STATE POLITICS.

The Douglas State Committee and the Breckinridge State Committee came in contact yesterday, and were in association, at the Astor House and elsewhere, more or less, all day. They were very complaisant, and very polite,—but they ended the first day in talk, talk, talk,—to re-meet again this morning

We must confess that we have little or no hopes from this organization. They do not seem to comprehend the people of the State, or the great issues at stake —and in all probability they will end in doing nothing.

Meanwhile, another body of men—Breckinridge men, Douglas men and Bell men—met last night at the Metropolitan Hotel,—with the earnest intent of having but one Electoral Ticket in this State. This meeting is doubtless the nucleus of a great movement, which will be responded to, in a l parts of the State, and which, in the end, will produce THE ONE Electoral Ticket of the State,—that the Union people will vote for en masse. All the States are to be represented at this great mass meeting. It is to be held at the Cooper Institute on the 17th inst., and delegates from the thirty States will be expected to address the meeting Roll on the ball. New York is for the Union for the sake of the Union.—N. Y. Express.

TEXAS POLITICS AND CROPS.—The Alamo Express says:

A proposition is now on foot, in this region, to raise a new Electoral Ticket, to be composed of all parties opposed to Breckinridge and Lincoln. This ticket will be voted for by the friends of Houston, Bell and Douglas. If they carry the State they go instructed to vote for the strongest of these three, to beat Breckinridge, and for Breckinridge as a dernier resort to beat Lincoln. The proposition is a fair one, and should meet the hearty support of all lovers of the Union, and opponents of sectionalism. It promises to become the plan of action in Texas: thereby fate will decide our preferences, and crush the fatal spirit of disunion, that is now running rife in the land.

The Express advocates this combination; and, from other indications, we should not be at all surprised if this be the plan adopted by the Opposition in Texas.

Mr. J D Evans, who lately made a tour through the counties of Upshur, Rusk, and Cherokee, informs the Marshall Republican—

That the crops, although very light, will turn out much better than was anticipated. There will be a larger yield of both corn and cotton. In the most of neighborhoods there will be sufficient corn for bread. About one-sixth of a crop of cotton will be gathered, but of a very trashy and indifferent quality.

McRae and Clingman—Union or Disunion.

The following article from the National Democrat, a paper just started at Raleigh, gives, we suppose, a very correct report of the colloquy between McRae and Clingman which occurred at the Breckinridge barbecue at Raleigh. It also shows what would be the result of Mr. Clingman's disunion scheme, in the event of Lincoln's election, in North Carolina. Wonder if the people will approve these disunion sentiments in November? We think not. Wonder if the Legislature will sustain Mr. Clingman knowing such to be his position?—We think not. The fact is we fear that Mr. Clingman's race (political) is nearly run, and soon he will be shelved with other worn out furniture. Here is the article from the Democrat:

THE BARBECUE.

If our friends, the supporters of Mr. Breckinridge, intended the demonstration at the Fair Grounds on Thursday, to be a general Mass Meeting of rejoicing &c, as we think it was publically announced, it was a decided failure. If intended as a county meeting, the Masses of Wake did not very heartily respond, though it was heralded over the State and elsewhere that Gov. Wise would certainly be here.

We observed on the stand, Gov. Ellis, Senators Bragg and Clingman, Hon's. Bedford Brown, Edwards, Craige, Branch, Venable and Avery, and Messrs. E G Haywood, and Dickson of Burke. Messrs Fulton, Yates and Spelman represented the press. Mr Brown led off; and was followed by Messrs Clingman, Bragg and Venable. During Mr. Clingman's remarks, the colloquy published below to which we call the especial attention of our readers, took place. In that Mr. Clingman's position is defined. Mr. Bragg who followed endorsed it; of this, we shall have occasion to speak herafter.

Knowing the gentleman who had the engineering of the dinner, we can say, though not present, that if any left hungry, or dissatisfied, it was their own individual fault.

In the evening Messrs. Avery, Scales, Dickson and others spoke in the Capitol. We were not present, being engaged in listening at the Court House, to a speech of D. K. McRae, Esq. Mr. McRae spoke for nearly two hours, to a crowded house; who were perfectly carried away with his wit, sarcasm, humor and logic. Mr. Clingman's disunion position suffered some; as also the position of other leaders. Impromptu, as was the occasion, it certainly was a great and decided triumph.

Upon the whole, we think the friends of Douglas and Johnson lost nothing by the barb
