Said real estate consists of a Grist Mill and premises, several tracts of Land lying within a convenient dis-tance of said town, and the following property in said town, to-wit: the Hotel, known as the Oxford Hotel; one or two Store houses, several vacant lots eligibly situa-HAVE about 5000 acres more, in different tracts, in the county of Moore,—Farming Mineral, and Turpeutine land,—which I will sell on liberal terms.

JOHN MORISON.

The Store nouses, several vacant tots eighly situated, and three or four other lots improved, having thereon neat and comfortable Dwelling houses, out thouses, &c. The mill is about three fourths of a mile from said town and is of great value. It grinds both wheat and corn, and manufactures a very superior arwheat and corn, and manufactures a very superior article of flour, and the custom to it is full and steady. The Hotel is situated in the centre of the town just opposite the Court House, and is capable of accomm dating a large number of guests. It has been long been discovered a salt mine and pure saltpetre, and an established and liberally patronized, and is widely and favorably known. Amongst the improved lots, attention is especially invited to the one on which the de-ceased resided. It contains about fifteen or twenty acres, and has on it one of the most elegant and com-modious mansions in the State, together with all neces-DERSONS wishing to buy TOWN PROPERTY will do well to call on the subscriber. I will sell on reasonare, as are also the other improvements about the grounds, in a style corresponding with that of the man sion house. There is also on the place a fine orchard the HESTER plantation, is deemed to be particularly valuable. It is six miles from the town of Oxford, and contains about nine hundred acres, of which nearly one-half, (mostly fresh land) is in cultivation, and the residue is in original forest. The soil is good and well adapted to the production of corn, wheat and tobacco. There is on the plantation a good dwelling house, with all such barns, stables, negro bouses, and other out-buildings as are necessary and suitable, and also a large apple and peach orchard. The negroes are about sixty in number, and amongst them are some valuable house-servants, seamstresses. field hands, mechanics, and also an experienced miller The perishable property consists of stock of different household and kitchen furniture, wagons and gear, farming utensils, corn, flour, bacon, and a great variety of things too tedious to mention. Should the weather be too bad on the day above de-mond Examiner:-"The scarcity of subsistence stores, outside of the army supply, in this town and the surrounding country, is almost incredible. Corn brings readily twenty five dollars per barrel, and it is almost impossible to obtain even at that price. A piece of sweet country bacon would be hunted down like an old hare at $1.50 per pound, whilst fresh meat is a luxury unknown, except occasionally when a stray cow meets an unexpected doom. The hogs have long since disappeared, and a do mestic fowl would have the novelty of a natural curiosity. Indeed, there is not a single feathered chanticleer to herald the morn within the hearing of Fredericksburg.'

Yankee Confessions of their own Enormities. -So inhuman and barbarous are the excesses of the Yankee troops becoming, that even many of the Northern papers are driven to tell of them A correspondent of the New York Herald, writing from Memphis, says:-

The most startling reports daily reach us of outrages by our soldiers all along the line of the Memphis and Charleston railroad. The Seventh Kansas regiment of cavalry are particularly mentioned as the perpetrators of outrages for which their officers ought to be dismissed from the service. Fences are pulled down and burned, hogs, eattle and fowls killed, horses and mules stolen houses burned, and pillage and rapine are their common, every day pursuits. Even ladies have had their clothes on their persons thrown over failure to do so will subject them to the charge and their heads, on the pretext that they had money on their persons which they would not give up Such desolation as has followed in their tracks in West Tennessee can never be adequately shadowed forth in words. It has to be seen to be appreciated Officers who fail to command their men are guilty, and should be made to suffer.

The "Southern Crisis" learns from Federal prisoners, captured at Holly Springs and sent to Jackson, that General Grant lost an amount of cotton, worth about $100,000, during Gen. Van Dorn's recent formal visit to that place. The. Federal army raised a long, loud, and joyous shout when they beheld the property of the speculating General destroyed.
