SUBSCRIPTION PRICE. The subscription price of the Wer ly Star is

HE IS DEAD.

The dreaded has happened and the life which for eight days has hung in the balance has gone out and cast a shadow of gloom over this whole land. The wire which clicked the sad announcement of his death brought sorrow to every household, to the millions who since the assassin shot was fired prayed that the life of the stricken President might be spared.

The fear and solicitude that followed the shock at the horrid deed gave way to a feeling of hopefulness with the encouraging bulletins sent out from day to day by the attendant physicians until the belief became general that he would survive and get well. The gloomy bulletins of Friday therefore came as a terrible shock that brought with it grief and despair.

Throughout all this ordeal he bore himself so bravely, so calmly, submitted to the inevitable with such masterly self control that no word of impatience, of complaining, or of resentfulness at the perpetrator or the abettors of the deed that cost his life escaped his lips. He bore it all with the submission of a martyr and was the most resigned to his possible fate of all those who were associated with him officially or otherwise. He was calm and hopeful when they were gloomy, depressed and despondent.

The country had hoped and prayed that he would recover for its sake and for his, and for the wife of his bosom, to whom through their whole wedded life he has been so beautifully devoted, and when its hopes were blighted and the tragic end came, the great heart of the people was stricken with grief, and the tears of millions fell with the tears of that loving wife who saw the life go out of the man she loved and whom the American people loved and honored as they have loved and honored few men.

They mourn the man whose private life, domestic virtues and amiable qualities endeared him to all who knew him or knew of them they lament the passing away, even if it were in the natural course of events and not by the hand of violence, of a man who in his exalted position had grown upon them from year to year until all honored him as a well meaning, broad-minded, liberal-viewed, patriotic President, who lived and labored for his country's welfare and for every section

This will be the best foundation for his fame, and when he lies on his bier, the sweetest and purest flowers that will rest upon it will come from the Sunny South.

As an illustration of what farm machinery has done in the way of increasing production, and as a stimulant to Florida farmers to keep up with the procession, the Jacksonville Times-Union calls attention to the fact that while the number of farm laborers in this country has only doubled since 1850, "we produce four times as much corn, six times as much wheat, eight times as much cotton, from twenty to a hundred times as much hay, beef, pork, mutton, butter, chickens and eggs,' in all of which machinery figures directly or indirectly.

their being one in the South. There is a movement on foot in which we reproduce from the Press, Pittsburg to raise a fund to erect a explains this, for there has been no monument to Parker, the Georgia immigration of the elements of negro who jumped on Czolgosz, which anarchism is composed into floored him and prevented him from the South. One might travel from shooting a third time at the President. Parker wouldn't give a flip for a monument. Better take the money and buy him a farm and a with the exception of New Orleans snug home in Georgia, where he where the Mafia society has existed might pass the rest of his days, live among the worst element of the Italand be joyful.

WEEKLY STAR

VOL. XXXII.

It has frequently been remarked body guards. While this is no reflection upon the Northern people as a people, it is true, and there are very good reasons for it. They are so fully embraced in the following editorial, which we clip from the Philadelphia Press, that we give it here entire. Under the heading of "Immigration and Anarchism," it

"There is no question that the num-number of native-born Americans of the second or third generation, or over, have been converted to anarchism.

There is no evidence of it. The very reedom of the country is against native growth of that heresy. The abundance of opportunities, the liberty of action, the many chances to improve one's material condition are all anti-dotes to that mental state necessary to the reception of anarchism as a rule of

"Where does the increase of Anarchists come from, then? There is only one reply to this question. The putrid stream of anarchism must be fed by immigration. The official figures bear out this supposition. The following table shows the changes in the character of immigration from 1882 to 1901, the gain or loss per cent.

in the number of immigrants from the different countries being given in the

'The lesson this table teaches can e easily drawn. The best class immigrants this country has ever received have come from England,

Scotland, Ireland, Germany, Sweden and Norway, Denmark and the Netherlands. But the immigration rom every one of these countries shows a marked decline in 1901 as compared with 1882 On the other hand the least desirable class of immigrants this country has come from Europe has come from Austria-Hungary, Italy and Russia. It is in the last two of these three countries that narchism and nihilism have their argest number of advoates and have been preached most persistently. And it is a significant fact that the immigration from each one of these coun tries shows a large and rapid increase clude that the increase in the number of Anarchists and Nihilists in this country is due to the ancrease in the mmigration from those countries where the adherents of these doctrines are the strongest. This fact can be made plainer by grouping the immi-gration from these countries by itself and showing its increase. This is done in the following table.

