

THERE SHOULD BE NO DISSENTING VOICE!

The North Carolina Amnesty Bill, which will probably come up for discussion in the House this week, should pass without any dissenting voice. The attempt of the Republicans to make it a party question is unworthy of the purposes and objects of the Bill, and should be spurned by the reasonable and independent men of that party in the House.

The Conservatives are in favor of it, because the principle which the Bill seeks to proclaim and establish is founded in patriotism, justice and charity. No Republican should vote against it because of the clamor raised in the Senate, on the alleged ground that it is an attempt to connect loyal with disloyal organizations or societies. Such an argument is pointless and absurd. Secret societies of both parties are included, because the Bill is designed to be non-partisan in its character, and appeals to the sense of justice as well as feelings of humanity of every member of the Legislature, regardless of party bias or affiliation.

Granted, that no offences have been committed by the Loyal Leagues, Red Strings or Heroes of America, the simple enumeration of their names with other societies that are branded as disloyal does not make the former responsible for the acts of the latter. If no crimes have been committed by societies composed of Republicans, then it would be a more graceful act for the Republicans of the Legislature to give shape and application to their professed devotion to the principles of universal amnesty.

But it is not true that the acts of violence and outrage that have been committed in North Carolina since the war have been confined to the secret organizations of either one of the political parties. It will do no good to enter into a detailed account of the disgraceful occurrences and deeds of violence and wrong which have transpired within the borders of our State in the past five or six years. Much less will it serve any useful purpose to seek to hold any one party exclusively responsible for these calamities.

It is enough to know that all secret party associations have been disbanded; that raids and deeds of organized lawlessness have ceased; that attempts of political or other societies to take the law in their own hands are no more witnessed; that all unlawful combinations of every character have been abandoned in North Carolina, and that the civil law reigns supreme in every county and township in the State.

Now that all secret political societies have been overthrown, it is the duty of every patriot to seek to promote a sound public sentiment and to inculcate feelings of kindness, peace and harmony. North Carolina can never enter upon a career of genuine prosperity until we have domestic tranquility and a cessation of strife and bitterness among our people.

We must bury the heart-burnings of the recent past in the grave of the secret societies that gave origin and development to the atrocious crimes that have stained the once spotless reputation of our beloved State.

The Amnesty Bill, now before the Legislature, is a step in the right direction. It does not purpose to pardon individuals for individual acts. The purport and object of the Bill is to give amnesty for political offences or for all offences committed under the order and decrees, or by the sanction of secret or other societies.

It will be a grand day for North Carolina when the hatred and malice which have been engendered through the demoralization of these disjointed and troubled times are forever banished from the hearts of our people. It will be a day fraught with the most auspicious hopes and aspirations, and will usher in a new era in the history of the State—an era of confidence, magnanimity, quietude and domestic happiness.

The Conservative party of North Carolina appeal to the Republicans to join in the effort to extinguish the fires of personal malice and the prosecutions for political offences, the off-springs of secret associations. The peace, welfare and prosperity of North Carolina are involved in this matter. If the Republicans in the Legislature will not unite with us, the people will sustain us, because they are wearied with turmoil, and strife, and malice.

THE COUNTY OF GILLIAM.

On yesterday, the report of the Committee in regard to the establishment of the new county of Gilliam, out of portions of Franklin, Warren and Granville, with the county seat at Henderson, came up for action in the Senate. The Committee reported unanimously against the formation of the proposed county, and the motion to indefinitely postpone the matter was carried by a vote of thirty-three to eleven.

Many of the leading citizens in the counties interested were in the city yesterday, and seemed to take a deep interest in the matter.

The vote in the Senate yesterday settles the question for the present, adversely to the new county.

THE PUBLIC PRINTING.

SENIATOR WARING SUSTAINED AT HOME.

THE VOICE OF THE CHARLOTTE PRESS.

We referred briefly yesterday to the discussion in Charlotte on Saturday last between Hon. Josiah Turner, Jr., Editor of the Sentinel, and Capt. R. P. Waring, Senator from Mecklenburg, on the subject of the public printing.

We concluded it would be proper not to give a full account of the discussion ourselves, preferring to copy from the Charlotte papers their statements about the matter. We take the following articles from the Charlotte Observer and Democrat. The Southern Home expresses its regrets that that the discussion took place, and promises to refer to the subject hereafter.

From the Observer of 2nd February. In another column of to-day's Observer appears a brief report of the public discussion yesterday between Hon. Josiah Turner, Jr., and Senator Waring. The sentiment of the community was decidedly in opposition to the discussion. A general feeling of regret was manifested that such an antagonism should have sprung up between two of our most earnest opponents to Radicalism. The opinion was almost universal that the discussion of so good and possible means of productive of good could hardly fail to prove detrimental to the true interest of the Conservative party of this State.

