Fire Insurance.

E refer our readers to the annual statement of the Etna Insurance Company, of Hartford, which will be found in another column. This successful institution was incorporated by the Legislature of Connecticat in 1819, with a perpetual charter. Its sea capital is $500,000, and its accumulations exceed $300,000 more, making its entire assets ever $300, 000, invested as detailed in the statement referred to These results indicate that during the period of nearly forty years since its organization, (without a single change of its chief officer,) its business has been conducted with judgment and prudence. It has been thus far successful in an eminent degree, discharging, ADVERTISEMENTS inserted for sixty cents per as we are informed, all its obligations by the payment of 16 lines for the first, and thirty cents for each of about ten million dollars for losses, without asking a day's delay in any instance. It has had but little lit igation, notwithstanding the immense number of trans ested to state the number of insertions desired, or possible in such a business as insurance, it has been the practice of the Company, for several years, at great labor, carefully to classify and arrange their risks into about fifty distinct classes, so as to ascertain the amount insured on each class, the amount of premiums received thereon, and the amount of losses upn each. This classification, extending over a long period, and covering property to a very large amount, furnishes reliable data, and presents a sound, substantial basis of actual experience, upon which to conduct its business. Insurance is not a matter of luck or chance, as many suppose; its hazards are ascertainable, and its principles capable of being reduced to a system, the practical working and results of which are as certain as that of any other business. The Ætna Company, by adhering rigidly to its system, and placing its business upon a healthy basis, has obtained the confidence of the community to an extent surpassed by no other Company in the U. States, and has increased its busi-ness and its income from year to year with a steady ILDGE OF THE SUPREME COURT OF NORTH CAROLINA. growth. One great source of its security is the wide distribution of its risks—a policy which it pursues The price of the new edition is not greater than that if the old, though, as it is scarcely necessary to say to be Profession in North Carolina, its value has been greatly increased by Judge Battle's Notes, References with comparative impunity, through some of the most sweeping and destructive fires, which have swallowed up other companies less cautious in their business. It is a system like this, based upon experience, which gives stability and soundness to a company, and to the assured confidence and security.—Baltimore Patriot.
