FRIDAY MORNING APRIL 13, 1860.

Home Missions.

We know that stiring appeals are made from some of our pulpits nearly every Sabbath for means to help the heathen—the far off heathen we mean, but it is seldom that we hear anything said concerning the suffering poor of our own town, unless it be an inflammatory appeal against drunkenness, now and then. This is very well, and if the pulpit can save frail humanity from the evils of intemperance by devoting a portion of its energies to that subject it should most certainly do it, but it has much to do in other matters—aye, there are other things which demand the serious attention of every good man and woman whether professing christians or not.

We have said that our people do much for foreign missions, and for it we give them all due credit, but should they not do a little more for the weak and helpless at their own doors? We think so. There is abundant material for all our benevolence, for only yesterday a couple of poor women, (industrious and respectable we have every reason to belive,) called on us and complained that they wanted work but could get none to do. They both have children to support and are dependent on their labor, and even the privilege of working for a pittance to keep soul and body together is denied them. They represented that they had walked the town looking for work until they were sick and tired, and assured us that there were at least a hundred in the same condition. They say that the time was when they could get sewing to do in Newbern but that the introduction of sewing machines and slop-shop work from the North now deprive them of it. They left their names with us with the prayer that we would send them work if we could; if therefore any one is disposed to help these two ladies by giving them something to do, and will make it known at this office, we will apprise them of it.

Now there is only one light in which to view this matter: our own poor must be taken care of, and if we continue to have our shirts and other clothing made in New York and thereby deny them that protection to which they are entitled, we must expect to be taxed in other ways for their support. The weak and helpless must not starve or want in a country that produces the necessaries of life so abundantly as ours. Had the early settlers of this country never learned to produce and manufacture but continued to import from Europe articles of common consumption they would never have become free and independent, and we their descendants would have been yet but subjects of the mother country; and so too will our dependence on the North continue until we learn to produce and manufacture what we consume. Hence the necessity of our fostering, protecting and encouraging all among us who desire to labor for an honest living. Let our people look to and ponder these things.

That Catastrophe!

It is known that the candidates for Governor met in discussion at Gatesville on the 3rd instant. The Murfreesboro' Citizen heads an Extra giving an account of the passage at arms thus:

"The Campaign Opened!!—Discussion at Gatesville!!—The Ball in Motion!!—Ad Valorem Doomed—Jno Pool Demolished!!—Know Nothingism Repudiated by the People!!—The East Protest against the Demolition of the Constitution!!!—No Abolition of the Mixed Basis!!—The people will preserve the Organic Law of the State from Dangerous Innovation!!"

Per Contra, the Albemarle Southron of Thursday, heads its account thus:

"The Canvass Opened!—Discussion at Gatesville!—Gov Ellis a Used Up Man!—The Opposition in High Spirits!—Pool Covered with Glory!—Democrats Down in the Mouth!"

Now to politicians this is all very plain and easy of comprehension—they know it is a privilege of the profession to stretcth and exaggerate as much as they please, but how will these conflicting accounts be received by the honest masses who are wout to believe that all they see in print expresses the truth? And this is only the beginning of the end—we shall expect to see it asserted before the canvass closes that both candidates have been skinned alive.

Great is politics, but greater is the political press.

Whig Meeting in Lenoir.

The Whigs of Lenoir held a meeting at Kinston on the 7th instant We condense the proceedings from the American Advocate:

A meeting of the Whigs of Lenoir County assembled at the Court House in Kinston on Saturday, the 7th of April, A. D. 1860.

Dr Jacob A Hartsfield was called to the chair and Mr Joseph J. Parker was requested to act as Secretary. The chairman explained the object of the meeting to be the appointment of delegates to the District Convention to be held at Newbern on the 25th inst., for the purpose of electing delegates to the National Convention which assembles in Baltimore on the 9th day of May next, and also to appoint an elector for the 2nd Congressional District.

Moved and carried, that sixty delegates be appointed by the Chairman to attend the District Convention.

Moved and carried, that any Whig, or opponent of the Democratic and Republican parties, from this county who may be at Newbern during the Convention be hereby empowered and requested to act as a delegate.

Moved and carried, that the Chairman and Secretary be added to the list of delegates.

