I Gallery, Hay street, opposite Marble Yard, Fay-etteville, N. C.: plain, retouched, colored, in water colors, oil and pastile; from small to life size. Ambro-DESPECTFULLY informs his friends and the public, that he has built up large substantial Brick Build-ings at his Old Stand, expressly for manufacturing Carriages. Thankful for the very liberal patronage he has received for the last 21 years, he hopes by strict atten-tion to business, with a desire to give satisfaction, to merit a continuance of the same. He warrants his work workmen in each branch of the basiness. His work will compare favorably with any made in the United States, for neatness and durability. He is determined to sell and do any work in his line on as good terms as any work done elsewhere that is as well done. He now has on hand, finished, THE LARGEST STOCK OF

Carriages, Barouches, Rockaways and Buggies, ever offered in this place, and a very large stock of work nearly finished, which will be finished daily. All of which will be sold very low for cash, or on short time to punctual customers. A the has on hand more than ONE HUNDRED AND FIFTY VEHICLES finished and in course of construction. for All work made by him is warranted 12 months with fair usage, and should it fail by bad workmanship or material, will be repaired free of charge.

Persons wishing to buy would do well to call and examine for themselves. Orders thankfully received and promptly attended to

Reported Discovery of a Manuscript of the Time of David.-In the year 1858 a Theban mountaineer discovered in a hill, called by the Arabs Shin-ab-el-Gourna, a tomb cut out of the rock, in which he found a mummy-case with a gold spread-eagle and a golden asp; also a tablet of green stone, a box with four canopi of Oriental alabaster, and on the side of a magnificent mummy, with a gilded mask and a large gilded scarabæus of porcelain on its breast, a most remarkable papyrus scroll, five feet long and ten inches wide, written in the finest hieratic and hierogly. phic characters. The four jars were sold to Lord Henry Scott, a young Englishman. The mask was purchased by a captain who purchased and sold antiquities at Thebes, and was transferred by him to the French consular agent at that place, and may be now either in his possession or in the museum at Paris. The papyrus, as also the scarabæus, the tablet, and the eagle, came into the hands of George A. Stone, Esq., of Roxbury, Massachusetts, then travelling in Egypt. Mr. Stone sent copies and photographs of the papyrus to several Egyptologists in New York, who attempted its translation, but failed, because they were only acquainted with Champollion's system. Finally, Mr. Stone sent a photograph copy to Professor G. Seyffarth, of St. Louis, Missouri, having been informed that this gentleman had published, in the year 1833 and 1835, the key to the Egyptian literature and to the ancient astronomical inscriptions and monuments. This savant, the author of the "Summary of Recent Discoveries," &c., New York 1857, and a large number of other works, has just published the translations and explanations, as requested of him, in the Translations of the Academy of Science of St. Louis for the year 1859, (pp. 527-569,) with sixteen lithographic plate. The biography of Horsebe (the sword of Horus) is to be found in the first column of the papyrus, and we learn by it that he was the commanding general of Pharaoh Shishak I, who slew the last king of Manetho's xxist dynasty, and suppressed by his captain the rebels in five different provinces of Egypt. This Shishak I, the head of the xxiid dynasty, lived, according to Manetho and the monuments, one hundred and twenty-four years previous to Shish-" 11, the conqueror of Jerusalem (1 Kings 11 and 14:25) in the fifth year of Rehoboam, (944 B. C.) Horsebe was consequently a contemporary of Saul and David, and the papyrus in question has been written about the year 1050 B. C., or three hundred years before the foundation of Rome, and is at resent two thousand nine hundred years old. The residue of this precious manuscript contains a new religious book of the ancient Egyptians, and begins with the following sentences: "The Book of Hymns for singing the glories of Him who made Isis-[the earth]-the glories of that invisible Being who made Osiris-[the sun]-(the originator of the life of his race; the originaor of the life of his nation, and the originator of the circle of the solar year with its seasons; the builder of the sacrificial quadrupeds, being convenient for him in his house of light, and ordered by his father, the Lord Governor; the originator of the priests for his race in the firmament, and for Adon, the Lord;) who made Meni-[the moon]-the originator of the flax-seed, of her own

Another Rich Parish .--- The census returns of the parish of Concordia are as follow:

The total white population of 1850 was 823; in 1860 it is 1280. Blacks in 1850, 6984; in 1860, 12,800. Farms in 1850, 148: in 1860, 210. Total deaths in 1859-60, from all causes, diseases, accidents, &c., 363, of which the greater part are children under a year old. Bales of cotion in 1849 18,297; in 1850 wars 63,288 Bales of cotton in 1849, 18,297; in 1859 were 63,288, and many large plantations were materially injured by the high water.

Multiplying the bales of cotton by torty-five dollars, and dividing the total by 1280-the white population-we shall have an income of over two thousand dollars per annum for every white inhabitant of the parish. This gives as the average of wealth for every white man in the parish over $20,000. Can any country in the world make such an exhibit of the wealth of its people?

The Oldest Couple.-Mr. Joel Youngblood, who has been assisting the U.S. Marshal in taking the census returns for this District, informs us that he has met up with a very aged couple living in the upper part of our District who are, perhaps, the oldest married couple to be found in the State. Mr. Jesse Trammeli is set down at 105 and his wife at 106 years. They are both in the enjoyment of good health, and bid fair to live among their children and friends for many days to come .- Greenville Enterprize.

Playing Roulette with a hand organ man .- A Georgian who had heard of a gambling game called roulette, on lately arriving at a Northern watering place, immediately sallied out in search of a roulette table. At the first corner he found a Dutchman turning a hand-organ. There was a "wheel," sure enough, and it was revolving. Thinking that fortune had guided him to the objeet of his search, he laid down a dollar bill upon the box. The Dutchman pocketed the stake and ground away. The Georgian laid down another, and another; the Dutchman "bagged" them all and steadily turned his crank. It was only when his money was exhausted that the Georgian quit the game. He had pluck to the end, but finally concluded it was no use to play against the hand-or-
