Temporary Relief Afforded by Numerous Thunder Storms at Many Places.

MANY HOUSES WERE STRUCK.

Suffering Unprecedented in New York City_Terrible Patality_Out of 328 Cases of Prostration From Heat 148 Resulted Fatally.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star. Washington, June 2-The Weather Bureau to-night issued the following pecial bulletin: The hot wave which has prevailed during the past ten or twelve days over New England, the Middle Atlantic States, the Lake region, the Ohio valley, the central West and Northwest, continued during Tuesday, although temporary relief was afforded during the afternoon by numerous thunder storms in New England and the Middle Atlantic States, and at Chicago and St. Louis. The eastward movement of another low pressure area in the West renders it improbable that there will be any long continued relief from the high temperatures over the districts now affected, but it is probable that they will not reach the previous extremes in the Atlantic States on account of the influence of a West India disturbance which appears to be moving northward over the lesser Antilles. In New York City.

New York, July 2.—The heat which has worked such a havoc in this city since last Saturday was somewhat mitigated late this afternoon by succession of thunder storms which cleared the atmosphere and sent the mercury tumbling down ten degrees between the hours of 4:30 and 8 P. M. Never did a down pour of rain receive such an enthusiastic reception as did this one. The thunder and lightning were heavy and many houses were struck, causing fires, but so far as known no person was killed or injured. During the last down pour hail fell in quantities. As the furious wind blew across Battery Park it seemed to gain more en-ergy as it entered Bowling Green and the narrow part of lower Broadway. But in spite of all the rain there was little sign of it on the streets three hours after it fell.

It was the hottest day in the history of the local Weather Bureau and a day that almost reached the city record since 1871. The suffering caused by the heat was inprecedented. All the ambu lances in the city as well as the patrol wagons and many other vehicles were kept busy answering calls. At the rate of about one a minute the calls came in over the police wires throughout the day, breaking all record of demands upon the ambulance service and providing patients enough to crowd all the hospitals of the city as they have never before been crowded. While the official tempera ture up in the lofty tower of the weather bureau remained at 98, the thermometers on thestreet level ranged all the way from 100 to 106.

The terrible fatality of the heat was shown in the large percentage of deaths among those prostrated. Out of 328 cases of prostration reported up to 11:30 to-night, 148 resulted fatally. Among the more prominent victims were the Rev. Dr. Newland Maynard, the Episcopal clergyman and lecturer, and Jacob S. Rogers, the famous locomotive builder.

Destroyed by Lightning. NEW YORK, July 2.-Lightning which struck an uncompleted brick and stone apartment house on 95th street near West End avenue this evening destroyed the house with an estimated loss of $150,000. The high wind prevailing carried the sparks to residences in the vicinity, causing damage to the extent of several thous and dollars more. Among other buildings destroyed was the Riverside Drive hotel, which forty years ago was a resort of the elite of the city. St. Agnes' church, Brooklyn, was destroyed this evening by a fire origi nating from a lightning bolt. Only the walls of the church, which was a fashionable one, are left standing.

The loss was $250,000.

Kansas City, Mo. KANSAS CITY Mo , July 2-The temperature at 3 P. M, was one hundred legrees and there was very little reeze. Four heat prostrations were reported; none fatal. A number of horses died on the streets. The highest official temperatures in the United States were reported from Hay City, 104: Fort Scott and McPherson, 103.

AND 412 POUNDS OF BASEBALL IDOL WAS SHATTERED.

The Ignominious Downfall of the Lightfoot Lilies' Club Mascot When In an III Advised Moment They Told Him to Slide.

"Well, why is it you never played baseball yourself?" asked a latter day fan of the very stout man sitting in the corner. "You say you were the mascot for the famous Lightfoot Lilies of Jones county, and yet, with the exception of the time that they put you in to force the winning run in the thirteenth by being hit in the stomach, you never seem to have played yourself. After such successful daring were you never asked to play again? I don't quite understand."

The stout man gazed at the speaker searchingly for a few minutes and then, apparently satisfied that the questions were asked in good faith, proceed ed to unfold the one dark shadow in his otherwise sunny life. "Have you never heard?" he began.