Mr. Turner's remarks in exposure and denunciation of the rings which have depleted our Treasury to such an alarming extent, were very just, and met with a hearty approval from Senator Waring and the audience; but not so his attempt to show that the Senator of Mecklenburg was connected with any of these rings. If it was Mr. Turner's object in his speech to show that Senator Waring was connected with or under the influence of the Pennsylvania Central or Seward's ring, it is very clear that he most signally failed in the attempt. And we were pleased to observe that our honored Senator's clear and forcible explanation of his course in the Legislature gave entire satisfaction to such of his constituents as were present, who were no doubt a fair representation of the people of the county. He was wonderfully earnest and eloquent in his defence of himself against the unjust charge that he was influenced by "rings"; and his remarks excited the admiration, and carried conviction to the hearts of all who heard him. After Mr. Waring's reply to Mr. Turner, a resolution endorsing his course as a representative of Mecklenburg was unanimously adopted by the audience by acclamation.

The matter of the Public Printing has been fully discussed, and we hope the controversy will cease forever.

From the Democrat of 4th Feb. Josiah Turner, Esq., Editor of the Raleigh Sentinel, and R. P. Waring, Esq., our State Senator, had a discussion in Charlotte on Saturday last in regard to the public printing, rings, &c. Although the discussion took place in the Public Square near our office, we were so much engaged in business matters—getting our paper ready for publication on Monday morning—we did not hear it, only occasionally catching a sentence. But Mr. Waring's friends express much gratification at the manner in which he acquitted himself, and declare their determination to endorse his course and sustain him as a true Conservative and an upright, honest man, which they will do two years hence if he is again a candidate. He has been most unjustly assailed by the Sentinel, and he did right to defend himself. No one can justly blame him for doing as he did.

After Mr. Waring concluded his reply to Mr. Turner, a resolution was offered fully endorsing Mr. Waring's conduct and course as a Conservative member from Mecklenburg, which was adopted without a dissenting voice.

WITHDRAWAL OF THE MISSES GREELEY.

In our telegraphic columns will be found a letter from Miss Ida Greeley, endorsed by her sister, Miss Gabrielle, in which they withdraw from the contest over the last will and testament of Horace Greeley, which has been pending for several weeks in the New York courts.

Mr. Greeley's last will, which was made a few days previous to his death, gave almost all his estate to his two daughters. This will revoked several bequests in his former wills to more distant relatives, benevolent and other associations. Some of the legatees under the former wills withdrew their claims in favor of the Misses Greeley, as soon as the last will was probated, and it was ascertained that Mr. Greeley had changed the bequests in favor of his daughters. The trustees of the associations, however, to whom the former bequests were made, were not so magnanimous, but instituted a contest over the last will, holding that Mr. Greeley was non compos mentis at the time of the execution of the last instrument, and that it was therefore null and void.

Miss Ida Greeley being unwilling that the memory of her father should be desecrated, wrote to her counsel the letter above referred to, and which exhibits her character in a new and beautiful light. She formally withdraws from the law-suit.

RETAIL DEALERS IN LEAF-TOBACCO.

In the House of Representatives, Jan. 27, 1875, Hon. Sion H. Rogers, of this District, on leave, introduced the following bill: "A bill to repeal the law imposing a special tax upon retail dealers in leaf tobacco, and for other purposes.

As it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled.

That all that portion of section thirty-one of an act entitled "An act to reduce duties and for other purposes," approved June sixteenth, eighteen hundred and seventy-two, which requires the payment of a special tax by a farmer or other person by retail to consumers, or to any other persons, leaf-tobacco of his own production, or leaf-tobacco received by him as rent from tenants, &c, and the same is hereby repealed.

Sec. 2. That all that portion of section thirty-one of the act aforesaid that requires retail dealers in leaf-tobacco to pay five hundred dollars, or that requires said dealers in leaf-tobacco to pay fifty cents for every dollar in excess of one thousand dollars of their sales, &c, and the same is hereby repealed; and hereafter any dealer in tobacco shall have the right to sell, by retail, leaf-tobacco to any person whatsoever, without paying any additional license therefor.

We call the attention of our readers to the above bill of Col. Rogers, which will meet with the general approval of his constituents.

Col. Rogers' position on the Tobacco tax was misrepresented and misunderstood in the last Congressional campaign in this District, and great injustice was done him in this matter.

THE STATE PRESS ON USURY.

We have given several editorials on this subject from our State exchanges, and will continue to do so from time to time.