Messrs J M Patrick, of Lenoir Institute, H R Strong, John F Wooten, D Hilton and W Dunn, Jr were severally called upon, who responded in appropriate remarks upon national and State politics—the latter mainly so far as related to the question of equal taxation.

Moved and carrid, that we heartily endorse the declaration of principles by the late Whig Convention in Raleigh, and that we will cordially support JOHN POOL, Esq, the representative of those principles, for the office of Governor of North Carolina.

Moved and carried, that the thanks of this meeting be tendered to the Chairman and Secretary for the discharge of their duties.

ELECTED PROFESSOR.—The Petersburg Express learns that Dr. Edward Warren, of Edenton, N. C., editor of the North Carolina Medical Journal, has been elected to fill the vacancy in the Faculty of the University of Maryland, occasioned by the death of Dr. Frick. Mr. Warren is said to be a young man of fine talents and high standing in his profession, and will no doubt reflect credit upon the chair that he is called upon to fill.

Home Again.

Having returned from the seat of justice of Green county, I hasten to report the weather exceedingly dry, warm and dusty, lest it might be overloked in the press of business.

The spring term of Green Superior Court was in session this week, Judge Howard presiding. The people of Green, like those of Jones county, have long since learned that it is wrong for "brother to go to law with brother," and acting accordingly, the most of them stayed at home planting cotton and corn, the result of which was the Court only held two days.

During my travels I noted down several important facts, or rather items of news, the most melancholy of which is the death on last Saturday or Sunday of Mr. Jno. Rouse, an aged gentleman in the upper part of Craven county, with whom the travelling public were pretty well acquainted under the old mail coach system, as his house was one of the stations on the line from Newbern to Goldsboro'. He was buried on Monday.

The most interesting item chronicled in my scrapbook is the fact that by the assistance of a couple of Green's most gallant sons I was enabled to increase the list of subscribers to the Weekly Progress by adding 23 or 24 new names, for which the receipt of the rhino is hereby acknowledged.

Among other things of less importance, collected by the way, is the growing tendency of the young gentry of our sister town, Kinston, to indulge occasionally in the very healthy exercise of boxing. A gentleman of that town informed me that there had been no less than twenty fights in that place in the last month or two.

The fire has been raging in the upper part of this county, in Dover Swamp and vicinity, for the last two weeks, doing great damage to fences, turpentine boxes, houses, &c. Yesterday I passed through that country; it was raging at a furious rate, and the neighbors were all out fighting almost to suffocation to keep it from their domicils. I understood that Mr. Charles White's entire crop of turpentine was destroyed, together with all his fencing and a portion of his buildings.

The most foolish thing I noticed was a couple of negroes with a pine log upon some forks, one on top and the other under it with a whip saw splitting it into boards, out of which to build a church. Now I don't think it's foolish to build churches and then to attend them punctually after they are built, but I do think it foolish to resort to that old antiquated method of making building lumber in this age of steam and electricity, particularly in Green county, where there are so many inducements for building steam saw-mills and where everybody is rich and got no poor kin.

Ad Valorem.

We think that those partizans who desire to make ad valorem a test for Legislative honors will be rather mistaken. See what the Standard says:

Wake County.—We would again respectfully remind our Wake County Democratic friends of the importance of holding meetings in all the Districts, and of having a full Convention at May Court to nominate candidates for the Legislature. We would also earnestly remonstrate against any disposition which may exist to establish a test on State affairs. Let us nominate Democrats, and not ad valorem or anti-ad valorem men. The Democratic party will begin to decline from the moment it begins—if ever it should unfortunately begin—to establish tests on State affairs. It is the Democratic party. It is not a party based on the changing issues of the day, and taking its name from the circumstances of the passing hour. In essentials let there be unity, in non essentials toleration, and in all things charity.

THE NEWSPAPER MANIA IN GEORGIA.—The Savannah Republican of Thursday, says:

"The little village of Waynesboro' in Burke county, where nobody thought of establishing a printing press until about a year ago, can now boast of two newspapers, and a prospectus for a third, to appear early in the coming month. More than this, they are all Democratic. The Democracy of Burke must have a strong backbone to afford a decent living to three "organs at the capital!" The News, the oldest of the trio, thinks there is room for still another, and suggests that the opposition get up an organ in the same locality. We would sugest that the Opposition wait awhile and take the chances of buying out the three."