"Then now you shall hear, and, though I think no blame should rest with me, you yourself shall judge of that. Listen. You have already referred to the contest in which I forced the winning run owing to the pitcher's inability to put the ball over the plate without striking my corporation. This, I believe, was due to a law of physics which states that but one body can occupy the same space at the same time or words to that effect. But, whatever the cause, I acquired a reputation for high class baseball second to none in Jones county and at once got a regular position on the team. My figure being my stock in trade, Captain Slugger Burrows of the Lightfoots spared no pains in bringing me to physical perfection before the next game with the Roarers. Under a carefully selected diet of beer, butter, lard, potatoes and cod liver oil I rapidly rose from a meager 320 pounds to the magnificent figure of 412. "For the first eight innings of the great contest, which ultimately proved my downfall, I fully sustained my enviable reputation for artistic ball playing. Three times the bases were full. with the Roarers one run in the van. Three times I proved the Lightfoots' salvation by forcing the tieing run by means of my superior figure. Three times the home rooters vied with one another in futile attempts to pay me suitable homage. I was truly more than queen. And then that fatal ninth, with its brimful cup of gumless bitters! Four hundred and twelve pounds of shattered idol! "In the last half of the ninth I reached first through my customary strategy. Later I succeeded in gaining third by 'Bull' Thompson's liner on the other side of the center field fence. Sammle Salmon and one of the Foote twins died easy deaths on infield pop flies. There we were: Ringtail Roarers, 17: Lightfoot Lilies, 16; two out, Thompson and yours truly on second and third bases respectively and the invincible 'Home Run' Hankins at the bat. All were breathless with suspense. The pitcher swung his arm back slowly, and then, swish, bang! 'Home Run' Hankins never missed his aim. I struggled bravely toward the plate, and in less time than it takes to tell it Thompson was at my back pushing violently. I doubled my efforts. A moment later Hankins himself caught up and joined in the single file struggle for home and victory. 'Twas do or die, and the people were like lunatics in their wild excitement. Spurred ou. by their cheers, I was soon but five feet from the plate, with Thompson and Hankins still dancing at my heels. Then suddenly a voice rose clearly above the others. 'Slide, Willie, slide!' it rang out. Oh, fatal words!"

At this point the fat ex-mascot was overcome by emotion and stopped short. It was some minutes before he could pull himself together sufficiently to go on with his sad story.

"Well," he said at last, "I slid. Diving gracefully forward, I slid a nicely calculated slide that brought my chest directly above the rubber. But the enthusiasm this occasioned among the Lilies was short lived. " 'Touch the plate, you fool; touch the plate! 'Bull' Thompson and Hankins yelled together. "Now, would you believe it, sir, try as I would I couldn't. My corporation had been overtrained. Lying face down,

I was so high from the ground that my arms would not reach the plate. "'Rock me!" I cried. 'Rock me!" "'Rock you?' 'Bull' Thompson roared. 'Rock you? We'll rock you, stone you, egg you, and-touch that plate, d'ye "'Rock me,' I pleaded, with tears in my eyes. 'You don't understand. Rock me like you would a rocking horse. Tilt me. I can't touch bottom.' "'Twas too late. While I had been explaining my predicament to those blockheads, the Roarers' fielders found the ball, and-er-well, we lost. Afterward I told Captain Slugger Burrows how it happened and begged for just one more chance. No use. He said that any fool with my shape ought to

CASTORIA. The Kind You Have Always Bought RAILROAD WRECKS.

Thomas A. Scott Used to Handle Them Without Gloves. "When that wonderful railroad genius, the late Thomas A. Scott, was building up the Pennsylvanic system, the work he did was superhuman, the results he accomplished marvelous," said an old railroad man. "Scott was essentially a man of action. For example, at one time there occurred on the line a freight wreck that piled up scores of cars in a confused heap in a cutting, thus completely barring the main line.

