ASSAULT ON MRS. DENNIS.

Woman Hovering Between Life and Death. No Tangible Clue to Perpetrator of the Crime.

WASHINGTON, December 11.-Mrs. Ada Gilbert Dennis, the fashionable dressmaker found mysteriously assaulted in her apartments yesterday, is hovering between life and death today. She showed some improvement this morning, but the chance is very slight for recovery. "It's a wo-man!" "It's in a book!" "I'll tell you all about it!" are the only incoherent words that the detectives sitting by her side have been able to distinguish.

A small old fashioned hatchet, which probably had been used by the family for many years, was found by detectives to-day in a closet in the room of presence of blood stains on that weapon and the police attach no significance to the finding of it. There is no tangible clue to the perpetrator of the crime.

MISSING MISS CROPSEY.

Committee Still Prosecuting the Search. No Purther Developments.

ELIZABETH CITY, N. C., Dec. 11 .-Notwithstanding that the committee of five which has been prosecuting the search for the missing Nellie Cropsey believe they will be able to clear up the mystery within a short time, Chief of Police Dawson is still without information. To day he said: "I still think the girl was either drowned or murdered, but I have no definite clue." The party dragging the river under the direction of the committee of five yesterday brought up a piece of dress goods, which, it is thought, may have belonged to Miss Cropsey.

The jew-ellery was traced by a local pawn broker, who had received a printed circular describing the stolen property, to Woods and his companion, and they were found in the eastern part of the city. Senator Bacon's Objections-Could Not Freely Accept Any Treaty Which Does Not Place Isthmian Canal Under American Control.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star. Washington, December 11.-Two peeches on the Hay-Pauncefote treaty were made in the executive sescrats as to their opponents. The most sanguine Democratic prophet last ator Bacon, in opposition to the treaty, night claimed only seven thousand, and the other by Senator Culion, the sion of the Senate to-day, one by Senand the other by Senator Culiom, the prospective chairman of the Committee on Foreign Relations, in support

Mr. Bacon replied to the speech made yesterday by Senator Lodge, in presenting the report of the Commit-tee on Foreign Relations to the Senate. He summed up his objections in the statement that he could not freely accept any treaty which does not place the isthmian canal entirely under American auspices and American control. This, he said, the pending treaty does not do, nor does it do anything like it. It did not by odds accomplish what had been accomplished by the Senate amendment to the Hay Paunce fote treaty that had been under consideration at the last session of Congress. That amendment had be said gress. That amendment had, he said, abrogated all the objectionable provisions of that treaty as negotiated, and it did not matter what provisions and it did not matter what provisions there were in the agreement so long as the United States were authorized as they were by the principal Davis amendment to secure the safety and maintenance of the canal by their own force. That amendment had given this country a free hand to do what was necessary for the protection and defence of the canal, whereas the present treaty carries all the restrictions which were originally contained in the old treaty, leaving out the mod-ifications of the Davis amendment. Referring to the treaty he pointed out that it reproduces the restrictions of the old Suez canal treaty which had been incorporated in the original con-vention. He charged that these re-strictions had been copied almost ver-batim from the old treaty, the only material change being in the omission of the words "in time of war as in time of the words "in time of war as in time of peace," from rule one of the Suez canal agreement. This omission did not, however, in his opinion, change the character of the agreement. as there was no limitation, as to time or country, preventing the United States from controlling the canal in case of hostility with any other power, "The only reply," he said, "which the advocates of the treaty make to criticisms, is that the canal would be under the full control of the United States in time of war, but this is no more true now than under the old treaty, and it is a strange thing that all the provisions refer to the control tives to-day in a closet in the room of the canal in war, notwithstanding the elder Mrs. Dennis, mother in-law it is contended here that in that conof the injured woman. The result of tingency the removal of this phrase chemical analysis failed to disclose the places the canal under our absolute He said the war restrictions of the treaty were entirely inconsistent with the claims of Senator Lodge, that this country should say who should use the canal and who should not in case of hostilities. He contended that the only power given to the United States which was not given to Great Britain was found in the last sentence of regulation two, providing that "the United States shall be at liberty to maintain such military police along the canal as may be necessary to protect it against lawlessness and disorder." "But this," he said, "was not sufficient to make the canal an American institution, and if the Davis amendment had been necessary to render the original treaty in this instance." He considered the pending treaty every whit as objectionable as the treaty of last session. He quoted the fourth article of the treaty as follows: "It is agreed that no change of territorial sovereignty or of international relations of the country or countries traversed by the before mentioned canal shall affect the general principle of neutralization or the obligation of the high contracting parties under the present treaty."-The effect of this provision, he said, was inevitably to surrender control of the canal belt in case the ownership of the land embraced in it should pass in which, after thanking citizens of North Carolina for their kindness and that this restriction had not been in corporated in the first treaty, and said it was entirely out of place in the reagreement. Indeed, he thought there would be almost as much objection to guaranteeing neutrality on land owned by the United States on the Isthmus of Panama as on land held by a canal crossing the peninsula o In conclusion, Senator Bacon announced that while he had no inten tion of voting for the treaty he would do nothing to obstruct its ratification. Senator Cullom congratulated the Senate and the country upon the fact that there are two things in connection with the new treaty upon which, he said, practically all are agreed. One of these was the desirability of the supercession of the Clayton-Bul-

He contended that the new treaty radically changed the conditions pre sented by the first Hay-Pauncefote treaty, clearly relieving it of the necessity of such an amendment as that made to the old treaty upon the suggestion of Senator Davis, because the treaty itself would permit the United States, under international law to own, manage and defend the canal in any way that it may choose. In other words, he added, in a war with Great Britain or with any other power, the treaty would be suspended, under the law which governs nations, until the war should be concluded, when it would be revived and again enforced.

