NEW ORLEANS CAR STRIKE.

All Efforts to Settle the Trouble Failed. Governor Issues Proclamation.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star NEW ORLEANS, October 11.-The failure to-day of all efforts to bring about a settlement of the differences between the striking street carmen and the New Orleans Railway Company has, it is feared, brought the strike situation to an acute stage. Preparations are being made to-day at military headquarters to carry into effect with a strong hand a proclamation issued by Governor Heard to-day demanding restoration of order and the suppression of violence. All the members of the local militia are ready to respond to the call to arms at a moment's notice and troops from the country par-ishes have been ordered to hold themselves in readiness.

No effort was made to run cars today and it is the general impression that the first attempt under the new conditions will be postponed until Monday.

PUBLIC OFFICIALS ABOVE THE LAW.

Speech of Richard Olney, Former Secretary of State, in Boston, Massachusetts.

TO THE DEMOCRATIC CLUB

Leading Feature of the Dinner Given the Party Candidate for Governor Cheered to the Echo-Greeted as the Next President.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star. BOSTON, MASS., Oct. 11.-Oge of the features of the present State campaign was the dinner which the Democratic Club of Massachusetts tendered to-night to Col. William A. Gaston, the party candidate for Governor. Over 250 party followers listened to speeches by Richard Olney, former secretary of state; Charles S. Hamlin, Joilah Quincy, John R. Thayer, congressman from the third district; Henry H. Hollis, Democratic candidate for Governor in New Hampshire, and

Colonel Gaston. Undoubted by the speech of the evening was that delivered by Mr. Olney. who was cheered for some minutes when he arose. Many greeted him as the next President. Mr. Olney spoke in part as follows:

"The signs of the times are that under the regime of the Republican party and through the national government's forty years of partnership with the protected industries, we have come to a pass where public officials as well as private citizens deem themselves above the law.

Astonishing Proceedings

"Witness the zealous haste with which the Treasury rushes to the relief of Wall street speculators by a novel and forced construction of the National banking law. Witness the aston-ishing proceeding of the same department in its instructions to subordinate officers respecting the duties to be col-lected on coal. But the generally lawless atmosphere in which the protected Republican reign has enveloped us is even more strikingly illustrated by the recent presidential demonstration upon the coal strike. There are others who say that as the President disclaimed any official duty or relation to the mat ter he should not have interfered. There is something to be said for that view. Though his office is charged great powers, the Preasident is a constitutional officer whose sphere of action is strictly limited by law. "Within that sphere he is well nigh absolute-without, he is legally impotent. When, therefore, he goes without it, the danger is that he may fail Or there, by some celestial stream as be less capable of performing its legitimate duties.

with great function and invested with

The Saub to Roosevelt.

"The President, for example, is our epresentative with foreign powers. Will it strengthen his hands that some half a dozen private citizens are found snapping their fingers in his face? The President's overture to the coal operators was prompted by the best motives and should have been treated with respectful consideration. It must have been declined courteously, even if firmly.

"But the opportunity to administer a snub to the President was too tempting. Accordingly he was not only treated as a rash intermeddler; he was also lectured upon the law and facts may make tired feet, it is certain also of the case, and to crown all was notified that the cause of the troubles was lawlessness which he was sarcastically invited to suppress.

For sheer audacity this attitude of the coal operators could hardly be matched, and nothing could more strongly emphasize the discredit into which the law of the land has been brought by long continued Republican dominion.

Who Are the Coal Operators?

"Yet who are they who were so insistent upon the suppression of law-lessness in the mining regions? Why, the most unblushing and persistent of law-breakers. For years they have defied the law of Pennsylvania which forbids common carriers engaging in the business of mining. For years they have discriminated between customers in the freight charges on their railroads in violation of the interstate commerce law. For years they have uniawfully monopolized interstate commerce in violation of the Sherman anti-trust law.

"Indeed the very best excuse and explanation of their astonishing amateur performance at the Washington conference is that, having violated so many laws for so long and so many times, they might rightfully think they were wholly immune from either punishment or reproach

"It is sometimes urged in extenuation of the coal operators' foolishly offensive tone at the conference, that they were enraged at the recognition of labor unions and the presence by invitation of their representative. I that be so, they must be as blind to the salixnt facts of the era they are living in as they are oblivious of legal obliga-

Their Indifference to Law.

"In these days of combination by capital on a scale and to an extent as startling as it is unprecedented, can they possibly imagine that labor is to be denied an equivalent right of com-bination? If they do, it is only an-other instance of their complete indifference to the law of the land.

"In 1894 receivers of a railroad were brought into court on a claim that lacorers ought not to be discharged because of membership of a labor union. Though the court was a Federal court, it sat in Pennsylvania, and the petitioners got nothing from that

"But what followed? In a year or two Pennsylvania made it a criminal offence to deprive a man of work because he belonged to a labor usion. In 1898 Congress not only did the same thing, but in a statute providing for the arbitra-tion of labor disputes, expressly made labor organizations parties to such arbitration. This was in addition to the previous legislation by Congress encouraging and providing for the innions. In ignor ing them, therefore, the coal operators simply ignore and condemn the law of the land."

