Hat will be brought to its support, Southern patronage. And I also, as a Southern man, and the Editor of a Southern Country, and especially of North Carolina, that aid and support that will here, at home, establish, upon a firm basis, a fountain of Literature, and exclusively a Home Literary Magazine.

Many are the Magazines now published in the Northern States that are flooding the whole Southern country. There is not, (it is probable,) a county in Graham, "Peterson," or "Godey:" while here, in North Carolina and the South, where genius unsur-

North Carolina and the South, where genius unsur-passed and unequaled reigns, the literary talent that is brought into exercise is dedicated to the support of Northern Magazines, while Southern enterprise, taste and talent bow in numble submission to such suicidal policy of Southern contributors.

Why, I ask, cannot we-North Carolina, the South -send greeting to our Southern clime a Magazine, acceptable for the many qualities that adorn the pages of the most chaste, elegant and polite Periodicals? It is true that the South has her Magazines; but few in number are they, and unknown, compared to the publications of the North, which every mail brings to our homes, filled with the result of hired labor, and teeming with unpardonable sedition.

Then I appeal to North Carolina and other Southern States to aid me in my enterprise, and in promoting a. literary taste amongst those upon whom, as a Southern man. I have claims My Magazine will be of the usual size; and nothing will be admitted to its pages but such articles as will meet the approval of the most fastidious. It shall be Illustrated with Engravings and Plates, of the most elegant texture, equaling in beauty and style any executed at the North.