Italy.....32,159 135,996 4.0 27.

"In the fiscal year ending June 30th 1901, the immigration from these two countries was over four times greater than it was in 1882. As the advocates of anarchism in this country have inreased in about the same proportion o assert that the increase has been caused by the growth in the immigra archists and Nihilists are most numerous. These facts should impress Congress with the need of a change in the mmigration laws that will make provision for a more rigid sifting of the

We not only permit to enter our ports the indiscriminate herd from the countries which breed anarchism and nihilism and the more harmless socialism, but we admit avowed anarchists and nihilists, permit them to organize their societies, hold public meetings, publish papers disseminating their doc-assassination and eulogizing and making heroes of the assassins.

They are under no restraint or police surveillance and are as free to advocate chaos and murder as the preacher is to preach Christ cruci-preach doctrines that are new and

By this tolerance and this broad latitude of personal liberty and freedom of speech and of the press they have become emboldened until they defy public sentiment and threaten with assassination any and all who

Some cities and districts in the North and West are honeycombed with them, and there are probably thousands of them in the North today with the probabilities against

The figures given in the editorial on eend of it to the other without meeting a Russian or a Pole, and incur their enmity.

mmigrants seeking this country.'

ion from those countries where An-85,257

Russia....21,590

Totals . . 53,749 221,253

Per Cent

1901. 1882. 1901.

2.7

"It is only reasonable then to con-last two columns:

Norway ...

WILMINGTON, N. C., FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 20, 1901.

NO ANARCHISM IN THE SOUTH, ally of a sober, industrious class, who are trying to earn an honest living and are law abiding.

since the lamented President Mc-Kinley was shot by the assassin With her small number of foreign Czolgosz that such an event could born citizens, most of whom are not have happened in the South, good, honest, industrious and lawfor there are no anarchists here. He respecting people, the South is the might, as far as the people of the most thoroughly American section of South are concerned, have gone the Union, and being still an agrifrom one one end of it to the other cultural section there are few large cities for the reckless, incendiary, without the escort or attendance of even one life guard, while he never society-destroying element to gather went anywhere in the North and in and to grow. West without detectives, and on some occasions without mounted

This fact has been recognized and acknowledged by such men as Senator Hoar and others on visits to the South, and this is one of the causes that gives the South the proud, enviable distinction of not being a congenial section for anarchists or assassins.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVE

On the death of President Mc-Kinley, Theodore Roosevelt became President of the United States. The ber of advocates of anarchism has largely increased in this country during the past twenty years. Where does this increase come from? No intelligent person will assert that any untried pilot goes to the helm to succeed the experienced one who had stood faithfully at the wheel for nearly five years, and guided the ship safely through troublous waters. How the new pilot may fill his place, whether well or otherwise, remains to be seen, but there is hope entertained, even by those who have not been favorably impressed by him, that with the grave and mighty responsibilities that will devolve upon him, will come thought, sober reflection and a tempering down of that impulsive, impetuous, aggressive disposition that has been such a striking characteristic of the man, and has been no small factor. in giving him the fame, and lifting him to the emisience he has attained.

We are among those that entertain that hope and believe that erence to the death of the President, while Theodore Roosevelt will never make the well-poised, conservative, self-forgetting President that William McKinley did, he will agreeably disappoint those who had formed these opinions of the man from his aggressive, strenuous utterances and pen pictures in the public journals of the country, both of his own and other parties.

