DR. EATON'S INFANTILE CORDIAL.
Thousands are daily speaking in the praise of
DR. EATON'S INFANTILE CORDIAL.
and why? because it never fails to afford instantaneous relief when given in time. It acts as if by magic, and one trial alone will convince you that what we say is true. It contains
NO PAREGORIC OR OPIATE
of any kind, and therefore relieves by removing the sufferings of your child, instead of deadening its sensibilities. For this reason, it commands itself as the only reliable preparation now known for Children Teething, Diarrhoea, Dysentery, Griping in the Bowels, Acidity of the Stomach, Wind, Cold in the Head, and Croup, also, for softening the gums, reducing inflammation, regulating the Bowels, and relieving pain, it has no equal—being an anti-spasmodic, it acts with unfailing success in all cases of Convulsion or other Fits. As you value the life and health of your children, and wish to save them from those sad and blighting consequences which are so often the result from the use of narcotics, of which all other remedies for Infantile Complaints are composed, take none but DR. EATON'S INFANTILE CORDIAL; this you can rely upon. It is perfectly harmless, and cannot injure the most delicate infant. Price, 25 cents. Full directions accompany each bottle. Prepared only by
CHURCH & DEPONT,
No. 409 Broadway, New York.

BLOOD FOOD.
Healthy human blood upon being
ANALYZED
always presents us with the same essential elements, and gives of course the true standard. Analyze the blood of a person suffering from Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Scrofula, &c., and we find in every instance certain deficiencies in the red globules of blood. Supply these deficiencies, and you are made well. The Blood Food is founded upon this theory—hence its astonishing success. There are adapted to deficiencies of the blood in different diseases. For Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, or any affection whatever of the Throat or Lungs, including Consumption, use No. 1, which is the Nutrient. For Depression of spirits, loss of Appetite, and for all Chronic Complaints arising from Over-use, General Debility, and Nervous Prostration, use No. 2, for Liver Complaints, No. 3, for Dyspepsia. Being already prepared for absorption it is taken by Drops and carried immediately into the circulation, so that what you gain you retain. The No. 4 is for Female Irregularities, Hysteria, Weakness, &c. See special directions for this. For St. Vitus's Dance, Tremors, Scrofulous, Kidney, and Bladder Complaints, take No. 5. In all cases the directions must be strictly followed. Price of the Blood Food $1 per bottle.
FIVE PREPARATIONS
Sold by CHURCH & DEPONT,

And by all respectable Druggists throughout the country.

"WE refer our friends to the advertisement of Messrs. CHURCH & DEPONT, No. 409 Broadway, New York. The Blood Food, is one of the greatest medicines of the age, and is rapidly driving out of the market all the quack nostrums of modern times. Its efficacy is so great, and its superiority so justly acknowledged, that it is found difficult to supply the immense and increasing demand for the article. Dr. Eaton's celebrated 'Infantile Cordial,' is a medicine prepared by a regular physician of eminence in his profession, and one who has devoted his life to the peculiar phases of Infantile diseases. It is no humbug, but a medicine which commands itself to those only who can appreciate it."

LAND FOR SALE.
I OFFER for sale 440 Acres of LAND, lying on the West side of Cape Fear River, two miles below Fayetteville, and extending from the river into the sand-hills. This tract is about equally divided into river-ridge, swamp and sand-hill Land. About 80 acres, adjoining the river, are under cultivation and are well suited to the growth of Corn and Grass: none of the Swamp has been cleared. There are several good sites for a dwelling house on the sand-hills. Any person wishing to purchase will do well to make early application, as I have determined to sell.
The above Land, if not previously sold, will be offered at AUCTION, at the Market House in Fayetteville, on the 8th day of May, 1860. If desired, it will be divided into Two Tracts, each containing the advantages of River, Swamp and Sand-hill. From the report of an Engineer, who was employed to find the difference of level of the Swamp, it is established that drainage may be effected at moderate expense. For additional information apply to Mr. Saml. W. Tillingshat, or to the subscriber.

POLYGAMY IN UTAH.
The House has been discussing a bill to prohibit and punish it. In the course of the discussion, Mr. Etheridge of Tennessee made a long speech in favor of the bill, but pointing out the troubles which the Democracy were bringing upon themselves by supporting it. We make a few extracts:—

Mr. Etheridge. Mr. Speaker, I recollect a short time ago seeing an account of a colloquy between two friends, in regard to the certainty of the final coming of the millennium—when the lion and lamb were to lie down together. One was finally convinced by the other that the time would eventually come, but he consoled himself in making the admission, by saying that he had the satisfaction of believing that the lamb would be inside the lion. [Laughter.] We have the lion and the lamb now apparently lying down together in the House of Representatives, and it remains for the historian to ascertain hereafter which is the lamb, and which is the lion. [Re-joined laughter.] For the first time since I have been a member of Congress do I see—through some slight exhibitions of protest, it is true—my Democratic friends and the Republican party harmonizing in relation to this controverted and vexed question of the legislative power of Congress over the domestic institutions of the people of the Territories of the United States. "To that completion has it come at last."

