Has become a proverbial phrase to express the futility of mere desire. There are a great many people who think it is as useless to hope for health as to cry for the moon. They have tried many medicines and many doctors, but all in vain.

A great many hopeless men and women have been cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery: people with Golden Medical Discovery; people with obstinate coughs, bleeding lungs, night-sweats and other symptoms of disease which if neglected or unskillfully treated find a fatal termination in consumption.

"Golden Medical Discovery" has a won-"Golden Medical Discovery" has a won-derful healing power. It increases the nutrition of the body, and so gives strength to throw off discase. It cleanses the blood from poisonous impurities and enriches it with the red corpuscles of health. It is not a stimulant, but a strength giving medi-cine. It contains no alcohol, neither opium, cocaine, nor any other narcotic.

Sometimes the extra profit paid by inferior medicines tempts the dealer to offer a substitute as "just as good" as "Discovery." If you are convinced that "Discovery." covery" will cure you accept nothing else. covery " will cure you accept nothing else.

"I was in poor health when I commenced taking Dr. Pierce's medicine." writes Mr. Elmer Lawler, of Volga, Jefferson Co., Indiana. "I had stomach, kidney, heart, and lung trouble. Was not able to do any work. I had a severe cough and hemorrhage of the lungs, but after using your medicine a while I commenced to gain in strength and flesh, and stopped coughing right away. Took about six bottles of the Golden Medical Discovery' then, and last spring I had Grippe, and it settled on my lungs, leaving me with a severe cough. I had the doctor, but he didn't seem to help me any; so I commenced your need-icine again and took three or four bottles of the 'Discovery' and two three or four bottles of the 'Discovery' and two vials of Dr. Pierce's Pel-lets, and that straight-ened me up. I feel like a different person. I gladly recommend your-medicine to all suffer-ers, for I know it cured me." Dr. Pierce's Pleas-

If your skies are overcast, They'll be bright to-morrow. There will come an end at last,

Unto hurt and sorrow. Past the shadow and the night, Shines the sun forever. There awaits a golden height To reward endeavor. Spite of grieving and of pain,

For the ones gone from us, Shining o'er to-morrow's rain Is a bow of promise God above the tempest smiles
Through the clouds of sadness. In the sunny afterwhiles There is joy and gladness.

In the home, when toil is done, One awaits to meet us, There are little feet to run, Laughing eyes to greet us, After all, the world is fair, God is good above us, When there's some one else to care, Some one else to love us.

There are songs of joy afar, If you stop to listen. Hope can see a silver star Past the future's open gate Brighter days are gleaming, Death and parting, wrong and hate, These are only seeming.

Though disasters line the way That awaits before me, In the province of To-day There is sunshine o'er me: Onward through a fair To-Be Is my spirit winging; While a voice of melody Through my heart is ringing. -Denver News.

HOLLAND SUBMARINE BOAT.

With Three Officers and Pifteen Men be Submerged Fifteen Hours. By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

CATCHOGUE, LONG ISLAND, NOV. 23. -In order to demonstrate the length of time that an Holland submarine boat can remain below water and still support human life, the Fulton, with three officers and a crew of five men, was submerged in the harbor-to-night and will not come to the sur-face again until 10 o'clock to morrow morning, a period of fifteen hours. The test is the severest ever attempted and a large number of spectators assembled on the company's wharf to-night and watched the boat sink slowly beneath the water with her crew. At 7 o'clock the turret was closed and slowly the Fulton went under the surface, with Lieut. Arthur Mc-Arthur, U. S. N., in command. Be-Arthur, U. S. N., in command. Besides this officer, there were Rear Admiral Jehn Lee, U. S. N., (retired), Captain Frank T. Cable, of the Holland Torpedo Company, and her crew of five men of the navy. The Fulton is submerged in fifteen feet of water, giving her top a six-foot distance under water.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

TYPICAL BEEF BREED

FORM WHICH CHARACTERIZES THIS CLASS OF CATTLE.

Points to Consider In Selecting Good Animals-Flesh, Not Fat, Is What Is Wanted-Breeds That Give Best Results-Color of Hoofs.

