LOCAL BRIEFS.

Another grand dress hop is talked of. No Mayor's Court yesterday, and not a single police arrest.

Several civil suits were tried before Justice Whitaker yesterday.

Ample religious facilities are accorded to-day to all who are piously inclined.

In the last two weeks some 30 colored laborers have left this county for South Carolina.

A negro man living some 10 miles east of this city, had his left hand badly shattered by the accidental explosion of a gun which he was handling.

What have we done that the Rocky Mount Mail should cut us off its list.—To get a copy of this week's issue of said paper, we were compelled to borrow.

None of our business, but should it rain to-day, as in all probability it will, will it not prevent some of those who went through the drenching rain to the Tucker ball Thursday night from going to Church.

Carter, the druggist is securing a large and general assortment of fresh goods in his line. His stock of toilet soaps is peculiarly attractive. Get the Paris bouquet, and you need no lubin to sweeten you up.

We would again call the attention of the proper authorities to the open condition of the unfinished well on the corner of Salisbury and Edenton streets. When we have "well enough," we will let it alone—not until then.

Owing to the want of drainage on South street, the tenants of Mrs. Elizabeth Wilton are sadly in need of boats for transportation about the yards. The Street Commissioners will take due notice of this fact and govern themselves accordingly.

Preempt the barber who is by the way the only white barber in the city, and a thorough gentleman besides, still runs his Tonsorial saloon opposite Metropolitan Hall. There is no man in Raleigh more highly deserving of a large patronage than Preempt.

DEATH OF A WELL KNOWN CITIZEN.—We regret to announce the death of C. F. Johns, Esq., a well known and esteemed citizen of this county, which occurred yesterday at his residence about 8 miles southeast of this city. We had not heard of the gentleman's illness and therefore, can give no particulars. Mr. Johns was about 35 years old.

A CURIOUS PROPHYLACTIC AGAINST SMALL-POX.—In view of the prevalence of this dreaded disease in various portions of the State, we publish the following statement from an Alabama physician, as the facts stated therein may possibly have merit in them:

At a recent meeting of the Alabama State Medical Society, Dr. G. D. Norris, of Huntsville, stated that, during a visitation of small-pox at Huntsville, a number of families used a tea made of the cimicifuga racemosa, and that in no instance did any of these persons take the small-pox. Dr. Norris was unable to learn at whose instance this device was adopted. He stated further, that, during the time these families used the tea he attempted to procure a number of the families, and that in every instance he failed, but that after the tea was discontinued he succeeded with vaccination in the cases where he had failed while they were under the influence of the tea.

This cimicifuga racemosa is known as the black snake root, or cohosh. It should be used in moderation, because large doses produce impaired vision, vertigo, nausea and vomiting. Its medicinal properties are highly esteemed by many eminent members of the medical profession. In the Transactions of the American Medical Association, vol. 1, 352, Dr. F. N. Johnson reported extraordinary success with it in acute rheumatism. In chorea, a disease often allied with rheumatism, the medicine has been very successfully used.

One ounce of the root may be boiled for a short time in one pint of water, and from half a pint to a pint may be used in twenty-four hours. The fluid extract is probably superior to any other preparation. This should be made by some able pharmacist. The dose of the fluid extract is about a teaspoonful three or four times a day.

The facts stated by Dr. Norris go to confirm the truth of Jenner's discovery, that vaccination is small pox. Another curious fact is worth remembering in this connection. The cimicifuga racemosa is called the black snake root, and is supposed to have received that name from its assumed efficacy in curing the bite of the rattlesnake. Here is another curious coincidence: Professor Henry, of Manchester, England, discovered that a heat equal to 38 degrees of Fahrenheit's scale entirely destroys the poison of small pox, of the rattlesnake and of the cobra di capello. This important truth should be a prophylactic against the senseless destruction of bed clothing and personal clothing of victims of small pox. Boiling water is 212 degrees of Fahrenheit's scale, and will utterly destroy small pox virus.

Black snake root will be in much greater demand than ever before, if the above statement be true, and if the facts become generally known. An antidote against small-pox, against the bite of a snake, as well as rheumatism, is surely an article of great value. We are informed that the black snake root and ginseng are found to grow luxuriantly and very abundantly in Western North Carolina. It is probably more abundant there than anywhere else on this continent.

