Mr. Long's speech was both beautiful and instructive and excited the admiration of his audience throughout.

All felt, no doubt, better satisfied after hearing Mr. Long's speech, that the work which they had begun on that spot would advance the interest of all who are engaged in it. The Society has been struggling for seven years with a debt incurred by the purchase of the Fair Grounds and improvements thereon—and this is the only reason why the premiums awarded to articles brought here for exhibition have heretofore been so low. But now we can say with truth that we have at last obtained light, by having discharged the debt incurred by the pur chase, and for the future we will be able to offer pre niums sufficient to engage and excite a spirit of rivalry, equal to any other Society in the State.

We have four acres handsomely enclosed, with a beautiful grove of native oaks bordering on one side, within which stands Floral Hall, so lately decorated by the beautiful and the fair, besides one other building near per of persons with their many varieties brought here for exhibition. The Society having relieved the property of the purchase money and obtained a title to the same, intend going into a system of general improvement by building up and preparing other buildings for the accommodation of stock of every kind and description that may be brought here for exhibition. POLITICAL ITEMS

Hon. John A. Gilmer .- The Hon. John A. Gilmer is now absent from home and will be until the day of the election, filling his appointments. Mr. Gilmer is doing good and faithful service for his country, and by his soul-stirring and eloquent appeals is rallying the friends of peace and order and the conservative men of the country to make one bold and determined stand for the Union. During last week, Mr. Gilmer was in the Court House on Tuesday until nine o'clock at night, defending a man for his life, yet on Wednesday he made a political speech in Alamance, some thirty miles from Greensboro', and was again in the Court House Thursday morning to defend another man charged with a capital felony-and again on Saturday he addressed his fellow citizens at New Salem in the county of Randolph. Feeling the urgency of the case Mr. Gilmer is doing all he 10 can to awaken his fellow citizens to a sense of their danger .- Greenshoro' Patriot.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 1. The Republican Wide Awakes are now march ing through the streets in procession numbering about three hundred, guarded by a strong police who with difficulty restrain the exasperated spectators. They are greeted with universal groans and hisses. Some bricks were thrown into their ranks and serious apprehensions are entertained of the officers' inability to control the feelings of 25 the insulted citizens, until the nigger procession 10 and jubilee is over.

Most of the citizens are attracted to an immense Bell and Everett procession and mass meeting, which is also going on. They have a torchdip light procession of Minute Men, numbering from seven to ten thousand. It is the grandest display ever seen in Baltimore. Almost the entire population turned out to see the procession, and intense excitement prevails, speaking in the Square, an dip illumination, &c. P. S. The Wide Awake procession, when en tering the Front street theatre, was rushed upon by an immense crowd of half-grown boys, and completely scattered. Their banners, torches, &c. were smashed or carried off by the boys. When Wm. J. Long, Esq. delivered the annual Address to a in the theatre, the hisses, noise and howling was so great, that they were unable to hear speaking One hundred and fifty police were endeavoring to keep order. Nothing serious has yet taken place

> St. Louis, Oct. 30. Speech of Mr. Crittenden .- Senator Crittenden addressed a large audience, composed of men of all parties, at the court house last night. He ulogized Douglas, but urged the Union men of all parties to vote for Mr. Bell. He could see no remedy whatever in dissolving the Union, or seceding from it, though the Republican party may elect their President. We can out-vote them it the National Legislature, and prevent harm from Political Meetings in Montgomery, Alabama Nov. 1 .- The Breckinridge and Bell parties are both holding separate meetings to-night in this city, and each is largely attended. The speakers are urging resistance to Lincoln's election. Jim Watts is addressing the Bellites.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Tuesday, Oct. 30. The Breckinridge Letter a Forgery .- Vice President Breckinridge authorizes the announceent that the letter published over his signature, purporting to be addressed to Dr. J. T. P. Cohoon, Elizabeth City, N. C., under date of the 5th inst.,

