Read the interesting sketch of Zebulon Baird Vance, in another column, taken from the last Wilmington Journal. Gov. Vance, at the request of two literary societies in Wilmington, delivered a lecture at the Opera House in that city on Wednesday night, on the Mountains and Scenery of Western

North Carolina. The Journal avails itself of the opportunity of Gov. Vance's visit, to give an interesting account of his political career, which will be read with pleasure much to inaugurate an era of good feelby the numerous and devoted friends of that gentleman throughout the

Now that the smoke of the Senatorial contest has cleared away, this just tribute by the Journal to Gov. Vance's patriotic services, exalted ability and appropriate and well merited.

No man has ever possessed, in a greaand affection of the people of North Carolina than Zebu on B. Vance. To say nothing of his eminent talents; his able statesmanship, his popularity and rare eloquence as a speaker, his devo patriotic efforts since the war, there is a personal magnetism about the man which has endeared him to the popular heart in a remarkable manner, and made him almost an idol in the social circle.

Gov. Vance's election by the last Legislature to the United States Senate while laboring under disabilities, over a number of able and distinguished competitors whose political banns had been removed, is incontestable evidence of his pre-eminent popularity with his of your enemies, but do your duty reparty; and his nomination for the same position by the Conservatives of the present Legislature, attests that his and easy teachings of the Mormon at the Boot and Shoe Store of feb6-3t C. ## SENATOR GRANDY'S REVOLU-TION.

In the debate on the Constitutional Amendments on Wednesday, Senator Grandy, of Pasquotank, made the startling declaration that to alter the Constitution now would inaugurate another | all hazards. Accordingly, about two revolution! He denied that he was opposed to all the Constitutional Amendments, but declared he was opposed to any alterations in the organic law at this time.

Mr. Grandy says the manner in which the Amerdments are submitted is in contravention of law, and will ine itably lead to revolution. He thinks the Legislature has no right to submit the Amendments separately; but in reply to a question from Senator Morehead, again assembled on Thursday evening. he admitted that he would vote against | the 9th of January, and notwithstandthe original Bill, embodying all the Amendments in a series.

There is no reason or sense in the assertion. It is miles distant, where a plentiful supply mere brutum fulmen-empty thunder, without a particle of lightning in it.

that Mr. Grandy gives for declaring that a change in the State Constitution will inevitably lead to civil war in a question purely for the Courts to decide, and is not to be settled by an appeal to arms. The idea of a resort to force by any party because the Legisla ture may be violating the law in not submitting the amendments seriatim, is too ridiculous and puerile to admit of serious comment.

If Mr. Grandy wants to get up a revolution on that account, we think he will not be able to recruit a corporal's guard to assist him in the work of violence and bloodshed.

But we cannot believe the Senator from Pasquotank is serious in his apprehensions. We cannot believe he State, for the reason assigned by himtimid and to drive off the weak-kneed 4th of March. in his own party from voting for sever al of the Amendments which even the Republicans themselves profess to favor.

CONSTITUTIONAL AMEND-

MENTS. We are pleased to learn there is a strong probability that the requisite majority will be obtained in the Legis lature in favor of several of the Constitutional Amendments.

The Amendments that may be passed will become a part of the Constitution of the State, when submitted to the people and ratified by them at the ballot-box.

IN ERROR.

An error has been going the rounds of the press to the effect that all the members of Congress from North Caroolina voted for the repeal of the Bank rupt law except Mr. Waddell.

The reverse is true. All of our Representatives voted egainst the repeal, except Mr. Thomas who did not vote at all, and Mr. Waddell who voted to repeal the law.

It is thought the Senate will not concur in the action of the House.

From the Roanoke News.

