

THE NEW BABY

Opens up a new world to the loving mother. If it is a strong, healthy baby that new world is a world of happiness. If it is a weak, fretful child the new world is full of anxiety. It has been proven in thousands of cases, that the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription makes all the difference between strength and weakness in children. Healthy, happy mothers have healthy, happy children. "Favorite Prescription" gives the mother strength to give tion" gives the mother strength to give her child. It makes the baby's advent practically painless and promotes the secretion of the nourishment necessary to the healthful feeding of the nursing

"I have been using Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and can say it is just what you advertise it to be," writes Mrs. Victor J. Hadin, of Leonardsville, Riley Co., Kansas. "I began taking it just two months before baby came and was greatly benefited by its use. The doctor who attended me said I did about as well as any one he had seen (as I was sick only about three hours), and also that your 'Favorite Prescription' was 'one patent medicine' which he did have faith in. We now have a darling baby boy, strong and healthy, who weighed nine pounds when born. During this mouth he has gained three and one-half pounds. Have never given him one dose of medicine."

BINS OF OMISSION.

BY M. E. SANGSTER

It isn't the thing you do, dear. It's the thing you leave undone. That gives you a bit of heartache At the setting of the sun. The tender word forgotten,

The letter you did not write, The flower you did not send, dear, Are your haunting ghosts at night. The stone you might have lifted Out of a brother's way;

The bit of heartsome counsel You were hurried too much to say; The loving touch of the hand, dear The gentle, winning tone, Which you had no time nor thought With troubles of your own.

These little acts of kindness So easily out of mind, Those chances to be angels Which we poor mortals find; They come in night and silence: Each sad, reproachful wrath, When hope is faint and flagging,

And a chill has fallen on faith For life is all too short, dear, And sorrow is all too great, To suffer our slow compassion, That tardies until too late; And it isn't the thing you do, dear, It's the thing you leave undone, Which gives you a bit of heartache,

At the setting of the sun.

BREEDING FOR EGGS.

Few Suggestions on How to Get 200 Eggs Per Hen Per Year, More poultry men and women get from 100 to 125 eggs per hen per year than over that amount. And why? There are only four reasons why-first, the stock; second, the houses; third, the seed; fourth, the care given. Again, there are only two classes who make money by keeping poultry-the person who has only a few and the one who makes it a business. Two hundred eggs per hen per year are not an unusual event, and there is no reason why every poultryman should not have that

It is not necessary to have trap nests to find out your layers. The poultryman who has to use them for that purpose is not the one to make a success of poultry keeping, because if he has to depend on a contrivance it is only proof that he cannot place any dependence on himself. As soon as one has to rely on others it is high time that he gives up the business. If you want to find your layers, stay with your fowls, pick them out, hang up a daily egg rec ord and watch it. If you have not the time for this, then you certainly belong to the middle class. Unless you give the fowls all your time you cannot expect them to make money for you. Unless you know your fowls they will not make you money, even if you do give them all your time. If you have a hen that is a known layer and she is undersized or too large, don't breed from her. If you do, you are wasting both time and money. Stock has greatly improved in the past five years, but egg production has not. When poultrymen devote more time trying to find out which way and how is the best to feed, then they will increase the egg production. Because John Jones tells you that his way of feeding is the best that is no reason why you should adopt it until you know it to be a fact. Because Sam Jones tells you that one variety of chickens will lay more than the others don't sell what you have and get them until you know it is so. Poultrymen are too ready to listen to the other fellow.

My method of obtaining and holding great layers is as follows, no matter what the variety kept:

As soon as the pullets are fully matured they are carefully watched. As soon as one starts to lay she is removed to her permanent quarters, punch marked, a record hung up, date of hatch, pen hatched from, etc. This goes on until pens are full. Those that are backward in starting are put in a different building, we counting them as culls. The pullets and records are carefully watched. We do not breed from these as pullets, but will breed from the cream of them as yearlings. They are now yearlings, and we start to hatch. Each egg is marked with pen number. When put in incubators, same is set down in a ledger for that purpose, also giving the number of male bird and what pen he was hatched from. When the eggs are due to hatch, they are put in pedigreed egg trays. This keeps each pen of chicks separate. They are then punch marked and placed in brooders, which are grouped in colonies, separated with fine mesh wire, so that the chicks cannot get mixed. The cockerels are removed as soon as possible and fattened for market. We pick out a few, those that we think will make extra, good ones, and then turn them on free range. Soon the pullets are removed, each lot to a separate house and yard, and then we wait for the first eggs. You must start your feeding for heavy laying soon after the chick is hatched. This part of poultry keeping is entirely too much neglected. I believe more damage is done by letting the cockerels remain with the pullets while growing than from any other cause. It will put them back two months in their laying, and they will never make as good birds. It certainly stunts them. A pullet must be in the best of condition if you expect her — Do something every day that will allow you to feel at night that you have given some of your time and on laying. My experience teaches me that we must have large framed birds, and to get that kind you must start feeding as a little chick. You can put time to form large bones, and that is