"The local authorities were beside themselves, for they could not figure out how the wreck could be cleared away and the line reopened in less than two weeks. At this juncture Scott arrived on the scene and after a survey of the wreck sent for a great quantity of coal oil, with which he had the pile thoroughly drenched. It was then touched off, and the god of fire soon removed all trace of it, and traffic was resumed on the line in 24 hours. "A bridge fell, and it was feared long delay must ensue, but Scott put more than 2,000 men to work on that one structure and thus eliminated the question of delay. Those were the days when such things counted and were not only possible, but necessary. Today railroading is reduced to such a fine point that the need for them no longer exists. The roads are too safeguarded for that.

"The last instance I remember of such railroad work as that was at the Johnstown flood in 1889, I think it was. Frank Thomson, by great work and the use of side lines, was one of the first to arrive upon the scene. Once there, he took full control, the division superintendents from all over the line were summoned, and a particular task was given to each one to do instantly. They one and all responded as best they could to the spur, and the line was reopened with incredible swiftness. There were one or two failures, however, and those men, while they were kept on as superintendents of unimportant mountain divisions, were never again promoted."-New York Tribune

"I WIN" AND "I LOSE."

Sporting Men Ignore Their Tenses and Seem Pleased. "Have you ever noticed the satisfied manner of gamblers while twisting their tenses into the 'I win' and 'I lose' common to the fraternity?" remarked a man who has a fondness for investigating the peculiarities of his fellows. "I have thought of that for a long time-ever since that form of expression came into common use among gamblers. Watch the first sport you hear talking in that style and notice the pleasure he seems to take in rolla daring bit of base running while the ing his method of expression. The crop is not so promising as cotton, back, and he enjoys again in the present the pleasures of the act when he speaks of it. Even if he says he 'lose' it gives him gratification, according to authority for the statement that the greatest pleasure in the world. next to winning money, is to lose it. "The ungrammatical fashion among gamblers dates back about 15 years. It seems impossible to conceive any reason for the custom other than the one I have mentioned. That form of speech is still growing in popularity. The so called 'sporting men' have extended the scope of the present tense to all their verbs. It jars on me sometimes, but even then I find consolation in the knowledge that if the 'sports' did not affect that particular style of speech 95 in 100 of them would do even worse, and their present picturesque defiance of grammar is a relief from the possibilities of such expressions as 'I seen' and 'I done.' FLORENCE, S. C., Nov. 26, 1900. I was first advised by our family physician in Charleston to use TEETHINA with our baby when she was but a very young infant, as a preventive of coilc and to warm and sweeten the stomach. Later it was useful in teething troubles, and its effect has been found to be so very beneficial and so free from the dangers that are consequent upon the use of drugs and soothing syrups, that we have come to regard it, after use with three children, as one of the necessities when there is a new paby in the house and until the teething troubles are over, and we take pleasure in recommending it to our friends instead of the horrid stuff that so many people use to keep their babies quiet.

Economical Training of Gunners. The method used in the United States navy for the economical training of the gunners is very interesting. It is a well known fact that the cost of firing one of the large guns used in the navy is very great, amounting sometimes to $1,000 or more. To save this expense a very simple method is employed. In the case of the large guns an ordinary Remington rifle is secured in the breech of the gun and directly in the center of the bore, so that when it is fired its bullet takes the same direction as that of the regular projectile. The large gun is sighted in the usual manner. On account of the lesser velocity of the small bullet the target is placed close to the ship and is made corresponding ly small The method used for the 6 pounder or other small guns is slightly different, as instead of the small rifle s wooden or dummy cartridge the same size as the regular cartridge is employed. Through the center of this wooden cartridge runs a rifle barrel which is loaded with a .44 caliber cartridge. This latter method has the additional advantage of giving the gun crew practice in loading as well as fir-ing.—Washington Star. What's In a Name? "Experienced patent medicine men,"

I have a house in mind that spent a good sized fortune trying to popularize a tablet preparation with a queer Indian title that no two people pronounced in exactly the same way. It was a good thing and cleverly put before the public, and it failed solely, I think, because people were reluctant to ask for it for fear of making themselves ridiculous by butchering the pronunciation.