BORROWED BOOKS.—A friend, who has suffered from the evil complained of, suggests the following article on book borrowing:

Our own experience has been an expensive one. A large number of our books are now 'out on the borrow'—Some of them our most valuable works, and many have been out for a year and more. All efforts on our part to have them brought home have proven fruitless, and we have come to the conclusion that some of our 'book' friends have no conscience. Why, to borrow a book, involves certainly as sacred an obligation as does the loan of the price of the book in money. But there are many people who take a different view. We have loaned out a large number of books, and perhaps as many more were taken from our shelves during our absence, and without permission. Only in a few instances are they returned. We hear the same complaint from other people who are unfortunate enough to 'own books.'

SUPREME COURT.—This body met at 10 o'clock, all the Justices present. Argument was resumed in the case of W. H. Howerton, et al., vs. S. McD. Tate, et al., and continued throughout the session. Judge Merrimon concluded his argument for the defense. W. H. Bailey, Esq., commenced his argument for the plaintiffs, but did not conclude before the adjournment of the court. Col. Coleman will follow Mr. Bailey for the defendants.

On Monday appeals from the 3rd Judicial District will be called promotorily. On Thursday appeals will be heard from the 7th District.

SUNDAY SCHOOL MEETINGS.—There will be a mass meeting of the Sunday Schools in our city, at 3 o'clock this afternoon, in the Baptist Church; also at the same church at 7 o'clock, P. M., a general meeting of the parents and friends of the young. Rev. John McCullough, of Kentucky, Secretary of the Southern Department of "The American Sunday School Union," and Rev. G. S. Jones, of North Carolina, who for the past five years has labored as a Sunday School missionary in our State, will address the meetings.

All are most cordially invited to attend.

DEATH OF AN OLD RESIDENT.—Mrs. Margaret E. Ramsey, for many years a resident of Rocky Mount, died in Wilmington, Del., on the 12th inst., in the 55th year of her age. Her remains reached this place on the 11th, and were buried on Tuesday, and were buried in the yard of the M. E. Church, of which she was a consistent and life long member. She leaves a host of friends to mourn her loss.—Rocky Mount Mail.

Mrs. Ramsey was the mother of Mr. Ramsey the enterprising clothing merchant of this city.

A runaway mule team caused a little current of excitement on McDowell street yesterday afternoon.

SUPERIOR COURT.—The Court met at 10 o'clock. Criminal docket resumed. State vs. Henry Garrard, assault and battery. Not guilty.

The Judge proceeded to pass sentence on Wm. Mitchell, colored, alias Chick Boots, convicted several days ago for assault and battery on Luke Thompson. Judgment of the court that the defendant, Wm. Mitchell, alias Chick Boots, be confined at hard labor in the State prison for three years.

Simpson Mordecai and Thomas Griffee, the convicted men of the "Hicks Outrage" case were brought before the Bar of the Court and Judge Wats pronounced upon their guilty heads the sentence of death as follows:

"You have been convicted by a jury of your countrymen, selected by a jury of yourselves, of one of the highest crimes known to our law.

The Court, on account of your power, and in obedience to a general provision of the Constitution, assigned you counsel learned in the law, and faithfully have they discharged their duty. Every effort has been made by them in this Court to avert the terrible doom that awaits you.

No reasonable complaints can therefore be made by you or your friends for want of able and learned counsel. Neither can you complain at the verdict of the jury, who were forced to render a painful and unwilling verdict, from the overwhelming and convincing testimony against you. And we cannot suppose that any prejudice existed against you in the mind of the jury, when ten twelfths of them were of your own race. Your own conduct has brought down upon the terrible judgment of the law; and you have placed upon the Court the saddest and most painful duty that can attach to the position it holds, that of consigning you to a felon's grave; and while regrets for an ill-spent life will be of little use to you, you will have a short period for repentance and prayer; and I beseech you to seek forgiveness of Him who alone can save you, even to the uttermost: That in the world to come, in vast eternity, to which we are all hastening, you may stand redeemed from sin and accepted through the mediation and atonement of our Lord and Master.

Now, in vindication of the majesty of a violated law, and in obedience to its mandates, It is the Order of the Court, that you, Simpson Mordecai and Thomas Griffee, be taken to the Common Jail of the county, and be kept in close confinement therein, until Friday, the 28th day of February next, and on that day you shall be taken thence by the Sheriff, and between the hours of twelve o'clock, meridian, and two o'clock, past meridian, of that day, and within the Jail enclosures, you will be hanged by the neck until you are dead.

May God, in His infinite mercy and goodness, have mercy upon your souls."

An appeal by their counsel was prayed and granted.

A drunken or crazy man got into the capitol yesterday morning and created a great disturbance in the passage between the two Halls of the Legislature. He was taken out by the Pages of the House. The policemen that arrested us sometime ago for whistling was not around while this wholesale disturbance was going on.
