However, much I may deplore this, duty constrains me to oppose any measure like this, involving, as I believe, more than one hundred and fifty thousand dollars of hard earnings which this bill proposes to wring from the pockets of the tax-payers without their consent, to be devoted to an unholy and unrighteous a cause as this proposition seems to be. What do the friends of this measure propose? Wny,sir, they propose to revive an old charter of a Turnpike road, known as the Asheville and Marion ages of six and twenty one, instead of Turnpike road, for which they require and in the Federal Courts.

Collections made in all parts of North over one hundred thousand dollars to carry out the provisions. Then they amend by adding a new section running from Asheville to Paint Rock on the Tennessee line, with a branch road from that trunk line to Marshal in Madison county, also additional sections running through all the northwestern counties to wit: Yancey, Mitchell, Caldwell, Ashe, Alleghany, Watauga and Surry, thence, perhaps, eastward in the direction of Currituck on the extreme eastern border which, in my humble opinion, embraces not less than four or five hundred miles of road at a cost of not less than from one hundred and fifty to two hundred thousand dollars.

What a specticle for the people of North Carolina, as well as the entire world to behold! Our present indebtedness, as claimed by some persons, is now about $40,000,000, and all the vital interests of the State are fast approaching financial ruin, with our internal improvement system broken down under the oppression of debt. Now the last vestige of her railroads, viz: the Western Extension from Salisburg west, is under execution, and could be re-