The illustration shows a white Holland turkey hen. These birds are very popular with many poultrymen, and in some markets they are preferred to the bronze or other breeds.

Food For Late Chicks. With chicks hatched in May the same treatment as is given the early broods will suffice. With June and July chicks, however, this will not do. While, in my opinion, it is never advisable to give soft food to youngsters intended ultimately for breeders, it is little less than murder to feed it to late chicks. It is well enough to say it can be fed be cleaned out, but it has been my experience that no matter how careful one may naturally be this important duty is often neglected. For that reason, therefore, if for no other, the late chicks should have nothing but dry food. - Treat M. Right in Poultry Monthly. How to Remove Gloves. In taking off the glove never begin at the finger ends, for that stretches them. Turn the glove over at the wrist and pull gently, as though peeling it off. After the glove is removed from the hand turn it right side out, smoothing and straightening the fingers into place. Blow into the glove gently and then let them air a few moments, after which wrap them in tissue paper.

How to Make Veal Loaf. Chop very fine three pounds of veal (the leg is best for this purpose) and one-half pound of salt pork, one cupful rolled cracker crumbs, two eggs; season wiff pepper, chopped parsley, lemon juice and a little salt if needed mix well together and roll into a loaf; use white of egg with a little water and roll in cracker crumbs; bake one hour; eat cold.

How to Serve Chipped Beef. Melt a tablespoonful of butter in a frying pan and add some dried beef chipped into small pieces when the butter is hot. Beat up one egg and mix it well with a scant teacupful of milk. Season it with pepper and pour over the beef in the pan. When a thin custard is formed, serve on slices of buttered toast. Cresceus, the famous trotter, failed to lower his record at the Overland Park mile track at Denver, but he made a new record of 2:08 for the track. The former record for the Overland was 2:11%.

TRAIN WRECKERS

USE DYNAMITE.

Part of Railroad Track Blown Out and Three Pullman Coaches Derailed.

NEAR YORK, PENNSYLVANIA.

Passengers On the Train Were Severely Shocked and Consternation Prevailed, But All Escaped Injury. Attempt at Train Robbery.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star. YORK, PA., November 16.-The Southwestern express, on the Northern Central railway, due in this city at 10:44 P. M., was wrecked last night by a charge of dynamite placed under the track near the Black Bridge, a short distance north of York. The train was running at the rate of forty-five miles an hour when the explosion occurred. Passengers on the train were severely shocked and consternation prevailed, All escaped injury. A piece of rail two and a half feet long was blown out of the track and three coaches were derailed and drawn over the ties a distance of two hundred feet before the train was brought to a stop. Engine No. 3,053, which drew the train, had its hearth blown off and the windows of the cab were shattered. The trucks under an express car and a day coach were badly wrecked. Four Pullman cars, a day coach, a combina tion car and an express car composed The spot where the wreck occurred is surrounded by high hills on one side and Codorous Creek on the other, and is one of the lonliest places between Harrisburg and Baltimore. It is believed that the object of the perpetrators was robbery. The police officials advance the theory that the robbers had set the dynamite for the Buffalo express, which is said to carry considerable money, but for some unaccountable reason that train passed over the charge without

The York wrecking crew was called out and after a delay of several hours placed new trucks under the cars and put the track in order. At the place where the explosion occurred a hole was blown in the road bed large enough to bury a man. Where the rail was broken the edges were cut off almost as clean as if done by shears. Engineer Isaac Steine, who was in charge of the locomotive, said he heard a terrific explosion, followed by a great shock. The explosion occurred immediately under the day coach, which was four cars behind the engine. Passengers on the train say they first saw a ball of fire in the air, which was followed by a blinding flash and a deafening roar. The passengers themselves on the floor of the cars until the train stopped. A panic prevailed among the passengers until they were assured that the danger was all

Superintendent Kapp, of the Baltimore division of the Northern Cen tral railway, came to York to day and made a thorough investigation of the wreck of the Southwestern express. On concluding his investi gation Superintendent Kapp said that undoubtedly an attempt had been made to wreck the train for the purpose of robbery.

