its own fashion. These claims are principally based upon losses sustained by American missionary and educational institutions in Turkey, notably those at Harpoot and Harash, btu there are a number of individual claims, such for instance as that of the family of the unfortunate bicyclist Lenz, the Pittsburg man who was killed by Turkish soldiers while attempting to go around the globe on his wheel.

The State Department officials feel the greatest satisfaction at the settlement of these claims. Secretary Hay had been told by diplomats skilled in oriental diplomacy, and in political conditions of Southern Europe, that he never would be able to collect them. Not only was there extreme difficulty in bringing any pressure to hear because of the remoteness of Turkey, but we had to contend with the jealousy of the great European powers, most of whom had claims against Turkey vastly larger in amount than ours, and whose total was beyond the ability of the Turkish government to meet. For more than a decade the American claims have been pending.

A HEAD-END COLLISION.

Fourteen Persons Killed, Three Others Probably Fatally Hurt and a Score of Others Injured.

-By Telegraph to the Morning Star. KANSAS CITY, July 10.-Fourteen persons are dead, three others prob ably fatally injured and more than a score of others lessseriously hurt, as the result of a head-end collision between passenger and fast live stock trains on the Chicago and Alton railroad near Norton, Mo., at 7 o'clock right, four died on a train conveying them to Kansas City, and three died at a hospital in this city. The passenger train was traveling in three sections, on account of the heavy Enworth League business to San Francises. The wrecked train was the first section and contained no leaguers. Conductor McAnna, of the freight train, east bound, had been ordered to meet the second section of the passenger train at Slater, the next station east of Norton, but apparantly overlooked the fact that the first section, which was fifty-five minutes late, had not passed The head brakeman on the freight, who was about four cars from the engine, says Conductor Mc-Anna assumed the throttle himself on leaving Marshall and was running the enging when the collision occurred.

empankment. A relief train started from Kansas City at noon and returned here with the injured from Kansas City at 6 o'clock this evening. Those who died on the way were delivered to the un dertakers, while the others were distributed between two hospitals.

STORM AT GALVESTON.

Iwo Hundred Dollars Will Cover Damage Done by Wind and Water - Disturbance Moving Northwest.

Telegraph to the Morning Star

GALVESTON, TEXAS, July 10 .- Two hundred dollars will more than cover the damage occasioned by wind and water from last night's storm. Four small houses were floated from their loundation and overturned. The tide was six feet, which is the highest since 1886, with the exception of the storm of last September. The Galveston Weather Bureau at 10 o'clock to night gave out the following statement: "The storm disturbance is moving northwest and is now central west of San Antonio. The 8 P. M. weather report from San Antonio which is nearest the storm center, shows barometer 29.84; temperature 76; rainfall 1.04; raining; wind east 30 miles per hour with maximum wind since 1 P. l. of 42 miles from northeast."

A high tide is predicted for Galveson to-night, but nothing like as high as that of last night. People living in the Beach district have returned to their homes.

OHIO DEMOCRATS' STATE CONVENTION

POINTS IN THE PLATFORM.

Tariff Reform Demanded and Enactmen of Measures to Prevent Monopolles. Suppression of Trusts-Maintenance of Monroe Doctrine.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star. Columbus, O., July 10 .- The Democratic State Convention here to-day, nominated the following ticket:

Governor, James Kilbourne; Lieutenant Governor, Anthony Howells: Judge of Supreme Court, Joseph Hidy; Clerk of Supreme Court, Harry Young: Attorney General, M. B. Mc-Carthy; Treasurer of State, R. P. Al-shire; Member of Board of Public Works, James B. Holman.

The convention had more prominent men as delegates than any convention of Democrats of Ohio in many years. The nomination of Colone Kilbourne was appropriately called one of spontaneous combustion. Howells, Hidy, Ashire and Holman were favorites from the start. Young was sprung as a surprise and nominated over Smoots, who had been such a favorite that others would not previously enter the race for clerk of the Supreme Court. None of the delegates, outside of Cleveland, knew Young and he was named because Cuyahoga wanted him. Cuyahoga could get any thing it . wanted, except the head of the State ticket, after the Johnson amendments were engrafted into the McLean platform and that document as amended was adopted with much unanimity.

