The ordinance to declare vacant the late offices of the state was last night made the special or-der for 1 P. M. to-day, but was taken up an hour earlier, being the only thing remaining on the calendar. A protracted discussion ensued, Messrs. Conigland of Halifax, and Moore of Wake being the chief disputants. The former took ground against the ordinance, and the latter supported it. Their arguments displayed much legal ability on both sides of the question.

While this discussion was in progress, a mes sage from the provisional governor was received, interrupting one of the speakers in the midst of an elaborate speech. The message transmitted a dispatch from President Johnson, which was immediately read and produced no small sensation among the members. It ran as follows:

WASHINGTON CITY, Oct. 18, 1865.
MR. HOLDEN, Provisional Governor, N. C. Every dollar of the debt created to aid the rebellion against the United States should be repudiated finally and for ever. The great mass of the people should not be taxed to pay a debt to aid in a rebellion which they, in fact, if left to them-

Let those who have given their means for the obligations of the state look to that power they tried to establish in violation of the law, the constitution and the will of the people. They must meet their fate. It is their misfortune, and cannot be recognized by the people of any state pro-fessing themselves loyal to the government of the United States and the Union.

I repeat that the loyal people of North Carolina should be exonerated from the payment of every dollar of the indebtedness created to carry on the WASHINGTON, Oct. 14, 1865. THE FOURTH AUDITOR'S REPORT.

The fourth auditor's report for the fiscal year nding July 1 has been made, The number of requisitions drawn on the treasury for settle ment of accounts for the service of the pavy department during the year amounted to $122,670,677. $58,000 have been paid over to the secretary of the navy, as trustee of the naval hospital fund, and the commissioner of internal revenue has been benefited to the amount of $133,488, obtained through various sources. Nearly thirty thousand prize claims have been received, and eight-ninths of them adjusted, involving the disbursement to officers, sailers and marines in all parts of the country of $4,759,596. General claims to the amount of $800,000 have been adjusted to the benefit of a vast number of naval individuals, ranging from Admiral Farragut down to the poorest ship's boy. Reports have been made upon twenty-two applications for admission to the naval asylum. Tars have made allotments, through agents in the princi-pal cities, for the benefit of their wives, children and creditors, to the amount oi $1,500,000. Of this sum more than $600,000 dollars were paid by the allotment agent in New York. $24,000. 000 were disbursed for paymasters' accounts. The names of 896 pensioners have been added to the pension list during the year. Seventyfive male clerks and upward of fifty females are employed in this silent old navy beehive, and business is groving on their hands. SERIOUS RIOT AT BALTIMORE BETWEEN COLORED

AND WHITE TROOPS, Stradoint) Quite a serious riot occurred at the Baltimore depot this forenoon, between the one hundred and seventh Kentucky (colored) regiment, recently assigned to the garrison of Washington, and detachments of white troops preparing to go north by the II o'clock train. Muskets, pistols were severely wounded. A couple of veteran scene of action by General Dent, but the colored rioters left the field, and the excitment subsided before the veterans arrived.

JOHN M. MOALL EWORK. I was present at John Thompson's house with Mr. Kelly and McMillan on the 1st of April last; Robert Mason was present; don't think I heard any conversation between McMillen and Mary Ann Wilkes; William Wilkes, husband of Mary Ann Wilkes, was not there; I was not with Mc-Millan all the time he was there; I think Wilkes came up while we were at the bars.

CROSS-EXAMINED BY JUDGE-ADVOCATE. I was somewhat beyond the limits of a drink and somewhat "solid" in mind while at Wilkes house, and cannot be positive whether McMillen held any conversation with Mary Ann Wilkes that I did not hear.

The witness was not in a proper condition at the examination, and the idea prevailed that he was beyond some drinks and very solid. The court adjourned until to-morrow at 10

Special Magistrate's Court. Vhe case of the two women sent from the Mayor's court went before Justice Conoley immediately afterwards. The Justice decided that he deemed that the city had no right to prosecute the accussed under the circumstances, and he therefore discharged them. The particulars in this case are that Belle Ryburn, a woman of the town, died leaving real estate and personal effects, and without an heir. The two women, Amanda Heoper and Della Vernon were living with her when taken sick, and of the colored troops was killed. Several others the woman having the small-pox was conveyed o the hospital, where she died, and they left in reserve regiments were promptly ordered to the possession of her household effects, which were The Radicals on Presisaid to consist of money and valuables, including clothing. The first case called upon before his honor to day was that of Amanda Hooper and Delia Joyce, or Della Vernon, as she is called sometimes, who were arrested in Raleigh and brought down to the city yesterday, by officer Hughes, of the local police. The charges against the parties were leaving the house of Isabella Rybrun while in charge of the same, and taking therefrom her money and jewelry, while the said Isabella Ryburn was known to be in a dying condition, and who subsequently died the day after their departure for Raleigh.

A number of witnesses were called and testified in the case, and the wearing apparel, from some half dozen trunks, belonging to the accused, were exposed for inspection, in order that witnesses might identify anything that belonged bank. to deceased.