One thing that can be said him and that is that he is a man of mind, and of individuality enough to give him force of character. He is also a student of history, and while ambitious his ambition has been an honorable one. He seeks the applause of his countrymen, but at the same time endeavors to deserve it. He is a partisan, an assertive, aggressive partisan, but he may prove broadminded, liberal and patriotic enough, now that his ambition has in a measure been attained to leave much of that partisanship behind him when he enters upon the Presidential office and realize that to win the plaudits of his countrymen and lasting fame, as his lamented predecessor did, he must prove more of a patriot than

As Governor of New York his administration was creditable and was not marred by any blotches of incompetency or of eccentricity, and if he has the good judgment to surround himself with conservative, broad-viewed counsellors, there is no reason why he should not make a President who will perform the duties of his high office with honor to himself and benefit to his country. That he may, at least let

As for the South it need not be solicitiously concerned about the course he may pursue, for there has been no manifestation by him of unfriendliness to this section but on the contrary he has always spoken kindly of the South, from which his mother sprang,

Mr. Herman, of what was once Garfield county, in Kansas, lives in trines and advocating and defending the finest house anywhere thereabouts, and it didn't cost him a red. The county went out of business as a county, the boom town in which the court house was located busted, he squatted on the quarter section on which it was built, entered it as a homestead and took fied and even freer than some are to possession of the house and there he has lives ever since with no one disapproved of for some reason or to question his proprietorship.

have things orderly, therefore a law has been passed making unlawful in the District of Columbia the presence of any fowl, parrot or bird, or other feathered or haired vocalist which by offensively crowing, cackling, talking or singing or other noise shall disturb the serenity and comfort of any neighborhood.

At a recent re-union of a family named Chick, in Maine, there were five sisters, the oldest of whom was eighty-eight years, the youngest seventy. Their combined ages were 470 years. These were no spring Chick-ens.

Senator Mason, of Illinois, asks ians, but few Italians, those gener- wind mill.

Great Sorrow Manifest in Wilmington Over Death of President Wm. McKinley.

MASS MEETING SATURDAY

Resolutions of Respect to Dead Chieftali and Many Eloquent and Personal Tributes - Telegram Sent to Secretary Cortelyon.

Perhaps in no Southern city was there apparent Saturday more outward or unmistakable manifestation of the deep gloom that has fallen over the nation in the death of its President, than in Wilmington.

Mr. McKinley's death was the allimportant topic discussed on the streets, in offices and places of business, and deep and personal was the regret expressed by every sue. Flags over private and public buildings and over vessels in the harbor were at half mast and there were many other evidences of the great loss felt by the people, regardless of political creed. class or condition of men. The Produce Exchange, while open to members, was the scene of no transactions in the commercial world and the miniature flags over the desk of the secretary were appropriately draped. Holiday hours, as far as business would permit, were observed at the United States buildings and officials were alike in expressing the most profound sorrow upon the death of their chief.

At the service in the Temple of Israel Saturday morning Rev. Dr. Meudelsohn, the Rabbi, made a most touching reference to the death, eulogizing the life and character of the deceased ruler.

The mass meeting of citizens in the Court House, to take action in ref-The large court room was full to overflowing with men who entered heartily and sympathetically into the spirit of the hour. The meeting was held at 10 o'clock and Mr. Hugh MacRae was called to the chair. Rt. Rev. Bishop A. A. Watson offered a very fervent prayer and upon motion of Mr. John S. Armstrong the following committee was named to pass upon any resolutions that might be offered: Messrs. J. C. Stevenson, W. R. Kenan, H. W. Malloy, A. M. Waddeil and W. E.