The Amnesty Act. Colonel Allen, Senator from Duplin, has recently introduced a bill in the Legislature to be entitled, "An act for Amnesty and Pardon," which, if passed by the General Assembly, would do ing to which our people, we are sorry to say, have long been strangers. The bill is eminently proper, and should be passed by the Legislature. It is not partisan, it does not seek to offer pardon to any one set of men, in fact, it is not looked upon in the light of extending clemency to criminals, but it is intended as the harbinger of peace and concord, eloquence, and unrivalled popularity, is it is the entering wedge, if we may so express it, of a season of fraternal feeling between our people. Ku-Klux, Loyal Leaguers, and all others who ter degree, the confidence, admiration have belonged to secret organizations are included in the provisions of the train has been run from Richmond to Repulicans raise a hue and cry against this bill, but they should rise superior to party prejudices, politics should not enter into the consideration of this question to North Carolina during and his tion. Already, too much suffering has been endured by an unfortunate class of our citizens; they have suffered, only God knows how much, their cup of sorrow has been ruli to overflowing and their cases must surely command the sympathy of the good of all classes, whatever may be their politics. In mute sorrow, Legislators, these men appeal to you for pardon; east the veil of oblivion over their offences, let the past be forgotten, heal those differences which now exist between the two parties and future generations will rise up and call you blessed. Fear nothing from the taunts gardless of the consequences.

MOBBING THE MORMONS .- The free

church are not apparently relished by the simple inhabitants of Ontario. Even the charms of polygamy fail to move the cold hearts of the Huron county engaged in the quiet and peaceful promulgation of their degrading and pernicious belief. In the township of Usborne matters went so far that a vigilance committee was formed and the "Latter-day Saints" were wanted to leave the seatlement quietly and save trouble; but they did not heed the gentle persuasion, and persisted in continuing their "work of grace" despite the admonitions of the committee, who, up to this time, had used no violence toward one of the sect. The members of the vigilance committee became exasperated at the conduct of the tribe, and determined to get rid of the impostors, as they termed them, at weeks ago, the chosen few, who had been deputed by the residents of the neighborhood to clear them out, come what may, afterward assembled and proceeded en masse to the place where the 'saints" were holding forth. The latter, however, were made acquainted with the intentions of their opponents, and had the doors of the temple securely barred against intruders. The vigilants. in consequence failed to secure admis mission, and could not carry out their intentions. With a determination not to be foiled in their undertaking, they ing the inclemency of the weather, patiently awaited the return of the pilgrims from their house of worship, necticul Senator Grandy's cry of revolution, and seizing upon them, had them a sleigh which was in readiness to receive the saints, and then drove off to a thickly-wooded forest, a few of tar and feathers had been previously prepared. A OIL HOUSE OF CHARLES PRATT, NEW YORK, Jan. 30, 1873. JULIUS LEWIS & CO., Fisher Building, Raleigh, N. C., Sole Agents:-Owing to several incorrect reports of the late fire at our Works, and in answer to most correct account :

"About ten o'clock last evening a fire broke out in Charles Pratt's Astral Oll Works, foot of North Twelfth street, Brooklyn, E. D. Dense volumes of smoke soon followed, and the fire continued to spread until six of the large stills were in one mass of flames. Steps were at once taken to pre-vent its spread to the main buildings, containing a very large amount of property. In this they were more successful. The stills are located on the east end of the works, and are isolated from the storehouses and factory. The losses are as fol-lows: There were fourteen stills in all, six of which were on fire. There were four stills of 275 barrels capacity, and two of 500 barrels capacity. These were all destroyed, involving a loss of $20,000. Loss on oli estimated at $5,000. Loss on buildings about $2,000. The buildings about the stills were all new and were not quite finished. There are 300 men employed in the factory, but the fire will not interfere with them much. This was believed to be the finest oil fac-tory in the country, and occupies a space one block in width, from North Twelfth to North Thirteenth street, and from First street to the East River, a distance equal to three blocks. We may add that two of the 500 bbi, stills we may add that two of the 500 bol. stills are now found to be but slightly damaged. No damage whatever was done to Treating and Bleaching Tanks, or Pump Room. The loss is simply the temporary reduction of about half our distilling capacity, to which extent we shall resume on Wednesday, the 20th inst. Our Gasolene Works are at Hunter's Point-remote from the fire. No delays will occur in shipments of ASTRAL OIL, or other goods, as the large stock on hand will be sufficient to meet orders until the Refinery is fully repaired. Yours respectfully, CHARLES PRATT.
