The people of Louisiana must accept to us a little premature. the situation, not only because they are powerless to resist the Federal power, but because it is their duty to appeal first to the Courts below, and if justice is denied them, to look to that higher tribunal, the Supreme Court of the United States, for redress of their wrongs. If the law itself sanctions the extraordinary course of Durell, and the Supreme Court so decides, then the only remedy will be a repeal of the unjust law, at the earliest practicable moment. If the unjust law is not repealed, but remains upon the statute books in all its revolting features, then there must be still submission to oppression and outrage, rather than add to the horrors of the situation by a vain and bloody

THE WILMINGTON JOURNAL. The Wilmington Journal began its twenty-second volume on the 1st inst,

On that day it appeared in a new dress, and in an enlarged form. It is now a thirty-two column sheet, the largest daily in the State, and it is one of the handsomest and ablest edited.

Col. William L. Saunders, the popular and efficient Chief Clerk of the Senate, for the first time makes public approuncement of his connection with the Journal, although it is well known that he has been contributing for months to its editorial columns, his able, trench ant and well-written articles adding much to the interest and usefulness of the paper.

With two such Editors as Major Joseph A. Engelhard and Col. Saunders, pained that the private affairs of her the Journal is bound to remain, as it family have been paraded with so much has heretofore been, a power in the land, and a bold, earnest, eloquent advocate of the rights, interests and honor of the Old North State.

Long may the Journal flourish. Its gifted editors have our best wishes for their journalistic prosperity and success, and for their individual welfare and happiness as well.

We make the following extract from the editorial announcement of the com mencement of the twenty second volume of the Daily Journal . "What the Journal has been it will continue to be. In twenty-one years, almost without intermission, it has made its daily visits to its patrons in this city and throughout the country, Looking back through its columns we have a minute record of the progress of Wilmington, and the current history of the State and country for nearly a quarter of a century. Its commercial and advertising columns give a full and correct history of the business of our city, which can be found nowhere else. Its moral, social and health statistics are no less

OAKES AMES AS A TRUSTEE. We have referred to the contemplated suit of the President of the Union Pacific Railroad Company for eighteen millions of dollars, against the holders of the Credit Mobilier stock.

This suit, if brought and prosecuted to judgment, is better calculated to bring out the facts, and expose the transactions of the implicated Congressmen, than any Committee of investigation which Congress can appoint. Such Committees do not ordinarily accomplish anything. The friends of the accused usually manage, in some way, to have a a controlling voice, and nine times out of ten their reports are mere white-washing affairs that generally