The resolution embraced in the fol lowing telegraphic transmission to Secretary Cortelyou, with a request for conveyance of the sentiment to Mrs. McKinley, was then unanimously

"September 14, 1901. Secretary Geo. B. Cortelyou. Buffalo "At a representative public meeting held this morning at 10 o'clock, the following resolution was passed unanmously, and this committee was intructed to send the same to Mrs. Mc Kinley. Will you kindly convey the

'Resolved. That on this day, while we mourn with the whole country for our dead President and listen reverently to the messages of sympathy which are pouring in from all the nations of the earth, we deem it a mournful duty, as a community, to express our sorrow for the sufferings and death of William McKinley, our ellow citizen—the soldier, statesman and patriot-feeling, as we do, that we have not only experienced a national but also a personal affiction. "His lofty character. his calm, wise statesmanship and his excellent diplomacy in handling our foreign affairs during a very trying and exciting of the world's history have moved the hearts of the people as the heart of one man is moved and have brought the country to the front line of the ruling world powers. "President of the whole people, and sustained by the loyalty of all the States he has commanded for us the respect of all foreign potentates. Whilst his kindly personality, his minent services, his patience and peautiful fortitude in these last anxious days have endeared him to the hearts of all good citizens.

"We extend to his devoted wife and to his family our respectful sympathy. 'HUGH MACRAE, "H. C. McQUEEN, Chairman MacRae, when the reso lution had been feelingly adopted stated that it was also the purpose of the meeting to hear from those who personally desired to say something in honor of the departed President He then called upon Mayor Waddell who spoke an eloquent tribute, which was listened to attentively. He referred to his acquaintance with Mr. McKinley when he was in Congress and his impression of the man and officer. He was a gentleman with as clean a record as any man in public life. His devotion to his wife was remarkable and beau-While the Congressmen are away | tiful. Although many differed with Washington is trying to reform and the late President in politics, none dared to question his political or personal integrity. Mayor Waddell closed a beautiful speech with these words: "Would to God that a large proportion of the Northern country could realize the feeling in the South. I do not believe any locality is more honest and sincere than this community. God save this country."

that a great calamity has befallen the country and it is to be deeply deplored. Anarchy, he said, should be stamped out of the country. No man had ever been President of the United States who enjoyed a greater respect of his people than Mr. McKinley. Mr. Bellamy said he had a personal acquaintly found in the public men of to-day. point of beginning.

The people should meet the blow that has befallen them and make the best Rev. Dr. A. D. McClure next spoke tenderly of the dead ruler and the great calamity which has come upon his people. During the hour of the funeral he suggested that another public meeting be held and that the church bells of the city be tolled during the time.

meeting that business houses close so that all may attend the meeting and show proper reverence. Rev. Dr. A. G. Voigt next expressed his entire accord with the spirit of the meeting and the eulogies that had

The suggestion was favorably received, and it was the sense of the Rev. Dr. Calvin S. Blackwell spoke in exceedingly appropriate and touching language of the death of the President and recited the great anxiety of a devoted people since the news of the assassination spread like wildfire a week ago. Each of the three Presidents who have fallen at the hands of assessins was noted for his domestic virtues. He closed his very beautiful tribute by saying: My own heart wears a tenderness for the noble and heroic woman whom the man now in death has just nursed to recovery by his love." Mr. J. W. Norwood recited the events leading up to and the circumstances surrounding the assassination of the three presidents who had died at the hands of diabolicals men. The killing of Mr. McKinley was the most unmitigated, reprehensible and cowardly of all. He said he knew of no more apt parallel in history than the murder of our Blessed Savior, who was betraved with a kiss by Judas Iscariot

Mr. D. L. Gore spoke in splendid language of the late President and his many virtues and capabilities. "We nonor ourselves in honoring the dead President," said Mr. Gore.

Collector of Customs Jno. C. Dancy, the only colored man presant, asked to formed, to pay into the school fund be pardoned for his interruption dur- all fines accruing from violations of ing their labor of love. He spoke eloquently of the President and paid one of the most beautiful tributes of the meeting to his memory. Mr. W. M. Cumming next spoke and impressed the people with the idea that President Roosevelt be given the utmost spirit and confidence. Mr. H. C. McQueen concurred in the sentiment expressed by Mr. Cumming in regard to President Roosevelt and upon Mr. McQueen's motion, verba! resolution extending the sympathy of the community to the new President in this great hour thrust upon him, was unanimously adopted. The STAR regrets that space forbids a more complete reference to all the beautiful tributes paid to the Presi dent's memory, but it will suffice to say that each one was sincere and couched in the most appropriate and expressive language.

