A. this matter is uppermost in the Southern mind just now, we reproduc- su editorial from the Baltimore Su . which springs two new propos tons-one by Mr. D A. Moffett, of Baltin ore, and one that the present movement in the South to controi the price of cotton is a violation of the anti-trust laws. The trust fea ure is a matter for the lawyers to pass upon, and Mr. Moffett submits a plan which appears to be complex if not impracticable. However, here is what the Sun gives us about the situation:

In a letter published in The Sun last Saturnay Mr D A Moffett. who is connected with a Baltimore business firm interested in the Southern trade, makes a striking suggestion to the cotton producers of the South. The cotton crop of 1904 is the largest ever produced in the United States Unfortunately a record breaking production does not mean great wealth to the plant ers of D.zie. A part of the crop has been sold at fairly remunerative prices. The remainder-possibly less than half-will perhaps sell for less than the cost of production. Way? Because there is apparently more cotton in sight than is needed by the manufacturers of the United States and of Europe. The surplus, on the basis of the crop returns for this year, is estimated at 1.000,000 ba es. If there were no surplus the pr ducer would be in a far better ei.ion in marketing his cotton. H. will be at a disadvantage as long as .ne price of his product is determined by the surplus What is his remedy? Briefly stated it is this, according to the plan advocated by Mr Muffett: he producers should control the surplus through an organization in each of the cotton growing States. Ev-ry bale of cotton sold should be taxed $1 to create a fund to buy the su plus. This fund should be in c) a ge of men appointed by the G .v. rnors of the several States. The L gislature should enact laws to corry out the tax surplus plan an 1 other . bj cts desired. In each State officers would escertain the acreage and the condition of the crop from planting time until the Grop was ready for the market. They w. uld also ascertain as far as possi ble the amount of cotton needed to supply the country's requirements for the coming year. Just before the season opens announcement would be made on behalf of all the cotton States that only a certain number of bales-about the actual needs of the country-would be placed on the market. If the crop were 1,000,000 bales in excess of and foreign buyers, this surplus witness stand, as the law did not would be to the interest of both and make each independent of the speculators and those who manipulate the market. The Southern Cotton Growera' Association, as will be seen from the foregoing outline of the topics to be discussed in New Orleans next month, will consider a proposition to sell direct to the manfacturers through State exchanges. There is also a plan to organize the cotton growers in every county in the State, and to establish warehouses "to meet the demands of both farmer and banker." Apparently this scheme would eliminate, if possible, the broker and the middleman. It might, if carried to its logical extreme, regu-late absolutely the supply of cotton and condititions of sale. The difficulty will be in getting all cotton producers to go into the combination. Then there will be another danger. Will not an effort be made in the courts to show that it is in violation of the Sherman Anti-Trust act? Mr. Moffett is not convinced that his plan to buy the surplus cotton would stand the test of the courts. Should the Southern planters organize to regulate the supply and fix the price of cotton, would the New England mill owners be willing to accept the changed conditions, or would they call on the Attorney General to give them relief from the oppressor in Dixle?

The figures given 28 to 40 per cent. Col. A.H. Siccomb above are authentic because they are reported that a canvass of the meriaken from the official records at the Custom House. chants obtained a pledge not to supply fertilizers except on a basis of at least 25 per cent. Mr. Slocomb went on to state that the proposed 25 per cent. reduction would bring the crop down to 9,000.000 bales; crop of 1904 '95 would be 13,000,000 bales, a total of 22,000,-000, which would leave a surplus of 500,000 to meet which from 85 to 10 per cent, would be necessary. Reeford township, through Maj. Mc

- A Greensboro correspondent writes: A deal of considerable interest as showing the importance of North Carolina resources will, in all probability, be closed in the next message and increasing pay of jurors few days. F. A. Silver, a promoter, of this city, left last night for Elizabeth City, to meet some of the heaviest lumber operators in Minnesota. The deal consists in the sale of 167,000 acres of timber land at a cost of over half a million dollars. The tract lies in Dare county on Pamlico Sound. The water courses through the tract, affording easy transportation for the logs to the mills. was one of the most attractive features to the purchasers. The cost of logging will be but a trifle. Mr. Silver obtained an option on the tract some three months ago and at once sent out descriptions to his clients. Since that time the wires have been kept hot and a day has not passed that letters have not been sent and received concerning the deal, and only yesterday a message was received to the effect that the Minnesota people would start at once to inspect the timber. As Mr. Silver knows that every representation made will be verified upon investigation, there is not a doubt of the deal being closed. It is understood that the purchasers will at once erect saw mills and begin operations.
