"DIXIE." SOUTHRONS, HEAR YOUR COUNTRY CALL YOU. BY ALBERT PIKE OF ARKANSAS.

Southrons, hear your Country call you!

Up! lest worse than death befal you! To arms! To arms! To arms! in Dixie! Lo! all the beacon-fires are lighted, Let all hearts be now united! To arms! To arms! To arms! in Dixie! Advance the flag of Dixie! Hurrah! Hurrah!

For Dixie's land we'll take our stand, To live or die for Dixie! To arms! To arms! And conquer peace for Dixie! To arms! To arms! And conquer peace for Dixie! . Hear the Northern thunders mutter!

Northern flags in South winds flutter: To arms! &c. Send them back your fierce defiance! Stamp upon the curs'd alliance! To arms! &c. Advance the flag of Dixie! &c.

Fear no danger! Shun no labor! Lift up rifle, pike and sabre! To arms! &c. Shoulder pressing close to shoulder, Let the odds make each heart bolder! To arms! &c. Advance the flag of Dixie! &c.

How the South's great heart rejoices, At your cannon's ringing voices; To arma! &c For faith betrayed and pledges broken, Wrongs inflicted, insults spoken. To arms! &c. Advance the flag of Dixie! &c. Strong as lious, swift as eagles, Back to their kennels hunt these beagles!

To arms! &c. Cut the unequal bonds asunder! Let them then each other plunder! To arms! &c.
Advance the flag of Dixie! &c. Swear upon your Country's altar, Never to submit or falter; To arms! &c.
Till the spoilers are defeated,
Till the Lord's work is completed.

Advance the flag of Dixie! &c. Halt not till our Federation Secures among Earth's Powers its station! To arms! &c. Then at peace, and crowned with glory, Hear your children tell the story!

To arms! &c.

To arms! &c. Advance the flag of Dixie! &c. If the loved ones weep in sadness, Victory soon shall bring them gladness: To arms! &c. Exultant pride soon banish sorrow: Smiles chase tears away to morrow: To arms! &c.

Advance the flag of Dixie! &c. SPECIMENS OF YANKEE EDITING. General Beauregard is certainly dead; he died of bruises received during the bombardment.

New York Paper of 14th. The report of the death of Gen. Beauregard lacks confirmation, though it is generally believed.-Ib. of 15th.

There is no truth whatever in the report of General Beauregard's death .-- 1b. of 16th. A letter, from a reliable source, states that the ville Gas Light Company will be held slaughter of the rebels was terrible on Morris' Is—to West Augusta—where the godlike man said he would retreat at the approach of despo-$29,682 69 tism. This climax of iniquity calls for vengeance at the hands of all our people. Rise, treemen, and rescue your own Washington from the hands > of knavish rebels .- New York Paper of 13th. The shocking account of the desecration of Washington's tomb, which we published yesterday, has excited the intensest fury among all our citizens. There is but one feeling, to march at once and rescue the sacred remains from the hands of the vandals.—16. of 14th.

The statement that the tomb of Washington has been violated is contradicted, though the rebhn Collins and C. C. McCrummen, Traveling Agents, cls are known to be desperate enough to perpetrate any enormity .- Ib. of 15th. Major (now Colonel) Anderson stated to-day that Vice President Breckinridge would meet him at Cincinnati and serve under him in commanding the Kentucky regiments. This is most joyful news. It breaks the back-bone of secession in Kentucky and all the border States. New York paper 13th. The wonderful account of Major Breckinridge's joining Major (now Colonel) Anderson is fully confirmed. It carries dismay and confusion to the hearts of the rebels.—16. of 14th. Major (now Colonel) Anderson did not state of his own knowledge that the rebel Breckinridge would join him. He heard such a report on the cars, and mentioned it, in confidence, to Governor Curtin, who thought it too good to be kept secret. That's the way it got out .- Ib. of 16th. Major (now Colonel) Anderson last evening visited his children, who were at school at in the vicinity of this city. The interview was most affecting.—Philadelphia paper of 10th.

Major (now Colonel) Anderson did not, as represented, visit his children; but sent for them to meet him at his hotel. The gallant Colonel was overpowered with emotion at the sight of his beloved children, who rushed to his arms in a transport of joy. He gave to each a splinter of the flag-staff of Sumter, which imposing ceremony drew tears from all the spectators, who swore everlasting vengeance against all rebels and traitors and knaves .- Ib. of 11th.

A Word to Persons who owe Money .- The Legislature at the called Session passed a "Stay Law," but that law will be repealed sometime, perhaps very early. The better plan will be for those owing money, not to rely too much upon the protection which the "stay law" will afford them, and pay out as early as possible.