It was currently reported that Johnson desired the nomination of Monett as attorney general, and that the Mc-Lean men wanted Monett defeated. The defeat of Monett was so decisive as to be a feature of the convention. Monett, as attorney general, had brought suits against the Standard Oil Company and other corporations to cancel their charters under the antitrust law. He had sought a third term nomination from the Republicans on the issue that he should be retained in that office to continue these prosecutions. After his defeat for the third nomination in 1899 he supported Bryan in 1900 on the anti-trust issue and canvassed Ohio and other States with Bryan.

The most striking turn of the convention was on Bryan. Bitter things were said of his leadership in the committee on resolutions, where it was insisted his name should not be mentioned and that there should be no reference to either of the national platforms on which he made his campaigns. After this plan had been agreed upon, one of the twenty one members of that committee offered a minority report, reaffirming the Kansas City platform and expressing confidence in Bryan. He received only six votes from the 950 delegates on the substitute for the preamble.

A few moments after the platform was adopted, one of these six dele gates called attention to the fact that pictures of other Democrats were displayed in the hall and none of Bryan. as heretofore. He started to carry a small banner with Bryan's picture on it to the platform. The aisles were ordered cleared, but the picture didn't reach its destination. It was trampled under foot and spoiled during the wild demonstration when Kilbourne was escorted into the hall. It is generally believed, however, that the marching clubs did not know they were walking over Bryan's picture. The platform caused much comment to night over what it does not say, as well as over what it does say. Unusual interest is being taken in the selection of the members of the State executive committee by the State central committee, since the conven tion concluded its work. The State central committee to-day adjourned until July 20th, without selecting its chairman or secretary. It is said none of the candidates for either of these places can secure a majority of the 21 votes and that Colonel Kilbourne will be compelled to co operate with either the McLean men or the Johnson men, who are not talking friendly of each other, to control the executive committee. In this connection there are all sorts of rumors about the senatorship for which the convention endorses no one as the Democratic candidate to succeed Senator Foraker. The names of John R. McLean and of Tom L. Johnson are most prominent ly mentioned in this connection.

Points in the Platform.

The report submitted by the Com mittee on Resolutions contained nearly two thousand words. The Republican administration and the Republican majority of the General Assembly are denounced. Tariff reform is demanded on the ground that the production of the country far exceeds its power of consumption, The enactment and rigorous enforcement of measures to prevent monopolies and combinations in restraint of trade and commerce, is demanded, as is also the suppression of all trusts and a return to "industrial freedom." As a means to that end the platform declares that all trust products should be placed on the free list and the government should exercise a more rigid supervi sion of transportation. Restoration of the merchant marine is favored, without subsidies, however.

On the subject of "imperialism and expansion," the platform says: "Powers granted the Federal government were not meant to be used to conquer or hold in subjection the people of other countries. * * * The Democratic party opposes any extension of the national boundaries not meant to carry speedily to all inhabi-tants full equal rights with ourselves. If these are unfitted by location, race, or character, to be formed into selfgoverning territories and then incorporated into the Union of States, they should be permitted to work out their own destiny." Maintenance of the Monroe doctrine is demanded; a navy adequate to the protection of American citizens and property the world over; election of Senators by direct vote; and the right of labor to combine for the assertion of its rights and the protection of its interests, It is declared that the bur-dens of the unjust and discriminating laws, for which the Republican party is responsible, fall chiefly on those who till the soil or labor at other forms of production. The Democratic party pledges its efforts to relieve them of the burdens which class legislation has laid upon them. On the subject of "Republican responsibility" it is declared the "Republican party always has upheld class interests and cannot be trusted to deal with the evils of its own creation." On "boss rule, etc," the party pledges itself to "rescue our government from the grasp of selfishness and corruption, and restore it to its former fairness, purity and simplicity."

"Widespread corruption," the article declares, "now threatens our free institutions and menaces the destruction of public virtue."

