. As a result, I had followed the range all my life, and I felt that there was not a broncho on top of the ground that could throw me and nothing else that I could not rope and lead."

At the time of the live stock convention at Fort Worth, striking about the skill of Oklahoma cowboys in throwing the lariat when R. B. Word, Sr., whose home is in Higgins, Tex., but who, at the time, was in Oklahoma, said: "I had an experience rope when I was a young man which put me through a live gallop. As a result, I had followed the range all my life, and I felt that there was not a broncho on top of the ground that could throw me and nothing else that I could not rope and lead."

At the time of the live stock convention at Fort Worth, striking about the skill of Oklahoma cowboys in throwing the lariat when R. B. Word, Sr., whose home is in Higgins, Tex., but who, at the time, was in Oklahoma, said: "I had an experience rope when I was a young man which put me through a live gallop. As a result, I had followed the range all my life, and I felt that there was not a broncho on top of the ground that could throw me and nothing else that I could not rope and lead."

At the time of the live stock convention at Fort Worth, striking about the skill of Oklahoma cowboys in throwing the lariat when R. B. Word, Sr., whose home is in Higgins, Tex., but who, at the time, was in Oklahoma, said: "I had an experience rope when I was a young man which put me through a live gallop. As a result, I had followed the range all my life, and I felt that there was not a broncho on top of the ground that could throw me and nothing else that I could not rope and lead."

At the time of the live stock convention at Fort Worth, striking about the skill of Oklahoma cowboys in throwing the lariat when R. B. Word, Sr., whose home is in Higgins, Tex., but who, at the time, was in Oklahoma, said: "I had an experience rope when I was a young man which put me through a live gallop. As a result, I had followed the range all my life, and I felt that there was not a broncho on top of the ground that could throw me and nothing else that I could not rope and lead."

At the time of the live stock convention at Fort Worth, striking about the skill of Oklahoma cowboys in throwing the lariat when R. B. Word, Sr., whose home is in Higgins, Tex., but who, at the time, was in Oklahoma, said: "I had an experience rope when I was a young man which put me through a live gallop. As a result, I had followed the range all my life, and I felt that there was not a broncho on top of the ground that could throw me and nothing else that I could not rope and lead."

At the time of the live stock convention at Fort Worth, striking about the skill of Oklahoma cowboys in throwing the lariat when R. B. Word, Sr., whose home is in Higgins, Tex., but who, at the time, was in Oklahoma, said: "I had an experience rope when I was a young man which put me through a live gallop. As a result, I had followed the range all my life, and I felt that there was not a broncho on top of the ground that could throw me and nothing else that I could not rope and lead."

At the time of the live stock convention at Fort Worth, striking about the skill of Oklahoma cowboys in throwing the lariat when R. B. Word, Sr., whose home is in Higgins, Tex., but who, at the time, was in Oklahoma, said: "I had an experience rope when I was a young man which put me through a live gallop. As a result, I had followed the range all my life, and I felt that there was not a