ANNAPOLIS, MD., March 6-It has been determined in caucus that the only measure to be considered during the special session of the Maryland Legislature will be the new ballot law. the act to enable Baltimore city to borrow $12,000,000 with which to build a sewerage system, and the bill to pro vide for a census of the State, to be made by State enumerators for the purp se of fixing the proper represenhas also been determined to enforce the cloture rule in the Secare in order to prevent finbustering. It is, therewhich began at noon to-day will not be a long one and that the plans of the Democrats, if accomplished at all, will be carried out in the thirty days limit fixed by the constitution.

The Republican Senators made the first move in the game of blocking the Dem crats by refusing to enter the Senate chamber, thus preventing the organization of that body. This was made possible by the non arrival of Senator John P. Moore, Democrat. who is Governor Smith's business partner. He is expected to reach here at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

The Democratic Senators finally decided to organize the Senate without a quorum when it was learned that Senator Moore was ill and would not be present to day. This was done and the ballot bill, the sewerage enabling act and the census bill were introduced and referred to the proper committees, after which the Senate adjourned until to morrow morning The House also organized and the same programme was carried out as in the Senate.

The radical changes from the present system of voting in the ballot law lie in the provisions abolt hing party emblems requiring cross marks to be made opposite the name of each candi date, and denying to voters the assistauce of ballot cierks. It is believed that these provisions will make it prac tically impossible for an illiterate voter to properly cast his ballot, and if it becomes a law, it will disfranchise probably fifty thousand voters in the State, most of whom are negroes.

Negotiations for the Surrender of Gen. Botha - Gens. DeWet and Delarey Still in the Field.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

LONDON, March 7 -Private information received in London this morning confirms the rumors of negotiations between Lord Kitchener, Sir Alfred Milner and Commandant General Louis Botha. Nothing is known as to the actual presence of the Boer commander-in-chief at Pretoria, and no London paper publishes a statement that he is there; but it is reasonably certain that General Botha is either in personal or very close touch with Lord Kitchener.

One of the best informed South African authorities said to a representative of the Associated Press last even-

"We have little doubt that General Botha will surrender. The question is now as to what forces he can bring with him. We have private informa tion tending to show that Lord Kitch. ener aud Sr Alfred Miner have decided to accept his surrend r on the b sis that he is merely an individual commander, rather than commanderin chief of the enemy's forces.

"General De Wet and General Delarey, as well as the other leaders, will probably have to be dealt with individually on similar terms. If the negotiations with General Botha reach a successful termination it will be, to use an expressive Americanism, just one

Captain Smith said that from the time of leaving Fernandina the vessel was continuously pounded by heavy gales from the north west and west. Five times she tried to pass Hatteras, only to be blown back each ime. The worst day experienced was February 14th, when the wind blew at the rate of seventy five miles an hour, accompanied by hail, snow and sleet. All inst day the vessel ran pefore the wind under bare poles Sails were blown away and split and the sea dasning ou the deck washed off part of the deck load and carried away the hatch covers over the forward and after house and filled the house with water. APPROPRIATIONS $1,440,062,545

Made by the Pifty-sixth Congress-The River and Harbor Bill Permitted to Pall and the Payment of Just Claims Not Provided Por.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WASHINGTON, March 6 -Representative Cannon, chairman of the House Committee on Appropriations, and Representative Livingston, the senior Democratic member of the Committee, have prepared statements of the appropriations of the Fifty Sixth Congress which will be printed in the Congressional Record to-morrow. Both place the total appropriations for the Congress at $1,440,062,545; placing those for the first session at $710,150, 861, and for the second at $729,911,682 Mr. Cannon publishes a table show ing the expenditures of the previous Congress at $1,568,212,637, and Mr. livingsion makes a comparison with the Fifty-Fourth Congress which appropriated $1,044,580,273

In his statement Mr. Cannon says: at this session, at least $30,000,000 will not, in the light of past experience, be expended. This considerable margin between actual expenditures and appropriations made by Congress indi-cates a sum total of expenditures during the fiscal year 1903 of not exceeding $699 911.683 07; this sum includes $53,000,000 on account of the sinking and requirements for the fiscal year 1902, which, of course, under the terms of the law, will be met only to such extent as surplus revenues in the treasury may permit. After meeting the fullest ordinary requirements of the public service under the appropriation the River and Harbor bill has been permitted to fail. The payment of just claims of honest people against the government has not been provided for.

The most casual examination of the tables makes comment practically un necessary. It shows that the army for each of the two years prior to the Spanish-American war cost a little over $23,000 000 and but little more than $46 000,000 for the two years covered by the Fifty fourth Congress. while for each of the two years since that war, 1901 and 1902, it costs nearly $115,000,000 or $230 000.000 for the two years, exclusive of deficiencies that have been provided for in large sums out of appropriations made for expenses of the Spanish war during the "The n vy cost for the two yearsyears 1901 and 1902 these appropriations amount to nearly $144,000,000. "For the payment of pensions the appropriations show an increase of nearly $8,000,000 for the two years. The most marked increase indicated in the appropriations for ordinary expenses of the government made for he two years 1901 and 1903 at the two sessions of this Congress over those of the two preceding years 1899 and 1900, provided for by the Fifty-fifth Congress, is for the postal service. The necessity of these increased appropriations to meet large business demands is referred to as a cause for congratulation. The appropriations have been reduced $128,150,091 by this Congress under those provided for by ed possible a reduction of taxes in the sum of $11,000,000.