MASS MEETING IN RALEIGH

Resolutions Adopted by the Council State Upon the Death of President McKinley-Gov. Aycock.

[Special Star Telegram.]

RALEIGH, N. C., Sept. 14.-The North Carolina Council of State met to-day and adopted resolutions expressive of profound regret at the death of William McKinley, President of the United States. The following are some features of the resolutions:

'That his high personal character, his domestic virtues, his courage displayed in following convictions of duty, and his heroic struggle to recover from the effects of the assassin's shot, in order to give the people of our common country the benefit of his services, and to win their admiration for faithful performance of duty, merit our warmest commendation.

"That we view with horror the dastardly act of the assassin who struck down the President of the United States while expressions of Peace on earth and good will to men' had scarcely died away from his lips; and we note with alarm within the borders of our free republic the presence of bands of anarchists bound by secret ties of infamy to red handed

"That we hereby express our hearty approval of all legislation, both State and national, within the limits of the constitution, designed to prevent a recurrence of great crimes similar to the one which we to-day lament, and to suppress and exterminate the spirit of anarchy in all cases by providing swift and adequate punishment." There was a mass meeting of citizens o-night during which brief addresses were made by Governor Aycock, United States Senator F. M. Simmons. ex Senator Marion Butler. Chief Jus tice Furches, and Associate Justice Douglas of the Supreme Court. Suitable resolutions were adopted deploring the death of the President, denouncing anarchy and calling upon Congress to provide adequate legislaation against admitting into this country enemies of law and order.

Governor Aycock announced that him who will attend the funeral at Washington, so that he can appoint them as a delegation to represent the State. The Governor will attend the funeral.

Sale of Wharf Property.

Forney J. Gooding and wife transferred by deed recorded yesterday to W. Hon. John D. Bellamy began a very | Taft for $2,000 valuable wharf propfeeling and eloquent tribute by saying | erty between Market and Dock streets. The tract begins in the western line of Water, thirty-three feet north from the intersection of said street with the northern line of Dock street, running thence northwardly along the western line of Water street, seventy-two feet more or less to the centre of Wilkinson's alley, M. J. Corbett's line, thence ance with the President. He was easily | west along Corbett's line to the chanapproached and in his company nel of the Cape Fear river, thence "how does a U. S. Senator earn his one felt at perfect ease. He had a south with the channel of the river to salary?" He earns his by running a fullness of heart and tenderness rare- a line extended due west from the subscribers. These bills should re-

New Hanover Directors Will Make Demand On City for All Police Fines.

CONTROVERSY EXPECTED.

of Buncombe, Wake and Other Counties Will be Followed Here. Revenue for Six Months.

About $600 Per Year is Involved - Example

A controversy over the disposition of fines accruing from the municipal court is likely to be launched at any time between the city authorities and the County Board of School Di-

About two years ago in Raleigh and Asheville the county school authorties discovered a hidden law, or rather principle of law, which makes all fines imposed by the State payable to the school fund. In cases of towns and cities conjointly with the State. the law had never been enforced and when a demand was made upon the municipal authorities for these fines, it was promptly resisted. A test case was made up and the Supreme Court decided in favor of the school authorities. In Raleigh, Asheville and a few other cities the decision of court was complied with and the money paid into the school fund. This year the demand for this money has been made in several counties of the State, and now t appears to be growing general. The New Hanover School Board took the matter up several weeks ago. and it is now conferring with Mayor Waddell relative to the matter, though there appears to be a difference of opinion as to a construction of the law. Mayor Waddell is willing, so the school authorities have been inthe State law, but those coming from a violation of the city ordinances he thinks should properly go into the city treasury. This, it is learned, will be resisted by the school authorities, who think that according to the law all the fines should go into the school fund. just as is the custom with magistrates and the Criminal Court. The school authorities also claim, that if they so desire, they can go back as far as the record extends and demand all the fines that have been paid during these years It is learned, however, that it is not the disposition of the school directors to make such a sweenng demand, but they think that the amounts since January 1st, 1901. should be turned over for educational future should be applied in the same The school authorities have been quietly working along this line for some time and hope to have the matter concluded amicably in the near future.