At 3 o'clock this afternoon it was announced that a clue had been discovered which may result in an arrest before the night is over.

A BRUTAL MURDER.

An Aged and Respected Widow Shot and Killed by Her Son-in-Law. By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

ROANOKE, VA., Nov. 15 .- A special from Rural Retreat, Va , says: Mrs. Louise Huddle, an aged and respected widow, living near here, was killed this morning by H. N. Ratcliffe, her son-in-law, who with his wife and child lived with Mrs. Huddle. When Ratcliffe went home this morning he threatened to kill everybody on the premises. His wife and child fled. The report of a gun was soon heard and when the house was entered Mrs. Huddle was found lying on the floor of the kitchen with a gunshot wound in the abdomen, her clothng on fire and her skull crushed. A bloody double-barrelled shotgup, with one barrel empty, was found in the room. Ratcliffe was arrested and taken to jail. He says he fired in self defence. Mrs. Huddle, who was quite wealthy, had willed her property to Ratcliffe's wife. The Schley court of inquiry it is thought will strive to finish its work before Congress convenes.

NORTH CAROLINA'S COTTON CROP.

Estimated at 328,040 Bales, Against a Crop of 542,000 Last Year.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star

RALEIGH, N. C., Nov. 16.-The News and Observer on Sunday morning will print letters from nearly two hundred correspondents in all sections of the cotton belt of North Carolina. answering questions as to the cotton crop in the State this year as com-pared with last year's crop. These etters show that the cotton crop of North Carolina this year is 65 1-12 per cent. of last year's crop, which will give 328,040 bales, against 542,000 last year. There is yet remaining in the fields, according to these correspondents, who are all cotton planters, manufacturers or buyers, 10 1-16 per cent of the crop. The reports show that the average amount of lint cotton produced per acre is 1411 pounds. The News and Observer in an editorial claims that ninety per cent. of its information is based upon actual knowledge and only ten per cent. of esti-

THE BROILER.

Branch of the Poultry Business That Can Be Made to Pay. In entering the broiler business the most important requirement is good incubators, as without them failure is sure. To accompany the incubator one should have first class brooders, and of these the indoor is best, because you can easily attach a regulator, thereby guarding against smothering your chicks. If you are a good judge of the amount of heat a lamp will throw out when lit at night and left till morning. you can with safety use outdoor brooders. Where many chicks are hatched it is best to adopt the compartment brooder, heated by steam.

In raising broilers they must have warm, dry quarters. They must be fed little and often a variety of food and with lots of fresh, clean water. Their food should contain lots of oil. Skimmilk is splendid. My broilers cost from 20 to 40 cents a pair to raise. and when selling for 80 cents to $1.20 a pair I think it is a paying business. I give my chickens six square inches each in the brooders and 18 square inches each in the yards. The brooder is raked out every morning while the chicks are eating, and the yards are swept with a wire broom every night after they go to bed. In this manner they are not frightened while the work is going on. When I first began to raise broilers. almost gave it up in disgust. It seemed I could not raise them successfully. When I looked into the matter. I found they were crowded and that the pens were not cleaned as they should be. Matters were changed, and to my astonishment my broilers then paid me better than my layers. Constant attention brings success. I would rather go without one of my meals every day than see my broilers go hungry, while the hungry side at all times.

As for sickness, it comes only a few times a year. The most common ailment is leg weakness. The moment this is noticed the weak chick is taken off by itself and fed about half as much as it was getting. In nearly all cases this chicken can be taken back the second day. By this method no weight is lost. Remember weight lost one day cannot be regained in three .-Cor. Reliable Poultry Journal.

How to Make Pot Cheese. When you have a couple of quarts of clabbered milk, pour it into a tin pail or a saucepan and stand it in another larger kettle with hot water over the fire. Let it stand till the milk is just heated through; then pour it into a bag made of cheesecloth. Hang it up and let it drain till perfectly free from whey, which is the watery part of the curdled milk. When it is drained, empty the curd from this bag into an earthen dish, wet it with a little cream, mix a generous quantity of butter with 4t. working it through with your hands. Season it with a little salt and make it up into balls or pats and put it away in a cool place.

