DEBATE ON THE COALFIELDS ROAD BILL .-It is with any thing but pleasure that we publish the Standard's sketch of the debate in the Senate, propositions to amend, &c., which preceded the rejection of the Railroad bill on Tuesday last. There appears to us to be such a sad want of appreciation of the magnitude of the interests invitality and usefulness, as greatly surprises and mortifies us. Looking upon the work as of more importance to the prosperity of North Carolina than any which has ever been undertaken, with or without State aid; looking to the amount which this community has actually expended on it; looking to the taxation which this community has voluntarily imposed upon itself to aid other works in other sections of the State, some of them even impairing our own trade and prosperity; looking to the requirement of a mortgage of the whole property of the company to secure the debt; to the further requirement of individual security for the interest; and to the crowning stipulation that the interest shall not be paid out of any funds raised by means of this bill; -looking at all these things, we do confess to a feeling of deep mortification.

If the bill should be rejected, of course the Legislature will repeal the resolutions (passed unanimously) calling upon Congress to establish Workshops and Foundries in the Deep river region. A call upon Congress to spend millions there would be utterly inconsistent with a refusal to lend $400,000, upon a security of $800,000, to open a way for Congress to get there.

THE NEW TAX BILL.-We have received a copy of the new Revenue bill, introduced by Mr. Fries, Chairman of the Finance Committee of the House of Commons. It consists of 115 Sections, and goes over the whole ground, being intended as a substitute for the existing law. A hasty glance shows the following changes (there are probably others) from the old law.

A re-assessment of value of real estate is to be made this year and every four years thereafter; with proper provisions for securing a fair cash valuation. Provision is made for re-valuation in case of increase or decrease in value.

BUSINESS BEFORE THE LEGISLATURE.-Lease of the North Carolina Railroad .- Memorial of Ephraim Mauney, a stockholder in the Road, proposing to lease the Road for 5 years, to give $120,-000 per annum for its use, payable semi-annually. He desires the Legislature to authorise the Directors pect of better management and, consequently, none of profit. He will bind himself that the rates of freight shall not be increased, but diminished, and that he will surrender the road and rolling stock, at the end of the term, in as good condition as he receives it; the rolling stock and other personal effects to be valued by competent persons when he receives it, and the condition of the road to be examined also by competent persons, at the begining and end of the term, and if the rolling stock shall be worth less, or the roadway in worse condition at the end of the term, than at the time he receives it, he will pay the difference, or if worth more, or in better condition, he will claim compensation for such increase of value. He will give bond in such penalty as the Legislature may prescribe, securities to be approved by the Governor and board of Internal Improvement, for the performance of his contract.

He is satisfied, he says, that he can make profit, save the people $100,000 per annum of taxation, pay a small dividend to stockholders, and give the public more than the present benefits from the

Mr. Douthitt had promised to vote for the reonsideration, but after the remarks of the Senator from Wake, would be bound to vote against it, as it was the intention to make a connection at or near Raleigh. He was in favor of a bill to volved, and such an effort to deprive the bill of reach the coalfields from Fayetteville, and was opposed to all the amendments.

Mr. Edney concurred with Mr. Douthitt on the bare charter without the amendments. Mr. Bledsoe had made the statement as an inducement to go for reconsideration. He did not approve of the amendments; but he desired to now that the connection could be made by private subscriptions, and had no idea of engrafting anything on to the charter.

Mr. McDonald said a bare charter to the coalfields was all the company needed, and that if they desired to go farther they had not means. Mr. Douthitt was impelled by a sense of duty his constituents; and he gave notice that if the vote was reconsidered he should move to strike out the amendment of Mr. Ashe, (forbidding

Mr. Douthitt could not. Mr. Cowper thought that if the coal deposits vere as rich as represented, there would be no lifficulty in getting individuals to build the road

Mr. Cherry was in favor of the reconsideration; there were sufficient inducements to justify the passage of the bill.

RALEIGH, Jan. 15. The House to-day had again under considera-tion the Danville Connection. The debate has been going on throughout the whole week, to the one speaks of it as the ablest that has for years occurred in our Legislature, and it is the very general opinion that the Connection men have had the best of it. They have triumphed so far. The opposition have lost much by making personal attacks upon Gov. Morehead. These things roused the old lion in all the fire of 1840, and such a scathing as Granville, Franklin, Edgecombe and C., on the 13th January 1859: Wayne got from his hands has not been heard this He reviewed the whole history of the North Carolina Railroad, and clearly vindicated himself from their many attacks. On Thursday, nothing of interest occurred. On Friday, nothing of interest.

THE MAMMOTH PENSION BILL.—The Washngton "States" supposes that the bill to grant a pension to the officers and soldiers of the war of 1812, and of the Indian wars of that period, which has passed the House of Representatives, will be allowed to sleep quietly in the Senate, under the pretext of want of time to pass it. It is to be reretted that members in either House lack indeendence to meet the measure fairly. The House passed it most reluctantly, fearing the popular indignation if they had rejected it, though it is well known that the treasury is in no condition to give away twenty millions of dollars a year for a new object. Much better pay the honest debts of the ountry, such as the French spoliation debts.

This fear to do what is right is a growing evil. in the National and State Legislatures. It arises mainly from sending weak and unfit men to Congress and the Legislatures. A Legislator should be a man, and not a mere servile sycophantic tool.

The democratic similar character occurred in the Senate, but so far from creating any excitement or surprise it is only chronicled, so far as we have seen, in a Washington letter to the New York Commercial. The writer says "that Mr. Seward held a seat before Mr. Iverson, while the latter delivered his disunion speech, and when he closed, took him cordially by the hand, and congratulated him upon his oquent effort; whereupon the two agitators aforesaid laughed incontinently at the pranks they were playing." Mr. Iverson is a Southern Democrat. Mr. Gilmer is not a Democrat. Mr. Iverson, therefore, is all right, and Mr. Gilmer all

REV. N. McRAY, PRINCIPAL, with efficient Assistants. THE object of this Institution is to provide for the thorough education of young ladies, and as an additional feature, to qualify such of them as may desire it for the avocation of teaching.

Its next Session will open on the 1st February, in the new brick building recently purchased by the undersigned.

signed.

The building is situated in a beautiful grove, on a commanding eminence, and has a sufficient number of well furnished rooms to accommodate 100 boarding pupils. We have made arrangements for lectures, experiments and instruction in Natural Sciences with L. S. Burbank, A. M., formerly associated with Prof. Wm. Russel in the New England Normal Institute, and more recently Professor of Natural Science in a Southern College. The experience of ages has demonstrated the wisdom of educating in elevated and healthy sections of country. The expenses are less than at any other in-stitution of the character in the State.

Beard and furnished rooms, with fire-places, fuel, &c., $6 per month. English branches $6 to $15 per session; Languages and Ornamentals low. Board and half the tuition required in advance. The proprietor, teachers and pupils dwell together and cat at the same table. for tuition until they can teach and pay it. Situation