"With a continuance of the wise administration enjoyed by the country, there is every reason to believe there will be a further reduction in the public expenditures in the near future and a corresponding further re-

Mr. Livingston says "the Fifty fourth Congress was the last one that made appropriations for the support of the government prior to the beginning of the Spanish American war. The Fifty sixth Congress is the first Congress appropriating money for the support of the government since the close of the so-called Spanish American war. The difference between the appropriations made by the Fifty-sixth Congress and those made by the Fifty-fourth Congress amounts to $395,482.272.

"During the session just closed the demands of the people, through their representatives, for the construction of the Nicaraguau canal, have gone unheeded and those for new public build ings have been persistently denied." In a word this table shows that the price to the people of the policy of this administration that has been thrust upon them by the Republican party is in round numbers $400,000,000 within a period of two years, and the half that is contemplated has not yet been put in operation. PORTLAND, ORE., March 6 -Miss Portes Kulght was formerly a resident of Salem, Oregon, and is a daughter of Rev. P. S. Knight, a well-known Congregational minister of that

NICARAGUA CANAL PROJECT.

Construction of the Canal Strongly Advocated-Nothing Expected from Great Britain But Hostility to Enterprise-No Compromise.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WASHINGTON, March 6 .- Again to day when the Senate convened the galleries were packed with people, a majority of whom as on recent days being composed of visitors to the city. The executive gallery was ablaze with visitors being members of the staff of Governor Yates of Illinois. Promptly at noon Vice President Roosevelt entered the chamber. As he stepped forward to his desk to call the Senate to order a burst of spontaneous applause rang through the galleries. With evident manifestations of his disapproval, the Vice President seized his gavel and rapped sharply twice for order. Glancing sternly around the galleries, he said, and the words cut through the chamber like a knife, "If there is any applause or disorder the sergeant at arms will clear the gal

After the routine of "morning business" had been transacted, Senator Morgan addressed the Senate upon his resolution. He said he would exclude from his argument any consideration of the Panama canal commission. The only prospect of the construction of the Nicaragua canal now by the United States rested upon the proctocols which had been entered into between this country and the governments of Nicaragua and Costa Rica. He challenged any Benator to point to a single propo sition which Great Britain had made for such a modification of the Clayton-Bulwer treaty as would admit of the construction of the Nicagarua N. Y. canal. No such action, he said, ever had been taken by Great Britain. During all the time, when Americans were "hugging to their bosoms" the delusion that Great Britain eventually would enter upon a friendly arrangement for the construction of the canal, Great Britain had preserved "a profound and golden silence." He called her silence "gold en" because, he asserted, Great Brit-ain through Liverpool which was the commercial centre of the world, was being eariched and the United States because of the lack of the Nicaragua canal was contributing to the enriching of Great Britsin. "There cannot be anything more precious to day to Great Britain," said Mr. Morgan, "than to prevent the con-struction of the Nicaraguan canel. If Great Britain by her 'golden silence' can prevent that, her profits will continue and the longer she can do that the greater will be her profits on the Suez canal. She has remained as silent as the sphinx which looks out upon the Nile and upon the desert and she seems to be looking out upon a desert of wasted American oppor-tunities, and sad to say, American honor. Great Britain is still silent." With some feeling, in referring to the Clayton-Bulwer trea y, the Alabama Senator said: "We will make no compromise with Great Britain upon that subject. We will make no concession to Great Britain in relation to that treaty. What we shall do with it (and some of our people are opposed even to that) is that we shall declare it abrogated. If the vote on my resolution could be taken to day it would inform the President of the United States that he has no two thirds majority in the Senate to ade pt any compromise he may make with Great Britain. If it is the purpose of Great Britain still to look for delay, she will not get it. If it be her determination to pick a quarrel with us about it, she will find the United dent in the last election-fighting men. And she will find, when that She has started with a new king and with a new career that will break up the Empire and reduce the king to the sovereignty of his own island. Does Great Britain suppose she can escape from the terrors of the existing situation and the prospective situation everywhere, and that she can find a favorable opportunity to display her military power against the United States?"

A new game not unlike our old time risoner's base, but differing sufficiently to afford fresh amusement, is now popu lar with German boys. In Germany they call it "mutzenraub," but the best name here for it would be "cap thief." Two lines are drawn or staked off upon the ground 65 paces apart. At a distance of 25 paces from one and 40 paces from the other a stake is driven, upon which a cap is hung. One boy is selected to act as umpire, while the others-the more the merrier-choose sides and line up facing one another from the outer marks. Those nearest the stake are the thieves or robbers and those farthest are police. At a signal from the umpire one thief makes a dash for the cap on the stake, and one policeman advances at full speed to capture him. The former has to advance 25 paces to the stake, seize the cap and return with it behind his own line. The latter has 40 paces to make before reaching the stake, but as he has not to stop and turn they are about evenly matched. If the policeman succeeds in placing his hand on the shoulder of the thief before the latter has crossed his own line, he takes him back a prisoner, and it counts one for the police. If he fails, he drops out of the game, and the thieves score one. After all have tried the side baving the