How to Pan Tomatoes. Panned tomatoes are excellent served with roast meats. Put in a pan with two ounces of butter six firm tomatoes that have been cut and halved. Cook slowly on the top of the range for ten minutes, then brown quickly in the oven. Remove the tomatoes to a hot platter and make a sauce by adding to the browned butter two tablespoonfuls of flour and after it is rubbed smooth one pint of milk. Stir until boiling. Season well with salt and pepper and pour over the tomatoes. Garnish with parsley and points of toast.

REPORTS FROM THE DEPARTMENTS

The Immigration Bureau's Statistics Concerning Arrivals

in the United States. INCREASE OVER LAST YEAR.

Cotton in Alabama — Census Returns — The Acreage-Production in the Year 1899 Over One Million Bales, Valued at $37,400,598

By Telegraph to the Morning Star Washington, Nov. 16.—The annua report of Commissioner General Powderly, of the Immigration Bureau, shows the total steerage arrivals in the United States during the year to have been 487,918, an increase over the preceding year of 39,346, or approximately nine per cent. There were also 74,-950 other alien passengers who came in the cabin, making the total for the year 562,868. Of the total steerage immigration 469,237 came from European countries, 13,593 from Asiatic, 173 from Africa and 4,915 from all other sources.

The net increase of 44,537 from Europe is made up of larger immigration from all countries of that continent, except Austria-Hungary, which shows a decrease as compared with last year of 1,457; Portugal, with Azores and Cape Veade islands, showing 69 less immigrants; the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, which sent 2,961 less and the Russian empire and Finland, whence the arrivals were fewer by 5,530.

The agricultural division of the twelfth census has completed its tabulation of the cotton crop of Alabama in the year 1999. In that year were 192,384 farms reporting cotton, with an acreage of 3,202,135, producing 1,106,840 com mercial bales, or the equivalent of 1, 093,664 bales of 500 pounds each. The value of this cotton to the farmers as sold by them, exclusive of the seed, was $37,400,598. The cotton ginned reported by the manufacturers division for this State was 1,078,519 bales, of 500 pounds.

WHEAT SENT TO MEXICO.

Importations From the United States Will Continue So Long as Duty is Removed.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star. MEXICO CITY, No. 16.-From all parts of the western United States wheat is being sent to Mexico in amounts never before equalled. It is estimated by buyers and railroad men ber more than 1,500 cars will have been delivered into the republic. And even this great amount will not end the importation, for so long as the duty is removed and there is the slightest lack of corn. Both buyers and transportation men believe that the importation will continue until the time for the removal of the tariff.

Late Hatched Chicks.

My experience with late hatched chickens has been very satisfactory. When hatched during the latter part of July and first of August and given free range where they have access to plenty of shade and fresh water, they grow remarkably fast and can be sold to market at a good profit before snow flies, or if given good winter quarters they make the best kind of spring and summer layers. I have used them for April and May breeding and find them equal to early ones. These late chicks seem to do as well one year as another here in north Jer-I consider it "almost" as profitable to grow late chicks as early ones if given proper attention.-W. H. Cypheas in Farm Poultry.

It May Be Indigestion. If you imagine your chickens have symptoms of cholera, keep food from them, and in a majority of cases you will find their ailment is indigestion due to overfeeding.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

The social side of the Exposition at reputation of this community for a refined and gracious hospitality. The woman's department of the Exposition is under the management of Mrs. Sa rah Calhoun Simonds, a grand-niece of the great statesman, and she has as her aids all the society people of the city. At a meeting of the woman's committee on reception and entertain ment, of which Mrs. Andrew Simonds is chairman, it was agreed that an "at home" would be given once a week in the woman's building at the Exposition grounds, to which all the Exposition commissioners and their wives and visitors will be invited, and all visitors to the Exposition to whom special courtesies should be extended. At these entertainments tea grown on American soil will be served, flanked by dishes that are peculiar to this latitude. It is the intention of the ladies to make the visitors feel entirely at home and the Exposition period the most brilliant in the social life of Charleston. Besides the weekly entertain ments which will be given regularly the ladies are already arranging for a number of more elaborate functions, and among the events of this order is a ball to be given to the admiral and officers of the North Atlantic squadron, which has been ordered to Charleston to take part in the Exposition early in December. Then, when the President comes to the Exposition on February 12th, it is expected that all the beauty and chivairy of the State and the South will be here to do him honor. In addition to the "at homes" and the balls, the women are providing for a great many private receptions and dances, so that the whole Exposition period will be made the opportunity of bringing the people of the country together in the most intimate and pleasant way.