AUGUSTA, Ga., Oct. 31. Disunionism Avoiced .- A despatch from J. J Seibels, E. A. Banks, J. A. Elmore, L. D. Hollingust and W. Garrett, of Montgomery, Ala., says that the Breckinridge minute men held a Disunion Meeting last night in that city, at which they openly avowed a preference for Lincoln's election, in order, they declared, that the Union might be broken up! Mitchell, the seceding delegate from the Charleston Convention, came out boldly for disunion! Resolutions were passed, declaring in favor of an immediate Dissoluon, in the event of Lincoln's election

A letter from Charleston, South Carolina, dated October 18th, says:-"The fire companies are drilling every night, and making preparations for the coming dissolution. South Carolina will se-cede if Lincoln is elected." All accounts go to show that the most determined efforts are making to induce South Carolina to lead off in the effort to dissolve the Union and break up the government.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30. Senator Wigfall, of Texas, has informed President Buchanan that he will not resume his seat. in the United States Senate if Lincoln is elected to the Presidency.

It is widely rumored, to-day, that Wm. L. Hodge, Assistant Secretary of the Treasury under Fillmore, has received a letter from Mr. Corwin, who has been spending some days at Springfield, Ill., in close communication with Lincoln, stating that the latter has given complete assurance that, if elected, he will enforce the fugitive slave law everywhere in the North and West. Washington Letter.

The above statement is discredited.

Political.-The Hon. Alexander H. Stephens ddressed the largest audience ever assembled in Savannah on Saturday night last in behalf of Douglas and Johnson. The Republican says the speech was received with the most enthusiastic ap-

Not So .- The Breckinridgers are circulating the report that the Hon. A. H. Stephens, of Georgia, has abandoned Douglas and declared for Breckinridge. The story is a falsehood, from beginning to end. Mr. Stephens made a powerful Douglas speech in Savannah only on Monday

AUGUSTA, Oct. 30. Reception of Senator Douglas in the South .-Senator Douglas was hailed enthusiastically on his route through Upper Georgia. Thousands greeted him at Atlanta and Macon.

The Bell Ticket in Virginia .- A Washington despatch says: News from Virginia is positive as to the election of the Bell ticket, as Mr. Douglas will get at least twenty thousand votes in the State. Many Democrats opposed to disunion will vote directly for Mr. Bell. None of the Congressmen dare to advocate disunion openly.

Western Virginia.-The Alexandria Gazette learns from a gentleman just from the western part of Virginia, whose position enables him to form a correct estimate, that the vote in the Wheeling and Kanawha district for Bell and Evcrett will largely exceed that given for Goggin, and that Douglas and Johnson will receive upwards of 3,000 votes in these two districts.

Breckinridge's Strength in the North.-The strength of the Breckinridge faction in the North. as shown by the late election, is as follows: In Maine, the Secessionists didn't even make a show of a fight. In Connecticut, they were just "no In Pennsylvania, the Democratic candidate for Governor, although professing to be a Douglas man, endeavored to "ride both sides of the sapling." It is estimated that the President's Particular attention given to sale or shipment of influence in this State will give Breckinridge about one-fourth of the Democratic vote. In Indiana, the Breckinridge men went over to the In Ohio, they did'nt show fight. These are facts. The banking house of Josiah Lee & Co., suspend-If anybody can now figure out how John C. house of 40 years standing.

It is rumored that Appleton & Co., bankers the North .- Richmond Whig.

Decline in the Receipts of Cotton .- Advices from the South, referring to the decline in the receipts of cotton, intimate that they are not due to the usual causes, but that in many parts the planters are withholding their supplies, in view of the political uncertainties of the day. The effect of this policy, pursued for a few weeks, would be severely felt both on the New York and the Liverpool markets, and would probably lead to very grave inconveniences.