"The Republican national administration is denounced for "obvious ympathy" with and aid to the British government in its efforts to destroy the outh African republics. W. L. Finley made an unsuccessful fort to have the Kansas City platorm re affirmed, as d continued confi dence in W. J. Bryan expressed. He said he wanted to ascertain whether this was a Democratic convention and whether the Ohio Democrats were looking backward. Finley's motion was overwhelmingly defeated.

When the platform was adopte there were again three cheers for Tom Johnson. Nominations were then made and the ticket chosen, the chief fight being over the attorney generalship, for which Monett was a candi date. The candidate for Governor was born in Columbus in 1841, is a lawyer and interested in a number of banks railways and other enterprises. He rose from private to colonel in the civil war and is vice president of the Army of the Tennessee. He was a close friend of the late Allen G. Thur-

TERRIFIC HEAT IN CHICAGO.

One Hundred and Two Degrees in the Shade_A Hot Scorching Wind_Relief Came at Night.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star. CHICAGO, July 10 .- Not since the establishment of the Weather Bureau has this city experienced such terriic heat as affected it to day. One hundred and two in the shade in the office of the Weather Bureau was the high record, the highest previous mark being July 16th, 1887, when it reached 99.8. One hundred and two in the of the day. The wind blew with force from the west and southwest and a hotter, more stifling air, was never felt in this city before. So hot did it become during the afternoon as the wind drove the hot air into windows and doorways that all through the business section of the city tenants of offices slammed down their windows to keep out the air. At the theatres where matinees were in progress, men were stationed at the front doors to keep them closed as much as possible. The air was so dry, however, that its effects were not as disastrous as would have been the case had greater humidity prevailed. To night the wind changed to the northeast and the mercury went down 20 degrees within an hour. Eight prostrations were reported. No deaths.

A FALSE ALARM.

It Came at a Most Inopportune Time For the Pretty Angler. "And it all came from a little, petty, miserable, insignificant, nickel plated alarm clock that cost me just 69 cents at a bargain sale!" exclaimed the pretty girl in blue, with flashing eyes, to her sympathetic friend. "I haven't the slightest idea why I bought it unless it was because it was so cheap, for goodness knows I didn't need it! But buy it I did and carried it home, where I bragged of my bargain all the rest of the day. It wouldn't run more than half the time, and finally I turned it over to my little sister to play with. "You know the time I have had with that eligible young man and how I have quarreled with every girl friend I know who has dared to look at him? But you don't know how many nights I have wasted sitting up planning a campaign that would be successful!

and I served notice on the rest of the family that we wanted the drawing room to ourselves that evening, for l felt sure that the supreme moment had arrived. I wasn't disappointed. We were sitting side by side on a divan, quite by accident, looking at some engravings when he began, and I tried to look as if I was awfully sur prised. Three Hundred People Reported to Have Lost Their Lives at Lung Kong.

A TREMENDOUS EARTHQUAKE

Great Flood of Water Poured Out of the Mountains — Hundreds of Houses Carried Away and Fleids Swept Bare of Crops.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

TACOMA, WASH., July 8 .- Canton advices by the steamer Bræmer give details of the loss of 300 lives by landslide and flood, occurring at Lung Kong in June. The landslide was caused by a tremendous earthquake. Native accounts state that a recent flood of water poured out of the mountains, carrying everything before it. Two hundred houses were swept away and the fields swept bare of the crops. Several great landslides occurred carrying a large portion of Lung Kong into the bay. What appeared like a tidal wave followed, making it impossible for any who were carried into the water to escape.

EFFECTIVE REPROOFS.

Payson Tucker Had a Quick Eye and Pointed Methods.

Two incidents in the railroad life of Payson Tucker are told that well illustrate what a worker he was and his attention to the details of business. Several years ago he was up on the mountain division of the Maine Central road and looked over the grounds of one of the stations. Nothing more than the usual conversation passed, and he returned to his car and went back to Portland. Nearly a year passed before he had occasion to call at the station again, and then he stepped off the car and asked pleasantly: "Do you have all the help you want here?" "Yes, sir; all that we need." "Quite sure you have enough?" "Yes, sir: There is not much to be done at so small a station." "Well, I feared you were rushed to death and could not find time to remove that pile of old bricks I saw the last time I was here." With that the general manager of the road stooped over the pile of bricks options active West, and stronger on and, without removing his kid gloves, continued the work until the last one was neatly piled up.

