Notice.

The State of Europe .- While the Emperor of France talks confidently of peace in Europe, or did on New Year's Day, it is evident that there $60 00 are many "signs," which are far from being pro-20 00 pitious. It will require more than human wis-15 00 dom to maintain peace in Southern and Central 12 00 Europe many months more, unless we are much mistaken. Let us look at some of the indications of coming trouble, and this at no very distant day. In the first place, the fact is not disguised by anybody in Italy, that there is a determination on the part of the people of that country to rise and attempt to drive the Austrians out of Venetia. We say attempt, for we have little belief that they can do it without the aid of France. It will require something more than ardor, and even desperate courage, on the part of undisciplined troops from Southern Italy and Sicily, or from all of Italy that is not now under the sway of Victor Emanuel, to cope successfully with the well disciplined Austrian troops now in Venetia, amounting almost to 200,000, and who are still smarting under the defeats they received at Magenta and Solferino in 1859.

Cavour and his party will try hard, no doubt, to restrain and delay the movement, if they cannot entirely defeat it. That sagacious statesman sees that there is an immense work of reconstruction and consolidation to be done, before the new subjects of Victor Emanuel should think of going to war with Austria. It is to be hoped that he may succeed in inspiring the nation with the determination to act prudently and wisely in this momentous matter.

The attitude of the Hungarians is in the highest degree defiant and alarming, if it be true, as the Vienna correspondents of the English papers represent, that they demand their old Diet, Hungarian troops only for their country, a National Guard, and a Hungarian Minister in the Cabinet of Francis Joseph. We may rest assured that no such demand as this will be listened to. But however this may be, we cannot doubt that the Hungarians are determined to rise, and will do so before many weeks have passed away, if they and SHOES, SADDLES, HARNESS, and LEATHER should see that Italy is going to rise at the same

> The third sign of a coming struggle is, that the war spirit is reviving in Germany, and that the new King of Prussia manifests rather a warlike tone than otherwise in what he says. The difficulties between the Diet and Denmark in relation to the Duchies of Holstein and Sleswic are again coming up, and Prussia shows a disposition to enact the part of Champion of the Diet, as she did ten years ago, and with no great honor to herself. Neither Russia nor Sweden will allow Denmark to be crushed; although the latter is not disposed to allow Denmark to encroach on the traditional rights of the Duchies. We are very much afraid that in some way Prussia will get into difficulty before long,-perhaps through an aspiration for that ascendancy in the affairs of Germany which Austria has so long claimed, and so largely possessed, in consequence of the Hapsburgs having for five centuries filled the throne, whilst the

But after all, one of the most disquieting signs of the times is to see France still increasing her navy, although it has long been greater than her commerce has demanded. Not only so; her armies are maintained on a war-footing, and there are, it is said, some manifestations of a disposition to accumulate her forces in the Northern and North-eastern part of the country. All these things, when taken together, are quite sufficient to make those who look upon war as one of the greatest calamities that can befall the human race, feel deeply concerned. The omens are certainly not as favorable for the continuance of peace in Europe as we could wish. Louis Napoleon is the same mysterious personage that he has RANAWAY from the subscriber last April, my Negro Man CHARLES: he is full blooded negro, round features, 5 feet 8 or 10 inches high, well set and in-raised up Italy. May it not be that he intends to liberate Hungary, humble Germany and Prussia, and extend the boundary of France to the one of his ears caused by a cut, the scar has protruded out, and very much resembles a wen. I will pay the Rhine along all the North-East, as he has extended it to the Alps, all along the South-East? N. Y. Journal of Commerce. Repudiating the Practice of Repudiation .--During a debate in the Georgia Convention on Saturday last, reference was made to the right of Georgia, under the law of nations, to declare void all contracts between the citizens of Georgia and A to address the subscriber at Clinton, Sampson the citizens of New York, in consequence of the county, as he is determined to buy and pay as liberal lawless seizure of arms purchased for Georgians. lawless seizure of arms purchased for Georgians, by the police of that city. The exercise of the right claimed found, however, no advocates. Several gentlemen maintained, on the .contrary. that the people of Georgia should and would meet every obligation resting upon them, even if due to the most virulent of Abolitionists. Their debt, MY Agent will be in Fayetteville on the 1st and 2d days in February with FRUIT TREES, and at Bladen Court the first Monday in February; at Sampson and Mr. B. H. Collection of the Revenue.-In reply to Foreign Ministers inquiring how the subjects of their respective nations are to act in order to avoid all violations of the revenue laws of the United States. and to escape injury from the anomalous state of things at Charleston, Mr. Secretary Black has stated that the right of the federal Government to impose duties on goods imported into the United States is exclusive, and that the question whether the condition of things at Charleston willor will not be regarded as a sufficient reason for not inflicting the penalties incurred by the subjects of foreign nations will be settled when it practically arises .- National Intelligencer.

Growth of Missouri .- In 1850 the white population of Missouri, according to the Federal census of that year, was 592,000; the number of slaves 87,000; and of free persons of color 3,000. Returns from the several counties in the Sate show the present population to be: whites 1,056,338, slaves 112,588, and free persons of color 3,902. The population of Missouri exceeds 1,100,000. The increase for the decennial term has been over seventy per cent.

The Stars and Stripes not to be Given Up .--In his farewell speech in the Senate, yesterday, Mr. Slidell, of Louisiana, said the secessionists did not intend to give up the old flag. It belonged to the South as much as it did to the North.

A hillock on the coast of Normandy, above Chateau Gaillard, has just fallen into the sea, carrying with it the ruins of the old chapel of Richard Cœur de Lion, of which all traces have now disappeared.
