Payment of State Bounty due deceased Soldiers.

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT N. C.,
ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,
Raleigh, Oct. 17, 1862.

[GENERAL ORDERS, No. 9.]

THE following Regulations are published for the information of those persons wishing to draw bounty of deceased soldiers, in accordance with an ordinance of the Convention ratified the 22d day of February 1862.

REGULATIONS.

1. The payment of bounty to the representatives of deceased soldiers is based upon the certificate of the commanding officer of the company, who will state the time of the enlistment of the soldier, the date of his decease in service, the amount of bounty already paid by the State, and the company and regiment to which he belonged.

2. The claimant will make affidavit before a magistrate that he or she is the next of kin to the deceased, according to the provisions of the foregoing ordinance of the Convention, and that there is no other person entitled to make claim. The affidavit of the claimant must be sustained by that of one disinterested witness, that the facts stated are correct within his own knowledge and that he has no interest in the claim. The magistrate administering the oath will certify to the credibility of the witness, and the clerk of the County Court will certify, under seal, that he is an authorized and acting magistrate.

3. If the claimant or claimants be minors, payment will be made to the guardian, upon the production of the proper certificate under the seal of the Court of his appointment and the sufficiency of his bond—the claim to be proved by him as in other cases.

4. A bounty of fifty dollars, deducting the bounty that may have been previously paid, is due to all persons who may have volunteered for three years or the war, and to all persons mustered into or continued in service under the provisions of the Conscription Act.

By order of Governor Vance.

Feby 1862. E. J. HALE & SONS

A PRAYER FOR OUR ARMIES.

BY BISHOP GREEN, OF MISSISSIPPI.

Almighty God, whose providence watcheth over all things, and in whose hands is the disposal of all events, we look up to Thee for thy protection and blessing amidst the apparent and great dangers with which we are encompassed. Thou hast, in Thy wisdom, permitted the many evils of an unnatural and destructive war to come upon us. Save us, we beseech Thee, from the hands of our enemies. Watch over our fathers, and husbands, and brothers, and sons, who, trusting in Thy defence and in the righteousness of our cause, have gone forth to the service of their country. May their lives be precious in Thy sight. Preserve them from all the dangers to which they may be exposed. Enable them successfully to perform their duty to Thee and to their country, and do Thou, in thine infinite wisom, any power, so overrule events, and so dispose the hearts of all engaged in this painful struggle, that it may soon end in peace and brotherly love, and lead not only to the safety, honor and welfare of our Confederate States, but to the good of Thy people, and the glory of Thy great name, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

The Blockade Runners.—The Charleston Mercury has the following reply to a bitter assault by the Richmond Examiner upon that city and its merchants engaged in the blockade business:

"A single firm in Charleston," John Fraser & Co., have shipped about seven-eighths of the cotton that has gone from the ports of the Confederate States for some time past. Not one pound of cotton shipped by that house has gone to the United States, either by sale or capture. Every particle of it has gone to Europe. So much for "the Yankees getting our cotton."

It is broadly asserted that "scarcely a single article applicable to the immediate purposes of the war is brought in by the adventures which "run the blockade so constantly." We affirm, on the contrary, that, in making up the return cargoes, each steamer is first loaded with as much heavy freight for the Government as she can with safety carry, and that then packages of lighter goods are put in to complete the cargo. Most of the latter are also goods of the utmost importance to the Government and the troops, such as shoes, clothes, medicines, &c., &c. The invoices of Messrs. John Fraser & Co. are handed to the agents of the Government, and they are allowed to take whatever the Government desires, fixing the prices themselves. The balance, which the Government does not want, is advertised and sold at auction. Take, for example, the last steamer that ran the blockade—the Memo. She has brought in of heavy freight for the Government, 367 cases of rifles, containing 7340; 35 cases of swords, containing 2100; 87 cases ammunition; 39 cases of caps. This was her heavy freight, and as much as she could safely take. Besides this, she had aboard salt and cases of shoes, goods, &c., to complete her cargo. It is not customary to tell the public what the Government takes. This is but a sample of these "adventures." Almost all the goods brought in here are British goods. Some shoes, some cotton cards, some thread, some cases of calicoes, &c., have been bought at Nassau and brought to Charleston and sold at auction. But they were not paid for in cotton, nor was any cotton sold at Nassau to buy them. The cotton has all gone to Europe. They were paid for by exchange drawn on Liverpool or London. They have generally been articles greatly needed, which we could afford to purchase at Nassau, whether they came from Yankeedom or elsewhere.

A Clever Caricature.—The Richmond correspondent of the Charleston Mercury describes a sketch by Wm. Shepherd, representing "a comfortless room, with a grim sentinel at the open door, through which the unfinished dome of the United States Capitol is visible. He is seated at a table, which he has hacked with his knife, which lies on the table stuck in a bit of wood he has been whittling. Above his head is the bust of Washington on a little pedestal, with its face turned to the wall. The map of the United States hangs hard by, torn in twain, the rent stopping at Maryland. The American eagle, a most unhealthy and bedraggled bird, is on the floor, near Jonathan's chair, with a ball and chain to his foot. A vast spittoon, adorned with the once untarnished 'scutcheon of the Union, is in front of the table. Opposite to Jonathan is Lincoln, leaning over towards him, with a cunning leer in his eye. His foot is on the Constitution of the United States, his pantaloons pocket full of Treasury Notes, and the United States flag is stuffed in the pocket in his coat tail. He holds in his hand a great pill, the very sight of which makes poor Jonathan clutch his throat with his hand, to keep his gorge from rising. Other big pills are on the table, marked "War Tax," "Change of Base," "Greeley," &c., and beside them a black bottle, labelled "The Draft." The pill in Lincoln's hand is marked "Manassas, August 30th," and, as the wretched Jonathan looks at it, he exclaims, "Why, Dr. Ape-raham, you give me one o' them about this time a year ago, and said you was going to cure me in ninety days, and I ain't well yet."

To Keep Apples for Winter Use.—Put them in casks or bins, in layers, well covered with dry sand, each layer being covered; this preserves them from the air, from moisture and from frost; it prevents their perishing by their own perspiration, their moisture being absorbed by the sand; at the same time it preserves the flavor of the apples, and prevents their wilting. Pippins have been kept in this manner sound and fresh till midsummer; and how much longer they would have kept is not known. Any kind of sand will answer, but it must be perfectly dry.

Mechanics.—It used to be said that we had no mechanics in this country; but it can't be said now. The conscript act is working wonders in that respect; and shoemakers, tanners, foundry-men, coopers, blacksmiths, wagon-makers, millwrights, iron-makers, &c., are multiplying rapidly. And not less remarkable is the fact that mechanical occupations covered by the Exemption Act have suddenly attained a degree of respectability they never possessed before in the estimation of some very clever people. Bully for the Conscript! We shall soon be a community of artisans. Counter-hoppers and lawyers ain't nowhere. Leather aprons and cloated shoon are all the go now.
