A Lessson for Lawyers .- Judge Henderson of Texas, when first a candidate for office, visited Frontier county, in which he was, except by reputation, a stranger. Hearing that a trial for felony would take place in a few days, he determined to volunteer for the defence. The prisoner was charged with having stolen a pistol; the defence was, "not guilty." The volunteer counsel conducted the case with great ability. He confused the witness, palavered the court, and made an able, eloquent, and successful argument. The prisoner was acquitted-he had not stolen the pistol. The counsel received the enthusiastic applause of the audience. His innocent client availed himself of the earliest interval of the hurricane of congratulations to take his counsel aside. "My dear sir," said he, "you have saved me, and I am very grateful. I have no money, do not expect to have any, and do not expect ever to see you again; but to show that I appreciate your As Evans, deceased.