THE PHILIPPINE TARIFF BILI

Will be Considered in House Next Tuesday. Democrats Will Make Minority Report Opposing the Measure.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

Washington, Dec. 11.—At a meeting of the Ways and Means Committee to-day Chairman Payne was directed to favorably report to the House the Philippine tariff bill which the Republican members of the committee agreed upon yesterday. The report will be made Friday and the next Tuesday, with a vote at 4 P. M on Wednesday, instead of on Tuesday. as at first planned.

failure of the minority of the committee to ask for a division and vote on the question of reporting the bill. In the absence of such request no vote cratic members were held prior to the meeting of the Ways and Means Committee to day, because of the question which had arisen as to the united opposition to the Philippine bill drafted by the Republican members. It developed in this connection that the four Louisiana members now in the city-Messrs. Robertson, Meyer, Rans-dell and Davey-were favorable to the bill, and that the two Louisiana members out of the city-Messrs. Broussard and Breazealewould favor it. Among their asso ciates the Louisiana members made no concealment of the fact that the sugar industry of their State required the measure of protection against Philippine sugar which the majority bill gave by applying the Dingley rates. Under these circumstances the minority members reached no decision as to opposing the bill and, al though there will be a minority re port opposing the measure on general grounds, the Louisiana members will hold themselves individually free to vote for the bill.

SOUTHERN REPUBLICANS IN THE CONGRESS.

Conference Held—In Reference to Crumpacker's Bill to Reduce Representation in the South.

By Telegraph to the Merning Star. WASHINGTON, Dec., 11-A conference of Southern Republicans in Congress was held here to-night at which were present Senator McComas, of Maryland, and Pritchard, of North Carolina, and members of the House wer treaty and the other that of the necessity for the construction of an isthmian canal Maryland. The chief feature discussed related to the apportionment of representation from the South, with particular reference to Mr. Crumpacker's bill which seeks to reduce the South's representation on the ground that the negro is deprived of his vote. The discussion was entirely informal in character and no action was taken by the conference. The talk showed that the members were not entirely in accord on the question of their attitude with respect to the bill. Senator Pritchard declared his positive opposition to it. Another meeting will be held next Wednesday night, at which it is expected some agreement will be reached as to what course the Republicans from the South will adopt on the measure when it comes up in the Republican caucus. The Southern Republicans hope soon to perfect an organization for the protection of their interests in that section coming before

SENATOR M'LAURIN WAS NOT PRESENT

Democratic Senators Held Their First Caucus for the Session Yesterday.

NO CHANGE IN ORGANIZATION

Senator Jones Unanimously Re-elected Chairman-Committee Assignments. Important Changes Proposed by Republicans.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.-The Demcaucus of the present session. Its purpose was to consider committee assignments, but the occasion was cause of the general attendance upon the caucus. All the Senators elected as Democrats, with the exception of Senator McLaurin, of South Carolina, were present, as were all the Senators who were elected as Silver Republicans or Populists. All the independents, except Senator Teller.of Colorado, had entered the Democratic caucus held just before adjournment last March, but Senator Telier then remained away. He was present, however, at to-day's conference and participated in the proceedings. The caucus was called at the instance of Senator Jones, of Arkansas, who stated that he had thought it possible that the new Senators might want to make some change in the officers of the caucus. There was, however, a general expression of satisfaction with the present officials, and Senator Jones was re elected unanimously chairman of the caucus. The old committee on order of business also was reappointed, and the only vacancy on that committee was filled Western members of the caucus.

by the selection of Senator Dubois, of Idaho, who was the choice of all the During the proceedings Senator Tillman suggested that there should be frequent conferences, and a continued effort to agree upon the main features of all political controversies. There was a quite general response to this suggestion, and the opinion was fairly unanimous that the party should present a united front, permitting no more straggling than was absolutely necessary.

Senator Jones presented a statement from the Republican Committee on Committees, outlining its wishes as to he committee assignments, from which t appeared that the Republicans were anxious to increase the Republican membership of several committees and to decrease the Democratic membership of a few committees The most important change suggested by them was that the Republicans should be allowed to add a member to their side of the Committee on Commerce, while the Democrats should agree to surren der one of the places on that committee held by them. The committee as now constituted includes ten Republican members and seven Democrati members. It was decided vigorously to oppose this innovation. The Republicans also expressed a desire to increase the membership of the Committee on Agriculture an i Census, from nine to eleven each, the two new members to be Republicans; to increase the Committee on Claims from thirteen to members and the Democrats six, as against seven and six respectively, as the committee is now constituted. An increase is also proposed in the Committee on Foreign Relations. As it at present stands the committee numbers eleven members, four of whom are Democrats. The proposal is to make it consist of thirteen members, eight of whom shall be Republicans and five Democrats. A change was also suggested in the Committee on Irrigation, which is at present composed of six Republicans and five Democrats. The change, adopted, would give a membership of eleven, only four of whom would be Democrats. The Democrats decided to oppose the proposed changes in the committee on Claims and irrigation.

The Republican committee suggest ed no changes in the committees on appropriations, finance and judiciary;

but indicated that they will continue Senator Jones, of Nevada, on the Finance Committee, thus practically adding one to the Republican representation, and taking one from the opposition representation. The Repub-licans did not indicate any intention to take care of Senator Wellington in the matter of committees nor was any suggestion made in the caucus that the Democrats should find places for
