EAGLE HOTEL,

ASHEVILLE, N. C., APRIL, 1861. DEAR SIE: Permit me to call your attention to the EAGLE HOTEL. I have it re-painted; all the rooms are nearly carpeted, and the Hotel is in better order than any other House in the mountains of North Caroare neatly carpeted, and the Hotel is in better order ina. I am also better supplied with good and attentive servants than any Hotel in this part of the State. I would say to the first class visitors that I am prepared to entertain you, in a style superior to any house n Asheville. Having had several years experience in ticles of War for the Government of the Confederate the business, I flatter myself that I can make your stay Army. at the EAGLE, both pleasant and agreeable.
In connection with this large Hotel, I have a number of new and beautiful

HACKS, CARRIAGES, BUGGIES, AND SADDLE HORSES. That my guests can get at a minute's notice. I will keep a Carriage in readiness for persons that may be esirous of taking morning or evening rides. I assure the travelling public that they will find everything they may desire at the Eagle to make them comfortable. This Hotel has superior advantages over any other house in Asheville, as the Stage Office is kept here for all the Stages that arrive at and depart from this place.

I would say to families that intend visiting our beautiful town, and expect to remain several weeks, it will be well for them to write and engage rooms, as the Eagle is generally pretty much crowded by the middle of July. As regards charges, I will make them sufficiently moderate to suit the present times.

Hoping to have the pleasure of seeing you at the Eagle, I am yours respectfully,

J. M. BLAIR, Proprietor. May 1, 1861.

From the Charleston Mercury. Mr. Editor:-The enclosed verses, by one of our Ladies, were shown to me by a friend; and deeming them worthy of publication, with the permission of the fair authoress, I send them to you. They are supposed to be, the dying lament and aspiration of an imprisoned Privateersman. If our women can feel and write thus,-what should be the action of our men? THE PRIVATEERSMAN'S FAREWELL!

Farewell to ye, and Carolina's sky! Come life! To leave them was—to die; The Hoosiers and the Down-Easters .- The Chicago Tribune, calling for a draft in order to bring out the Yankees of the East, says: Is it not a burning shame that New York, New England, Pennsylvania and New Jersey, with the aid of the Ohio, Wisconsin, Michigan, Indiana and Minnesota men now on the Potomae, can not defend the Capital and through it their own chief cities, without stripping our army of the West of troops in a crisis like this? We tell the laggards of the Atlantic seaboard that it is time for them to bestir themselves. They have now got from us of the Northwest 30,000, to say nothing of the Indiana and Ohio men under Gen. Rosencranz doing good service in Western Virginia. Yet the hard fighting is to be in the valley of the Mississippi.

The West will demand, not for the purpose of compelling her sons to their duty, but for secuand Pennsylvania, that the work of drafting be at once begun. But in this heavy draft made upon us in the face of imminent danger, there is this consolation: With our brave boys in the van of McClellan's army, there will be no more such pitiable exhibitions as we saw at Great Bethel and Bull Run. They will teach your Fire Zouaves and such like cattle the art of war. But it for nothing else, let the East be subjected to draft for men to carry our men's luggage and to serve as cooks in camp.

A Good Joke on Fremont .- A gentleman who had returned to Arkansas from a visit to St. Louis, communicates to an Arkansas paper a good joke on General Fremont, who, it seems, got up, mounted and equipped a body of troops as a special body guard; their horses were superior, and their arms and appointments of the finest description. He was proud of it. It was to be his pet. But one evolutions at about two miles from the city, and they never came back. They were last heard of in General Hardee's camp, where they accident-

An estimable lady of this city has sent us an article which she proposes as a substitue for coffee, being a preparation of equal parts of ground coffee and ground sweet potato, both being parched to the proper degree. The sweet potato is prepared for parching by being cut into small cubes somewhat less in size than ordinary dice, and exposed a few hours in the sun or air to dry. The yam potatoe is recommended as the best variety for this use. We have tasted the beverage made from this preparation, and find it quite equal to all of which will be offered on as favorable terms as any the usual preparation of coffee. We think it will be found a valuable addition to the resources of our domestic economy, and have great pleasure in making known the discovery .- N. O. Delta.
