After visiting the telemill.

A barn of tobacco, belonging to Mrs. Col. R. P. Taylor, narrowly escaped being consumed by fire a few days ago. Fortunately the flames were discovered in time to be extinguished before any inquiry except of a very slight nature was sustained. The fire was purely the cause of accident.

The ware house at Tally Ho, was established by Messrs. Webb, Fleming & Co., and not by John L. Jones as stated in a former item published by you under the caption of "Oxford Items." The mistake arose from the fact that Mr. E. L. Jones is a member of the firm of Webb, Fleming & Co., and his name was confounded with that of his uncle, Mr. John L. Jones, who owns an interest in the Granville ware- two since paid the following complihouse at Oxford.