purposes and all fines paid in the

From a statement furnished by the city of fines and costs collected in the police court from Jan. 1st, 1901, to Aug. 19th, 1901-a little more than seven months—it is seen that the amount received is $489.90, deducting costs of $186.35, from which is left an aggregate of fines amounting to $303.55. The extent the city would suffer under the new arrangement and the benefit that would accrue to the school fund during the year may be drawn from these figures.

COTTON MILLING LONG AGO.

Old Wilmington Paper Announces Estab lishment of Factory at Greensboro.

In a copy of the People's Journal and Advertiser, published weekly in Wilmington in the year 1834, by Thomas Loring, is the following notice of the establishment of an "extensive" and perhaps the first cotton mill in the State:

"COTTON FACTORY .- An extensive Cotton Factory has been estabished at Greensborough, in this State. Five hundred and twenty-eight spindles and fifteen looms are in operation and between two and three hundred ounds of thread can be manufactured n a dav.

To those acquainted with the exten of the cotton milling industry now in North Carolina, the above will be of

SOUTH CAROLINA CONVICT.

Supervisor Dozler, of Marlon, Came for the Negro "Major" Henderson.

rion county, South Carolina, chain gang, arrived in the city yesterday for the negro "Major" Henderson, who was captured as an escaped convict by Policemen Huggins and Bryant Friday night. The negro was easily identified and will be returned to South Carolina to-day or to-morrow.

Supervisor J. T. Dozier, of the Ma-

Supervisor Dozier says the negro's term had almost expired when last June he made a break from the stockade and also made a way of escape for three other negroes. He will remain in the city for a day or two endeavorto coop the remainder of his "lost

The schooner Mary L. Bradshaw from Philadelphia Sept. 7th to Charleston, S. C., put in at Southport at 4 P. M. yesterday for harbor. She is a vessel of 361 tons and is commanded by Capt. Davidson. Her agents in Wilmington, Messrs. George Harriss, Son., & Co., were notified of her arrival.

- As the STAR employs no travelling agents, bills are sent direct to ceive prompt attention.

A BIG DAMAGE SUIT.

SAPE BREAKERS CONVICTED.

Sentenced to Ten Years Imprisonment at Hard Labor-Appeal Taken.

[Special Star Telegram.]

The trial of George Ellsworth and Chas. Traylor, charged with wrecking the safe of M. H. Lowery & Co., was concluded to-day. The jury, after fifteen minutes' deliberation, returned verdict of "guilty." Defendants were then sentened to ten years hard labor in the State perfitentiary. They appealed to the Supreme Court. The defendants were given the maximum penalty of the law. The evidence establishing their guilt was exceedingly

THE A. & M. COLLEGE IS FULL.

President Winston Says Thousand Boys

Would Come If He Had Room.

Special Star Correspondence.

RALEIGH, N. C., Sept. 14.-There are now 315 students in the A. & M.

College. This is all the college can accommodate. A few vacancies will be made by students leaving from poverty and other causes and in this way there will be room for a few more students from time to time, but only a few. President Winston says that new students should not come to the college without having previously written to ascertain if there is room for them. He says there is great demand for industrial education throughout the State, and that the A. & M

College would have a thousand students if it had room for them. Its geatest need now is for more dormitories and shop room for wood-work-ing and iron-working. It is a pity that boys seeking industrial education have to be sent back home. The State needs skilled labor in all lines, and it ought to provide ample facili-ties at the A. & M. for all who come

DAVIDSON COLLEGE OPENING.

About Sixty Students in Freshman Class.

Many New Campus Buildings.

[Special Star Correspondence.]

