The report of the pistol awakened their little son, aged eight years. In his first clothes and barefooted, the child ran in the street to call a policeman. When the officer entered the house he found Dr. Aiken dead on the bed with a bullet hole through his head and Dr. Aiken, with a pistol in his hand, lying on the floor dead. After shooting his wife he had placed the weapon to his own head and sent a bullet through his brain. The child said that he had heard his father count, "one, two, three" and then the pistol shot.

Throughout the session the Army Appropriation bill was under discussion, the controverted questions being the Spencer Philippine amendment and the Platt Cuba amendment.

Bacon's attention to a statement of the late Consul General Wildman which contradicted the dispatch quoted. Senator Bacon responded that with respect to the views of Mr. Wildman he would much prefer to accept the statement of the Associated Press representative of the who was in the islands and in position to see for himself than to take the word even of Mr. Wildman, who was no nearer the Philippines than Hong Kong.
