88y8:

But why should these interrogato-ries strike dismay to Mr. Parker's soul? The answer to each of them in turn is obviously "no !" And yet either Mr. Parker or Mr. Roosevelt, when elected to the Presidency, might serve the full term without appointing a negro to office or dining Booker Washington, or receiving Bishop Turner or T. T. Fortune at the White House "on terms of equality," and all this without violating the spirit of declaraon. Tom Watson's catchpenny trick of argument, which seems to have imressed our worthy Massachusetts contemporary, involves the absurd proposition that a failure to do this or that is equivalent to an injurious repudiation of the individual concerned and of the race to which he belongs. Mr. Roosevelt appointed Dr. Crum collector of the port of Charleston, but did he do so simply because Crum was a negro? And suppose he had passed over him and appointed a white man, would that have been 'refusing to appoint negroes to office in the Bouth?" Of course, it would have amounted to nothing more than selecting the man he thought most competent to discharge the duties of the office.

As for the social equality features of Watson's catechism, they are, we need hardly say, mere impertinences. How could a President "refuse to cat at the same table with Booker Washington, or, for that matter, with Tom Watson himself? The question could not possibly arise save by the President's own procurement, and of course, he would not broach it for the purpose of refusing. The truth of the matter is that Tom Watson is sardonically playing on a rediculous and false on-for which he has not the slightest respect-that negroes are to be considered en masse, not as indi-viduals, and that the failure to appoint one to a given office, or ask him to lunch with the family, or receive him on equal terms at the White House-whatever that may mean-is a slap at the entire race

The Hon. Tom E. Watson is a paricularly intelligent man who finds it to his taste to worry, or try to worry, the people who have rejected him. We take no exception to that, since they seem quite able to take care of themselves; but this is to protest against his playing tricks with the Springfield Republican, which knows nothing about Tom Watson and still less about the negro, yet is, neverthe-less, a most reverend and worthy newspaper.

Why is it a class of papers and people in the North attach so much importance to a man who has no infuence or following in the South. The Tom Watson class of Southerners are few and are in no sence representatives of the South. Why don't the class of papers and people referred to take their cues from men who have the great majority and almost the total population of the South at their backs?

He stooped down and reached under a shelving rock for a stone to throw at the snake, when he was bitten on the middle finger of the right hand. The rock was overturned and a nest of rattlesnakes was found, and a number of the reptiles were killed, while others escaped. Mr. Whitemore says that young Cole is in a critical condition as a result of the snake bite; but the doctors who are waiting on him think that one of the snake's fangs is still in the flesh, and that there is little hope of the young man's recovery.

- A dispatch from Waynesville, September 6th, says: The Democratic campaign is opening up in this Congressional district today. Hon. W. T. Crawford, candidate for elector, speaks at Rutherfordton, and Hon. Locke Craig at Marion. The Gudger-Ewart joint canvass will begin at Brevard on the 12th instant. Republicans are very hopeful of electing Judge Ewart. but well posted politicians have no such idea. The Democratic lead ers claim that as Gudger beat Major Moody, the strongest Republican in this district, he should find Judge Ewart rather easy - Prisoners in Guilford county jail made a desperate attempt to get out about dusk Sunday evening. Jailer May went in to lock the prisoners in their cells for the night, some of them having been allowed the freedom of the corridor during the day. As he entered through the inner door of the corridor five stalwart men pounced upon him and choked him into insensibility. Then, taking his pistol from him, one of the prisoners, a negro named Chas. Donnell, held it over him, and when Mr. May had regained consciousness ordered him to give up the keys to the doors. Instead of obeying the command Mr. May grappled with the burly negro and a general scuffle ensued. The commotion brought to the jail the members of the city fire department across the street and the unruly prisoners were overpowered before any of them could escape.

- Raleigh News and Observer, Sept. 7: The A. and M. College Seniors, who are aggrieved at the rule recently inaugurated at the college preventing them from visi ting the city without permission except on Friday evenings, Saturday afternoons and Sundays, were to have met last night with the Junior and Sophomore classes to take ac tion towards forcing the authorities to withdraw their ruling. Instead of this Dr. Winston called the Senion Class together, addressed them briefly and ordered them to their rooms After the meeting the students tried to meet in the hall, but were again confronted by the president, who told them that if they did not disperse he would expel the entire crowd. Upon this the students scattered to their rooms and quiet fell upon the college. President Winston was seen last night: "This is a military college," said he, "and it is going to be run on military principles. The descipline instead of being lightened is to be intensified. The boys at the A. and M. have to work in the day and they cannot study satisfactorily except at night. Considering the distance from town, the students will not be allowed to visit the city except at such times as they have no work to