DAVIDSON, N. C., Sept. 13 .- Davidson College opened with very flattering prospects, the freshman class numbers nearly sixty, and a very ikely looking set of boys they are.

The college football team was put promptly in the field, and by October 15th we expect to have our team in The campus has taken on a new ap earance this year, some of the older huildings been removed and new ones now having their place. The hospital of the medical department has also een completed and has many inmates, Wilmington is represented this year who are given the best of attention.

by W. Taylor in the medical college and Messrs. Patterson, Bagley and Sprunt in the literary department

By this time next year Dr. Monroe nedical college a school of pharmacy.

expects to have in connection with his

COMPLETION OF "BEATTY'S BRIDGE.

Will be Celebrated by Big Basket Picnic

Saturday, September 27th.

[Special Star Correspondence.]

PARKERSBURG, N. C., Sept. 12 .-

The new steel bridge across Black river at "Beatty," built by Bladen and Pender counties, will be completed by the 27th inst. We regard the building of the bridge as a stride forward in the way of progress, it being the first steel draw bridge built in this section of our country. The good people of Pender, Sampson and Bladen propose to celebrate its completion by having a big farmers' dinner at the bridge on September 27th. Dinner will be served in the grove, an address will be delivered by an able speaker and a pleasant day is promised to all good people. Everybody is invited to ome and bring "a large basket full.

Chairman Board of Commissioners

Chairman Board of Commissioners

UNIVERSITY OPENED AUSPICIOUSLY

All Classes Are Unusually Large and the Faculty Will be Increased.

| Special Star Correspondence.]

CHAPEL HILL. Sept. 13.-The Uni versity has opened very favorably, the registration at the close of Friday being nearly 500. This is largely in excess of last year's registration at the same time. The Medical, Law and Pharmacy classes are all unusually large. The large number of freshman has more than filled the class rooms, and additional teachers will have to be provided. The classes started work Thursday morning and everything is in smooth working In shaving to make the skin perfectly smooth requires not only the removal of the hair, but also a portion of the cuticle, a layer of skin all around. The blood blood drop, protests against such treatment. The nerve tips are also uncovered, and the pores are left unprotected which makes the skin tender and unhealthy. This sudden exposure of the inner layer of the skin renders a person liable to have colds, hoarseness and sore throat.—London Family Doctor.

A Suitable Present.

"Mamma," said a Brooklyn girl, "what

"Then I think you had better give him

How do you buy your apples? By

"That's the way I try to buy them, but when I get them home I generally find I have bought them by the top layer."- would be an appropriate birthday pres-

How long has he been coming to

Not Up to Sample.

ent to give Albert?"

the barrel?"

Chicago Tribune.

the most for His name.

you?" asked mamma.

'About four years.'

the sack."-Leslie's Weekly.

vessels thus exposed are not visible to

C. P. PARKER,

K. F. POWERS,

Yours, respectfully,

Bladen county.

Pender county.

good shape to go against the picked eam of the State

WADESBORO, N. C., September 15 .-

Conductor Asks for $50,000 From Carolina Central Railroad for Injuries.

Plaintiff is J. L. Love and Base of Action is Accident at Cronly Last December - Case in New Hanover Superior Court.

Notice of a big damage suit against the Carolina Central Railroad Company was filed yesterday with the Clerk of the Superior Court.

The suit is brought by Mr. J. L.

Love, formerly a freight conductor in the employ of the company, and his attorneys are Herbert McClammy and Wm. J. Bellamy, Esqs. While no complaint is filed as yet, it is learned that the amount of damages asked will be $50,000, and that the grounds of complaint are that the plaintiff received permanent injuries in an accident to his train at Cronly, N. C., on December 27th last. He claims that he was riding in the caboose of his train, and by the breaking of an alleged defective coupling the car was telescoped and he was thrown violently against a hot stove, his face and one hand badly burned and an arm broken. He was brought to the City Hospital in Wilmington subsequently and received treatment here. Mr. Love is a young man, and his alleged disability at comparatively an early age is assigned by the attorneys as the reason for the large amount asked.