This reminds us of the fact that newspapers are springing up as thick as hops all over this good old State of North Carolina just at this time, and they will continue to spring up for several months to come. Every village must have one "organ"—court house towns two or three, and some have been established where there were neither towns nor villages. Well, we don't object—they'll all doubtless do some good, and not much harm. But those who may want to enter the business permanently will have a plenty of chances to buy out exploded concerns after November. It is an easy matter to start a newspaper—any one can do that—but to keep one going is another thing.

CONGRESSIONAL.—The bill for the admission of Kansas was passed in the House on Wednesday by a vote of 134 yeas and 73 nays. Only three members from the non-slaveholding States voted against it, and three from the slave States voted for it.

During the debate Mr. Pryor showed that Mr. Potter had interpolated offensive remarks of a personal character in the report of the Lovejoy disturbance on Thursday last. The colloquy between them was of such a character as to lead to the apprehension that Pryor will challenge Potter.

NORFOLK CARD.—We refer our readers to the card of Messrs. Odom & Clements, Factors and Commission Merchants, Norfolk, Va.

Why cannot our cotton be shipped from Norfolk to Europe as well as from New York? These gentlemen offer the most satisfactory references and may be relied upon in every particular.

THE NEW BAND.—We were shown this morning the new set of musical instruments that have been ordered by the Wilmington Light Infantry for the use of the band which they have recenly formed. The instruments are of German silver, and were manufactured for the company by Messrs. Russell & Tolman, of Boston. They are ten in number, and it almost makes us feel musical ourselveds to see them. Mr. Collins' leading piece is said to be of pure silver, with a gold plate upon it, on which is inscribed, "Presented to the Wilmington Light Infantry by the Ladies of Wilmington, N. C. May 20th, 1860." The instruments will be upon exhibition for a short time, at Mr. Prisson's musical establishment on Front street, where all who wish to, can see them. —Wilmington Herald.

Wonder if the Wilmington Band will use their instruments as energetically as the Newbern Band have theirs? If so they will fill all the Cape Fear region with melody.

RE-ELECTED.—At an election for municipal officers in Portsmouth, Va., on Saturday last, Mayor Grice was re-elected by a majority of 105 votes over Nash his competitor. Mr. Grice was the democratic candidate. The democrats also elected their entire ticket for councilmen.

AT WILMINGTON.—We see it announced by the Wilmington papers that our townsman, D. K. McKrae, Esq., is to lecture in that place this evening, the proceeds to go to a benevolent purpose.

THE DRIFT OF DISUNION.

Republicanism, like murder, will "out."—Strive as some of the more cunning of its leaders may, to throw over its hideous features a thin gauze of conservatism, the cloven foot cannot be concealed. Thus, when Old Brown went into Virginia to stir up a servile insurrection there, the imputation that he was a Republican was indignantly denied. Nor was Gerrit Smith a Republican; nor anybody else who advocated or encouraged interference with slavery in the States. These persons were abolitionists, pure and simple, and ought not to be identified with the Republican party, that sought to deal with slavery only in the Territories, the common heritage of the country at large. This has all along been the preaching; but if the practice is in accordance with that preaching, then such men as Mr. Lovejoy, of Illinois, ought to be forthwith excommunicated from the Republican party. The member from Illinois, however, is as good a Republican as Mr. Sherman of Ohio, or Mr. Burlingame of Massachusetts, or Mr. Grow of Pennsylvania, or any other of the fathers, whose othodoxy and good standing in the church have never been called in question. Hence, it will scarcely do for the managers to seek to do away with the damaging influence of Lovejoy's appeal to the Republican party, to "extirpate slavery" by act of Congress—just as polygamy has been extirpated—by saying, "he is not a Republican;" or, "he is in advance of the Republican party;" or, "the Republican party is not responsible for his utterance." That game, we respectfully submit, is played out. Mr. Lovejoy is an excellent Republican. He is not anything in advance of the Republican party. The Republican party is responsible for his utterances. Hence, when he invokes Congress to "strangle slavery"—when he denounces the "spirit of slaveholding" as "the spirit of the devil"—when he says "public sentiment will burn and scorn out" the institution—his words are pregnant with fearful meaning—a meaning they could never have, were he simply giving expression to his own individual views. The meaning is, that the slavery agitation must go on, on, on. The further meaning is,—Insurrection, Civil War, and a Disolution of the Union. This is the true interpretation of Mr. Lovejoy's preaching on the floor of the House on Thursday last; and let no man say the preacher is not a member in good standing of the Republican Church.