You may ask me to describe th form of a good beef animal, says A. B. Matthews of Kansas before the state board of agriculture. You readily un derstand it is easier to know good beef animals when seen than to describe them, but I will try to do so in part very briefly. The muzzle should be broad, the nostrils large, indicating good lung power. The shorter from animal will feed. Long nosed animals of any kind are hard to keep. The eye should be large, full and quiet. The forehead should be broad, but not long. The horns, if they have any, should be small. Better have the cattle without horns. The jaws should be broad, the neck short, neat and well set into the body. A surplus amount of hide about the neck is very objectionable.

TYPICAL HEAD OF HEREFORD. the nostril to the eye the better the

The fore legs should not come out of one hole, but be well spread apart. Yet the brisket should not protrude forward very much, as it is a low priced cut, carrying much tallow and little flesh. The ribs should be well sprung and run well back to the hip bone. This is a very important point which should not be overlooked, as much of the strength of the animal depends upon the coupling. The longer the animal the better if the ribs run close to the hip bone. The hip bones should not be prominent and should be well covered with flesh, not tallow. From the coupling to the root of the tail the animal should be of good width and as level as possible. The tail should be strong and not too prominent at the root. A slim tail indicates a delicate constitution. The tail is only an extension of the backbone, and a slim tail also indicates a weak backbone.

The hind quarters should be well meated down to the hock-in fact, hammed like a well formed Berkshire hog. The hind legs should be nearly straight and well spread apart, thus insuring a good twist. The legs should be short and just of sufficient size to carry the body. The hide should be of good thickness, mellow and well covered with soft hair. The top and bottom line should be as near straight as possible. The hoof should be of good size and of dark color. A white hoof on a horse will wear off much sooner than one of darker color even on the same animal. Many in the audience no doubt have noticed this fact. I have a horse with one white hoof and three dark ones, and I think three shoes are required for the white foot to two for the darker feet. One last point-we want a flesh producer and not a fat producer. We do not eat tallow. We want flesh, or rather we want it intermingled. If you find an animal with the above points, you will find a valuable beef producing animal, I care not what breed you may call it. The problem of breeding flesh producing animals is more easily practiced than explained. We have learned that we can breed animals with any peculiarity. If It were desired to produce tallow, we should select those cattle which carried abundance of tallow on their hips and backs and cross these tallow producing animals and continue the process for a few generations. The tendency to produce tallow would become chronic. The cattle breeder should readily see what the packer has learned and acts upon when buying, that well marbled beef sells for 12 to 18 cents per pound, while tallow sells for 2 to 3 cents. One thing I have observed about cattle. If, when they are in moderately good flesh, they have small patches of tallow on either side of the root of the tail, when they become fully matured they will develop patches of fat just where the highest priced meat should be found. They will also have a thick layer of tallow both on the outside and inside of a small quantity of edible meat. You ask which is the best beef breed. If you take an animal of any one of the four breeds, Shorthorn, Aberdeen-Angus, Hereford or Galloway, that has the points as given in the former part of the paper, you will have a money making beef animal. Remember, pedigree without good, juicy flesh would not command the top price.

How to Polish Furniture. When a polished table is stained by a hot dish, ere restoring process is to use first wood alcohol and then linseed or olive oil. This treatment is excellent for keeping any polished furniture in order and is one of the few things for which wood alcohol may be used. The latter is cheaper than the pure and for certain domestic uses is quite

How to Make Soft Gingerbread. Cream one-half cup of butter and lard, mixed with one cup of sugar. Add a cap of molasses, a cup of sour milk, a teaspoonful of baking soda dis solved in a little boiling water, two teaspoonfuls each of powdered cinnamon and ginger, a teaspoonful each of powdered cloves and nutmeg and three cups of flour. Bake in a loaf.

