NOTICE TO ADVERTISERS

Persons out of town who desire advertisements inserted in the Observer, and persons in town with whom we have no regular accounts, will please send with the advertisement as much money as they wish to invest in it, according to our advertisements on the first page. A person who wishes to open any more such accounts, or to amend any accounts, the process of collection is too difficult, and we have to pay cash for every thing we use on credit in these times. Oct. 2, 1861.

Obituary Notices.—We have heretofore given notice, respectively, that we charge for obituary notices of unusual length, and for resolutions of respect; because of the kind of reading, we have much occasion to know, is not often more agreeable to readers than to editors of papers. As it generally happens, however, that obituary notices are charged and paid on the account for the week, we never get paid, we now give notice that we will insert nothing of the sort hereafter unless accompanied by the cash. (Always excepting in the case of deceased volunteers, when we require no pay.) Notice in mind, therefore, that we will insert obituary notices and resolutions, not exceeding 70 words, gratis. For all over 70 words, one cent a word, which must be paid before the notice will be put in type.

The Crittenden Generals.

The public mind is greatly confused in its attempt to identify and distinguish the three Crittenden Generals—one Confederate and two Federal. George B. Crittenden is the Confederate General, and a son of John J. Crittenden, the once honored United States Senator from Kentucky, now a traitorous and disgraced member of the United States House of Representatives. Thomas L. Crittenden, the Federal General from Kentucky, is likewise a son of John J. Crittenden. Thomas T. Crittenden, the Federal General from Indiana, is a son of a deceased brother of John J. Crittenden, who was likewise named Thomas, and once resided in Huntsville, Ala., and the son was born there, as he testifies himself. He is the man captured by Forrest at Murfreesboro'. The Knoxville Register says that while in that city, he was inclined to speak with unbecoming license, it not impudently. He said, amongst other things, that he was an owner of slaves in Kentucky, but, to crush the rebellion and restore the Union, he was willing to the emancipation of all the slaves.