The only National Party.-There is but one national party in the country-and that party is marshalled under the banner of Bell and Everett. It is the only party that can beat the Abolition party—the only party that "keeps step to the muic of the Union"-and John Bell is the only man living who stands the remotest chance of keeping Abraham Lincoln, author of the "irrepressible conflict" doctrine, out of the Presidenial chair.

In case Lincoln is elected his partizans declared that the whole power of the Federal Government will be employed to the injury of Southern intersts and institutions; and in that event the parti zans of Breckinridge, all over the South, boldly proclaim their determination to break up the onfederacy without waiting for overt acts, or nything of the sort! So, between the two facons, the true national patriot cannot find room put his foot.

There is threatened oppression on one side, and hreatened disunion on the other-and only two three days remain to the Constitutional Union nen to decide the question in favor of the whole ountry!-Richmond Whig.

YANCEYISM.

WE SHALL FIRE THE SOUTHERN HEART, IN-TRUCT THE SOUTHERN MIND, GIVE COURAGE O EACH OTHER, AND AT THE PROPER MOMENT, BY ONE ORGANIZED, CONCERTED ACTION, WE CAN PRECIPITATE THE COTTON STATES INTO A REVO-.UTION .- Yancey's Slaughter Letter.

A few weeks ago, more than two years after hat letter was written, Mr. Yancey made a four nours' speech at Memphis. In that speech he everted to the Slaughter Letter, and said:

THERE IS NOT A WORD IN THAT LETTER THAT TAKE BACK TO-NIGHT. THERE IS NOT A SEN-IMENT IN IT I DISAVOW. GO IT YANCEY! GO IT BRECKINBIDGE!

Who Broke up the Breckinridge Party? __ The Breckinridgers say that Douglas did it, by insisting upon Popular Sovereignty in the Territories. Mr. Yancey is more magnanimous, and says that e did it himself. In his Memphis speech, which has been published by his friends, in an attempt to show that he was not a Disunionist, he says:

"And yet it so happens when I went back to the Democracy of Alabama, it fell to my lot to lead off in the cause of conciliation and moderation, and endeavoring to heal the breach that occurred at Charleston; to give the Democracy time o repent-to consider. I took occasion to lead off in asking that Convention to send us to Baltimore. Had it been my object to break up the Union by that disruption, I had already broken up the party and had the Union at my feet."

The fact that he went back to Baltimore is ited as evidence that he was willing to let the nion stand a little while longer; but he admits that he had already broken up the party, and had the Union at his feet. Failing to accompiish some object at Baltimore, he confirmed the work he had done at Charleston, and by his own admission, the party, as the result of his conduct, is broken up, and the Union is only a man of straw! And yet, Mr. Yancey is hailed by the Breckinridge politicians as the leader of the Union!-Richmond Whig

Lincoln and Southern Statesmen .- The Boston Courier makes the following remarkable state

"Letters have, to our certain knowledge, been quite lately addressed, by persons in the full pos-session of Mr. Lincoln's confidence, to leading statesmen of the South. We are able to name the writers of some of these letters, and the individuals to whom they have been addressed. In some instances these letters have been confined to an emphatic assertion of the conservative character of Mr. Lincoln's administration, in general terms. He will not recommend a repeal of the ugitive slave law, nor the abolition of slavery n the District of Columbia, nor a prohibition of the slave trade between the States; and his opposition to the admission of new slave States vill not extend to those carved out of territory outh of the 361 degree of latitude. To some ersons, who, it has been thought, might be aproached confidently, indirect overtures have been nade to the effect that Mr. Lincoln would by no means confine himself, as far as the South is concerned, to his own party, but would be willing to place distinguished Southern statesmen of the Union party in his Cabinet. We have heard the names of five distinguished statesmen-four of them members of the Cabinets of Messrs. Tyler and Fillmore—that have been approached in this way. These letters, of course, have not been written by Mr. Lincoln himself. "Honest Old Abe" is too shrewd to be caught in that trap; but they have been written with his knowledge and approval!".