How to Make Clam Toast. Chop up two dozen Little Necks fine; simmer for 30 minutes in hot water enough to cover them. Beat up the yolks of two eggs; add a little cayenne and a gill of warmed milk; dissolve half a teaspoonful of flour in a little cold milk; simmer all together. Pour over buttered toast and serve.

breeding, said: Too much attention cannot be paid to the proper mating of breeding animals in order to secure good results. This will apply more to the selection of the sire than the sows, for his influence is very great in the herd and will determine to a very large extent the type of the whole herd. Avoid the common error of today in selecting a fine boned hog. Progeny from such a sire will not bear up the load of a well developed body, particularly when being transported to market. In making the selection of a sire always bear in mind the type you already have in your herd on the part of the sows. Are they too long in the body, too high off the ground, too fine in the bone, too short in the body, lacking in constitution? Select a boar of the opposite type to correct these evils. I cannot lay too much stress upon the matter of fudicious mating.

BREEDING OF SWINE.

Brrors to Avoid In Making Selection of Animals.

Professor W. J. Kennedy of the University of Illings, discussing swine

The evil results which follow in or close breeding are numerous and very marked. A weakened constitution generally results, and thus the animal becomes more susceptible to disease. Sterility oftentimes follows such a method of breeding, as does deterioration in the size of the animal. When animals are strong in constitution and of good size, an in cross may prove beneficial, but it should not be indulged in too often, for undesirable results are sure to follow its continued use.

A grade sire should never be used. no matter how good an individual he may be. To use such a sire is gambling on the part of the breeder, for there are nine chances of his being a failure to one of his proving satisfactory. Such a sire lacks prepotency, which is the power to reproduce his like with any degree of certainty. Always bear in mind that the sire is half the herd. Thus it is of vital importance that he be a good individual, with the best blood possible in his

How to Repress Spasmodic Cough. For the suppression of the spasmodic cough that often seizes one at the most inopportune time, refusing to yield to cough drops or will power, try this new remedy: Pour a few drops of oil of peppermint on a bit of cotton and put in a small earthen jar or glass bottle, covering tightly. Carry in your pocket. When you feel the coughing fit coming on, inhale the peppermint, holding close to the nostrils. Cover closely again, that it may not evaporate. This has the same effect as the Chinese camphor of peppermint or men-

How to Make Salad Dressing. Half cupful of vinegar, two tablespoonfuls of sugar, one tablespoonful of salt, one teaspoonful of mustard, a pinch of cayenne pepper, one cupful of milk, half cupful of butter and three eggs. Put in the double boiler the milk and butter. Beat up the yolks of together with the mustard salt, sugar and pepper and add to the melted butter and milk. Heat the vinegar separately and add little at a time to the mixture, adding whites of eggs last of all. When done, it will be thick, like custard.

How to Make Corn Bread. One-half cupful of flour, one cupful of cornmeal (yellow), one rounded tablespoonful of sugar, one-half teaspoonful of salt and two level teaspoonfuls of baking powder. Mix thoroughly. Have ready one tablespoonful of melted butter and one egg, well beaten. Add to the dry mixture one cupful of milk, the egg and butter and beat all until well mixed. Turn into a well greased shallow pan and bake about 30 minutes. Cut into squares and serve hot.

How to Seny Chicken. Boil until tender in enough water to cover one chicken. Remove when done and let water boil down to one quart. Cut the meat into small pieces. To the water add three-quarters of a box of gelatin soaked, one tablespoonful worcestershire sauce and salt and pepper to taste. Slice one hard boiled egg and add to the chicken. Pour over it the strained liquor; mix well and put in square mold and set in cool place to

of Young Ewes. Every sound principle of physiology goes to show that the ewe, like every other domestic animal, should be suffered to remain as quiet as possible for some time after parturition. There should be no hasty interference with a newly born lamb if it appears to be doing well. But if, on making the usual efforts, it fails to obtain a supply of milk the ewe should at once be examined. The natural flow of milk does not always, particularly in young ewes, commence immediately after lambing, though in a few hours it may be abundant. In this case the lamb should be fed in the meantime artificially. Sometimes, too, when a ewe has a full udder of milk the openings of the teats are so firmly closed that the lamb cannot force them open. The pressure of the human fingers, lubricated with a little moisture, will usually overcome the difficulty. The sucking of the lamb will generally keep the orifice open afterward, but it may require a little look-

A young ewe, owing partly perhaps to the novelty of her situation and partly sometimes either to her excessive fondness for or indifference toward her lamb, will not stand for it to suck as soon as it makes the attempt, but will turn about to caress it or will step a little away. In cold weather she may thus interpose a dangerous delay to its feeding. If she is caught and held by the neck until the udder is once well drawn out, she will generally require no further attention.