At another time a break had been committed at one of the stations on the back road, and the next day after the notice of the break had been wired to Portland Mr. Tucker chanced to pass that way. After looking things over, Mr. Tucker asked what had been lost, and the agent quickly ran over the amount of money and tickets stolen. "That all?" asked Mr. Tucker, when the agent had concluded. "Yes, sir: nothing else." "That so?" said Mr. Tucker, taking in the untidy appearance of the room and station at a glance. "I feared some one had stolen your broom. If he does so, he will probably be released on pledging his word not to serve during the existing war. If he refuses, he will remain captive until the war is over or until he can make his escape. The usual parole pledge extends only to active service against the enemy. A prisoner released on parole is not breaking his contract if he drills, recruits, quells civil commotions or fights other enemies. A soldier taken prisoner has no authority to pledge himself never to serve against a particular enemy. He cannot throw off thus lightly the duty he owes his sovereign or country, and if he makes any pledge it must be confined to a limited time. Moreover, if a prisoner should make a pledge not approved by his own government he is bound to return and surrender himself to the enemy. In the British army a soldier can only give his parole through a commissioned officer. Even a noncommissloned officer or an officer of inferior rank cannot give parole either for himself or for his men without permission from his commanding officer.

The United States authorities, by the way, give greater liberty of parole than is the case with the British army. A captured prisoner who has violated his parole may be punished with death. -Pearson's Weekly.

FLORENCE, S. C., Nov. 26, 1900. I was first advised by our family physician in Charleston to use TEETHINA with our baby when she was but a very young infant, as a pre-ventive of colic and to warm and sweeten the stomach. Later it was useful in teething trou-bles, and its effect has been found to be so very baneficial and so free from the dangers that are beneficial and so free from the dangers that are consequent upon the use of drugs and soothing syrups, that we have come to regard it, after use with three children, as one of the necessities when there is a new paby in the house and until the teething troubles are over, and we take pleasure in recommending it to our friends instead of the horrid stuff that so many people use to keep their babies quiet. FORGET BUSINESS AT NIGHT

That Is the Only Way to Be Sure of Doing Your Post Work. "Every Lainess ; an of a mimon sense knows, whether he come to acknowledge it or not that the far ther away he get; in the evening from els commercial associations during the day, so that his business associates or thoughts of it or them cannot get at him, the healthier he is, the wiser life he leads in short, the better off he is in every respect and the abler for the duties of the morrow," writes Edward Bok in The Ladies' Home Journal. "Now, what does he get in the city in the evening, even if he lives a carefully regulated life? There is no mode of life he can possibly follow which is in any way recuperative to his mental or physical being. He has never been out of hearing of the noises of the city or out of the range of its lights. Every night he has slept in the polluted air of the city and in the morning has looked out on the gray sidewalks which he sees all day long. What does such a man know of the exhilarating, refreshing and blood quickening experience of opening the shutters of his chamber window upon a landscape of space and sunshine? And, what is far worse, what do his wife and children know of such a blessing?

"Yet he deludes himself into the belief that he must live in the city, so as to be 'in touch with things.' If you ask him what those 'things' are, you invariably discover that they are of a business nature, either strictly business or some social convention which he feels has a bearing on his business. But it is always business, business! Now, a man living under this pressure rarely does his best work, although he fully believes that he is doing it. But he cannot be giving out the best be cause he does not allow the best to get within him."

Glorious News

Comes from Dr. D. B. Cargile, of Washita, I. T. He writes: "Four bottles of Electric Bitters has cured Mrs. Brewer of scrofula, which had caused her great suffering for years. Terrible sores would break out on her head and face, and the best doctors could give no help; but her cure is complete and her health is excellent." This shows what thousands have proved,-that Electric Bitters is the best blood purifier known. It's the supreme remedy for eczema, tetter, salt rheum, ulcers, boils and running sores. It stimulates liver, kidneys and bowels. expels poisons, helps digestion, builds up the strength. Only 50 cents. Sold by R. R. BELLAMY, druggist. Guaran-