We copy the following from the last Enfield Times, which is sensible and to the point: [From the Enfield Times.

INTEREST.—North Carolina has been called a slow State, and we must to our shame admit the truth of the appellation. While the great need of the State is capital, our Legislature in their inscrutable wisdom (9) still insist upon keeping the legal rate of interest at six per cent, and absolutely prohibit more than eight. We have yet to learn that legislative restrictions have ever cheapened the money. The only effect of it has been to drive capital from our borders, and increase the hardships of money borrowers.

Why a man may not be allowed to rent his money as he does his horse, is a query that will puzzle the wisest of our representatives. Four of the States of the Union have long since abolished all restrictions as to interest upon money, while one of them embodies in its Constitution, a provision that no law limiting the rate of interest for which individuals may contract, shall ever be passed. A majority of all the States allow twelve per cent. by special contract.

COLD.—The Editor of the Elmira Advertiser, ruminating upon the late severe cold snap that has visited the North, goes off after this style: "Cold—What is it, whence is it, where and how is it produced, whence is its source? It is nothing, has no locality, cannot be produced, has no source. It is a mere negative principle; mere absence of heat. Absolute and perfect darkness pervades the entire realm of nature without the heat and light of the sun. So without this positive principle, the negative is the condition of all things with infinite intensity. If, as some philosophers maintain, the sun is constantly dispensing its light and heat with no reproduction, whether are we drifting? Ugh!"

The Government official organ at Toronto, of Saturday, announced the completion of the arrangements for the construction of the Canada Pacific railway. A charter will be issued as soon as the Governor General returns to the seat of Government. Ten millions of stock are ready to subscribe, and books will be opened in all the provinces.

It is thought in Washington to be probable that Mr. Wilson, chairman of Credit Mobilier committee No. 2, will, as a sub-committee, proceed to New York, to examine the books of the Union Pacific Railroad Company.

ACCORD.

OIL HOUSE OF CHARLES PRATT, 1 NEW YORK, Jan. 30, 1875. JULIUS LEWIS & CO., Fisher Building, Raleigh, N. C., Sole Agents.

Owing to several incorrect reports of the late fire at our Works, and in answer to numerous inquiries from our friends, we take this opportunity to inform you that our business will not be seriously impaired on account of any fire that may occur. Below we append extract from the New York World of Jan. 27th, containing the most correct account:

"About ten o'clock last evening a fire broke out in Charles Pratt's Asrial Oil Works, and is located from the storehouses and factory. The losses are as follows: There were fourteen stills in all, six of which were on fire. There were four stills of 275 barrels capacity, and two of 500 barrels capacity. These were all destroyed, involving a loss of $30,000. Loss on oil estimated at $5,000. Loss on buildings about $2,000. The buildings about the stills were all not quite finished. There are 300 men employed in the factory, but the fire will not interfere with them much. This was believed to be the finest oil factory in the country, and occupies a spacious one block in width, from North Twelfth to North Thirteenth street, and from First street to the East River, a distance equal to three blocks.

We may say that two of the 500 bbl. stills were not damaged, but slightly damaged. No damage whatever was done to Teething and Storage Tanks, or Palm Room. The loss is simply the temporary reduction of output until the machinery is repaired. Our Gasoline Works are at Hunter's Point—remote from the fire. No damage of any kind is done to our Gasoline Works, or to our other goods, as the large stock on hand will be sufficient to meet orders until the refinery is repaired.

Yours respectfully, CHARLES PRATT, Sentinel and Biblical Recorder copy.

BUY THE BEST SOLUBLE SEA ISLAND GUANO!

State Fair Premium at Wilmington for the Largest Amount of Cotton to an Acre. GOLDSBORO, Wayne County, N. C., November 23rd, 1872.

DEAR SIR—The Soluble Sea Island Guano purchased of you this season was used by the side of three others, and has given me more satisfaction than any of the others. The Soluble Sea Island Guano was the one used upon the acre of land upon which you raised the cotton upon which he took his state premium for the greatest amount entered for the largest amount of cotton to the acre. The premiums open to all ages, he would have also taken that premium, beating all 150 lbs. I am better pleased with it than any other Guano I have ever used on cotton, and I shall use it in preference to others at season for my cotton crop. T. A. GRANGER.

SELLMA, N. C., 2 November 12th, 1872.

W. H. AVERA, Esq.—The Soluble Sea Island Guano more than met my expectations. I consider it equal to Peruvian for cotton. It paid me over 100 per cent. I will use it in preference to the crop. My neighbors who bought it are highly pleased, and will use it in preference to any other when it can be had. Hope you will keep a supply the coming Spring.

Truly yours, R. HARE.
