FRIDAY MORNING, AUG. 3, 1860.

The Election Vesterday and the Besult in Craven.

The polls opened here yesterday morning and all went on quietly. We went up about 11 o'clock and voted without molestation, and in fact every body seemed to be doing just as they pleased .-We noticed the two candidates for Sheriff around | cotton, and 23 acres of sweet potatoes, all of which | and about the polls but did not see any of the candidates for the Legislature during the day.

The vote polled here and throughout the county, as will be seen by the tabular statement which the very lowest estimate, my loss is as follows, we give elsewhere, was a large one.

There was but few country people in town and as a number of citizens of the town attended the different polls in the country the streets, with the exception of the immediate vicinity of the Court House, were probably more quiet than usual.

IMPUDENCE OF BENNETT.-Here is old cockeye's notion of the way to get out of "the present crisis:"

Johnson can do, and the best thing that Mr. Bell und Mr. Everett can do, in this crisis, for themselves, their friends and their country, is to withdraw from this Presidential canvass, so as to remove all obstructions to a fair fight between Lincoln and Breckinridge, the only two candielectoral vote of the Union.