This then being the drift, and these the tendencies of Republicanism, it is more than ever the duty of all good men who love their country better than party to throw aside the shackles of the political machine and rally under the banner of the Constitution and Union. We should be sorry indeed to think that there are not many thousands of moderate conservative men who are Republicans at present just because they cannot be Democrats, and do not know exactly where else to go. We put it to the thinking portion of these, whether the time is not come, when they have a solemn duty to perform to themselves and to their country; a duty that should move them at once to turn their backs upon a mischievous sectional organization, which in these Northern States, is gradually making up the fatal issue of Disunion and War. We repeat, that is just what interference with slavery in the States really means. We are happy to know that there are many national men who have hitherto acted with the Democratic party, who say that the drift of that once national organization was likewise to sectionalize—on the opposite extreme—who have had the courage and manliness to give up their party for the good of their country, and many more, we question not, will in due time follow their example.

If there are any Republicans who hesitate to follow where the Lovejoys lead, let them go and do likewise.—N. Y. Express.

WHAT THE TENNESSEE DELEGATES SHOULD DO.

The Jonesborough (Tenn.) Union says:

"Douglas will go into the Charleston Convention with a majority vote of its delegates. His friends are earnest, enthusiastic, head strong—like those who favored Buchanan's nomination at Cincinnati. In that memorable convention, no sooner did Douglas learn that Buchanan had received a majority of the votes of the convention (which required too thirds to nominate) than he promptly sent a telegram to his friends to withdraw his name and support Mr. Buchanan. This was done at once: and Buchanan was immediately nominated amidst boisterous exultations and the loudest enthusiasm.

"We hold that Douglas should be similarly treated at Charleston. We do not presume to dictate to our delegates; but we advise them, after they have put forward their own man with all their heartiness and strength to test his speed and bottom, to lead the South, if some other State is not before them, in a bold and enthusiastic onset to the support of Douglas. And this should be done at an early stage of the balloting, to effect any favorable result for Tennessee. A laggard support, when that support is not needed, is no support at all."

OUR COUNTRY FIRST.—Why did not the Republicans in the House of Representatives come right straight up, like men, and vote for the regiment of riflemen, to protect the (Texan) frontier from the robber raids of the Mexican freebooters? Or, likewise like men, come right out and say, No—not a cent for the protection of our countrymen from the cut-throats and cut-purses of the Cortinas stamp. We like frankness, but have no respect for such quibbling and dodging as that which we see some of the brethren are indulging, as an excuse for opposing the mesure. The appropriation for it was not an extravagant one, and the necesity for it, it seems to us, in view of passing events on the Rio Grande, no reasonable man can question. Sixty Republican votes were got, the other day, for "freedom for every human being" Cannot we have a vote now for "protection" to the human beings—our own countrymen—on the border? Is the white man to be of no account, ever? Is it the negro only that can have the sympathies of the majority in the House?

Ah, but then,—if we vote a million of dollars or so for this rigiment, don't you see how it may strengthen the Administration, and how it may be made as a sort of corruption fund, to defeat the Republican candidate for president.?

For these "mays," then, the national honor must be sacrificed, the houses of our countrymen burnt down about their ears, on American soil, and rapine and murder be permitted to go on, just as usual. Party is thus everything—the country nothing- Not one cent for defence, but millions, if they can be had, for the Chicago Convention! —N. Y. Express.

HON. ROGER A. PRYOR.—A correspondent of the New York Bee, writing from Washington, furnishes the following:

Probably the one whose future career is to be the most brilliant in the House, and who has already made his mark, is Roger A. Pryor. Always occupied, often busy hours, writing at one of the tables, erect as a palm tree, his long smooth hair parted at one side, dark clothes, with broad watchguard over his shirt-bosom, one might easily suppose he was some quiet parson, did he not see elderly members in confab with him. Sometimes he is seen in earnest conference with Hunter or Toombs, then Douglas takes him by the button, or Mason sits down for a dignified chat. His industry alone would make him distinguished. United to more than common ability, if his life is spared, his future career must be a distinguished one.

