LOCAL MATTERS. MEETING OF THE BOARD OF CITY COMMISSIONERS.—Monday evening, the Board of City Commissioners held an adjourned meeting.

On motion of Mr. Gorman, the election of city officials should be postponed until the next meeting.

SHIP ARRIVAL.—PORT NEWS.—On "Glasmer" in the City Cemetery may be seen a beautiful model of a full rigged ship riding at anchor.

It is about fifteen feet long, and every spar and appointment is in perfect accord. This unique and pleasing ornament to our "City of the dead" will be viewed with great interest by visitors to this lovely spot, both adult and juvenile.

Mr. Bryan was formerly a sea captain and our landlubbers can therefore understand that all the appertinances of the vessel are in "ship shape".

CITY IMPROVEMENTS.—The Skinner residence, on the corner of Hillsboro and Salisbury streets, having been recently purchased by a Mr. Swenson, of Knoxville, Tenn., is now undergoing alterations, repairs and generally improved.

"THE LAST OF THE MOHAGANS."—On last evening we interviewed a man who represented himself as just from the Joliet Barracks Prison in Illinois, who was captured as a Confederate soldier, near Greensboro', in 1865.

There were five trots at Fleetwood Park yesterday. First, won by Frank, in three heats; best time, 3:06. Second, won by Belle Jones in five heats; best time, 2:44.

From London. The London journals of this morning devote much space in their editorial columns to remarks upon explanations regarding the indirect claims and position of the English government made in the House of Lords last night by Lord Granville, and in the House of Commons by Lord Gladstone.

WHAT DYSPEPSIA MAY BE.—Indigestion is not a disease, but the faculty. Perhaps not, in itself, while it remains more indigestion; but look at the consequences to which it leads, and often does lead, when it becomes a chronic disease. A spark kindled in the stomach, the pressure of the food will not pass, and a death will extinguish it. Yet it may fire a powder mill, or kindle a flame which will consume a city. In like manner indigestion may produce gastritis, cancer of the stomach, consumption of the lungs, apoplexy, liver disease, and many other dangerous maladies. It is, therefore, more clearly and indisputably established than that Hostetter's Stomachic is a specific and reliable remedy in all its stages with this wholesome, powerful, and infallible tonic and alternative. It is a medicine which sparks like a flame, and it is easier to cure dyspepsia when it is first developed, than when it has become a chronic disease. It is a safe-guard and a remedy for fever and ague, bilious remittents, and other epidemics, it is the only one that can uniformly be depended on.

There was a frog who lived in a spring. He caught such a cold that he could not sing. Poor, unfortunate Batrachian! In what a sad plight he must have been! He had a cold, and he was a singer. Many a once tuneful voice among those "frogs" is utterly spoiled by "cold in the head," or on the lungs, or on the stomach, or on the bowels, or on the "croaker," we are not aware that any remedy was ever devised; but we rejoice to know that Dr. Pierce's Great Medical Discovery, both of which are sold by druggists.

A HOTEL THIEF CAPTURED.—Friday night a well dressed young man called at the Grand Hotel, and registering his name as William J. Buckley, desired to be shown to a room. A room being assigned him, he shortly afterwards retired. The night watchman employed in the hotel, while going his rounds a few minutes before 7 o'clock yesterday morning, discovered Buckley coming from the room of John H. Merrill, one of the guests, and seeing the services of the watchman, he was taken to the ninth precinct, who was in the vicinity, caused his arrest. Upon searching him, a diamond stud, valued at $50, which he had taken from the room, was found in his possession. The watch, containing a small amount of money, was found at his feet in the hallway. There were also found on his person a pair of hip boots, a pair of trousers, a pair of shoes, and a number of skeleton keys. After sitting for his picture to be placed in the Rogues Gallery yesterday morning, he was arraigned before Justice Cox, at Jefferson Market and committed for trial.—N. Y. Herald.

COL. JOHN S. MOSBY'S POSITION.—We have seen a letter from Col. John S. Mosby to a friend in this city, in which reference is made to a reported conversation between Colonel Mosby and President Grant. Referring to that report, Col. M. says: "I see I am reported as saying to Gen. Grant that I would support him 'even if a Democrat were nominated against him.' I do not care about coming out in the papers to correct this, but I hope my friends will not think that I said any such thing. On the contrary, I expressly told General Grant that I would support the Democratic nomination, but as between him and Greeley, I was in favor of the South going for the one that would offer us the most generous terms; i. e., that the Philadelphia Convention must outbid Cincinnati."

An Iowa woman has invented a washing machine, and has already had it patented. She walked off from her husband the day after she received her patent. The Washington Patriot says that Mrs. Grant's usual Tuesday afternoon receptions at the White House, will be discontinued on and after Tuesday next.

A. E. Dickinson has authorized the Woman's Journal to say that she not only did not go to the Cincinnati Convention, but had no intention of going.