It might as well be stated now as hereafter, that the Republicans will not only claim the chief merit of the passage of the bill, but they will point to it in after times as a direct legislative admission of the power of Congress over the domestic affairs of the people of the organized Territories, including negro slavery. Even now we can observe their exhibiting every mark of satisfaction as they behold our extreme Democratic friends moving into this political snare, which is contrary to the former expositions of your platform; and the kindness of my nature alone prompts me to warn gentlemen of the danger. I do not desire to have any one misled by carelessness or inadvertence. This question of the power of Congress to regulate the domestic institutions and relations of the white people of Utah is one which necessarily and unavoidably brings up the whole question of the power of Congress to govern those Territories in everything which relates to their domestic affairs—slavery included. Gentlemen feel it, and it is useless to attempt to avoid the force of what I have said by a denial only.

Now, sir, what are domestic institutions? They consist simply of husband and wife, parent and child, guardian and ward, master and servant, and master and slave. I believe this enumeration embraces the entire list, as recognized in the law books. Now, when you have said to the people of those Territories, that they may form and regulate their own domestic institutions in their own way, subject only to the Constitution of the United States—which restriction Mr. Benton declared was a stump speech injected into the body of the bill—you stipulated with them that they should exercise this power in all cases. I have enumerated all the domestic relations known to the laws of this country, and I appeal to you whether I have not enumerated them correctly. And I ask, if Congress can take jurisdiction of the relation of husband and wife, may it not also exercise jurisdiction in regard to another domestic relation? Now, "forewarned is forearmed." I know that many gentlemen will believe that I am inviting attention to these things to produce "difficulties in the family." But I disclaim any such purpose. There is domestic trouble enough in Utah without increasing it here. I have but announced my deliberate legal opinion, which I trust I shall always have the moral courage to avow whenever the occasion and my public duty call for it. Domestic institutions have been about the same from the beginning of time. Go back to the days of Abraham. Ask my patriarchal friend from Utah, the sole representative of the "domestic institutions" of the rising young State of Utah—"domestic," I might say, in an eminent degree, [laughter]—and he will tell you that his constituents are attempting to perpetuate to us manners and customs of antiquity, and it is candid in us to say that this bill does not interfere with one of the "domestic institutions" of society. The delectable from Utah, who is the sole representative of the people of that Territory, I am sure will feel that the American Congress is disposed to prescribe a portion of his fellow citizens, by interfering with their most cherished institution, and his sensibilities must be touched at the prospect of passing a measure, the effect of which will be to drive many a wife and husband from homes which are endeared by an exuberance of conjugal love, and thus cause them to sorrow alone in the face of an un sympathizing world. [Laughter.] Do you suppose the people of Utah would have taken this liberty of rewording their domestic institutions, and falling back upon the customs of the patriarchal age, if you had not given them the power to "form and regulate their domestic institutions," and taught them that, in all domestic affairs, "the people of a Territory, like those of a State," were sovereign and independent?

And should not some of our friends be lenient to these deluded Mormons, who are so ready, for their own justification, to appropriate to themselves the force of the example of the patriarchal age? And do not these friends of ours—unnecessarily, I admit—also point to Abraham, with his locks and herds, his horses and his cattle, his man servants and his maid servants, as a conclusive authority and vindication for our peculiar institution, when assailed by fanaticism? And ought we not to be somewhat kind and forbearing, when we hear our patriarchal friend from Utah exclaim: "We have Abraham to our father." [Laughter.] I feel the force of these things; but I shall not hesitate, because of these considerations, to grapple with this monster, polygamy, while it is in its infancy and may be subdued.

WASHINGTON AND JACKSON.—Some newspaper writer says—
"I have read all the lives of Washington, and the impression made upon me, by my knowledge of Jackson, is that he was more closely modeled upon the character of Washington—and without knowing it—than any living man."

There is some truth in this, that is to say, in the words "without knowing it." We agree that neither Gen. Jackson nor anybody else ever knew of the resemblance.

A Tennessee paper announces that "the inauguration of the governor was celebrated by firing minute guns every half hour."