SAD AND FATAL AFFRAY.—On Thursday night last, there was a terrible tragedy enacted in Rockingham county, Va. The Harrisburg correspondent of the Richmond Dispatch writes as follows:

There was a wedding at the residence of Mr. Devier, on Briery Branch, in this county. Mr. D's daughter was married to a Mr. Sites. Some time in the evening after the marriage was over, a party of young men, some eight or nine in number, went to Mr. D.'s house and commenced serenading the newly-married couple with tin-pans, bells, &c. Mr. James Devier, a brother of the bride, went out to request the serenaders to leave, whereupon the serenaders took to their heels, and young Mr. D. and a friend who accompanied started in pursuit of the party. Devier, coming up near to one of them, a man by the name of Smallwood, the latter suddenly turned upon Mr Deveir and shot him—the slugs taking effect, one in Mr. Devier's forehead, one below the eye, and one in the neck; either of which would have caused death. Mr. Devier was shot and died instantly. The parties in the affair, or at least a part of them, are highly respectable. In any event it is a very sad termintion to what was, perhaps, inted to be a frolic.

What a "magnificent" river of revelry must have inundated the entire vicinity of the Head Quaters of his Majesty's forces in the Mediteranean, when the Right Hon. Edward Russell, in 1694, caused a "treat" to be prepared in the shape of an immense bowl of punch according to the following dimensions and arrangements, as presented in a scrap book:

"it was," says the account, "made in a fountain in a garden in the middle of four walks, all covered over the head with lemon and orange trees; and in every walk was a table, the whole length of it covered with cold collations, &c. In the said fountain were the following ingredients, viz: four hogsheads of brandy, eigh hogs heads of water, twenty-five thousand lemons, twenty galons of lime juce, thirteen cwt. lump sugar, five pounds grated nutmeg, three hundred toasted biscuits, and a pipe of Malaga wine. A canopy protected the fountain from the rain and a boy from the fleet rowed a boat around the fountain and filled the cups of the company, which comprised upwards of six thousand men"

ANOTHER INCENDIARY TRIAL.—At the same time that Worth was convicted in Randolph county, a man named Harrold Wyllys was convicted at Greenville, S. C., of circulating the Impending Crisis, and Uncle Tom's Cabin. He was sentenced to a year's imprisonment.

A bonfile was made of his stock in trade, by an intelligent negro Bob, in presence of a large crowd. Bob said, that "as freely as he applied the lighted match to the pile of combustibles before him, so freely would he have applyed it to any of the enemies of the South; for, said he, the man who is an enemy to the south is an enemy to my master, and an eiemy to my master is an enemy to me."

POSTPOING A DIVORCE.—The divorce docket of the coming term of the Circuit Court promises to be remarkably flushed with divorce cases. The docket contains, however, one less than it would have under the ordinary run of circumstances The case was placed in the hands of a lawyer, and both parties were anxious for the separation. The matter, it was thought, was fixed and ready for judical action, when on yestererday the lawyer was applied to and intstructed to "let the case drop for a year or two." Upon inquiring into the why and wherefore, he discovered that the parties couldn't agree as to the division of their children, three of which they were blessed with, and taking the advice of a maternal umpire, they agreed to live together until the number became four, when they could divide equally and seperate without difficulty.—Petersburg Express.

EPISCOPAL.—The Petersburg Express of Wednesday, says:

St. Paul Protestant Episcopal Church was the scene last night of the highly interesting ceremony of Confirmation, administered to fifteen candidates by the Right Rev. Bishop Meade. The church was filled from chancel to vestibule, and the galleries were thronged with visitors. The Rt. Rev. Bishop will perform the rite this evening, at half-past four o'clock, at Grace Chapel, when twenty-three candidates will be presented for confirmation.

A VALUABLE WORK CONTEMPLATED.—The Fayettville Courier is gratified to learn, that the Rev. F. M. Hubbard, a writer of considerable celebrity and Professor at the University of North Carolina, has in contemplation the publication of a history of that institution. It would be an interesting and valuable work, and we trust that Mr. Hubbard will consent to prepare it.

DECLINED.—Paul C. Cameron, Eqs., of Orange, has written a letter to the chairman of the Democratic State Executive Committee, declining the position of Electorfor the Wake District. Business of an imperative character demands his whole time and attention in the South.

NO MORE HANGING.—The Legislature of the State of Wisconsin has refused, by a very decided vote, to repeal the law abolishing capital punishment in that State.