TO AID THE STRIKERS.

An Address Issued by the American Federation of Labor.

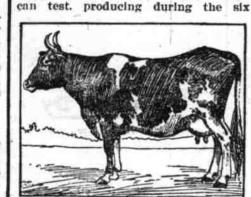

By Telegraph to the Morning Star. WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—The American Federation of Labor, through its executive council, to-day issued an address to the public, appealing for financial and moral aid for the striking anthracite miners, and denouncing the attitude of the mine owners, on whom the appeal says, must rest the responsi-bility for the hardships resulting from the coal famine.

Congressman John L. Sheppard, of Texarkana, Texas, died yesterday at Eureka Springs, Ark., after a long ill-ness. The funeral will occur Tues-day, October 14th.

In speaking of profits in dairying writer in Practical Farmer says: A fairly good dairy cow will produce 5,000 pounds of milk per year, which, sold at 3 cents per pound, the prevailing price, makes $150 per year. From a given ration she will consume-and we will charge the cow for full ration for 365 days-2 1-3 tons of cowpea hay. valued at $28; five tons of ensilage, at $10; two tons of corn stover, valued at $10, and one-third ton cottonseed meal, valued at $8, a grand total of $56 for cost of food for one cow that produces $150 worth of milk. Besides this you have cowpen hay, which you have sold for $12 per ton, corn ensilage at $2 and corn stover at $5 a ton in form of milk. And then the manure! All of it but $5.60 returned to your soil. If dairying does not pay now, it is because the machines are worthless-that is, the cow which takes the raw material (as corn stover, cowpea hay, etc.) to make into finished products, as milk and butter. is worthless. Use a good bull, then, to breed up to dairy stock, and as soon as this is done dairy stock will improve and dairying will become the most profitable industry in the middle south, more profitable than cotton growing or cotton manufacturing.

Her First Calf. There should be no such thing as "breaking in a heifer" when she has her first calf. She should be so carefully handled that there will be no necessity for doing the thing after that should be done before calving. If this has not been done before, begin some weeks before calving to familiarize the heifer with the milker. Stroke her, caress her, handle the udder, doing everything so carefully that any advance in the process will be unnoticed by the animal. Within a few days the udder can be handled at will, and the heifer will soon come to enjoy and even expect such caresses. If this work is carefully and kindly done, there will be no trouble when milking time comes.

GERMAN ARMY OFFICERS.

The Abject Deference Shown Them by Civilians Is Amazing. The respect and deference shown to the German army officer on duty and off duty by his countrymen are wonderful to see, according to a London writer. "Civilians, even compatriots of distinction, on entering the dining room bow to him with formal humility. He acknowledges the obelsances only with a rigid glare of haughty indifference, though he is politely conscious of the coming and going of ladies. The German civilian does not appear to be surprised at or to resent being contemptuously ignored by him, but recognizes him and looks up to him as a superior member of a superior race and continues to make his obeisances, however loftily they are ignored. "But, while the officer is unable to see the civilian at whom he is looking point blank, he never misses observing the entrance and acknowledging the salute of another of his own race. He rises from his seat and stands stiff and erect while the newcomer advances and exchanges formal bows and greetings, and as he recovers the erect position from the bow he brings his heels together with a sharp parade click and waits until his superior has taken a seat before he resumes his own." There were tremendous ceremonies in eating and drinking, too, especially in drinking. "Each table group lifted their glasses invariably together, as if at the word of command, taking their time apparently from the senior present. Having seized their glasses together and raised them together and simultaneously drunk, they would sumultaneously finish and then, holding their glasses before them, would with great ceremony bow to one another before replacing them on the table. It did not matter whether they were drinking beer or claret or the German champagne, which seems to be the especially smart thing to take, there was the same ceremony. When a senior officer went out of the room, all the juniors present rose to stiff attention and bowed as he passed. When a junior rose, he made the round of the table on his way to the door and bowed separately, with a spur jingling heel click every time to every other

TRAIN HELD UP BY MASKED MEN

Express Safe Dynamited and Robbed of Fifty Thousand Dollars in Gold.

NEAR LINCOLN, NEBRASKA

Three Men in the Gang-Passengers Not Molested-Robbers Got Away With Their Booty-A Posse in Parsuit-Reward Offered.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star. LINCOLN, NEBR, Oct. 11 .- Three masked men held up the Pacific Coast Express train, of the Burlington road, four miles from Lincoln, shortly before 2 o'clock this morning. They used explosives in the express car, shattering it badly, and after wrecking the safe rifled it of its contents, securing $50,000 in gold coin. The train was a few minutes late, and was in charge of Conductor C. A. Lyman and Engineer A. L. Clayburg. On the crest of a hill midway between the city and the town of Woodlawn, the engineer saw a red light waved ecross the track and brought the train to a standstill. Two men sprang quickly into the cab, covering Clayburg and his fireman with revolvers. They lost no time in giving their orders, and were just as quickly

The express car was cut from the balance of the train and sent ahead a bort distance. The robbers found the door locked and after commanding Messenger William J. Upton to open it and getting no response fired two or three shots into the car. The door was then opened. A heavy charge of ynamite tore the safe to pieces. The wo men who were in the car politely bade the train men good morning, jumped from the car and disappeared n the darkness. The passengers were not molested, nor were the train men asked for their personal property.

