ITS SPREAD IN THE COUNTRY.

Appearance of the Horse Dropsy.

Nearly every horse in the city with the exception of a few old hardened staup to a late hour last evening no fatal cases were reported. Only the overworked horses seem to be sufferring on Hampton Roads, nearly opposite Fortress Monroe, Virginia, in full view of that forcess, Fort Calhoun, Chesapeake Bay, and James River with a water view unsurpassed in America, where every luxury of sea and land is obtainable, was opened to the public for the first time the past season, and having proved a success unparrelled in the history of seaside resorts, has induced the stockholders to make an effort morning. The old "Roan" of Dr. Fab Haywood, Sr., Dr. Wm. G. Hill's ' Dun,' Dr. Chas. E. Johnson's old "Whitey" and Dr. Burke Haywood's pair still hold | report. out, but all of our young M. D.'s are either on foot or accommodate themselves to mule transportation. The horses at the three public stables are all on the mend, and the proprietors expect to resume business in a very few days.

It is generally believed that we are now in the midst of the crisis, and its worst is being passed. Very few horses are seen on the strects, all the drays and public carts being drawn by mules and oxen. Wood is scarce, but owing to the large importation of oxen from the country the price so far has not been raised. Contrary to the expectation and tears of many in this city the market is well supplied with meats, vegeta bles, &c., &c., from the country, and there has been no occasion for an advance in these commodities. So much for being prepared and conveniently located for oxen transportation, which $100,000 though slow, is yet the cheapest. From several points in the country we learn with regret that the epizootic is spreading to nearly every farm, but fortunately for our farmers, it occurs at a season that the loss of time does not conflict with the farming interest. · For the benefit of our country friends (and all others) we publish below an other treatment which we take from a late number of a celebrated medical journal, and especially recommended by a leading physician of this city: "The patient should be excused from all labor and allowed complete rest. The stables should be cleanly and well ventilated. Disinfectants may be useful and in some stables necessary. Any of the following will answer: Carbolic acid, sulphate of iron, or bromo-chloralum. The patient should be properly groomed, and the nose and eyes frequently sponged with water, and the limbs, if cold, bandaged. The drink should have the chill slightly removed, but not enough to make :t warm and unpalatable. The diet should be light and of a laxative nature; say spout feed or bran, wetted or scalded, with a little salt added. Hay in limited quantities may be allowed. "In regard to remedies I wish to say that heroic treatment should not be tolerated. Blood-letting cathartic nauseates, and arterial sedatives are all of them either injurious or uncalled for. Next, whatever medicines are administered should not be given in the form of dranghts or drenches, as the animal is sure to be thrown into a paroxysm of coughing the moment a dreach is attempted, and some of the medicine will, in such event, be almost sure to find its way into the windpipe and bronchial tubes, thus inducing fatal bronchitis or pneumonia. Balls should not be given as they will be coughed back or out, and the irritability of the throat will be increased in attempting to pass them over with the hand or finger. Powders are weil-nigh useless, as when mixed with the food the patient will usually refuse both food and powders. Electuaries, syrups, or pastes are the only forms in which medicines may be successfully administered in cases where the throat is tender and irritable, and, coughing casily induced. "Saline medicines I regard as the most useful in this disease. Any of the following will answer :- Chlorate of potash, muriate of ammonia, or hyposulphate or soda. As an anodyne to relieve the cough, fluid extract of bella-donna may be added. The proper dose of either of these medicines may be rubbed up with two or three ounces of honey or molasses, and these poured in the mouth from a small bottle or placed the State Agricultural Society met in the on the tongue with a spoon. Given in parlor of the Yarborough House yester this way the medicines will be readily day at 1 o'clock. lapped up and easily swallowed. the above named Churches: "The people of this capital are surely more than ordinarily blessed in all that pertains to their worship. The churches are all comfortable and well constructed; two of them are notably large, and one is exceedingly beautiful. In a wide and various observant roving over many lands, I have seen and entered few shrines to the "Living God" more appropriately and pleasingly beautiful, without and within, than "Christ Church" in Raleigh. I have not space to describe or criticise. But I enjoin, for their own sakes, all who may contemplate a visit hither to come prepared to remain over one Sab bath at least, and to go that day to the Episcopal service. Neither eye nor ear will soon forget the impression. They will certainly hear a good and devout sermon if the venerable pastor in regular charge should be in the pulpit. And they will be sure to hear the superbest music both of voice and instrument, if the present choir remains in the gallery. Whoever plays the organ there, especially, must be a pure and good spirit, as well as an inspired Miriam in her art. Altogether, I find it hard here to keep up my wonted impartiality as to the several churches-find it hard to ever pass the Episcopal for any other. But there is so much to attract to some of the others, too, I do not much fear I is a man whose graces and apilities would distinguish and attract to any pulpit; and were they but ordinary, his voice and articulation alone, with zeal, would make his ministry a popular and successful one." We shall publish to morrow what he says about the Presbyterian Church. We advise "Mecklenburg" to go next Sunday to the Methodist Church and listen to the popular pastor, Rev. A. W. Mangum, whose sermons are always Impressive and eloquent.