AN EX-SENATOR FOR DOUGLAS.—Gov. H. S. Foote, formerly of Mississippi, then of California, and now of Tennessee, has written a long and strong letter in favor of Douglas for the Presidency.

PRESENTATION.—Edwin Booth, at the conclusion of his engagement at Charleston. Wednesday night, was presented with a silver pitcher, salver and two goblets. A lady also sent a laurel wreath to the actor.

INCENDIARY LANGUAGE.—A man named Wood for using incendiary language relative to the John Brown foray, received 39 lashes in the public square of Abbeville, S. C., on Saturday last, under legal sentence, and was then shipped off on the cars.

Dr. ROSCOE HOOKER,

TALENT AND DRUNKENESS.—Some men cannot write unless tipsy, and some cannot unless sober. Some are embarrassed by any inspiration except that of their own genious, and some must have the inspiration of the bottle to lift them above the things of common earth. It is all habit, we suspect. Byron, had he been accustomed to it, could have penned his most immortal verses under the influence of water "from the Castalian fount," as under that of gin, whether from Holland or Great Britain, Alfred de Musset could not send his "copy" to the Revue de Deux mondes unless supplied in advance with ten dollars and a bottle of brandy. Dumas, on the contrary, would write from morning till night, with nothing but a cup of tea to sustain him ad interim It is a pernicious opinion that all men of great literary talents are great drunkards, for how many are thereby led to suppose that it is only necessary to turn drunkard in order to become a man of talent!

DEATH OF STEPHEN.—We suppose that every printer who has stopped in Raleigh for the last forty five or fifty years, especially those who may have worked in the Register office, will recollect Stephen, or as he was better known here, "Steplen Gales."

Stephen belonged to the grand father of Seaton Gales, Esq., recently the editor of the Register, and has, for the last forty-five years, been a part and parcel of the Register office. It may be said of him that he died in the harness—at his post. The last work he ever did was pressing off the Register. He was taken sick beside the press a few evenings ago and died on Saturday morning last. Many persons have received epitaphs who were less merritorious, and had done less for their country than Stephen.

We were pleased to learn that his funeral was attended on Sunday by a large portion of the printer of this city.—Raleigh Press.

BE FIRM.—The winds and waves may beat against a rock standing in a troubled sea, but it remains unmoved. Vice may entice, and the cup may invite. Beware, stand firmly at your pot. Let your principles stand forth unobscured. There is glory in the thought that you have resised temptation and conquered. Your bright example will be to the world what the lighthouse is to the mariner upon a sea shore; it will guide others to the point of virtue and safety.

THE BEAUTY OF TRUTH.—Truth is always consistent with itself, and needs nothing to help it out; it is always near at hand, and sits upon your lips, and is ready to drop out before you are aware: whereas a lie is troublesame, and sets man's invention on the rack, and one trick needs a great many more to make it good. Truth can live in all regions, flourish in all soils, and become naturalized in all climes.

$25 REWARD.—Runaway from the subscriber on the night of the 24th ult., his negro man CHARLES. Said negro is about five feet 3 or 4 inches high, about 45 years old—throws his right foot out considerably in walking. He is well known about town. Has an old look. He formerly belonged to Mr. J. M. THE COPPER TOE:

A New Era in Domestic Economy!

It is well known that Children and Youth usually wear out their Boots and Shoes at the toe, in a few weeks—sometimes in a few days. Buy them with and you will save Two Thirds of the expense of supplying your children with shoes.

This invention enables us to offer to the public Boots and Shoes, that Never Wear Out at the Toes.

We have hundreds of Testimonials from parents who have bought them, showing, that on the average, one pair of Shoes with the Tips, will for children, wear as long as three pair without, and for Misses, Boys and Youths, they will wear at least twice as long, while

The Cost is but a Trifle More.

This statement is made with entire confidence in its strict truth, as it is based on a careful examination of the Facts, in an experience of more than two years, which has proved that these Copper Toed Shoes, have on an average, worn at least three times as long as the old style, and as the cost is but a Trifle more, the importance of this invention to all having little feet to protect, will at once be seen.

This invention is also important as a protection against the cutting of the Prairie Grasses, also for Miners' and Plantation use, and all occupations where the toes of the Boots or Shoes are particularly liable to be cut or worn.