While the robbery in the express car was going on, a third robber walked alongside the track by the passenger coaches, firing his revolver occasionally to keep inquisitive passengers quiet. Brakeman Moore, wno alightd from the rear coach to go ahead, found a revolver pushed in his face with a warning to go back where he belonged. He ran the four miles to the Lincoln yards, where he gave the alarm. The robbers were cool, talkalive and apparently experts. The whole job occupied little time.

The train was run back to Lincoln, The wrecked expressed car was taken out and at 4 o'clock the train resumed the journey, the original crew going out with it. Following it was an engine carrying Chief of Police Hoaglan, Detective Malone and his two bloodhounds and three police officers. At the scene of the hold up the hounds took the scent and the persuit of the robbers was begun. The booty of the robbers consisted principally of gold coin. This made the burden of the robbers exceedingly heavy and accounts for a broad trail discovered by Chief Hoagland. The robbery was originally planned to take place at St. Joseph and the railroad men were on the ookout. One of the criminals "tip ped" the scheme off to the company, and this probably accounts for the shifting of the crime to Lincoln. reward of $1,000 has been offered by the Burlington Company for the capture of the gang.

Up to 10 o'clock to-night no news of the capture of the Burlington train robbers has been received. The pursuit, however, is active and advices received from the posses encourage the hope that it will be successful. Detective Malone with his bloodhounds is at Louisville county tonight, thirty-five miles away, to which place he followed a seemingly positive trail. Estimates on the amount secured rom the Adams Express Company's safe range all the way from $2,000 to $50,000. The officials refuse to say a word about their loss, and the only authoritative statement is from Gen-eral Superintendent Calvert, of the Burlington, who is positive the rob-bers didn't get more than $2,000.

COAL STRIKE SITUATION

Several Conferences Held in New York, But Nothing Developed. By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.-There is no news in New York city to-night which would tend to show that the end of the coal strike is nearer than it has been for some time past. Several conferences were held during the day, chief among them that between Secre-tary of War Root and J. P. Morgan on the latter's yacht. This lasted for several hours, and then the two drove to the Union Club. Mr. Root did not stay long and soon after left for Washington. Mr. Morgan remained at the Union Club for several hours, receiving and answering telegrams. It was learned that D. H. Bacon, of the Ten-nessee Coal and Iron Company, and Chairman Thomas, of the Eric railroad, were at the club. Chairman Thomas had a talk at the Fifth Avenue hotel with Senator T. C. Platt, but what was said at any of the interviews of the day was not made public.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.--Secretary Root arrived here at 11:16 to-night from New York and went at once to his hotel. He refused to make any statement whatever concerning his conference with Mr. Morgan.

There were no callers at the White House to-night and it was stated that no report of any kind had been received from Secretary Root, regarding the outcome of his talk with Mr. Morgan. Secretary Root will probably confer with the President to-morrow, though t was stated by Secretary Cortelyou that no conference of any kind had been arranged.

BELIEVES IN EXTREME MEASURES. Would Hang Baer and Other Coal Operators on the Nearest Tree

By Telegraph to the Morning Star LYNN, MASS. Oct. 11.-At a mass meeting here to-day, called for the purpose of aiding the striking miner, Mayor John F. Hurley, of Salem created a sensation when he said that if he had his way he would hang President Baer and the other operators on the nearest tree. He said he did not want to kill them, but he would use them as he would use a dog, by putting a collar around their necks and raising them on a limb of a tree two or three times, or until they would be willing to arbitrate, Mayor Hurley said he believed in extreme measures to allow him fifty cents for dinner."and that they should be adopted now. POOSEVELT IN BARNEST.

Seeking Every Method for Federal laterference in Coal Strike.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star. WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.-President Roosevelt is seeking every method by which there may be Federal action in settling the coal strike. His best advisers have been required to look care fully into the laws which may have a bearing on the subject, and see if there is any statute under which he can proceed. So far nothing has been found. There is one ray of hope, but it is rather faint in view of the attitude of the coal operators. This is that some mutual ground of arbitration may be found.

That the President is very much in earnest is shown from the conferences on the subject that continue at the White House. Secretary Wilson, of the agricultural department; Carroll Wright, commissioner of labor, and Frank D. Sargent, commissioner of immigration, were among those who saw the President to-day, and it is understood all of them discussed the coal strike situation with him. The conference continued during the afternoon without definite result.