It will sometimes be found that a ewe which refuses to stand to be sucked by her lamb will be found to have a hot, hard, inflamed udder, particularly if she is in high condition and lambs late in the season. In this case the udder should be fomented for some time with hot water containing a weak infusion of opium. The oftener, the fomentation is repeated the sooner the inflammation will subside and the proper flow of milk ensue. If a ewe has lost her lamb and from neglect the udder has become swollen and indurations have formed in it, iodine ointment is one of the best applications.

WEANING PIGS.

The Main Thing Is to Keep Them Growing Steadily. As soon as pigs are old enough to be gin to eat food other than that which they receive from their mother a small pen should be so constructed as to admit pigs, but exclude the mother, and a small trough placed in it where milk or slop may be placed with a little shelled corn, so that the pigs can eat at pleasure without being disturbed by their mother, says an Ohio grower in National Stockman and Farm. By this means the young pig soon learns to rely less upon its dam for nourishment and more upon that which it gets itself.

Besides, when weaning time comes the dams may be taken away from the pigs, and neither will experience any inconvenience from the change. Certainly, if care is taken the pigs will not be checked in growth the least particle, but will keep on growing just the same. Last year we weaned 52 head, and under such treatment as outlined above they weighed an average of 100 pounds at 41/2 months old. This was not an extraordinary growth, and yet it was very satisfactory when we consider there were 52 of them.

The main idea is to keep the young pig growing steadily from birth, as any check it may receive at this time will require more labor and feed to develop it than it otherwise would. It is just as easy and decidedly more profitable to the grower to provide such food and conditions as will keep a steady, healthy growth in the pig from start to finish as it is to let them go it on the "root hog or die" plan and have them not only unequal in size, but stunted in appearance and requiring more time and feed to bring them out than are necessary.

SENSATIONAL ARREST IN MEMPHIS, TENN. Points For Novices on Management

Mrs. Emma Hooks, a Woman of Wealth and Prominence, Charged With the Marder of Her Husband

By Telegraph to the Morning star. MEMPHIS, TENN, November 23.-The grand jury to-day returned an indictment against Mrs. Maud Emma Hooks, prominently known, charging her with the murder by poison of her husband. Several weeks ago C. G. Hooks, a well known business man, died under suspicious circumstances. A chemist was ordered to exhume the remains of Hooks and perform an autopsy. The chemist reported to the coroner that he had found enough powdered glass and arsenic in the stomach to cause death. The case was immediately placed before the grand MEMPHIS, TENN., Nov. 23.-Later in the day Sheriff Blackwell placed Mrs. Hooks under arrest. She was told she would not be confined in jail, but that the deputy would remain in the residence until a bond could be arranged. Mrs. Hooks expressed o surprise at her arrest and said that from the train of events the last few days she rather expected that an in-dictment would be found against her. "I am innocent of the crime," was her only comment.

At 4 o'clock this afternoon Judge Cooper, of the Criminal Court, fixed bail at $20,000, which was promptly furnished by Mrs. Hooks, and she was released from custody. She will be called upon to plead to the indict ment on Monday next.

Mrs Hooks was born and reared in Memphis, her maiden name having been Georgie Emma Ashcraft. She was married several years ago to W. H. Atkinson, a well known and wealthy business man. Mr. Atkin son died October 2, 1898, and two years later his widow married Cerro Gordo Hooks, who came to Memphis from Mississippi and was a partner in the firm of the R M. Mansford Company. Mrs. Hooks is reported to be quit ewealthy, and lives in one of the most commodious residences in Mem-