The case will be returnable at the next term of the Superior Court, but will likely not be tried until the following term.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.

-Kinston Free Press: Dave Mitchell, the negro shot by an unknown white man at the A. & N. C. depot Sunday night, died Friday night about 12 o'clock.

- Wilson Times: Tremendous sales are still the order of the day. All the tobacco men, while tired, are yet jubilant over the immense quantity the markets will sell this year. - Smithfield Herald: It is astonishing to see how much tobacco is being sold on the Smithfield market these days. Each day there are big sales at each house and the prices remain high. - Fayetteville Observer: John McKinney, alias Jim Lowry, who killed Policeman Jones, at Shelby, N. C., on August 4th, while resisting arrest near Murphy, Friday morning, was shot and killed in self-defense by ex-Town Marshal W. J. Watson, formerly of Orange county, N. C., one of the posse. The negro had a Winchester drawn on Watson, who fired too quick for the negro. There is a reward of $500 offered. - Favetteville New Era: Mr. Cader Parker, one of the oldest and most prominent citizens of the county, died at his residence, near Little River Academy, last Friday in the 80th year of his age. — About a week ago the little 12-year-old son of Mr. Ed. Smith, of Tar Heel, Bladen county, was placed in the sanitarium in this city inder treatment for mental disorder. He was returned to his home Wednesday violently insane. The best treatment known to the medical profession was administered, but to no beneficial - Fremont Visitor: We were shown the other day in Goldsboro an instance of the almost human intelligence of ants. A gentleman found a colony of medium size black ants at work in the hollow of a tree in his front yard, and, desiring to dislodge them, put tar all around the mouth of the whule. Next morning he went to the tree to note the completeness of his victory, when he found that the ants penned on the inside of the hollow had cut and carried out bits of rotten wood with which they had made a bridge across the tar and the line of march into and out of the hollow was proceeding as if no interruption had oc-

- Sanford Express: We learn that farmers in some sections of this county are losing their hogs by cholera. This disease seems to be prevalent among hogs in many other sections of the State. The loss to the farmers is very heavy as it will soon be the fattening season. - We are told that there is a graveyard one mile and a half east of Jonesboro which is oven 100 years of age, the first person—a child-having been buried there during the revolutionary war. This old graveyard is now in the woods. It has been so long neglected that there is no road or path leading to it. It is called 'the Dalrymple graveyard." Large trees are now growing over many o the graves. In one section of this old burying ground the graves are marked by headstones while there is nothing to show where hundreds of other per sons have been buried.

- Charlotte News: "O Lord, let me die." "Boys can't you do something for me?" These were some of the sad words that fell from the lips of a white man at the Southern depot Thursday night as he lay on a stretcher in the baggage room dying from an accident. The man's name was J. E. Thompson, of Gastonia. Thompson it seems, was beating his way on 38, the vestibule, and as the engine began to slow down in the yards he jumped off directly in front of a switch engine going in the opposite direction. In an nstant the engine knocked the man was picked up and carried to the baggage room on a stretcher. Investigation proved that the legs and lower part of the body had been mangled and mashed into one inconglomerate mass. Thompson seemed to be conscious notwithstanding the fact that the lower half of his body was practically severed from the supper portion Deceased was a man evidently in the prime of life. His parents live in Gasthe eye, but under the microscope each little quivering mouth, holding a minute that place to-day for burial.

STEEL STRILE SETTLED.

The Men Will Return to Work Monday. Agreement Not Made Public. By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, September 14.-The steel strike was settled to-day after a conference of six hours between representatives of the Amalgamated Association and the Steel Corporation. The men will return to work Monday. The agreement was not made public, but it was signed by the officials of the Amalgamated Association and the sub-sidiary companies of the United States Steel Corporation. The corporations signing were the American Tin Plate Company, the American Steel Hoop Company and the American Sheet Steel Company.

- The "first honor" men in the - The tear-dimmed eyes of love see more of Christ than the keen eyes school of Christ are those who endure