THE HELL RAISING PLANK.

One plank of the Republican national platform is not only rank sectionalism, but a piece of the most infamous demagoguery to get the negro vote in the North.

GREENSBORO, N. C., June 24 (3:30 A. M.)—Permanent organization having been effected, nominating speeches having been made and the order of business recommended by the State Committee having been discarded at afternoon sessions of the Democratic State Convention here to-day, the balloting for candidates for Governor was begun at 9:30 at night amid the wildest enthusiasm and confusion, the convention hall being packed with six thousand delegates and interested spectators.

DIRTY WORK AT WASHINGTON.

Congressman Cowherd, chairman of the Democratic Congressional Committee, with his headquarters at Washington, was forced several days ago to protest against the action of Secretary Cortelyou in sending out from his department, at government expense, statistics which were palpably intended for political effect in the Presidential campaign.

DIRTY WORK AT WASHINGTON.

Not content with using one department for partisan purposes in the campaign, there has been a scandalous misuse of the Congressional Record as a campaign document. The STAR received a surprise a few days ago in the familiar appearance of the Congressional Record, under the government frank, and it turns out that this strictly government publication, printed at the expense of the people, has been made use of to circulate two political Republican speeches that were never made in Congress.

DIRTY WORK AT WASHINGTON.

The delegates to the Chicago convention have got a great joke on Senator Lodge. He did all the work and they had the fun. How joyful Col. Bryan would be if he could get the St. Louis convention by the umbilicus so as to make it perform like the Chicago convention did when Lodge and Roosevelt twisted the cord.

DIRTY WORK AT WASHINGTON.

Quoth the Washington Post: "Senator Fairbanks' silence made Judge Parker's reticence seem almost bolterous by comparison." This silence among all the candidates on the firing line is silent but strong commendation of the wisdom of the portentous silence which Judge Parker has been kicking up at Eopous.

DIRTY WORK AT WASHINGTON.

Hector Fuller, the war correspondent who saw everything in Port Arthur while he was blindfolded, is faithfully paying the Russians the price of his ransom. His stories will probably line up with those under the Chefoo, Tokio and London date lines.

DIRTY WORK AT WASHINGTON.

At the Chicago convention it was charged that Gas Addicks spent $390,000 to obtain the election of his henchman and elect himself a United States Senator from Delaware. Addicks denied it. The amount really did not exceed $389,999.99.

DIRTY WORK AT WASHINGTON.

We hate to see the axe laid up against any man's neck, but we would refuse to show any anxiety for particulars if Reasonli could kidnap the fellow who raised the tune "Four years more of Theodore."

DIRTY WORK AT WASHINGTON.

Chairman Cortelyou, of the Republican national committee, is preparing to lose his job. He declares that he will "take no dictation." He won't have to take it. It will be handed over to him.

DIRTY WORK AT WASHINGTON.

According to the Republican platform the tariff can be revised up or down, whichever way the interests and conscience of the trusts will admit that "the interests of the country demand."

DIRTY WORK AT WASHINGTON.

Somebody has said that "an excess of money is a disease." We guarantee absolute cure of that disease by a simple touch. Don't all speak at once.

DIRTY WORK AT WASHINGTON.

The Charlotte News says of Governor Aycock's speech at the State convention: It was the one speech that was listened to by an impatient convention that did not want him to stop. We hope to give it in full to our readers as an admirable defence by a man of exalted character of his own administration. It gives the lie to several charges, but that had to be because Aycock loves the truth and tells it.