BALTIMORE, Nov. 1. The Money Panic .- The money market has ightened, and the Banks are unable to accommodate one-half of the wants of the merchants. The depositors will lose over $300,000 by Lee Co's tailure.

The Irrepressible Conflict Begun .- The events of the past week, says the Baltimore Clipper, in the commercial and financial world, are fearfully minous. Not only have stocks everywhere declined with terrible rapidity, and money become suddenly scarce in the midst of a season of unwonted prosperity and plenty, but a very large portion of the Southern paper due in New York has been protested, and some of the heaviest business houses have fallen, while others are tottering. This is but the beginning of the end of what may be justly anticipated from the election of Abraham Lincoln.

Mr. Badger and the Standard .- The Raleigh Standard is out in a long, and an unusually wordy and windy article for that paper, animadverting upon Mr. Badger's magnanimity in acknowledging his error in voting for the Kansas-Nebraska bill. The Standard has always exhibited a penchant for attacking Mr. Badger, but in this instance it shows less reason for it than usual. The Standard thinks the vote of Mr. Badger for the Kansas-Nebraska bill was "the best and most patriotic act of his life." No doubt it thinks also it was the most magnanimous, simply because it was a concession to the Democratic party. Any other species of magnanimity in Mr. Badger, we fear the Standard is hardly capable of apprecia ting. Now any reasonable man, we should think could see nothing in the whole course of Mr Badger, from first to last, in this matter, but magnanimity and unselfishness. The peace and the happiness of his country, in Mr. Badger's mind, rose infinitely above all party and personal considerations. He knew that his Whig constitu ency could not endorse and approve of the act. unqualifiedly. He saw that he was going in opposition to the acute and far-reaching judgment of his political associate, John Bell, of Tennessee; yet believing it to be best-to be a peace measure -to be a quietus upon the everlasting and damaging slavery question, he voted for it. As a Whig, we say he did right at the time to vote according to his honest convictions and best judgment, regardless of party or the personal opinions of others. But after carefully watching its practical workings for six years, he sees clearly that he was wrong, and that John Bell was right. In the spirit of the true gentleman and man of honor, he embraces the first favorable opportunity, when he could do so with propriety, to acknowledge his error and retract it. And is it possible, that a man of Mr. Badger's eminence, of his known personal integrity and character, cannot in his own proper official position and in his own native State, do so magnanimous a thing as that, without being charged by the Democratic party press of being influenced by the miserable spirit of party trickery? Shame on it .- Washington Dispatch.

Baptist State Convention .- This body assem-Breckinridge politicians as the leader of the "National Democracy," and a great friend of the Union!—Richmond White tor, and Elders Skinner and F. H. The Census of Guilford .- Through the couresy of the Marshals, Messrs. Graham and Dunn, we are enabled to publish the census of Greens orough, which is as follows:

1148 Slaves. Free Negroes,

It has, for many years, been the practice with certain unprincipled demagogues, for party pur oses, on all occasions, to vent their spleen upor he strong Whig county of Guilford, by casting dium upon her citizens, as being tinetured with abolitionism. The above census of Greensboro' will show for itself whether or not the people of Guilford are interested in the institution of slavery. We venture there is not another town in the state, of the size of Greensboro', in which the slave population bears so great a proportion to the white. The above will also show that, when the citizens of Greensboro' and Guilford county cast 2154 votes for equal taxation, they were not actuated by any selfish motives; but were moved solely and entirely by a sense of duty and right. Greensboro' Patriot.

Killed by Accident .- Joshua Hedgcock, who ived near Evans's Nursery, in Davidson County. came to his death by being run over by his wagon. on Saturday last, a mile this side of Salem. He was hauling a load of goods from this place to Salem, and it is supposed he fell from the wagon in front of the wheels, which passed over his body, injuring him mortally. A gentleman came up soon after the accident happened, to whom he spoke requesting him to go for a doctor, saying I am badly hurt." He died in a few moments after the gentleman came up.
